DAUGHTER GLADDENS HOME

Born, June 29th, to the wife of Roy O. Young, of Floriston, California, a daughter, Mrs. Young was formerly Miss Myrtle Cross, of Oregon City.

Oh! Misery and Wo e! Parkplace Man Gets Hit in Eye and Purse

"Woe is me" wailed one Ed Sobczewski, when he ran up against the initiating program of the Secret Society of Smokers, in the Multnomah county jail yesterday forenoon.

But thereby hangs a tale. Early in the morning on Wednesday, as was his wont, said Ed arose at his Parkplace home, for the day's toil as a mechanic at the Portland Lumber Company plant. But some strange twist of fate put a variance to his usual custom, and before departing he proceeded to severely beat, maul, pound, hammer, strike, hit, and maltreat his faithful wife, by name Elsie Sobczewski. In fact, if her charges be true, he so severely bruised her with his fists as to make the attendance of a physician imperative, and she called Dr. Strickland to her aid. The doctor found her in a serious condition, and after administering first aid, remanded her to bed, where she may be forced to remain several days.

On the charge of assault and battery preferred against the mechanic, Constable Frost gave the Portland police the tip to pick him up at his work, and to hold him pending the arrival of the constable. Sobczewski was easily apprehended and lodged in the Multnomah county jail. Here he met a fraternity of prisoners of which the public knows little. The Secret Society of Smokers sent their walking delegate around to the new-come in their midst for the customary "once over." They sized up the man, and struck him for two bucks for their smoke fund. Mr. Ed flatly refused to contribute toll. Then came a detail of two husky coons, and after a few minutes session they convinced the recalcitrant that the best thing he could do would be as the Romans do. So for his two-bones of tribute, he received two black eyes, and some minor injuries.

Brought before Judge Stevens, of the Justice Court, to answer the charges preferred by his disabled wife, he pleaded not guilty. The genial judge called said a hundred dollars bond. Mr. Sobczewski said he had not that much with him, but if they would let him go home to get it he would give the bail. On the trip to Parkplace, he was accompanied by his watchful attorney Thomas A. Burke, who takes a keen interest in such things. While the man was procuring the money from the bottom of a trunk, wherein he laid the sum of $250, Mr. Burke looked about and found that the family was poverty stricken. No food was in the cupboards, no fuel was in the shed. The mother and the two children were in need of provisions.

Upon returning to the court with the funds for the bond, Mr. Burke presented his testimony. The good judge immediately tacked on the sum of $50 to the bail, to be put up with the court for the expenses of the little family at Parkplace during the pendency of the hearing, which has been set for July 10th.

So taken all around, it looks like Mr. S. was having an adze of biblical truth hammered into his consciousness. "In what measure ye mete, so shall it be meted ye again."

T. W. SULLIVAN TAKES BRIDE AND SURPRISES HIS MANY FRIENDS

Word was received in the city yesterday announcing the marriage of Thomas W. Sullivan, prominent resident here, to Marguerita A. Mann, of 170 Vista Avenue, Portland, and formerly of Seattle.

Mr. Sullivan is one of Oregon City's best known citizens, having served both as mayor of the city and as president of the commercial club. He is a hydraulic engineer connected with the P. R. L. & P. Company, and maintains offices in the Masonic building. During the recent Red Cross drive he was campaign manager for Clackamas county, and made a splendid showing with a record of second best of the counties of the state. The well wishes of his hundreds of friends here go with him in his new happiness.

DR. ERNST SOMMER GIVEN COMMISSION IN MEDICAL CORPS

Oregon City friends of Dr. Ernst A. Sommer, formerly a practicing physician here, are congratulating him on entrance into the Medical Reserve Corps, with the rank of captain. Dr. Sommer will be stationed at the Camp Lewis base hospital temporarily.

Previous to his departure from here about eight years ago, Dr. Sommer enjoyed one of the most extensive medical practices in the county and took a live interest in civic affairs. In 1905 he was mayor of the city and was sergeant in Co. "F," of the O. N. G., which was the local troop at that time.

Coming to Oregon at the age of 16, Dr. Sommer took the medical course at the Willamette University, that department of the institution being located at Portland then. In 1890, when 20 years of age, he graduated from the university, and first hung out his shingle as a member of the medical fraternity at Woodburn, where he practiced before coming to Oregon City. He has taken post-graduate courses in some of the large eastern colleges and is considered among the leading practitioners of the coast. In Portland he has been a valuable asset to the school board, as a director.

WIFE OF POLICEMAN KILLED BY OUTLAW DIED IN PORTLAND

Mrs. Mary Hanlon, wife of George Hanlon, Oregon City policeman killed by the outlaw, Frank Smith, ten years ago, died at St. Vincent hospital in Portland Thursday morning at 6 o'clock at the age of 55 years. She was born in Chicago and lived in Oregon City for 14 years.

