MEN HELP PREPARE SPAGNUM MOSS PADS IN RED CROSS ROOMS

Some of the patriotic men of Oregon City came forward Sunday and assisted with the work of making spagnum moss pads in the Red Cross rooms of the Masonic hall. There has been a rush order to get out these pads as it is necessary for the local branch to make 3000 of them. The men assisting Sunday in this work were Rev. Crocker, pastor of the Congregational church; J. E. Jack, H. E. Straight, P. D. Forbes and John Hickman. The men were able assistants, and could handle the scissors as well as the women. There were 125 workers in the Red Cross room during Sunday, and much was accomplished. The quota for the Oregon City Red Cross branch is 3000, and Monday morning 2350 pads were shipped to Portland. It is now possible for the Oregon City workers, together with the assistance of the Red Cross Auxiliary of Gladstone to complete the 3000 moss pads in four days' time. The Gladstone Red Cross Auxiliary has made 270 of these pads.

Dr. A. L. Beatie, of Beatie Brothers, of this city, has kindly donated the services of his automobile truck for conveying these pads to Portland and also for conveying other materials made at the local branch to that city free of charge. This will be a saving of about $20 to the Red Cross Branch each month, which is greatly appreciated by the members of this organization.

There were over 60 women in the Red Cross rooms all day Monday.

Possibly some of our boys will be among those who will need some of these articles now being prepared by loving hands, and they will come in time of stress as manna from the heavens.

The work will be continued until the pads have been completed, and other work will be taken up immediately.
