

MRS. HARRIET WILSON, WIFE OF PROMINENT MERCHANT, IS DEAD AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Mrs. Harriet Wilson, wife of Robert D. Wilson, prominent and well known resident of Oregon City, died at the family home on Sixth and Water streets Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock, after an illness of about three months, of heart failure and dropsy. The remains have been removed to the Holman undertaking parlors.

Mrs. Wilson was well and favorably known throughout Clackamas county. She was one of the most active workers in the Congregational church for about thirty years.

Mrs. Wilson comes from one of the early Oregon pioneer families. She was born in Balline county, Missouri, and was the daughter of the late Samuel and Faith Hughes, who were early Oregon pioneers, having crossed the plains when Mrs. Wilson was a mere babe in her mother's arms. The family settled at Springwater, Mr. Hughes taking a donation land claim, known as the Hughes claim. Mrs. Wilson spent her girlhood days in that section but for two years previous to her marriage to Robert D. Wilson, made her home in this city. After her marriage she went to Albany, where Mr. Wilson was in business. Remaining in that city for seven years, she returned to Oregon City, where she has since resided, and where she had a host of friends, who learned of her death with deep regret.

She is survived by her husband, Robert D. Wilson, hardware merchant of this city; a son, Charles U. Wilson, of Bend, Oregon; three sisters, Mrs. Ada Pearl, who has been making her home with Mrs. Wilson since the death of her husband; Mrs. Fernicia Warlock, of Concord, Clackamas county; three brothers, Robert Hughes, of Sweet Home, formerly of Oregon City; William Hughes, of Thornton, Wash.; John M. Hughes, of Palouse City, Wash.

The funeral services are to be conducted from the Congregational church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the remains are to be interred in Mountain View cemetery.

LOCALS

Charles H. Caulfield, who is spending the winter with his wife at Hood River and who has been the guest over Thanksgiving with his son, Raymond Caulfield and wife, also visiting his son, Lieutenant Wallace Caulfield, who is in this city on a two weeks' furlough, returned to Hood River Friday morning. Mrs. Caulfield will remain in this city during her son's furlough, and Mr. Caulfield expects to return before Lieutenant Caulfield departs. He received his commission as first lieutenant recently at the Presidio, San Francisco, where he had been at the officers' training camp for several months. He has been assigned to the Coast artillery.

Mrs. A. I. Hughes, of Redland, was in Oregon City Friday, where she was the first to make the drawing for the Guernsey cattle that recently arrived in Oregon City from the east for the Clackamas County Guernsey association. Mrs. Hughes is one of the few women of the Pacific coast well posted on the selection of cattle, having made a study of the Guernseys. Some of the best Guernseys in the state are owned by Mr. and Mrs. Hughes at their Red Wing farm.

A cablegram was received by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pratt, of this city, on Saturday from their daughter, Mrs. J. N. Wisner, stating that she and her son, John Nelson, Jr., had reached their home at Montevideo, South America, on Thanksgiving morning. Mrs. Wisner and son had been in this city for a year as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pratt and family. The boat on which the trip was made to South America was on the sea for 26 days.

E. C. Greenman, fish and game warden of Yakima county, Washington, who was called to Oregon City by the illness and death of his mother, the late Mrs. C. N. Greenman, will return to North Yakima, Washington, the latter part of the week. Mrs. E. C. Greenman will remain in this city for the present, but expects to leave for North Yakima at a later date. They expect to make Oregon City their future home in the spring.

Dufur Cooper, son of Mrs. Ida Andrews, of this city, left on Monday to join the navy, and will be stationed near Lake Michigan, where he goes in training. Dufur Cooper is 18 years of age, and desired to enlist at an earlier date, but owing to lack of chest expansion, he went into training at his home, and by steady training has accomplished his desire to pass the examination. He is well known in Oregon City.

Harold and Winfield Baker, who recently enlisted in the aviation corps, have gone to Vancouver barracks, Wash., for training. These boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Baker, of Hazella, near Oswego, and are among the most popular in that section of the county. They are brothers of Miss Ethel Baker, who was one of the young women in charge of the Hazella booth at the Red Cross market in this city.

Mervin "Bud" Callif, who was seriously injured in the Crown Willamette Paper company on Thanksgiving day, when his arms were caught in one of the paper machines, is rapidly improving at the Oregon City hospital. He has improved so that he is now able to see his many friends during the visiting hours. Callif is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Callif.

