FOR FRITZ'S SAKE

"It is perfectly outrageous for you to go on talking German," Mrs. Van Bergen told her daughter Freda, as they approached the hotel where the Van Bergens had their winter apartments. Freda raised two Teutonic eyes to her mother appealingly. "But Fritz cannot understand English," she said. "Can you, Fritzl, dear?" At which a very long short-legged dachshund, whose silky coat showed Freda's devoted care, wagged his tail and flapped

"Well, of course you will do as you choose-you always do," said Mrs. Van "But I think you are taking risks. You are a perfect Gretchen

"You can never tell," reiterated the mother. "Sometimes simple-looking people are shrewd enough, and it uld be just like the Huns to make an accomplice of a simple little Gretchen-and that's what you look

The next morning, as she was taking her brenkfast in the Van Bergen apartment, with the cherished Fritz sitting on a cushion in a chair at her side—for Freda breakfasted an hour or so before her parents—she glanced at the headline in a newspaper, emitted a little shrick of fright, and then because she needed some encourageent. The article whose headlines she had read told of the taking of a girl as a spy, and of the suspicion entertained by the secret service men of three or four women accomplices. One of them, the account said, was a blonde young German girl of the perfect Gretchen type. Soon, however, Freda forgot her fright and she was light-hearted and joyous when she started forth from the hotel with Fritz.

When Freda returned her mother had gone out for a shopping tour and again her only companion was Fritz. He sat beside her as she practiced a Beethoven sonats on the piano. The telephone sounded and presently her mother's maid came to her to say that a Mr. Drew wished to speak to her. But as Freda had never heard of a Mr. Drew and did not wish to interrupt her practicing she asked the maid to take the message.

"He says he is very sorry, miss, to disturb you, but all he wants to know along the next day. is whether or not you're a German." Freda thought immediately of the headlines she had seen in the paper. "I can't imagine why he wants to know," she said. "Will you please ask him who he is and what his business

The maid returned, saying that Mr. Drew realized that he had been abrupt, but he would call and explain himself at the apartment.

All Freda's fears returned and, gathering Fritz in her arms, she hurried to her room.

room, bearing a card. Under the name of Mr. Drew there was the simple words, "National Detective Bureau," and the address of that concern.

"He says if he could please to see you, he would explain why he was intruding," the maid said. Freda's round blue eyes were rounder and bluer than ever, and her heart had never before beaten so fast. "If I had only taken mother's advice," she whispered to Fritz in German. "Tell him I'm-I'm ill," she said to the maid. "And if he starts to search the apartment," she added with trembling voice, "Why, you'll know I've gone down the fire escape."

Mr. Drew did not attempt to search the apartment, but he told the maid he was extremely sorry to have bothered Miss Van Bergen, and that he was surprised that she was ill, since he had seen her that morning.

Freda kept to her room the rest of the day. She did not want to go without dinner, for she was hungry. Be-

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to core catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

at a French pastry shop. When she came back, she found her mother and father, whom she had not seen before that day, and there was something in her mother's manner as she greeted her in the hall that told her that a guest was present, and that she should be on her best behavior.

The guest was Henry Drew. Her father had recently discovered him to be the son of one of his best friends. Everything in Freda's parents' manner showed supreme approval of the

"I especially tried to get in touch with you this morning," Mr. Drew told Freda as soon as they could have a little tete-a-tete conversation. "It was awfully impertinent of me, but you see I'm working for my uncle—the one that has a detective business-and I'm on a shop-lifting case—trying to locate some stolen goods."

"Then you—you don't think I'm spy?" she said. "And you don't think I'm that Gretchen girl with the dachshund they've been trying to find?" "I think you are the most charming

WOMEN ASK FOR RATIONING PLAN

American Women Volunteer to Buy Fixed Amounts of Meat, Bread Flour, Sugar and Butter.

PLAN STARTED IN NEW YORK.

Idea Supplements U. S. Food Administration's New Home Card Now in 10,000,000 Homes.

The women of America, who are winning of the war, are now, as a whole, familiar with the most important aspects of food conservation. The Home Card, both in its original form and in the revised edition for 1918. which provides for two wheatless days, one meatless day a week, in addition to a wheatless meal every day, has been placed by the Food Administration after a vigorous campaign in 10,000,000 American homes. An intelligent and conscientious observance of the Home Card's requirements is all the Food Administration asks of the housewives of the country.

The Food Administration has had a great many requests, however, particularly from the homes of the well-to-do, that it should issue a worked out plan for a voluntary system of rationing.

This desire for a voluntary ration springs from two causes-first, because it is far simpler for the housewife to save food when she has a concrete working plan by which to procecd, and, second, because the loyal women of America desire, unselfishly, to put themselves on the same basis as the women of the Allied countries. The ration proposed by the Food Administration is almost the same as that adopted in England for voluntary observance. All over the United Kingdom, in hundreds of houses there hange in the front window a card with the stirring pledge, "IN HONOR BOUND WE ADOPT THE NATION-AL SCALE OF VOLUNTARY RA-TIONS."

The ration recommended by the Food Administration, and adopted first in New York city, whence the idea has epread through the entire country, is the following: Weekly Allowance

Per Person. Meat-Beef (fresh, salted, tinned and hashed); mutton, lamb and veal (mutton by preference) 21/4 lbs. Butter 1/4 lb. lard substitutes, vegetable otls) 16 lb Wheat Flour (for use in cooking gravies, etc., where corn starch, cracker dust or bread crumbs cannot be substituted) Victory Bread (containing at least 20 per cent, of a substitute for wheat flour) 1% lbs Sugar (including all sugar used on the table and in cooking and all sweatmeats and candles, but not that used for canning and preserving) % lb. The Items listed above are the only ones which are definitely limited. In the case of milk and cream, as much may be used as necessary, and children, of course, must have their full allowance of whole milk. Fish and poultry, any cereal other than wheat, vegetables and fruits and cheese may be used as freely as is desired.

The above ration is in no wise in tended to supplant the Home Card, but rather to supplement it. It has been published with the idea that it will be a very real aid to the American woman in her splendid effort to carry out the great food conservation program.
