Plenty of Proof Given That Advertising Pays Try it Yourself and See

It's easy to believe when you try it. We refer to the pulling power of the Enterprise advertising. Listen.—Last Sunday F. F. Theroux, dealer in musical instruments, carried a little display advertisement, which also appeared in the weekly edition. From that advertisement, Mr. Theroux sold three pianos and a number of small musical instruments. How's that for results? Mr. Theroux used our cut service, that is offered, without charge, to all advertisers, and he speaks in glowing terms of the results he achieved. Do you see a moral in this story for yourself?

ANOTHER BULLSEYE We rang the bell again! On Sunday, October 6, we ran a reader for Smith's Tire Shop on Seventh street. The advertisement was 24 inches and cost $2.40. It told of the new machine for manufacturing cord re-treads. That little advertisement brought the Smith Tire Shop 16 tire orders, and it paid for itself many times over. Aside from the Morning Enterprise Sunday edition no publicity was used, so there is no question about where the results came from. What's the answer?

WEST LINN GARDEN HAS MANY DAHLIAS OF ALL VARIETIES

One of the beauty spots of West Linn is the floral garden of Mrs. P. J. Winkel, where over 85 dahlia plants are growing. Flowing ombred plants are growing, of which there are over 30 varieties, ranging from the snowy white to the almost black. These are not the new varieties, but are of the genuine old kind that you never tire of, and ones that will last much longer than the new Mrs. Winkel is most generous with her flowers, and since they are commencing to bloom, she has hit upon a plan where the Oregon City hospital patients are to have their rooms brightened by these gorgeous colored flowers. Wednesday Mrs. Winkel sent her first donation to the local institution, and is planning to continue the good work until the season for the flowers closes. Many rooms were brightened by these flowers, and the patients were overjoyed with their gifts. Also growing in the Winkel garden is an orange tree, as well as a lemon tree.

APPOINTMENT OF ADMINISTRATOR PETITION FILED

HUSBAND IS CRUEL AND CURSES WIFE DIVORCE IS ASKED

Suit for divorce has been filed by Sarah E. Bartlett against Glenn F. Bartlett, who was married at Portland February 6, 1912. He is charged with using abusive language, and in 1916, while they were living at Tualatin, she says he kicked her so she could not sit down for several days. Mrs. Bartlett avers that on September 24 last her husband threw her on the bed and said: "You just dare to put one foot on the floor and I'll grab you by the throat and choke you till you are black." Mrs. Bartlett asks to be permitted to resume her maiden name of Sullivan.

GUY TEMPLETON DIES SUDENLY OF PNEUMONIA

Guy Templeton, youngest son of Councilman and Mrs. Henry M. Templeton, died Friday of pneumonia in Philadelphia.

Mr. Templeton received a wire Friday night from his son, Henry C. Templeton, at Hudson, N. Y., conveying the sad news.

The young man was 26 years of age and leaves a wife and two children, a son and a daughter. He was evidently ill but a short time, as his parents had had no word of his sickness. The young man left here 13 years ago with his parents for the East and remained there when they returned to Oregon City a few years later. He was in Oregon City on a visit a few years ago, and had been a resident of Philadelphia for some time.

Besides his parents, he leaves a sister and two brothers, Henry C., of Hudson, N. Y., and George, at Toronto, Canada.

The Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Salvation Army and Jewish Welfare Board are sending home money which the soldier overseas place in their charge for mothers, sisters and wives over here.

CROWN WILLAMETTE LOSSES IN SUIT FOR DAMAGE TO EMPLOYE

A. L. Richardson secured a verdict for $495 damages against the Crown Willamette Paper Co., in suit that was tried yesterday before Circuit Judge Bingham, of Salem, sitting for Judge Campbell. Richardson brought suit against the company for $1999.999, alleging injury to the index finger of his right hand in a conveyer. Richardson was represented by William M. Stone and Livy Stipp, while Bert Henry of the firm of Griffith, Leiters & Allen, and Chester G. Shepherd appeared for the company.