Mrs. J. E. Krause, of Portland, was in this city on Tuesday on her way home from New Era, where she had been visiting with her brother, Carl Bremer, and wife. Mrs. Krause had attended a reception given in honor of Edward Alkman, of Goldendale, Washington, whose marriage occurred in Portland on Thanksgiving afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rhinehardt, of Fossil, Oregon, are in this city, where they are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Latourrette. Mrs. Rhinehardt is a sister of Mrs. Latourrette. Mr. Rhinehardt is connected with the Stelwer & Carpenter banking institution, but for some time was with the Jones Drug company of this city.

Mrs. R. J. Young, wife of Captain Young, who underwent a surgical operation at the St. Vincent's hospital in Portland the first of last week, has improved so that she has been able to be removed to the home of her mother, in that city. Mrs. Young will soon be able to be removed to her home in Oregon City.

Lieutenant Ren Logan Holsclaw, who recently arrived from the officers' training camp at the Presidio, California, is visiting with his mother, Mrs. G. F. Anderson, of this city. Lieutenant Holsclaw is on a three weeks' furlough and awaiting orders. He is a member of the mounted artillery.

Grant B. Dimick, well known local stockman, is shipping this week to the O. I. C., receiving 16 cents a pound, live weight. The animals will average better than 190 pounds each, and the sale will bring Judge Dimick in excess of $2000.

John Kent, who has been employed at Palouse, Wash., has returned to his home at Parkdale, where he will remain during the winter. Mr. Kent states the weather has been favorable at Palouse for the farmers to engage in their general farm work.

Mrs. Glen Hankins, nee Eschol Armstrong, who has been in this city visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Armstrong, coming here to marry Glen Hankins, returned to Wilsonville Sunday to resume her duties as teacher of the Wilsonville school.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steiner, of Gladstone, are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a son born at their home on Friday, November 30. The youngster has been given the name of Willis LaVerne. His weight is seven pounds.

John Eger, who has been one of Uncle Sam's men in this city, employed as mail carrier, has enlisted in the aviation corps and gone to Vancouver, Wash., for instruction. Mr. Eger's family will remain in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rayburn, in charge of the intake of the Oregon City water system near Cazadero, were in Oregon City on Thursday, where they visited with friends. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Myer.

Fred Lindau was in this city on business Wednesday. Mr. Lindau is the owner of a dairy farm located near Mullino, his dairy herd consisting of Jerseys. His farm is known as Hilldale dairy farm.

Mrs. Hugh Foster, of this city, in company with her sister, Mrs. Quinn, of Stockton, California, and the latter's little daughter, Betty, who have been visiting in Portland have returned to Oregon City.

Albert Cooke, prominent farmer of Clackamas county, whose farm is located at Damascus, was in Oregon City on business Tuesday. While here he visited with his brother, Postmaster J. J. Cooke.

James Nelson, one of the well known residents of Mullino, but formerly county assessor with residence in this city, was in Oregon City on Tuesday. Mr. Nelson visited among friends in this city.

J. M. Volkmar, who has been critically ill at his home on Seventh and Madison streets for the past month, is improving, and is now able to be out for a brief time each day.

Major Gallogly Here Comes From Honolulu Made Judge Advocate

Major Arthur Gallogly, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gallogly, of Gladstone, has arrived from Honolulu, and is spending a few days with his parents and sisters at that place. Major Gallogly is a former Oregon City man, where he has many friends and acquaintances with whom he is visiting during his brief furlough. Major Gallogly is on his way to Charlotte, North Carolina, having been ordered by cable to be judge advocate of the Third regular division now organizing at Charlotte.

Mrs. Gallogly and children have gone to Georgia where they are visiting relatives, and will join Major Gallogly later.

NEIGHBORS KINDNESS FIND HOMES FOR SIX MINOR CHILDREN

Through the kindness of sympathetic friends and neighbors, the six minor children of J. S. Neff, of "Paradise Corners" in the southern end of the county, found good homes before County Judge Anderson Tuesday.

The six children, Clarence, Reuben, Calvin, Eugene, Venice and Rena, with their father, were cited to appear before the county court on a dependency charge brought by the state. The case was a pitiful one in the extreme, as the mother died during the past month and the father has neither health nor finances sufficient to care for his children, the oldest of whom is about 13 years of age.

