Macksburg

MACKSBURG, Dec. 13.—With sorrowful regret we record the death of Mrs. Marie Schanefel, whose funeral was attended on Sunday by a large concourse of sympathizing friends. Mrs. Schanefel was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Howers, whose return from Montana with their invalid daughter was mentioned in a late issue of the Enterprise. The hope then indulged by her friends that a return to the climate of her former home might do for her more than medical skill could accomplish, proved illusive, and she continued steadily sinking till last Friday when death came to her relief. All of Mrs. Schanefel's life till her marriage three years ago, was spent at her home in North Macksburg, where she was known and highly esteemed.

In all the bustle of preparation the children are now as busy as their elders. What the drill for closing exercises of school added to their regular lessons, and the creation of Christmas gifts to be kept a mystery till the glad day comes, their minds are as full of care as they can ever be in later life.

For Christmas decoration no home in our vicinity need be without embellishment as pleasing and as beautiful as that which costliest conservatory might supply. The gracefully curving leaves of the winter fern, as rich in color and as enchanting in form as those that have come to us from Australia or Japan may be had on any day at the cost of a tramp through the woods. There too, may be found the frost-tinted foliage of winter, whose gleaming gold or vivid crimson may be used in pleasing contrast to the ferns, while few wreathes there are the sombre fir, the lighter cedar or the dark Norway pine.

Jennings Lodge

JENNINGS LODGE, Ore., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Flora Beckner, of Newberg, formerly of the Lodge, is ill in a Portland hospital. Mr. Beckner is also ill at their home.

Wiley Grant has been unable to go to his work at the Portland Seed Co.'s warehouse, on account of an attack of lumbago.

One of the features of the bazaar and supper, given by the Ladies' Guild on Friday last, was the booth presided over by Mrs. Hugh Roberts. A large sign, very nicely printed, over the front read "Mr. Jigg's 5-cent Store," with a large picture of "Maggie," as manager, over the counter beside which on either end was the old man himself looking for his better (?) half. About one hundred or more articles had been collected by Mrs. Roberts and tied neatly in little boxes and were sold, your choice 5 cents. The booth was well patronized and netted the guild about $8.00. There were also fancy articles, rugs and aprons sold and with the delicious supper, served by the Mesdames Deter, Jacobs and Ken-

SUPREME COURT GOES ON RECORD AGAINST UNIONS' CONTENTION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Federal court decrees holding the United Mine Workers of America and the American Flint Glass Workers unions to be legal organizations under West Virginia statutes and the common law, were today reversed by the supreme court.

Injunctions were approved, however by the supreme court to the Hitchman Coal & Coke company and Eagle Glass and Manufacturing company of West Virginia, to restrain union solicitation of their non-union employees who are under contract not to join unions. Federal Judge Dayton, of West Virginia, has granted such injunctions.

The court, through Justice Pitkin, rejected union contentions that "picketing" of employees having contracts not to join unions does not violate constitutional freedom of contract.

The supreme court, by its decision, does not decide that the organizations are illegal, but stamps certain practices as illegal. The decision says the court recognizes the right of miners to organize.
