Friday was a lucky day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Austin, of Oswego, for they received a telegram from their son, Charlie, who has been in France, and had arrived safely in the United States. The telegram was sent from New Jersey, saying that he had arrived in New York from France November 17. There was great rejoicing in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin, and they are anxiously awaiting news of the arrival of this gallant young soldier. He left Oregon City June 23 and since arriving in France has been over the top six times, and fighting at the front for three weeks. He has not received a wound or scratch, and is a typical Yankee, who Uncle Sam is proud of. This young man was last heard from while in France last week, when Deputy County Assessor William Cook received a letter telling of some of his experiences he had while going over the top. This letter appeared in the Enterprise early in the week. It was dated November 4th.

Everett Dye returned to his home in Oregon City on Thursday of this week. Early in May he enlisted in the Engineers at Camp Lee, Virginia. After two months of intensive training he was transferred to Camp Humphreys near Washington, D. C., and placed on duty with the Regimental Personnel Office. Feeling that he was stuck there and would never get to France, he put in application for more active duty and was transferred to the Machine Gun Officers' Training School at Camp Hancock, Georgia, where he was due to receive a commission in a few weeks but preferred returning to civil life rather than to remain in the permanent peace army. On his way home Mr. Dye stopped for a few days in Cleveland, Ohio, visiting his brother, Traflet M. Dye, and is at present planning to return to that city after a brief visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dye.

and now occupying her own home. She has recently heard from her son, Reginald Hall, who is on the U. S. transport Finland, which has been turned over as a hospital ship, and many sick and injured soldiers are being brought from France. Earl Hall is still at Camp Lee, Virginia, with Field Hospital No. 11 Sanitary Training Division 8. He has been in the service for the past one and one-half years, and was disappointed in not being able to go over, and had been on ships ready to make the start but was summoned back with his company. He is looking forward to having his honorable discharge within a few days, but it is probable that he will not be able to make the trip until after Christmas.

Mrs. L. J. Ewalt, of Clairmont, accompanied by her sons, Harold and Glenn, were in Oregon City Saturday. Mrs. Ewalt had looked forward to the return of her son, Sergeant Robert Ewalt, in the U. S. M. C., U. S. Naval Forces in France, but he will not be able to come for some time. She had also looked forward to the return of her nephew, Higby Ewalt, who is with the 28th Division. He too will have to remain longer in France. Robert Ewalt's address is in care of F. S. Field, E. Northern Bombing Group, via New York. He is a well known Clackamas county boy.

James D. Olson, of this city, returned Saturday from Vancouver, having received his discharge from the United States army. Private Olson was attached to the Medical Department at Vancouver Barracks, during the greater part of the time that he has been in the service. A week ago he was ordered to report to his company in the Upper Cantonment at Vancouver for the purpose of appearing before the mustering board to secure his discharge. Mr. Olson will resume his position as city hall reporter for the Oregonian in Portland tomorrow.

George Pepper, a former employe of the Bannock & Company's store, who is stationed at Mare Island, is having more troubles. Before George left Oregon City he recovered from the effects of a broken leg. Since entering the service he fell and broke his shoulder, and on Saturday underwent a critical surgical operation for appendicitis. He expects to return to Oregon City as soon as any of the men before he receives his honorable discharge. He is now promoted to second class electrician.

Donald Silcox, a former young man of this city, whose home is at The Dalles, was in Oregon City Monday, where he visited among his many friends. He left Monday evening for home, where he is to spend his holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Silcox, also former residents of this city. He has been in the S. A. T. C. at the University of California, Berkeley, and will resume his studies following the holidays. He has been a student of the University for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Eby went to Hood River Monday to attend the funeral services of their sister-in-law, Mrs. F. G. Eby, who died at that place Saturday after an illness of several months. Mrs. Eby made her home in this city for some time. She arrived early in the summer from California with her husband, and underwent a critical operation at the Oregon City hospital several months ago. She has been visiting her brother at Hood River.

O. E. Freytag, of Gladstone, received a telegram from his son, Clayton Freytag, Saturday, saying that he had arrived safely from France, and was at Newport News, Virginia. Freytag enlisted at Boise, Idaho, and has seen active service. He expects to arrive in Gladstone during the holidays where he is to visit with relatives. Clayton Freytag is well known here, where he was born and reared.

