Mrs. Lizzie Strickland, who has been at Fossil, eastern Oregon, where she has been visiting her son, Horace Strickland, and wife, for the past month, has returned to Oregon City. Mrs. Strickland returned as far as Wasco in the automobile of her son, Cassius Strickland, of Gladstone, and wife who had made the entire trip in that manner to Wasco. The roads between Wasco and The Dalles are somewhat cut up by heavy travel of the automobile trucks carrying the wheat out of that section. The wheat is of exceptionally fine quality this year and there is a big crop. The wheat-growers and farmers of that section are pleased over their crops. Horace Strickland, a former Clackamas county boy, is the owner of a 340-acre ranch, and a large portion is in wheat and oats, besides corn and fine garden. The corn is of a bumper crop, and the finest raised in the history of the eastern Oregon country.

Howard Mass, who had been spending the summer in Grand Island, Nebraska, and visiting in Omaha, returned to Oregon City Thursday morning. He has been employed in a hotel in Grand Island. He accompanied his sister, Miss Adah Mass, to Nebraska, the latter to remain there during the winter, where she is teaching school. While at Grand Island, he visited his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kouscher, who reside on a large farm. Young Mass says he prefers the Oregon climate, especially during the summer, as the thermometer registered 113 and 114 degrees.

Mrs. Ralph Arens, a former resident of Oregon City, but now residing in Portland with her father, H. C. Vogt, during the absence of her husband, Corporal Arens, who is in an officer's training camp at Fort Hancock, Ga., was in Oregon City Monday. Her husband was county agricultural agent for several months. He has been stationed at Camp Lewis, Mrs. Arens has been residing near the camp during her husband's stay there. Mrs. Arens and her father are to leave this week for Homestead, Iowa, to visit a daughter of Mr. Vogt for several months.

Percy Wilson, who has been in Manila, is to be allowed a furlough to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, of Gladstone. The young man is looking forward with pleasure to a visit home. This is his first furlough since entering the service. Percy Wilson will arrive home next month. He recently wrote his parents of a Red Cross bazaar he attended, and was one of the lucky guests, having won many prizes consisting of fruits, both fresh and canned, tobacco and candy. The amount taken in at the fair was $2,000.

Mrs. Bertha Adams, librarian of the city library, was a St. Louis visitor the first of the week. Mrs. Adams arranged with the state librarian to borrow 100 volumes from the state library for the local library, and these will arrive within a few days. Equipped with a full bottle of whiskey and another bottle drained to the last drop, two men and a woman were arrested Tuesday night by Sheriff Wilson, and Night Officers Burk and Surfas. They arrived in town in a roadster, carrying license plates numbered 2518, registered under the name of Chas. E. Gilstrap, East Second and Market streets, Portland, and stopped at a local restaurant, where one of the men became involved in an altercation with Edwin Gerber, who manifested some curiosity over the wet contents of the car. After a brief passage at arms, the trio got into the car and started south, where the officers overtook them on the south end road.

When questioned at the county jail, they gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bennett and George Colebrook, and said they lived in Curry county, but had been in Portland on business. The men claimed to be sheepmen. Bennett also told the officers that his name was Barrett and Colebrook shortened his name to Cole.

Sheriff Wilson demanded $25 bail and compelled the party to surrender their whiskey and allowed them to depart.

Decrees of divorce have been entered in the following cases: Meta M. Dekker vs. Herman C. Dekker; Frank M. Schull vs. Mary J. Schull; and Verena James vs. Cecil A. James. In the latter action, the husband was ordered to pay $30 per month alimony for the support of a minor child, and to take out a $1,000 life insurance policy, payable to the child, in case of his death.

On advices from the federal authorities at Washington, James Walsh, arrested by Sheriff Wilson and Deputy Davidson at Oswego a week ago, was committed to the state hospital for the insane, to be held at that institution until further orders from Washington.