SEEDLING PEACHES RAISED HERE ARE EXTRA FINE ONES

A sample of seedling peaches in the Jones drug store window are attracting no little attention, these being grown on the property of C. Schobel. Six years ago Mr. Schobel carefully threw an Early Crawford peach seed out of the window of his dining room, and from that peach grew a fine tree has sprung up. The peaches have a most delicious flavor, and are of unusual size. One measured 13 inches in circumference, and are solid and freestone. Although the crop of peaches in Clackamas county was somewhat short this year, this tree was laden with fruit. Four boxes were gathered and there are still peaches on the tree.

WIFE LEFT HIM AND STAYED OUT LATE IS CAUSE OF COMPLAINT

Carl S. Williams, who was married April 13, of this year, at Dallas to Viola Williams, has filed suit for divorce, alleging that in August, while he was working at Hood River, his wife left him and went to Vancouver, Wash., where she stayed out late nights with other men. He says she told him she was getting letters from other men, but that she did not wish her mail to come to the house, for fear the plaintiff would read the letters. She insisted upon living by herself in Hood River, and spent all he could make, though he was getting $9 a day in a sawmill near Hood River. She told him she would never live with him again, according to his complaint.

FIVE DIVORCE DECREES ARE HANDED DOWN

Decrees of divorce were handed down Thursday in the following suits: Lorette E. Warner, vs. C. E. Warner, given the custody of minor children and $30 a month for their care. Mabel E. Butler vs. Edmond J. Butler. Ella B. Orchard vs. J. E. Orchard, plaintiff given $25 a month for support of minor child. WELL KNOWN WOMAN PASSES AWAY HERE AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Mrs. Lucinda Wyman, wife of A. J. Wyman, one of the prominent residents of this city, died at her home near Division Street, Friday evening after a few days' illness of bronchial pneumonia. Mrs. Wyman was one of the highly esteemed residents of Oregon City. She was the daughter of A. Z. and Mrs. Lucinda Simons, and was born in Illinois February 1, 1865. She was united in marriage to Mr. Wyman in 1885 in Kansas, and came to Oregon with her family in 1890. She first made her home in Yamhill, and later came to Oregon City. After residing here for several years, she later moved with her family to Gladstone, returning to Oregon City about a year ago, where she has since resided. While a resident of Gladstone and Oregon City she was an active member of the Christian church. Mrs. Wyman is survived by her husband, A. J. Wyman, and the following children: Mrs. Bertha McComb, of Estacada; Paul Wyman, of Gladstone; Mrs. Hazel Green, of Oregon City; Mrs. Gladys Belz, of Pendleton; Henry Wyman, who is in the navy.

ELMER RINGSTEAD DIES ON S. P. TRAIN WHILE ON HIS WAY HOME

Elmer Ringstead, 30, died on a Southern Pacific train yesterday morning between Clackamas and Oregon City, on his way to his home at Mt. Angel. Ringstead, accompanied by his father, Ed Ringstead, was on the way from Eastern Oregon where he had been for the benefit of his health, he having suffered from tuberculosis since February. The body was taken from the train at Oregon City and will be prepared for transportation to Silverton, where funeral services will be held. Besides his father young Ringstead is survived by two brothers and three sisters.

EMPLOYE IS VICTIM OF ACCIDENT AT MILLS

Charles Balscom, aged 66, helper to the cook in the Hawley Pulp and Paper Company, met his death yesterday morning through an accident. About 4 o'clock the cooker was ready to blow the digester and called to Balscom to see if everything was ready. Balscom called to go ahead. It seems that he misunderstood the cook to say No. 4 was to be blown, when in reality it was No. 5. He received the full charge of steam from the 15-inch pipe and was terribly burned about the face and arms, his eyes and nose being swollen shut. There is no mistake that he misunderstood the order, as his helper warned him that he had the wrong digester ready, but he seemed to be certain that he was right. Even though the order was wrongly interpreted he undoubtedly would have had time to get out of danger and it is thought that he discovered his mistake and tried to close the digester. He was removed to the hospital and W. P. Hawley Jr., rushed physicians to the institution and everything was done for the man but to no avail. Mr. Balscom died at 7:15 o'clock Tuesday night. He leaves a widow and two children, a son and a daughter.