Mrs. Harlow was a sister of Mrs. Phillips Sorezhan, of Portland. She has lived with her son, Edward Hanlon, on Sixteenth street.

The funeral will be held from St. Johns church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The remains are at Myers & Brady undertaking parlors.

NEW ERA LAD HAS CLOSE SHAVE WITH HUN GAS BRIGADE

Oliver Ferguson, a Clackamas county young man, and son of L. Ferguson, of New Era, has left the hospital from accounts received in a letter by his father Tuesday morning, and is again in active service. Ferguson was one of the young men believed by relatives to be a victim of gas, but has so far recovered from the effects that he intends to "get even" with the Huns for doing their dirty work.

Ferguson in a private letter, said that he escaped with his tooth brush and a bar of soap. He has been in the hospital since March, and for some time his voice had entirely left him.

Ferguson is one of the "game" young men of Clackamas county.

In his letter he says: "Dear Dad: Just received your most welcome letter, dated April 14, and I was certainly glad to hear from you."

"I am doing fine now, and hope you are in the same 'fix'."

"The weather is glorious and everything looks bright and cheery."

"I am anxious to see the new highway at New Era. Did they put in a new bridge there?"

"So Curt Dustin, (another New Era boy) is in the service."

"I only wish I could write and tell you more, but we are not allowed, but I always expect to receive long letters from you."

Another letter from the young man dated June 5, was also received at the same time.

France, May 29, 1918.

"Dear Dad: Just received your letters with the newspaper, picture and address, and certainly appreciate them."

"We are never surprised no matter what takes place here. My battery brought down another German airplane a few days ago. Fine work, believe me."

"Is there much in the home papers about the war?"

"Yes, that was 'some' write-up in the paper."

"Hoping that I may receive more long letters like the last one. I remain your loving son."

OLIVER FERGUSON, Battery D, 1st Anti Aircraft Battalion, American Expeditionary Forces, France.

W. E. MUMPOWER WINS TITLE TO 20 ACRE TRACT OF LAND

W. E. Mumpower was granted title in fee simple to a 20-acre tract of land in the Arthur's Prairie district by decree of Circuit Judge Campbell Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Mumpower had filed an action against Anna Sprague, the administratrix of the estate of Mark Sprague, deceased, who was holding the property as one of the assets of the estate. The plaintiff, who happens to be the father of the defendant, claimed that in an agreement made during the lifetime of the deceased, title to the property had gone from Mumpower to Sprague, as security for the loan of some money.

Under the terms of this agreement, according to the complaint, the title was to be vested in the plaintiff as soon as the obligation of $250 had been met. This has been done, says Mumpower, but the other party to the agreement died without transferring the title back to him. His contentions were sustained by the decree of Judge Campbell Tuesday.

HUN LINE SMASHED TO DEPTH OF ONE MILE

LONDON, July 4.—British troops last night delivered an attack in the region of Amiens, capturing the village of Hamel, northeast of Villers-Bretonneux, and advancing their line in this region to a depth of more than a mile.

PARIS, July 4.—French troops last night attacked the German lines on a front of a mile and a quarter in the neighborhood of Autreches, northwest of Soissons, and pushed into the enemy territory for a distance of nearly half a mile, according to today's war office announcement.

Later the French delivered another attack in the same region between Autreches and Montin-sous-Toutvent, giving them further gains of territory. The entire operation netted the French a gain of ground on a front of more than three miles to a maximum depth of approximately three-fifths of a mile. The French took 1066 prisoners.

France, June 5, 1918.

BRODIES RETURN TO CITY FROM EXTENDED TOUR OF THE EAST

E. E. Brodie, publisher of the Morning Enterprise, returned, with Mrs. Brodie, Wednesday morning from a five weeks' trip in Eastern states. They left here May 29, going direct to Little Rock, Ark., where Mr. Brodie worked successfully with other members of the delegation from the Pacific Northwest to bring the 1919 convention of the National Editorial Association to the Northwest. After attending the sessions of the convention at Little Rock and Hot Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Brodie went to New York, and toured New England, going as far as Portland, Me., and visiting points of interest in all of the New England states. Returning, they spent a few days in Washington where they saw President Wilson and heard an interesting debate in the senate on the army appropriation bill, in which Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, took a leading part. They visited in Chicago and Spokane on their way home.

SOLDIER EXPECTS TO HUNT NEAR ESTACADA IN VERY SHORT TIME

The boys from the Eastern part of Clackamas county have the nucleus of a little zoo started in their company, says A. A. Alf, in a letter to his wife, Mrs. Hazel Alf, which was received recently. He does not say whether the boys will bring their pets back with them or not. Following is the letter:

Somewhere in France, June 11, 1918.

Dearest Hazel: I am setting in the Y hut by a nice little fire, eating candy and reading the letters I got from you yesterday. Not having such an awful bad time I would say. What do you think about it?

