MANY RUSSIANS ARE MURDERED BY BOLSHIEVIKI

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Three hundred thousand Russians of noble birth have been slaughtered by the Bolsheviki regime according to information received here today from a reliable source.

In one month the Bolsheviki have sentenced to death more Russians than were executed in 24 years under the rule of the late czar.

More newspapers were suppressed by the soviets in one month than the old imperial government banned in 24 years.

In Moscow recently American citizens were seen plotting with the Russian Bolsheviki leaders with the object of spreading Bolshevism throughout the United States.

LICENSE TO WED

A marriage license was issued Wednesday to Mattilda Iverson, 28, and Henry M. Peterson, 30.

The bride was a former school teacher of Parkplace and Mr. Peterson is in the service and his home is at Blackfoot, Idaho.

ALL SAVED ON S. S. PIAVE

LONDON, Feb. 3.—All hands were saved from the American steamer Piave, which went ashore near Deal Wednesday night and went to pieces during a fierce storm.

Backache?

Rheumatism?

Those of us who are past middle age are prone to eat too much meat and in consequence deposit lime-salts in the arteries, veins and joints. We often suffer from twinges of rheumatism or lumbago, sometimes from gout, swollen hands or feet. There is no longer the slightest need of this, however, as the new prescription, "Anuric," is found to give immediate results as it is many times more potent than lithia, in ridding the impoverished blood of its poisons by way of the kidneys. It can be obtained at almost any drug store, by simply asking for "Anuric" for kidneys or backache. It will overcome such conditions as rheumatism, dropsical swellings, cold extremities, scalding and burning urine and sleeplessness due to constant arising from bed at night.

Send to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for a 10c. trial package.

MADERA, CAL.—"I recommend Doctor Pierce's Anuric very highly. I have suffered for the last three years with excruciating bladder, having tried every remedy I heard of but without relief. I saw Anuric advertised in the paper, and like a drowning man grabbing at a straw I thought I would try it also, which I did with great success, as it relieved me almost immediately, before I had taken all of the trial package, and having great confidence in the remedy I immediately sent to the drug store and bought a full-size package. I can say to all suffering from any disease of the kidneys or uric acid troubles, try this remedy and suffer no longer. I have great faith in Dr. Pierce's remedies."—S. P. HOSLEY.

Prince of Wales a "Dear" Says Chicago Telephone Girl After They Danced

MISS MILICENT MARTIN

The Prince of Wales is a "dear," We have that on the word of Miss Millicent Martin, formerly a Chicago telephone operator who still is with the A. E. F. Signal Corps. "He's a likeable, every-day chap," she said, after she had danced with the heir to the British throne at the officers' club at Coblenz soon after the American army of occupation had taken possession of this border city.

PERSIA MISSIONARY TO SPEAK HERE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

To sit for an hour with a loaded revolver with directions to take her own life and that of her two children, if necessary, to save them from the Turks was the experience of Mrs. E. T. Allen who speaks at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, Feb. 9. Mrs. Allen was one of the party of twelve women and six men who were besieged in Urumia, Persia, for six months by the Turks. She was one of the relief agents for the American Committee for relief in the Near East, and has given out with her own hands the food supplied by American generosity to the starving children in Persia. Mrs. Allen says the task was a pleasant one until the food gave out, and they were compelled to dismiss hungry children to starve.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen and their two children left Persia in April. When they reached Bombay word came of the death of Dr. Shedd, another one of the American Committee Relief Workers, and Mr. Allen returned to Persia to take Dr. Shedd's place. Mrs. Allen is in America recuperating from her experience in Turkey and Persia. Out of her experience in Persia and her years of training as a public speaker she brings a most thrilling and interesting message.

While Mrs. Allen's address is a part of the campaign for Armenian and Syrian Relief, no collections nor subscriptions will be taken at her meeting.

Wallace Caulfield who is taking charge of the city solicitation for the Near East drive, has appointed the following as precinct captains:

- 1 Miss Erma Calavan
- 2 Mrs. C. A. Baxter
- 3 Percy Caulfield
- 4 Mrs. J. E. Jack
- 5 A. B. Buckles
- 6 F. H. Cross
- 7 Miss Eunice King
- 8 Mrs. Geo. Swafford
- 9 Mrs. Geo. P. Osburn

SEVERAL BILLS ARE INTRODUCED BY LOCAL MEN

SALEM, Or., Feb. 4.—(Special)—At a request of George L. Story, city attorney of Oregon City, Senator Dimick today introduced a bill providing for additional methods for cities of the state to enforce the payment of liens against real property and delinquent installments upon bonded indebtedness for street improvements and laying of sewers by suit in equity to foreclose the same in the circuit court.