Walsh was arrested as a draft evader. He had been in hiding in the woods beyond Oswego for several days and had not registered. He claimed to be 35 years of age, and is an Irishman. He admitted Monday that he had been in the insane asylum at Cedro Wooley, Washington, and investigation proved he had been placed there by federal officials, pending examination by immigration authorities, with a view to deportation. Upon instructions received by Deputy U. S. Attorney Latourette Friday, the man was committed by Judge Anderson.

Two personal injury actions, aggregating $22,750.00, were filed against the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company Tuesday. The plaintiffs are Mary A. Lazelle, widow of the late Geo. Lazelle, and Fred J. Memal, administrator of the estate of Geo. Lazelle, deceased.

The action grew out of the fatal accident which occurred at the junction of 14th and Main Sts. on August 5, 1917, when an automobile driven by Mr. Lazelle collided with a Portland-Oregon City car of the P. R. L. & P. Co. Mr. Lazelle, who was a well known farmer of the county, died soon after as the result of the injuries sustained and Mrs. Lazelle was severely bruised and received alleged permanent injuries. The widow asks $15,000 damages in her suit, together with $250 special damages on account of hospital and doctor bills.

The action brought by the administrator of the estate is in the sum of $7,500 claimed due by reason of the accidental death of Mr. Lazelle, and the resultant loss to the estate. Mr. Lazelle was 55 years of age at the time of his demise.

The United States of America, and Clackamas county, Oregon, have eighteen more members on the citizenship rolls, by reason of Judge Campbell's action Monday. The largest class before the court in a long time was examined by Naturalization Officer Ben Comm. 18 were admitted to citizenship, and five cases were continued until December 15th, to await further evidence.

When the men took their oaths they listened to one of the most splendid talks on citizenship ever heard here, given by Judge Campbell. A feature of the examination was the questioning of the applicants on the support of war activities and purchase of Liberty Bonds, and none were admitted to citizenship without tangible evidence of their backing the government financially as well as morally.

England, Italy, Belgium, Russia and Sweden are represented in Monday's class. The men admitted were: Max Telford, William Bluhm, William Worrall, Frank Newstrom, Joe Pavetti, Louis Van Demortle, William Haack, Julius Vanderschuere, Wm. E. Freeman, Fred Horner, Thomas J. Lewis, Aine Beaudoin, Robert James Cook, Chris Swanson, Percy Ashford, Tom Blanchard, John H. Graham and William Laidlaw.

He leaves September 26, but will return to Wolf Creek before going into service.

With the first tinge of cool weather, the county speed market took a spurt upward, and Officer Meads turned in over 30 violations Monday morning before Judge Sievers. Twelve cases were disposed of Monday and the balance will be taken care of during the week as the men appear for sentence. Fines were administered of $5 each, in the following cases: J. A. Fairman, G. E. Kibbe, A. J. Olson and D. C. Wang; V. F. Oliver drew a $15 prize package from the judge, while O. Galsess, K. G. Bernard and N. Spady were assessed $10 each. E. Engin of Portland was given a $20 jolt.

Practically all the arrests were made Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The official Liberty Loan Relic train, with three cars jammed full of highly interesting war relics picked up on the battlefields of France, paid an official visit to Oregon City early Thursday morning.

In spite of the fact that little time could be given to advertise the coming of the train, probably two thousand persons were on hand and visited the interesting display. The three cars were patrolled by soldiers, and several liberty loan speakers, including District Attorney Walter Evans of Portland, were with the party. On account of the early hour here no official talks were given, but the big crowd of Oregon City folks got their money's worth. The Liberty train went down the valley as far as Cottage Grove today, stopping enroute at various places, and will return Saturday.

Joseph M. Farmer, of West Linn, died at McMinnville Thursday, while visiting his daughter, Mrs. John Hutchins of that place. Mr. Farmer succumbed to a severe attack of pneumonia three days after taking sick.
