The room was appropriately and handsomely decorated with the Nation's colors and was further embellished by the new and beautiful service flag displaying the five stars designating that number of our young men who have gone into service. The solos with their accompaniment rendered by adults musicians were most gratifying as was attested by frequent encores.

The Loyalty League of Logan met at the Grange hall Friday evening instead of Saturday and a full house was in attendance. The organization is a necessity these trying days and no doubt can do much good by its members and officers working to attain the ends and objects of the organization. But, however, it is not the aim nor object to give one neighbor license to work out some petty spite on his or her neighbor with whom they are not on good terms. Everyone should see to it that his own dirt step is clean before looking for dirt on his neighbor's. Factions, political and otherwise in a community, have no place in this organization, unless for the common good. Drop petty differences and be loyal citizens—loyal to yourselves, loyal to your community, state and government.
