Local Business Man Subscribes For $10,000—Two Residents of Tualatin District Take $2,000 Each

Willard P. Hawley, Jr., is in receipt of telegraphic instructions from his father, W. P. Hawley, Sr., who is in California, to the effect that the Hawley Pulp & Paper company will take $25,000 worth of Liberty Loan Bonds of the Second Liberty Loan of 1917.

This subscription, one of the largest single subscriptions, made in Clackamas county will undoubtedly give added impetus to the final Liberty Loan drive and inject new energy into the herculean efforts now being put forth by Clackamas county's leading citizens to put this county in the position of our country's most patriotic supporter.

The Hawley Pulp & Paper company purchased large blocks of bonds of the first issue and considered it a privilege to assist the government on its second undertaking.

Liberty Day in Clackamas county was the biggest single day for the sale of Liberty bonds in the campaign. Two heavy single subscriptions were announced, one of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company for $25,000 and another from a local merchant, whose name for the present is withheld, for $10,000.

With only three days left of the campaign, the county still has $115,000 of its campaign to raise. Committees from Oregon City were organized yesterday and were sent out in the country districts, C. Schuebel and L. Stipp leading the returns by reporting $51,000 from the Tualatin district.

O. D. Eby and A. A. Price went out to Molalla yesterday afternoon and organized the people of that community, and a team of 13 men, made up in five divisions will start out this morning from Molalla and it is expected they will secure at least $5000 tomorrow.

The Molalla campaign committee is made up of George H. Gregory, Frank Dieken, G. J. Taylor, W. A. Shaver, M. J. Cockrell, W. A. Beck, L. W. Robbins, F. G. Havemann, W. W. Everhart, G. V. Adams, and Messrs. Park, Worth and Rev. Mr. Snyder, of the Methodist church.

The Sandy and Cottrell committee, consisting of William Hammond, Rev. C. H. L. Chandler, C. W. Robey and John N. Stevers returned late Wednesday night, and reported total sales of $2600. The Clackamas county bank of Sandy took $1000, and County Commissioner Proctor subscribed for $500, and will probably make another subscription this week.

EATON'S RESIGNATION FROM UNIVERSITY IS ACCEPTED BY REGENTS

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 22.—The board of regents of the University of Oregon, in session here late Saturday night, accepted the resignation of Allen H. Eaton, a member of the faculty, who is charged with disloyal activities.

Mr. Eaton participated in the gathering in Chicago of the People's Council of America for Democracy and Terms of Peace. Since his return to this city he has been the target for much criticism in the form of resolutions adopted by the Chamber of Commerce, patriotic societies and mothers of Oregon soldiers now in the service of the United States.

After a protracted session which ended early yesterday morning, the board adopted and gave out this brief resolution: "Resolved, That it is the sense of the board of regents of the University of Oregon that, in accepting the resignation of Allen H. STARKWEATHER IS FIRST CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

CLACKAMAS COUNTY MAN WILL RUN IN 1918 PRIMARY ON DEMOCRATIC TICKET

WELL KNOWN IN OREGON

Prominent Educator and Granger Throws His Hat in Ring For Gift of People

Harvey G. Starkweather, wealthy citizen of Concord station, Clackamas county, and prominent Democrat, announced on Wednesday that he would be a candidate for Governor of Oregon in the 1918 primary.

For many years he was well known as an educator, having served as school superintendent of Clackamas county. He is a leader in grange work, and is a regent of the Monmouth Normal school. Several years ago he was sent to Europe by Governor West to make a study of the continental rural credits systems, and the report of his investigations was used in framing the Oregon rural credits law.

Early announcement of Republican candidates is expected. Governor Withycombe will undoubtedly be a candidate for a second term, and he will be opposed in the primary by Gus C. Moser, president of the state senate, and by Secretary of State Olcott. Another prospective candidate is Robert N. Stanfield, speaker of the house of representatives.

Rumors are afloat of the intention of some of the county officials to become candidates for a third term. Those who will complete second terms next year are Sheriff Wilson, County Clerk Harrington, Treasurer Dunn, Commissioner Knight and Surveyor Johnson. Constable D. E. Frost is mentioned as a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and George Swafford will be a candidate for county clerk on the Republican ticket.

Food Conservation Starts October 28th; Calavan In Letter Advises Teachers

County Superintendent J. A. Calavan, today will send to all the teachers in the county, the first of a series of letters he will get out in the interest of the Food Conservation campaign which will be waged throughout the nation during the week of October 28. The purpose of the letter will be to stimulate interest in the food saving movement through the schools, teachers will be expected to arouse interest among the families through the schools, and leave no stone unturned that will contribute to the success of the campaign in the respective district.

The letter further announces that on Monday night October 29th a meeting will be held in every school house in the county at which speakers will talk to the people on the subject of Food Conservation. Since there are one hundred forty schools in the county enough speakers cannot be furnished by the general committee for that night and the rural districts will be requested to ask through the general committee for some speaker from another district and by interchanging be able to provide a sufficient number. The districts or schools first applying will be provided first, and those asked to deliver a talk at some school house will be selected from both men and women interested in or prominently identified with the work, so stated Mr. Calavan.

The letter of the county superintendent is in the nature of a follow-up from the Food Conservation day program held in Oregon City on Saturday, when O. M. Plummer, federal agent for the Hoover organization addressed the people on how and why it was necessary to save food and Mrs. Millie Trumbull spoke on the conservation of the child. In connection with the campaign the government has issued a home card, explaining why America must supply the nations at war as well as our own country and giving data on how the food required by the armies can be saved, and thus increase the amount now moving across the sea. At the time of signing the pledge cards, to be distributed during the week of October 28th through the school children each family will be given one of these cards, also a card to place in their window which gives notice that they are a member of the Food Administration.