There are a number of delinquent liens against property in Oregon City for improvements, as in nearly every other city in the state, said Senator Dimick today, and the bill will materially assist in clearing up this situation.

Senator Dimick today introduced a bill repealing the act requiring the securing of a medical certificate in connection with the issuance of a marriage license. Dimick was the father of the bill requiring such a provision, but he believes this has not accomplished the purpose intended and declares that it has driven hundreds of couples to Vancouver to secure such licenses.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED ON BILL OF SIX BILLION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The senate and house conferees on the $6,000,000,000 revenue bill reached an agreement today. The bill in its final accepted form was sent to the printer and will be called up in the house next Friday morning.

The terms of the agreement were ordered withheld from publication until the revised copy of the bill is ready for presentation to the house. This order was made because the conferees feared pressure might be brought to bear to alter some of the provisions of the bill if they were made known before either house adopts them.

REASONS FOUND FOR BILL ON COUNTY DIVISION

SALEM, Or., Jan. 31.—(Special)—Representative Cross of Clackamas county, who is devoting considerable of his time right now to checking up on how the house members stand on the question of annexing a fat little chunk of Clackamas county onto Multnomah county, has discovered some things about the proposed merger bill which doesn't fit into his Clackamas idea of doing things.

Multnomah members who are favoring the McFarland bill for the annexation, are spreading it about among the house members that the county court of Clackamas has discriminated against the Oswego section and has failed to provide for it in road matters and other matters.

"The fact of the matter is I don't think the Multnomah members have any idea that their bill is going to pass," said Mr. Cross in commenting upon the merry war which is raging. "My belief is, after looking into the matter carefully, that it is an effort to endeavor to scare the county court to grant even more liberal concessions than have been granted to that section. The county court of Clackamas county has given many thousands of dollars of road and other work to that part of the county, and just recently $20,000 was given them for the Pacific Highway out of the county funds.

"I am advised some time ago a little nest of people who have cottages along Oswego lake, endeavored to get the county court to make county roads out of the little platted streets among their cottages. This plan would have been entirely unfeasible, but the court refused to do it, and this, I believe is a part of the same move."

Representative McFarland, who introduced the bill, is one of the owners of the cottages mentioned by Mr. Cross.

CLACKAMAS DELEGATES VERY BUSY AT SALEM

SALEM, Or., Jan. 31.—(Special)—The third week of the legislative session has found the Clackamas county members sitting tight on their jobs and in many ways filling what would otherwise be an aching void.

This is conceded by everyone who knows anything about it to be about the tamest affair in the line of legislatures that ever flitted about for 40 days at the State Capitol, and, as a matter of fact, the Clackamas delegation has been making about as big a noise as any of them.

One of the biggest noises of all so far made in the session has been the passage of the Dimick-Kubli bill through both houses with no votes against it in the Senate and only four against it in the House. The bill in reality is essentially a Dimick bill. Representative Kubli's name was tacked on by consent of Senator Dimick after Kubli had introduced a similar bill in the House.

Dimick worked like a Trojan engineering this measure through the two houses. The bill strikes a severe body blow to crime, violence, sabotage and criminal syndicalism as preached by the Bolshevists and the I. W. W.

One of the measures of most interest to Clackamas county is that which would take Oswego and the adjacent section away from that county and plant it in Multnomah.

It is authoritatively known that three members of the county's committee in the house are lined up against the bill.

The bill will come out of the House committee with at least a good sized majority report against it, and perhaps an entirely unfavorable report.

It is true that members of the Multnomah delegation will probably be pretty well aligned to favor it, but there is no reason to suppose that even the entire Multnomah house contingent will father the measure.

Whatever happens to it in the House, however, Dimick declares that he has a lineup in the Senate which will spike the bill in numerous vulnerable spots at once whenever it sticks its head into the august body, the State Senate.

The little bill of McFarland's designed to add a rich section of Clackamas county to Multnomah seems to be among more enemies than friends at the present writing and chances are before the session is over it will be consigned to that oblivion from which it came.

Dr. Dedman is saying very little this session, but he has been on the job every day, day in and day out, and when the House Journal is printed it will be found that his vote has been cast on every measure. So far he has introduced but one bill, that providing for voluntary commitment to the state hospital.

Schuebel's bill providing for exemption of money notes and accounts was one of the important measures to get by the House this week. The inequalities in assessment of money, notes and accounts in the various counties of the state was one of the strongest arguments in favor of the bill. The author of it also pointed that in regard to notes there was an apparent chance for double assessment against many pieces of property in the state.

