OREGON ENGINEER IS TO CONSTRUCT HUTS FOR BOYS OVERSEAS

Major C. S. Noble, a former resident of Oregon City, and for some time city engineer, but now residing at 563 East Madison Street, Portland, will leave Wednesday or Thursday for overseas work in charge of the construction department, which is erecting army huts.

At the present time Major Noble is locating engineer of the Oregon State Highway engineering department, and has had much experience in construction work.

Major Noble has a son, Lieutenant

Major C. S. Noble

G. B. Noble, a former Oregon City young man, who is in the service, and who received serious wounds a few weeks ago. He is stationed in France, and Major Noble says there are 100 of his blood relatives in the army, many of who are natives of Scotland, and are with the Highlanders. Three nephews have been killed fighting and ten nephews are in the service. Bernard Noble is still in Base hospital No. 234, and from letters received by relatives he will be confined to the hospital for two months at least. He was shot in the wrist and in the right arm while in action by a machine gun bullet, and besides suffering from these wounds is now afflicted with scarlet fever and is in quarantine. He is a member of Company K, 168 Infantry, and says it is somewhat lonely being the only man in the large room where he is in quarantine. The young man has a host of friends in Oregon City. Before enlisting in the service he was an instructor in an eastern university, and was a student of Oxford.

Major Noble is a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, of West Linn.

SCHOOL CHILDREN IN COMPETITION FOR ESSAY PRIZE

"My Liberty Bond and I," is the subject for the state wide Liberty Loan essay contest that is on in the various sections, and many children of Clackamas county have been interested in the contest and entered for the prize. Fred L. Boalt is in charge of the essay contest, and the essays had to be turned into the committee September 27. In the third and fourth grades not more than 200 words were used; in the fifth and sixth grades not more than 400 words; seventh and eighth and high school not more than 1000 words used.

The object of the essay contest was to encourage the discussion in the homes of Oregon over the Liberty Loan drive.

IMBLERS FILE AGAINST COOMBS AND GREWELL

Emma L. and Edward Imbler have filed suit against A. B. and Florence M. Coombs and U. S. Grewell for the cancellation of a contract. It is alleged that on March 4, 1913, Grewell entered into contract with Imbler for the purchase of land in Clackamas county for $2900, paying $650 and making certain agreements for the payment of the balance, and that Grewell deposited the contract as collateral with Coombs to secure a note for $1000. Grewell later relinquished the property to the plaintiffs.

FILES SUIT ON NOTE

H. C. Burley has filed suit against Marius and Alice M. Pederson to collect $1400 and interest on a promissory note, executed January 25, 1910, in favor of Thomas Allhove and endorsed to the plaintiff. Nothing has been paid on the principle of the note.

BARNEY BROS. HOME FROM ALASKA WHERE SALMON RUN HEAVY

S. D. Barney has returned to Oregon City from Alaska, where he has been employed as a builder at a cannery during the summer. He was accompanied by his brother, Chauncey, of Portland, but formerly of Oregon City. The latter has been employed as bookkeeper for the company. In making the trip to Dillingham on the Nushagak river, the boat, the Burgess, they took passage on, was caught in the ice 14 days. This boat with 22 others, had a narrow escape from being crushed like the Tacoma, that met its fate near the Burgess. The former boat was wrecked by being crushed by the large ice cakes floating in the river. One passenger was lost, but several have since died from exposure. Much fear was felt by passengers of the other steamers when the Tacoma sunk.

The run of salmon this year is much larger than in previous years reports Mr. Barney, and the favorite fish that is being canned in the Alaska Red, although there is considered King (Chinook) being canned this season. The Alaska Red salmon seems to retain the reddish color much better after it is canned than the Chinook. There were 300 men employed in the cannery where the Barneys were employed, and many of these do not believe they care to again make the trip North. They brought home some of the large antlers from the reindeer as a remembrance of their life in Alaska.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT IS RESULT OF EXPLOSION TO HUNTER SUNDAY

William Gerber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gerber, of 92nd Street, Portland, met with a painful accident near Stone, Clackamas county, Sunday, when he accidentally shot himself in the right arm. Gerber was in company with a young woman of Portland, and they had intended trying their hand at hunting. They made the trip to the Clackamas river in a buggy, and the gun had been placed in the rear of the buggy. After arriving at Stone, Gerber attempted to get the gun from the vehicle, when it exploded, the full shot entering the arm. Dr. H. S. Mount, of this city, was immediately summoned, and the young man was removed to Oregon City hospital, where an operation was performed. Dr. Mount is using every effort to save the arm, although the injury is serious. The parents of Gerber were summoned and were with him at the hospital when the operation was performed.

PATRIOTIC CITIZEN LOANS GOVERNMENT FINE BINOCULARS

J. W. Jones, known by all employees of the court house as "Jones," and one of the big patriots of the city, has received from the U. S. government an acknowledgment of receipt of a binocular, that he has loaned the government during the war. A request came some time ago for binoculars, spyglasses, telescopes, sextants and chronometers, and Mr. Jones was one of the first to respond in this city. This was one of the finest binoculars sent from Oregon City to the navy department.

A check was enclosed with the acknowledgment for the amount of $1. In borrowing these glasses a complete record is kept by the government, giving the name and address with complete description of the article sent. Each article is also engraved with a number, which acts as a key to designate where same is to be returned at the termination of the war.

Mr. Jones' binocular has been numbered 7150, and no doubt there were many binoculars offered the government to be used during the time of the war.