Yesterday was pay day and I laid in my supply of eats. I have six quarts of peaches, two quarts of pears, two pints cans of blackberry jam, one-half pint gooseberry jam, three dozen eggs in the tent and some francs in my pocket. I am not "bad off for eats," either, do you think?

I see they are going to turn some elk loose around Estacada. How many did they turn out and what is the law about hunting them? I think I will go hunting some fine morning and it won't be long.

Did I tell you about the zoo we started here lately? The boys have caught two wild bears about six weeks old, six young crows and we bought a young fox. All are quite tame excepting the fox and he will bite if he gets a chance.

The mail has just come in and I'm going to see if I got another letter. Yours as ever, A. A. ALF.

MEMORY OF EARLY ROAD BUILDERS PERPETUATED ON OLD BARLOW TRAIL

Another monument was erected to the memory of those sturdy pioneers who blazed a trail into the far West years ago.

Rhododendron Inn, on Mt. Hood, was the scene of the dedication and the monument was raised on the old Barlow trail, hewed over the Cascade mountains by Samuel K. Barlow and followed later by practically all the pioneer immigrant trains coming over the plains into the Willamette valley.

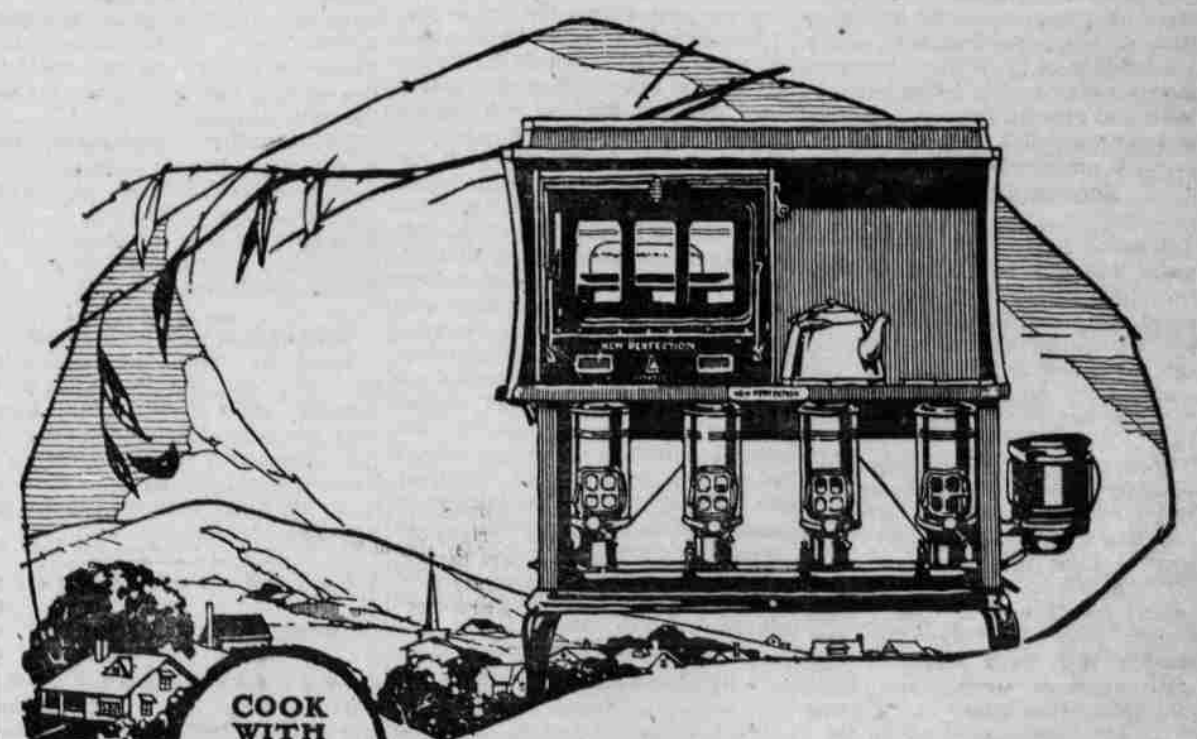

Three generations of direct descendants of the pioneer road maker were present, Mrs. George A. Harding, a granddaughter, Mrs. E. E. Brodie, his great-granddaughter, and Madelon Brodie, great-great-granddaughter of Samuel K. Barlow. Mrs. Mollie Barlow Wilkins, a direct descendant, was present and read the dedication address.

Those who attended from Oregon City were Mr. and Mrs. George A. Harding, Miss Evelyn Harding, Mrs. Neita Barlow Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brodie and Madelon Brodie.

state and from Washington remained in the city to attend the Fourth of July celebration in the park and picnic grounds yesterday.

Dr. Clyde Moun, L. A. Norris and Robert E. Hampson attended from Oregon City.

SALEM, Or., July 4.—A telegram from John Barton Payne, of Director General McAdoo's office was received by the public service commission last night announcing that the Sumpter Valley, Mount Hood and Great Southern, all Oregon railroads, have been released from federal control.
