Macksburg

MACKSBURG, April 3.—In striking contrast to the tempestuous weather that ushered in March 1919, has been that of its close. Though all were expecting just such a change the genial warmth and the consequent rush in vegetation has taken us by surprise. A few days of bright sunshine and drying wind have put the soil into admirable condition for planting. Garden tools have been brought out. All available fertilizers has been utilized.

Regretfully we record the death of Mrs. Herbaugh, a young mother well known in our community. Mrs. Herbaugh has been for several months in a hospital with symptoms of tuberculosis. Returning home when she seemed better, hope was entertained for her recovery but the disease soon reappeared, this time with fatal results. A husband and five children are left to mourn this loss. The sympathy of the entire neighborhood goes out to the afflicted family in their trouble.

Mrs. Frank Brusch is in the Oregon City Hospital recovering from a serious operation, and is progressing so steadily, hopes that she may soon return to her home are indulged.

Among all the other duties the spring has brought us is a drive for refugees clothing. All Americans are asked to do their part in supplementing the great work now going on in Europe to clothe and rehabilitate the vast army of men women and children made destitute. Each housewife is requested to look over her store of clothing to find some garment that can be put into wearing shape—the more the better. These garments must be in the hands of the secretary of the Oregon City Branch of the Portland Chapter of the American Red Cross between April 7th and 12th. Mrs. G. W. Baldwin, Secretary of the Macksburg Auxiliary of the Red Cross has been placed in charge of the drive for our district. Anyone disposed to give one or more garments and who will get them to Mrs. Baldwin in the first week of April will be conferring a favor upon those who are conducting the drive.

Tualatin Meadows

TUALATIN MEADOW, April 3.—The bright sunny days of last week reminded us of our early spring, and all are most eagerly looking for warm weather.

Elk Prairie

ELK PRAIRIE, April 3.—Mr. Rasman is busy clearing his homestead and has already made a good showing.

Teensy, one of the cats on the Badger homestead, caught a flying squirrel, recently. This was the second one seen here.

While all are taking advantage of the weather to plow, spring is steadily advancing as is indicated by the very earliest flowers appearing higher and higher up the hill side. Below the lilies are following. The pussy willows have such long streamers that it gives them the appearance of having long shaggy coats of white fur.

Redland

REDLAND, Apr. 3.—Arthur Hodges, a brother of Mrs. Hinkle, is visiting them. He is another one of Uncle Sam's boys and comes from American Lake and, having his honorable discharge papers.

The meeting at Redland last Tuesday night was very interesting and instructive. There weren't as many parents out as there should have been. George Armstrong, Mr. Gill, Mr. Brown, Mr. Hamilton and Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Kerr were appointed on committees. Miss Anthony is coming out again soon, and show the ladies how to make a fireless cooker and iceless refrigerator. The date will be decided later.

Mrs. Alice S. Harding, from Oakland, California, is visiting at A. L. Allen's.

What is the matter with Redland that we can't even have a decent dirt road? Where is that grader?