Miss Florence Grace, cashier of the Pacific Power & Light Company of Astoria, has returned to Oregon City to spend the holidays with relatives, including her sister, Miss Ellen Grace, who is teaching school at Clarks. The latter will also spend her vacation here. While at Astoria Miss Grace is making her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Grace.

Sergeant Lyle MacCoy, of the 14th Squadron, stationed at Vancouver, Wash., spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Oregon City. Sergeant MacCoy, who was formerly connected with the L. Adams store, expects to return to Oregon City in April, and is looking forward to that day. He was one of the first young men to enlist from Oregon City.

Neal Sullivan, who was one of the employes of the Miller-Parker Company entering the service, and was the artistic window decorator while in that company's employ, has returned to Oregon City to spend his Christmas furlough with his father, J. C. Sullivan. Sullivan is stationed at Mare Island, and is a member of the Electrical School band at that place.

Percy Pollanz, of West Linn, who has boys at the S. A. T. C., at the Oregon Agricultural College, arrived in Oregon City Friday. He has come to spend his Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Pollanz, of West Linn. He has been a student of the Oregon Agricultural College for several years, and will continue his studies there.

Bert Lageson, one of the most popular boys at Mare Island, whose home is in Oregon City, has arrived here to spend his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lageson, of Fourteenth and Madison streets. He is with the Electrical School, and expects to return to Oregon City as soon as he receives his honorable discharge.

Ted Sheahan arrived in Oregon City Monday, and after visiting friends, leaves for Seattle Wednesday, where he is to spend his furlough with his sisters, Misses Marie and Louise. Sheahan is stationed at Mare Island and is with the Electrical School. He is thoroughly enjoying the instruction he is receiving at Mare Island.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kent, of Park-place, received word from their son, Lowell Kent, saying that he had arrived safely in port and is in Virginia. He is on the U. S. transport Tingkuang. He is enjoying the best of health, and would like to come home for Christmas, but will not be able to do so this year.

William Finucane, who has been in the service, and got as far as New York, expecting to go overseas, has returned to his home in this city. He is the third son of P. S. Finucane, in the service. He has received his honorable discharge from the service, but was disappointed in not being able to go to France.

Captain Wallace Caulfield and wife, who have been visiting with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Caulfield, left Saturday for Portland to spend Christmas with Mrs. Caulfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sealy, Captain and Mrs. Caulfield have just returned from Camp Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. William Peters are receiving the congratulations over the arrival of a son, born at the Oregon City hospital Sunday, December 22. The youngster weighs ten pounds. Mrs. Peters was formerly Miss Ova Marra. This is the first son in the Peters family.

Otto Wilkowski, of Molalla, passed through Oregon City a few days ago on his way to the Hot Springs of Arkansas, and where he will go for the benefit of his health. Mr. Wilkowski is a son-in-law of Gordon Taylor, of Molalla, editor of the Molalla Pioneer.

Sergeant John Busch, who has been at Camp Lewis, Wash., has received his honorable discharge from service, and will resume his position with the Busch Furniture and Hardware store. He was with the Thirtieth Company, Eighth Battalion, Depot Brigade.

Corporal James K. McLarty, who was a student at the S. A. T. C. at Corvallis for several months, has returned to his home at West Linn. The young man says he likes the army life but was sadly disappointed in not being able to go overseas.

Judge Hodgkins, of Hoquiam, Wash., was in Oregon City Sunday, visiting with his old friends, C. H. Dye. Thirty years ago they graduated in law at the State University of Iowa, and came to the Pacific Northwest about the same time.

Sergeant W. A. Matheson, who is stationed at Hoquiam, Wash., has arrived in Oregon City to spend Christmas holidays with his wife, and other relatives. He is at the home of Mrs. Matheson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Moore.

HUBBY CURSED M. NEWBERGER ASKS DIVORCE

Marie Newberger and Ferdinand Newberger were married at Walla Walla, Wash., September 19, 1914, and she entered suit for divorce Tuesday on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

She alleges that he called her vile names and cursed her before strangers and that he associated with other women against her consent. She says that he failed to support her or furnish her with clothes and although he had a good position she was forced to work for a living.

