Ordinance Held Unconstitutional As It Attempts to Make Strikes Unlawful, Hence Is Unreasonable

SALEM, Or., Dec. 27.—Portland's anti-picketing ordinance is held unconstitutional by the supreme court, in an opinion handed down today by Judge Benson.

The ordinance was put to test by habeas corpus proceedings instituted by Earl Hall, who is serving city jail sentence for violating the ordinance. The court orders his release.

If the ordinance had been merely what its name implies, an anti-picketing law, it might have been valid, points out Justice Benson, but, instead it is so broad that it attempts to make "strikes" unlawful and that is where it comes in conflict with the constitution and public policy.

"This legislation was frequently referred to in the argument as an 'anti-picketing ordinance,'" says Justice Benson, "but we must not lose sight of the fact that it is very much more than that. Disregarding the structural character of the enactment and seeking for its purpose and import, we observe that it is so designed as to prohibit strikes, boycotts and picketing."

Taking up discussion of strikes, Justice Benson says Portland is the only city which has attempted to legislate upon the subject.

"The ordinance which we are now considering is the only one we have been able to discover which seeks to prevent workmen from quitting their employment in a body," he says. "Neither have we been able to discover or a case in any state in the Union which holds that such concerted withdrawal from employment is either unlawful per se or that it may be enjoined."

"It will not be disputed that every workman has an absolute right, in the absence of contract, to quit his employment when he pleases and that the employer has the reciprocal right to discharge a workman in like manner. The fact a number of workmen exercise this right in common cannot, we think, make the act criminal."

"Such a contention is opposed to the spirit of our laws and form of government. It is contrary to the public policy of the nation as expressed in its statutes and the decision of the courts. It is true that there was a time when the courts of England held that an agreement of workmen to quit work in a body for the purpose of securing better wages or improved conditions for labor, was a criminal conspiracy at common law, but this attitude may well be considered to have been a survival of the spirit which existed when Gruth, the Saxon swineherd, wore an iron collar riveted about his neck, and more than 40 years ago the English parliament repudiated this doctrine by an affirmative statute.

"The act of quitting employment in a body cannot, in itself, involve any question of the public peace, health or safety, unless it be complicated with some other problem as in time of war, and in such an emergency the problem is shifted to the state or federal government. In this particular, then, the ordinance is unreasonable and void as against public policy as disclosed in legislation, and the decisions of both state and federal courts.

"However, we do not wish to be understood as holding that it has been called an anti-picketing ordinance—that it would have been necessarily invalid. The question of peaceable picketing in one that has been discussed frequently and for many years past, by the courts. The judicial opinions have been conflicting, and it is difficult to determine accurately where the weight of authority falls. All the authorities agree that picketing accompanied by threats, force and intimidation, is unlawful. Many courts have held that peaceable picketing is not illegal, while many others have held, and we think with reason, that there can be no such thing as peaceable picketing.

"The ordinance, however, not only denounces picketing, but includes voluntary abandonment of employment by workmen acting together, and the two are so woven together as to make the entire act void."

Chautauqua Holds Annual Business Meeting--Elects Officers and Makes Plans

There will be a 1918 session of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua and it will not be curtailed in length or quality in any department. This was the unanimous decision of a majority meeting of the stockholders held in the Commercial club parlors Friday afternoon.

The question of continuing was placed before the stockholders present, and following the reading of a personal letter from President Woodrow Wilson to the president of the National Chautauqua association, in which he urged the Chautauqua work to continue the coming year as never before, the directors took a standing vote on the project which was unanimous.

Reports of Secretary Thomas A. Burke and Treasurer E. G. Caulfield were read, showing the good financial condition of the assembly.

