REV. W. G. CROCKER PREACHES SERMON ON CHRIST, A REALITY. Unlike most sermons of this modern age which deal with current subjects rather than phases of the Bible's teachings, is that of Rev. William G. Crocker in his first appearance in the pulpit Sunday as the pastor of the First Congregational church. At the evening session he choose as his topic "Christ, a Reality," in which he verbally depicted instances in which the Christ actually is usurping his divine power with that of man to make possible great achievements as they are. Unique in the simplicity of his sermons, yet forceful with the thought they convey, Rev. Mr. Crocker undoubtedly has won the hearts of his congregation. He also declared that Christ is no longer being regarded as a mere phantom, but is being recognized as an existent reality. Flechner's orchestra played at the Sunday evening services.

PROMINENT PIONEER FOLLOWS HER SISTER ACROSS DARK RIVER. Mrs. Pernicia Warnock, wife of Mason Warnock, well known and prominent pioneer of Clackamas county, died Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. H. Howell, of Concord, after an illness of about a year. The remains have been brought to Oregon City, and are at the Holman undertaking parlors, where the funeral services are to be conducted Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock, with Rev. E. E. Gilbert, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. The interment will be in Mountain View cemetery.

Mrs. Warnock was the daughter of the late Samuel and Faith Hughes, early pioneers of Oregon. She was born September 13, 1842, in Sallus county, Missouri, and came with her parents across the plains to Oregon at the age of 10 years. The family settled at Springwater, Clackamas county where Pernicia Hughes grew to womanhood, and married Mason Warnock 54 years ago, the golden wedding anniversary having been celebrated four years ago at the Springwater farm. It was on this farm where Mrs. Warnock spent many happy days of her childhood as well as womanhood, residing continuously there for 52 years. She moved with her husband to Concord station in September from the Springwater farm to the home of their daughter, Mrs. D. H. Howell, where she has since resided.

Mrs. Warnock is survived by her husband, Mason Warnock, of Concord; four children, Mrs. D. C. Howell, of Concord; Charles D. Warnock, of Pensacola, Fla.; Frank Warnock, of Oswego; Fred R. Warnock, of Colfax, Wash.; five grand children and two great grandchildren. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Ada Pearl, of Oregon City; three brothers, William Hughes, of Thornton, Wash.; Robert Hughes, of Sweet Home, Oregon; John M. Hughes of Palouse City, Wash. Mrs. Warnock's sister, Mrs. Robert D. Wilson, died in this city December 5.

ANOTHER OREGON CITY BOY ANSWERS CALL OF HIS COUNTRY. Herbert Thomas, one of the most popular young men of Oregon City, and son of Mrs. Emma Thomas, of 413 John Adams street, has answered his country's call. He enlisted in the aviation corps, passing through Oregon City the first of the week on his way to the aviation training camp at San Antonio, Texas, where he goes into training.

Mr. Thomas has resided in Oregon City most of his life. He was operator at the Grand theatre of this city to ruin years, and while in this city was superintendent of the electrical fire alarm system, remaining with that position for two years. He is experienced in electrical work. After resigning his position with the Grand theatre in this city, he accepted a position with H. C. Stevens, of Portland, and was employed by the latter for two years, and in May accepted a position as operator of the Star theatre of Portland. He severed his connection with that theatre a few days ago to enlist for his country.

Many friends of "Herb" as he is familiarly known in Oregon City, were at the depot to bid him farewell.

LAST SAD RITES OVER GRAVE OF MRS. P. WARNOCK. Many friends of the late Mrs. Pernicia Warnock, wife of Mason Warnock, one of the early Oregon pioneers, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. H. Howell, of Concord station, Friday, attended the funeral Sunday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. E. E. Gilbert, pastor of the Methodist church. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Nieta Barlow Lawrence, sang several selections most impressively, among these being "Lead Kindly Light," one of the favorite selections of the deceased.

The floral tributes were beautiful. The ballbearers were John McGetchie, John W. Loder, John Lewelling, James Tracy, J. Marra and Chas. Folsom. The interment was in Mountain View cemetery.