CRUEL AND INHUMAN TREATMENT ALLEGED AND DIVORCE ASKED

Flo H. Powell and Philip S. Powell were married in Portland November 9, 1910, and in her divorce suit entered Monday she alleges cruel and inhuman treatment. There are three children of the family.

She claims that immediately after marriage he began to be abusive and heaped personal indignities upon her and was fault-finding and nagging to such an extent that she lost all love for him.

She alleges that he unjustly accused her of being false to him and of flirting with other men. She further says he cursed her and called her vile names and on several occasions left home and has not returned and she has been compelled to work for a living.

She alleges that he failed to support the family much of the time during their married life and she had to assist in this.

She was finally forced to place the two younger children in the care of her mother and the oldest one in a home and she has paid $20 per month and he the same toward the support of them.

She asks a divorce and the custody of the children and $20 per month for their support.

MINA M. WILLIAMS IS CHRISTMAS BRIDE OF EASTERN OREGON MAN

A pretty wedding was solemnized at high noon Christmas day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Williams, of Molalla avenue, when their daughter, Minna May, was united in marriage to Henry A. Stewart, of Condon, Oregon. Rev. E. E. Gilbert, pastor of the Methodist church of this city, officiated.

John Dimm of Portland, was best man and Villa Williams, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

After the wedding a sumptuous Christmas dinner was served to the guests.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lovegren and Mrs. Hiatt, friends of the bridegroom from Eastern Oregon.

Mr. Stewart is a prosperous farmer of Gilliam county and the young couple will make their home there after a few days spent in Portland and in this city.

The bride was one of the popular employes of the C. C. store, where she has been employed for some time. She is well known here and has many friends in this city.

The happy couple left for Portland late Wednesday evening and will return here in a few days before departing for their home.

SUIT ENTERED TO RECOVER MONEY ON LARGE SALE OF HOPS

Crist Trost entered suit against Edwin Netter to recover $270 alleged due plaintiff on a sale of hops.

There were eight acres of hops raised, each man paying one-half of the cost of picking, drying and baling and when the hops were ready for market there were 5400 pounds, each man taking 2700. Plaintiff alleges that in the agreement he was to get half of the returns from Netter's share above eight cents per pound.

Trost claimed the defendant sold for 28 cents and the difference in price should bring him $270. He claims this has not been paid although he has made repeated demands for it and asks the court for a judgment of this amount and the costs of the case.

MEETING POSTPONED BY STATE TEACHERS ACCOUNT INFLUENZA

Because of the influenza, the executive committee of the Oregon State Teachers Association found it necessary to postpone the general and sectional meetings, with the exception of the superintendent's section. ## YOUNG MEN GIVEN HEARING AND BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY

Lloyd Baxter, Wilbur Wilson and Everett Richardson, who were arrested Saturday, charged with the larceny of the dwelling of Joe Vidic, in the Kansas City addition, were given a preliminary hearing Monday before Judge Sievers. Enough evidence was found to hold the young men to the grand jury and they were placed under $100 bonds each.

During the trial the Austrians were questioned about the liquor found and evidence pointed that they might have more and a search warrant was issued and the officers went to the home of John Doe Dutcher, a near neighbor of Vidic, where they found four large barrels filled with some unknown liquid.

A sample of this was taken and the officials will have it tested. As far as they know now it is either wine before it gets to the finished stage, or it is some that has went bad on the makers.

HOLLY TREES GROW IN ABUNDANCE AT THE BROWNELL HOME

The holly trees at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Brownell at Risley Station at the present time are a beautiful sight. These trees, many of which stand over 20 feet in height, are covered with the bright colored berries and the foliage is of a handsome shade of green, much different to most of the holly bushes in this city.

When Mr. Brownell planted these trees several years ago, he did not plant them for the market, for he believed that by planting the trees they would fill a large vacant spot and otherwise beautify the home, which is one of the handsomest in the county. Since the trees have taken on growth they have been covered with scarlet berries each year. Not only do they add to the beauty of the place but have become profitable. This year Mr. Brownell has found a big demand for the holly in the San Francisco markets, and sold considerable last year.