Senator Dimick, as chairman of the committee on counties in the Senate, has been sitting on something for a number of days which has elevated him all out of shape. After diligent inquiry it was ascertained he is sitting on a measure proposed to hit at T. A. Roots, county roadmaster for Clackamas county. The bill would require that every county roadmaster be a civil engineer, and it has been hinted that it was especially designed by certain interests to remove Roots from the job as he knows how to lay good pavement too cheaply. Be that as it may, Senator Dimick, as chairman of the senate committee on counties, is sitting on the bill and intends to sit there for the balance of the session.

SCHUEBEL'S BILL ON ARBITRATION PASSES HOUSE

SALEM, Or., Feb. 3.—(Special)—Representative Schuebel's bill providing for a board of conciliation and arbitration to settle labor disputes, which was defeated in the house Friday, was brought up for reconsideration by that body today on motion of Schuebel and carried by a vote of 49 for to 14 against. Cross and Dedman also voted for the bill. Cross making a stirring speech, telling the history of the big strike at Oregon City and declaring that if such a bill had been a law at the time of the strike there it never would have occurred.

Schuebel attacked the roads and highways committee today for failure to act speedily on his measure allowing counties to bid on road work and also providing that the state shall not pay any royalties on patented pavements, so the people of the state would be advised as to how much such royalties cost them. Bitter personalities interchanged between Schuebel and Dennis, chairman of the house roads and highways committee, featured the debate. Schuebel's bill, which was on the third reading without recommendation of the committee, was referred back to the committee after the debate. The house refused to order the committee to report it in by Wednesday afternoon.

Schuebel also introduced a bill providing for eight, instead of ten-hour day in factories throughout the state. He also introduced a bill limiting the amounts to be expended by state institutions to not more than six per cent. in excess of the amount expended during the previous biennium and another bill to prohibit the hiring of legislative lobbyists and compelling reports of expenditures on lobbying for bills.

ORDINANCE FOR PARKING AUTOS MEETS DEFEAT

The regular session of the city council was called to order Wednesday evening by Mayor Holman with the following councilmen present: Albright, Bridges, Krueger, Green, Scott, Tobin and Woodward. The minutes of the previous meeting were read approved.

The ordinance prohibiting the sale, manufacture, transportation, etc., of intoxicating liquors was passed unanimously after the final reading.

The report of the chief of police for January was read and approved. This showed 13 arrests and $50 in fines. Reports of the recorder was adopted.

The petition for an arc light at Thirtieth and Harrison streets was referred to the street committee. Billiard hall license was granted to F. D. Cox.

A communication on the condition of the streets was read but as this had no signature no action was taken. The writer said the streets should be kept cleaner than they are at present.

Petition for improvements on certain sections of Molalla Avenue was read and referred to the street committee. The report of the finance committee was read and adopted and warrants ordered drawn.

The petition for a light on Center street which was referred to the street committee was granted providing the Portland Railway, Light & Power company would install it free of charge, but some doubts were held of this being done as the city contract with the company expires next January.

It was decided to improve the side street near the First National bank but the city is not to pay for the upkeep.

The hottest debate so far for the new council resulted when the proposed ordinance prohibiting parking and turning of vehicles in a restricted district between Sixth and Ninth streets and the turning of vehicles at Seventh and Main streets was brought up.

This was given the final reading and during the debate Councilman Bridges thought they should have more time to think it over but as this was the night for its passage Councilman Tobin insisted on a vote.

Judge Hayes made a stirring talk against the ordinance, saying that it would drive drays and jitneys out of business if they could not stay on Main street more than 30 minutes. A petition was presented asking the council not to pass this ordinance.

This was signed by many of the business men of Main street whom the ordinance would mostly effect. Judge Hayes said the ordinance would keep farmers from coming to the city as also many visitors.

Councilman Tobin answered Hayes, saying that the business men of the city as well as other citizens had been after this kind of law for some time and that there was great danger to life by allowing the streets to become congested.

Councilman Kelly spoke for the good parts of the ordinance but said he would not vote for it as it stood.

After nearly every councilman had something to say on the measure it was put to a vote and was defeated, 6 to 2. Tobin and Woodward were the only ones voting for it.

Several other small matters were referred to their proper committees and the council adjourned.

SHIPYARD AID ASKED CONGRESS BY LEGISLATURE

SALEM, Jan. 31.—Congress is earnestly requested to appropriate sufficient funds for finishing the steel and wooden ships now under contract. In a memorial which was rushed through both houses of the Oregon legislature late yesterday afternoon and today certified copies are speeding on their way to Washington.

Interested persons, however, did not wait for the mailed copy to reach the national lawmaking body, but Thursday night wired the text of the memorial to members of Oregon's delegation in congress.