PETITIONS MADE FOR PROBATE OF COUNTY ESTATES

Petition for admission to probate of the will of the late Mary E. Wright, was filed by W. L. Parmenter Thursday. The bulk of a $490 estate is left to the petitioner's wife, Emma Parmenter, a daughter of deceased and B. T. Carr, a son. Other sons of the deceased are granted $1 each.

Louisa Anna Hilleary of Boring, widow of the late Henry Hilleary, has petitioned the county for the probate of the will left by her husband, and for letters of administration upon the estate valued at $6000 for real property, and $5250 for personal property. Besides the widow there are one son and one daughter as beneficiaries.

John A. Steinbach of Hillsdale has petitioned the court for letters of administration upon the estate of his mother, the late Catherine Steinbach, who died June 15, 1918, valued at $2,000 and consisting of the home place in the Aurora district. Besides the petitioner, there are the following children: William, Aurora; Catherine Becke, Aurora; Mary Ann Steinbach, Aurora; and Sophia Kiel, Aurora.

Gertrude H. Gutherie, the mother, has been appointed guardian of Joseph LeRoy and Amos Gutherie, aged 20 months and four weeks, respectively. The children are heirs to an estate in Polk county.

Wife of Willamette Farmer Sues Him For Divorce When Court Pronounces Him Sane

After failing to secure a commitment to the state insane hospital of Wm. A. Bauer, of Willamette, his wife Rachel A. Bauer filed a suit for divorce Friday afternoon, charging cruelty. Bauer was taken into custody Thursday, upon complaint of J. C. Edmonds, and after an examination by Dr. Guy Mount, he was discharged by County Judge Anderson.

Mrs. Bauer recites that they were married in Union Star, Mo., April 2, 1887. She says her husband's treatment of her has been cruel and inhuman, and that he has humiliated her in the presence of their son, Philip Bauer, a Seattle clergyman, the father having stated that their son has failed to keep them in their need. Mrs. Bauer says her husband is afflicted with the wanderlust, and although their son has provided a home for them at Willamette, Bauer has taken into his head to go to California, and that he sold their household effects, realizing $276, which he hid in the barn. His wife found the money and took $100 of it, whereupon Bauer threatened to kill her. Mrs. Bauer says she is hard of hearing and her husband becomes irritated when she does not hear him and nearly goes into a fit, and she further alleges that he has beaten her.

From Judge Campbell Friday afternoon, Mrs. Bauer secured an order for $50 suit money and an order restraining Bauer from molesting her or from selling any of her personal property at Willamette. Bauer has a pension of $14 a month. Attorney C. H. Dye appears for Mrs. Bauer.

AUTO IS OVERTURNED OREGON CITY PARTY ALL LUCKILY ESCAPE

As Dr. T. E. Beard and wife accompanied by several friends, who had just arrived from the East, were passing along Tenth and Main Streets in the light automobile truck of Dr. Beard, they were crowded to one side by a driver of another automobile while passing, and in so doing the Beard automobile was capsized. As the cover of the truck protected the occupants and saved them from falling out, the members of the Beard party were uninjured. The windshield was wrecked, and all are puzzled as to how they so luckily escaped. The automobiles were making the turn at the Tenth Street crossing. A large crowd soon gathered, and the occupants of the Beard car were given assistance and removed from the overturned car.

SIX MONTHS OLD WEST LINN BOY HAS PERFECT SCORE

Harold John Winkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Winkel, of West Linn, who a few days ago was taken to Portland where he was entered in the eugenics test, was honored with the 100 per cent record. He is a handsome child with large, blue eyes that at once win friends. His fine shaped head is somewhat bald, but there is a sprinkling of brown hair making its appearance. All who have seen Harold John Winkel, say he is a dandy, and well deserves the 100 per cent. He is six months old, and weighs 13 pounds, and while undergoing his eugenics test made many friends.

SUSAN C. LINN SUES PORTLAND REALTY DEALER

The suit of Mrs. Susan C. Linn, executrix of the estate of the late B. F. Linn, against M. E. Lee, a Portland realty operator, was heard Friday and was taken under advisement by Judge Campbell. Mrs. Linn traded the Linn sawmill and 165 acres of land for a house and lot in South Portland, accepting a mortgage of $3630. Lee refused to pay the mortgage charge, and that the Clackamas county was not as represented, and Mrs. Linn instituted foreclosure proceedings. C. Schuebel appears for the plaintiff.

Alice Margaret Is Found In Portland Message Delivered

Alice Margaret has been found. The Morning Enterprise announced Thursday that the Western Union had received a cablegram from a soldier in France, sent to Alice Margaret and the last name had been omitted. Manager Hunt has since been deluged with information, and Saturday he learned that the cablegram, signed "Clan" had been sent by Claire Miller to his sisters, Alice and Margaret Miller, who have moved to Portland. The Miller family had sent a cablegram to Claire Miller when his father died a few weeks ago and the cable received there was a reply, but the names were confused in transmission.

OAK GROVE HAS BIG PATRIOTIC RALLY SATURDAY

Oak Grove had a big patriotic rally Saturday evening in honor of the little city going far over the top in the Liberty Loan drive. The meeting was presided over by Dean Butler, and who gave a brief opening address. Other speakers were Milton A. Miller, of Portland, and Mr. Woodham, a shipworker of Portland, but whose home is at Jennings Lodge. Both men made excellent addresses, as did Mr. Butler. Patriotic airs were sung by Mr. Charter, and he sang a number of the National songs of the allied countries, and "Star Spangled Banner" and "America." He was well received, and responded to several encores.
