TOOK FLING AT BOOSTERS

Visitor's Suggestion Probably Did Not Tend to Make Him Popular in Los Angeles.

Merle Sidener, local advertising man, recently returned from a Western trip in which he visited the city of Los Angeles. He was impressed with the boosting of the Los Angeles citizens and said he learned that an Oregon colonel from Portland was the guest of honor at a banquet in Los Angeles. The usual after-dinner speeches were made, all boosting the city of Los Angeles, but each speaker regretted that Los Angeles had not been founded on the coast. The speakers all said that had the city been on the coast instead of ten miles or so from it, the city would be the garden spot of the world. The visiting colonel was called on to speak and said:

"Gentlemen, I am impressed with your city as much as you are and believe that I can suggest a way in which you can accomplish your wish." All of the citizens present leaned forward eagerly, for this was no doubt the solution that had long been waiting for. The colonel continued:

"This is what you should do. Obtain a large pipe, run it from the center of your city into the ocean and if you can suck as hard as you can blow the ocean will soon be in your city."-Indianapolis News.

THE MOUNTAIN LION'S TRIP.

"I must tell you," said the mountain lion whose name was Jim, "of the trip I have had."

Jim was a very beautiful mountain lion or puma and had just arrived in the a big western zoo.

He was three years old and weighed E. one hundred and seventy-eight pounds, which is quite a good deal for a threeyenrold to weigh.

"I was taken to the East," Jim said grandly, "and they had quite a time catching me to take me there. Ah, but I knew they wanted to have quite a hard time. Because," he added after # pause, "there was a reason." "What could the reason have been?"

Berkshire$3.50 his new zoo companions asked each other. They didn't want to ask him because they were afraid he would be quite unbearable if he became too conceited, and he had already had so many interesting experiences.

"What are you talking about?" Jim asked, for he noticed that they had "Oh nothing very important," one