Neighbors testified as to the condition of the children and Deputy District Attorney Burke asked the father to testify. Mr. Neff told the court that he was unable to care, even for himself, in a proper manner, and pathetically asked Judge Anderson to place the children in the same neighborhood if possible, so he could see them occasionally.

The court declared the children dependents and homes were offered in short order. Mrs. Mary D. Phelps, of Portland, took Clarence and Rena, the youngest and oldest; Mrs. Anna Eller, also of Portland, offered to provide a home to Eugene; Mrs. Ben Stanton, a neighbor, took the custody of Venice and Reuben, and Miss Adella Readings, was given the custody of Calvin.

APPRAISERS NAMED IN ESTATE OF LATE JOHN W. THORNTON

Appraisers in the John W. Thornton estate were appointed Friday. N. O. Say, F. J. Stangel and J. C. Chalupsky are the appraisers for Clackamas county. In addition appraisers were appointed in Grundy county, Illinois, Yuma county, Arizona, and in Benton county, Oregon. The deceased, who was a prominent banker and resident of Wilsonville left an estate in each of these places, in addition to large interests in Clackamas county.

STREETS PAVED WITH DEAD AS BRITISH BLAST GERMANS

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Dec. 3.—The uniform of marked British resistance to a strong attack launched by Crown Prince Rupprecht along a nine mile front of General Byng's line near Cambrai.

At one time the Germans forced the British back two miles.

Gouzeacourt, which was overrun by the Germans, had been cleared of the enemy this afternoon.

The streets were paved with German dead. The ruins of houses, blasted by British guns in driving off the enemy, were festooned with corpses.

German machine guns, sabres and other war equipment littered the streets to be kicked under foot by the British when the territory was regained.

The heaviest fighting in a double blow which was launched by Rupprecht against the British lines occurred Friday. But the battle was still on today, its fury little diminished.

Five German divisions (probably about 50,000 men) were thrown against the British line in the northern attack launched by Prince Rupprecht. These divisions centered their attack along a five mile front. That their first day's efforts failed was due to the Spartan courage of the British Tommies, who contested every inch of ground.

AUTHORITY TO BUY EXPLOSIVES MUST BE SECURED UNDER LAW

County Clerk Harrington has been besieged lately with applications for permits to buy explosives under the federal act of October 6, 1917, which gives the county clerk the authority to issue such permits. Friday the first application and permit forms were received by the office, 25 in number, and immediately Miss Harrington wired back to the bureau of mines to send at least 500 more blanks. There has been a long waiting list for several days.

There are seven classes of licenses to be issued, the vendor's, purchaser's, analyst's, foreman's, educator's, inventor's and investigator's. Applications must be made in person, licenses are not to be issued to enemy aliens or to subjects of a country allied with an enemy of the United States, or any corporation or firm where its controlling stockholders or members are enemy aliens or subjects of a country allied against the United States. No licenses are to be issued to persons under 21 years of age, and when issued they are non-transferable.

Under the new law this is the way that explosives can be obtained, but the rule is not to apply to small arms or shot gun cartridges, nor to in any way interfere with the government's right to manufacture or handle explosives in any locality.

COUNTRY SCHOOL HOUSES ALTERED TO BETTER LIGHT

To modernize their plan of school lighting, seven districts in Clackamas county are thoroughly remodeling their daylight systems, by cutting off the double light on either side of the room and throwing either a left or a right and rear light for the pupils.

Bull Run, Cherryville, Crescent, Marquam, Dover, Loder, Macksburg, Mundorf and Henrici are the districts which are changing their buildings. Marquam and Macksburg are two-room school houses, and $900 is being spent in the latter district to correct the lighting scheme and make other needed improvements demanded by the 20th century school building. County Superintendent Calavan and Supervisor Brenton Vedder, who have been encouraging the new scheme all over the county, also report that 15 districts have this fall put in complete new heating systems, with proper stove placement and jacketing.

EVA V. PATTISON OF PORTLAND SECURES DIVORCE DECREE

Eva V. Pattison, wife of J. T. Pattison, well known Portland hardware merchant and Multnomah club man, was awarded a decree of divorce against her husband by Circuit Judge Campbell Tuesday.

