The following clipping is from the Portland Oregonian of last Sunday: "Miss Kate Junker, mezzo-soprano and pianist, was presented in recital by Mrs. Bertha Doltz Purcell, assisted by Emil Thielhorn, Violinist, in Lincoln high school auditorium last Friday night. Miss Junker is gifted musically and she plays Chopin and others of that school with charm and delicate finish. Her voice has color and sparkle and her speciality is singing songs of home. She memorized her songs and it was quite a pleasure to hear her renditions. Her vocal register in head tones is admirable. Mr. Thielhorn played several violin solos with splendid ability and tone."

Star American Flyer Beside His Plane, Which Has Uncle Sam's Hat in the Ring

Lieut. Eddie Rickenbacher.

Lieutenant Eddie Rickenbacher, the auto racer, found driving a car for General Pershing in France was not exciting enough for him, so he became a flier. This, the latest photo of him, shows him standing by his plane with the picture of Uncle Sam's hat in the ring. The Germans are learning what that means on a car.

BOYS OVER HERE—OVER THERE

The many friends of Lieutenant H. A. Swafford, of this city, were pleased to hear of his promotion. The news arrived here by cable Monday morning and it did not take long for his many friends to hear of it. Congratulations have been extended him through letters that have left here during the past few days. He is with the 18th Engineers' Railway Company, one of the first to arrive in France.

Roland Froberg, who is in the navy and stationed at Goat Island, is recovering from a surgical operation for appendicitis. He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forsberg, of this city.

Henry Wynan, of Gladstone, was on the ship Schurr when it collided with the tank steamer Florida. The accident happened off the coast of North Carolina last Friday. The crew was saved, and is now at Brooklyn, N. Y.

Camp Lee is located at Petersburg, and is said to be a very delightful training camp. Lieutenant Hammond writes his brother, Attorney William Hammond, of this city, that he likes his work there. He is with the Second Replacement Company.

Thomas J. Sinnott, who left several months ago for Mare Island, celebrated two anniversaries a few days ago. One was for the time he was discharged from the detention camp, and for the expiration of a year's time in the service. He is enjoying the life of the mariner, according to letters received by relatives here. Sinnott, before going to California, was connected with the recruiting office in Portland and now in the yeoman branch. He is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sinnott, of Oregon City.

Leon T. Draper, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Draper, of West Linn, arrived in France some time ago. This young man is right in the firing line, and a man that Clackamas county is proud of. He is with Company C, 30th Engineers, Gas and Flame Battalion. He has already been in the front firing line, according to letters received from him to his parents, a few days ago. In this letter he said he was to leave within a few days for a trip of 263 miles, and his parents would no doubt not hear from him for a few weeks.

Jack Draper, another son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Draper, of West Linn, who is in the service, is at New London, Conn., where he is taking a finishing course. He enlisted in the navy, and expects to leave on a submarine chaser. Before departing he was presented with a purse from the Loyalty League of Beaver Creek, of which organization he was a member, and as he was also a member of the Beaver Creek band, he was taken by surprise by that organization, and given a farewell party at the band hall. He was presented with a wrist watch and a soldiers' testament by members of the band. Roberts goes to the training camp at Camp Lewis. He is the first member of the Beaver Creek Loyalty League to join.

Peter M. Rinearson, Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rinearson, Sr., of Milwaukee Route 1, is the sixth grandson of the late Mrs. Ann Johnston, one of the earliest of Clackamas county pioneers. He is stationed at Camp Meade, Maryland, and is a member of the 27th Engineers' Railway Division. Rinearson has had military training, having graduated with high honors from the Oregon Agricultural College, where he was captain of his company. After completing his course at that institution, he returned there and took a special course. Although Maryland is a beautiful state, Rinearson says there is no place like Oregon. When enlisting as a draftsman, he was employed as a draftsman. He is anxious to go over the seas and fight for his country, where his cousins are fighting. His cousins are Sergeant Arthur Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston, of Clackamas, in France; Albert Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnston, of Clackamas, in France; Corporals Clarence and Charles Johnston, of Portland, in France, and both of whom were on the ill fated Tuscania when the steamer sunk; Jake Risley, son of Mrs. Charles Risley, of Risley Station at Mare Island. Freytag, of Gladstone, in France; Melvrim Rinearson, son of Mrs. Lena Rinearson, of California, in France.

Corporals Clarence and Charles Johnston, after being saved from the Tuscania, were confined in a hospital in Ireland for many weeks before they could join their company. They have the grit and say they will help to win the war.

"The European doctors haven't anything on the physicians of Oregon City, when it comes to guarding the health and saving 99 per cent of the efficiency of the soldier boys" says Charles F. Terrill, who has just returned from a trip to Port Canby, Wash., where he visited his son, Corporal E. W. Terrill, who is stationed there. While at the fort Mr. Terrill met Dr. W. E. Hempstead, a well known physician of Oregon City, who answered his country's call when the first call for men was made, and since that time has been connected with the medical department. One of the cases where our Clackamas county physician is making good is told by Mr. Terrill. Private Kirk accidentally cut three fingers from his hand while using an ax. The fingers were so nearly severed they were only held by strips of skin, and it was necessary for another comrade soldier to hold them on while the wounded soldier was being conveyed to the hospital. Dr. Hempstead set the fingers in place, and now has them back to their former usefulness.

After attending the West Linn and Oregon City schools he was employed in the Crown Willamette Paper Company's plant, and his name is marked with a star on the service flag in the company's main office in San Francisco. Robert Wyrick's brother, William Wyrick, was in the regular army at the breaking out of the Spanish-American war, and died while in service. He was a member of the Fifteenth Infantry, and was one of the favorites of his company.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarhal, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, etc.

"BOSTON TEA PARTY"

(Written, by request, for the D. A. R.'s of Oregon City, Oregon). The year of Seventeen Seventy Three in the City of Boston, a cup of tea was brewed in Massachusetts Bay. That helped to win Independence Day. The Colonists refused unjust taxation On tea, without representation. America was struggling to give birth To Freedom's child, firstborn on Earth.

She scarce had don'd her swaddling clothes When, in strength and power, she arose; As from the ground, from far and near An army sprang unfringed with fear. Through seven years our father's starved and fought;

Our flag unfurled, in lines of beauty wrought. With graceful folds—Red, White and Blue; Through azure sky, our stars were few. Today "Old Glory" floats side by side, Blending with colors of our brave Allied;

From shore to shore, on land and sea While our boys are fighting the world to free. Above, beneath, beyond, within Is our Christ and Leader, mighty to win.

He once gave His life for all the world. Follow where'er His banner is unfurled. "Fear not, I am with you," your Brother and Friend. Ever faithful and loving, even unto the end.

MRS. MARIE B. SPEARS.

Born Washington County, Penn., July 2, 1834.