President C. H. Dye was re-elected to his post for 1918, and Geo. A. Harding was the unanimous choice of the board of directors for vice-president for the coming year. Secretary Thomas A. Burke and Treasurer E. G. Caulfield were both re-elected by the 1918 board of directors chosen at the meeting. The directors elected were:

- George A. Harding, H. E. Cross, C. H. Dye, W. A. Huntley, Fred Olmstead, Geo. Armstrong, E. G. Caulfield, John Loder, Emma M. Spooner, E. L. Pope, Mary S. Howard, Mrs. Helen D. Manley, C. Schuebel, and Ross Holman. President Dye appointed the following committees for the coming year: Executive, H. E. Cross, C. H. Dye and E. G. Caulfield; grounds, E. L. Pope, H. E. Cross and Fred Olmstead; athletics, Ross Holman, W. A. Huntley and C. Schuebel; women's affairs, Mrs. C. H. Dye, Mrs. Mary Howard and Mrs. Emma M. Spooner; Auditing committee, John W. Loder, C. Schuebel and E. L. Pope.

The meeting of the stockholders was most enthusiastic and a large representation was out. It was the desire of all that the assembly be continued as a patriotic movement, with the end in view of assisting the government in every branch that they desire help from the Chautauquas of the country. It was brought out at the meeting that a ship load of Chautauqua speakers from all over the country are to embark early in January for France to obtain first-hand information for the 10,000,000 Chautauqua patrons in the country. At least two of these will appear at Gladstone park during the coming summer.

Plans for improvements on the grounds were discussed at length and finally referred to the new board of directors for final action.

These plans include a new system of walks for the grounds, better automobile parking facilities, better water facilities, and the problem of taking down the old auditorium.

PROMINENT PIONEER OREGON RESIDENT PASSES AWAY, AGE 65

Charles Walker Young, one of the well known early Oregon pioneers, and uncle of Postmaster J. J. Cooke, of this city, and A. W. Cooke, of Damascus, died at his farm home in Lane county three miles north of Eugene on Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the age of 87 years. He had resided in Lane county for the past 55 years, and no man was better known and more highly respected in that community than Mr. Young. He was among the few settlers of that part of the state who lived continuously on his land claim until his death, and is considered one of the best tracts of farming land in the state.

Mr. Young was born in Lafayette county, Missouri, May 12, 1830. He was married to Miss Mary B. W. Gillespie on February 22, 1852, and the following year crossed the plains with a party of friends, the trip having been made by ox team. The party arrived at the Dalles in August of that year, and proceeded up the valley to Eugene, where they located.

Mr. Young is survived by the following children: Baxter Young, of Springfield, Oregon; Cal M. Young, residing at the old home place; Mrs. Thomas VanDusen, of Coberg, Oregon; Mrs. Claude Copple, of Hood River; Mrs. William Wallace, of Bellingham, Wash.; Mrs. James Shields, of Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Frank N. McAllister, of Eugene, Oregon.

Mr. Young had visited in this city on many occasions and was a guest at the Cooke home.

The funeral services were conducted at the family home on Sunday at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted by Dr. J. W. Ford, and the remains were interred besides those of his wife in the Gillespie cemetery.

WATER COMMISSION RENDERS REPORT OF YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

The semi-annual report of the board of water commissioners, to which is attached a financial statement covering the year just closed, will be presented to the city council tonight, and shows a clean profit of $5,263.33 in the water department for the year. The receipts for 1917 were $32,268.12, and the disbursement for the same period totaled $27,004.79. The commission's financial and property statement gives assets of $500,836.39, including two-thirds interest in the South Fork pipe line, two reservoirs, distributing system and $5,136.39 cash on hand. The commission is on a cash basis and has no outstanding warrants. The liabilities total $85,836.39 less than its assets.

The water board made no extensive improvements during 1917, but issued 81 tapping permits. No unusual work is contemplated for 1918, though the commission would like to build a fire main on Molalla avenue from Everharts street to Seventh street, at a cost of about $4,000, but has not funds available for this purpose. The present main carries pressure that is sufficient for only domestic purposes. In its report the commission says:

"Too much credit cannot be given Fred McCausland, superintendent; Guy Richardson, assistant superintendent, and Tom Rayburn, intake watchman, for making the water system what it is for the year 1917."

GILBERT COFFEY IS SENTENCED TO FINE OF $10 AND COSTS

Gilbert Coffey, convicted of assault and battery, was Friday sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, amounting in all to approximately $35. The attack was made by Coffey, who is one of the striking paper mill workers, upon an employe of the mills while the latter was returning to his home in the hill section last Friday evening.