In the decree it is provided that Mr. Pattison shall pay the sum of $40 per month for support and maintenance of the plaintiff, $20 per month for the support and care of each of three minor children, making in all $100 per month alimony. The children are Violet, Teddie and John Albert. The court permitted the defendant to visit his children. The divorce was secured on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

ORDER CONFIRMS SALE

An order confirming the sale of the easterly 55 feet of Lot 1, Block 67, Oregon City, was entered Monday in the circuit court, in the case of Joseph Meindl vs. O. W. Eastham, and Daisy B. Eastham, S. J. Kaminsky, D. E. Dahlberg, and Elva Linnton. The property was sold recently to the plaintiff on a mortgage foreclosure in the sum of $1639.25.

HOME GUARDS HELP SERVICE

ST. PAUL, Dec. 3.—Street car service in this city, which was abandoned last night after a score of cars had been wrecked by a crowd of several hundred union sympathizers, was resumed early today. The first cars to leave the barns were followed by automobiles containing members of the home guard. There was no interference, however, and by early forenoon it was said practically normal service was being maintained. The men and company have been in a dispute over unionization.

GANG OF JUVENILE THIEVES ARE CAPTURED IN RAID BY FROST

In a raid on a boat-house under the suspension bridge, at a late hour Saturday evening Constable Jack Frost and night patrolman Ed Surfas arrested Steve Regan, Joe Hrovat, John Brown, George McGinnis and Thomas Baxter and one other whose name could not be ascertained. The first four named are between the ages of 15 to 17 while Baxter is 19, all being juvenile offenders suspected of being ring leaders of an organized gang of thieves. Hrovat against whom a complaint of robbing the mails had already been filed, confessed also to breaking into the Brady Mercantile company, while his companions are suspected of being responsible for several other robberies that have been committed lately.

Hrovat, Brown and McGinnis are at present on parole from the Industrial school, while Baxter is out on parole from a penitentiary sentence. Constable Frost believes that this gang is responsible for recent robbery of Farris market and Hall & Everhats, and that their apprehension will put an end to the recent wave of petty crime. Four of the boys are being held in the county jail and two in the city jail.

GIVE US SINGLE BLESSEDNESS SAY UNHAPPY WIVES

Four unhappy wives sought matrimonial relief in the circuit court Tuesday, two alleging cruel and inhuman treatment and the others setting up desertion.

Winnie Hanson in her suit against her husband, Olaf, alleges they were married in March, 1911. Among other things she alleges that her husband cursed her almost daily for two years, threatened to kill her, ordered her to leave, accused her of immorality, slammed the household furniture on the floors, raved and railed at her continuously, harrassed and tantalized her regularly, and otherwise abused her. This treatment, plaintiff alleges, began shortly after their marriage and kept up with "increasing vigor." She asks $15.00 alimony each month and the custody of Odessa Hanson.

Alleging that her husband, Leslie M. Baty, threw her clothes out of her trunk and ordered her to leave home, Lelah G. Baty brought suit for a decree from her spouse. The couple have a two-year-old child, Edward, which the mother desires, as well as $30.00 per month alimony. They were married at Portland in 1914.

Lulu Plettenburg asks a decree from her husband, Irving Plettenburg, on grounds of desertion. They were married and still live in Clackamas and have two minor children, which the plaintiff asks the court to award her.

Edith A. Sheldon asks a decree from Kirk Sheldon. The complaint sets forth desertion. The Kirks are Portlanders and were married in 1910. The desertion, according to the complaint, occurred in 1914. Plaintiff asks restoration of her maiden name, Edith A. Bishop.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF MARY C. OSBORN HELD HERE MONDAY

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Mary Cordelia Osborn, who died in Portland Saturday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ray Scott, were conducted at the Holman undertaking parlors in this city Monday morning, the remains arriving here Sunday afternoon. Rev. W. T. Milliken, pastor of the Baptist church officiated. Many friends of the family attended the services. The casket was covered with flowers. The remains were interred in the family lot in Mountain View cemetery and laid beside those of her husband, who died at Mount Pleasant some time ago.

Mrs. Osborn left Oregon City several weeks ago for Portland, having gone to that city where she could receive medical aid, but her health gradually failed until her death on Saturday morning.

Mrs. Osborn is survived by a number of children, among these being Arthur, Howard, Louise and Eugene, of Mount Pleasant; Mrs. Austin, formerly of this city; Mrs. Ray Scott, of Portland.