Early in the week he shipped to San Francisco buyers 1526 pounds, and Friday and Saturday of this week shipped 800 more pounds, and still the bushes do not show where the twigs have been removed. Mr. Brownell says he believes there are still 5000 more pounds of twigs he could ship if he desired. He has 650 trees on his place and all are now in bearing.

RUNAWAY BOYS ARE CAPTURED FRIDAY BY OFFICER FROST

Juvenile Officer Frost apprehended two young lads in the Wilchita country near Johnson creek, Friday, who had run away from home over a week ago and brought them to Oregon City where they are held waiting the arrival of their parents.

The boys are Victor Schibter and Richard Moore, both 13 years old. This makes the third time the former has run away from home and the first time for the latter.

The boys had been sleeping in a barn not far from their homes and they intended to go to Portland and seek work and had also asked for work in Milwaukie but had not been successful.

When the boys saw the officer coming they started to run and jumped into the river nearby and swam across but the officer had a man on the other side and the boys were caught.

The parents of the boys were notified and told the officers to place the lads in jail as they could do nothing with them but they would come here Saturday to confer with the officers.

HENRY O. PADDOCK DIES AT GLADSTONE OF THE INFLUENZA

Harry C. Paddock, collector of customs, whose headquarters are at Portland, died at his home at Gladstone Sunday morning at 11 o'clock after a brief illness of influenza.

Mrs. Tola Eby, wife of Attorney F. G. Eby, who was well and favorably known in Clackamas county, where she has resided most of her life, died on Saturday at the home of her brother, Joseph Shull, of Hood River, after an illness of several months. Mrs. Eby had been at that place for about ten weeks, having gone there for the benefit of her health.

Mrs. Eby was born in Missouri in 1871, and came to Oregon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shull when she was but one year of age. The family settled at Eagle Creek, where she resided until shortly before her marriage to Mr. Eby. She accompanied her husband to Nevada shortly after her marriage, and later to Sacramento, where they resided for some time, and where Mr. Eby engaged in the practice of law. Mrs. Eby's health failing they decided to return to Oregon, and took up their residence in Oregon City, arriving here during the past summer. Mrs. Eby underwent an operation here in order to save her life, but she gradually failed in health until her death.

Funeral services were held from the Anderson funeral parlors at Hood River Monday morning at 11 o'clock, and the services were private, only attended by the immediate relatives of the deceased. The interment was in the Hood River cemetery.

Mrs. Eby is survived by her brothers, E. C. Shull, of Canby; Joseph Shull, of Wasco, Oregon; and Hugh Shull, of Moro, Oregon. Her parents died a number of years ago.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR EMERSON HOEYE WERE HELD THURSDAY

Many friends attended the funeral services of the late Emerson Hoeye, son of Dr. and Mrs. George Hoeye, of this city, at the Congregational church Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. W. T. Milliken, pastor of the Baptist church, and Rev. Herbert Crocker, pastor of the Congregational church, officiated.

During the service Mrs. Hallie Parish Hinges Durdall of Salem, sang. Among her selections was "There is No Night There." Mrs. Durdall is one of the prominent vocalists of Salem. The High School Quartet, composed of Misses Maude Lageson, Esther Staats, Mable Morgan and Flossie Blackburn, friends of the deceased, sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

The casket was draped with the Stars and Stripes, and banked at the sides, rear and front were handsome floral tributes. The high school class of '19, of which the young man was a member, sent a handsome wreath, as also the Barclay school, of which he was a former student. The teachers of the institution also sent floral tributes, as also a large piece from the Chiropractic Association of which Dr. Hoeye is a member.

The church was filled to capacity by the many friends of the young man and family, and many relatives from out of the city attended. The high school students attended in a body.

The pallbearers, former schoolmates of Emerson Hoeye, were Morris Holman, Charles Gillett, Carl Wiesebeck, Lawrence Hull, Lyle Cook and Kenneth Hutchingson.

The remains were taken to Salem Friday morning, where the interment took place in the Hoeye family lot in the Salem cemetery. Many friends of the family and relatives attended the last sad rites at the grave. The High School Girls' Quartet, accompanying Dr. and Mrs. George Hoeye, sang "Nearer My God to Thee," at this service. A firing squad from the High School Cadets of Salem gave the parting salute over the grave, and Taps was sounded.
