THOMAS BARKER BACK HOME AFTER LONG SERVICE OVERSEAS

Thomas Barker, who has been in the service in France, and is among the boys Oregon is justly proud of, arrived in Oregon City from Camp Lewis, Wash., Friday, and is to enjoy a month's furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barker, Sr., and other relatives here, also with relatives in Brownsville. Barker recently arrived from New York to Camp Lewis, being in New York for a few days after arriving from overseas, and says the Red Cross and the Salvation Army have done much for the boys in the service, and the boys everywhere speak in the highest praise of these two organizations. Even after arriving in the United States they were greeted by the Red Cross members and the Salvation Army, and were given "oats" that were greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the tired soldier boys...

OREGON CITY BOYS LOSE HARD FOUGHT GAME TO ESTACADA

The Oregon City high school team lost a hard-fought game to Estacada Wednesday by a score of 4 to 3, on the Estacada grounds. The game was fast throughout and very few errors were made by either team and the local boys showed great improvement over their last game. They have been practicing hard during the past week and their team work was an agreeable surprise to their supporters. Califf pitched a pretty game for Oregon City and was well received by Cannon. The latter secured a two-bagger, which was the longest hit for the local boys. Smith did good work for Estacada and secured a three-base hit. The next game will be sometime next week with Molalla and the local boys expect to take the game by a good score...

WHOLESALE HOUSES SUE E. H. BARRETT TO COLLECT FOR GOODS

The Credit Service Association, of Portland, entered suit against E. H. Barrett, local merchant, Wednesday to collect bills alleged due to wholesale houses of Portland, and consigned to them. The complaint alleges Lang & Company sold the defendant goods amounting to $1,951.25, between March 30 and April 23, 1919, and that nothing has been paid on the amount. Heirs File For Probate of Will Maude M. Pearl, Goldie Marquam and Lois Hertzler filed Wednesday for probate of the will of the late John T. Drake, who died January 4, 1915.

They allege that before his death he left a deed to his real estate signifying that John Drake, a son, was to hold this as trustee in trust for the heirs. They claim that the son has had possession of the property and derived all benefits from it and failed to give an accounting to the other heirs, although they have asked him to do so. They ask the court to appoint O. A. Marquam administrator of the estate and admit the will to probate. The real estate is valued at $7,000 and there is personal property valued at $500.

GEO. M'CARVER PASSES AWAY ON WEDNESDAY

George William McCarver, one of the well-known residents and pioneers of Oregon City, died Wednesday night at 11:25 after an illness of two years. Mr. McCarver underwent a critical operation 14 months ago and a second one November 8 in the hopes of benefitting his health, and he had been confined to his bed but a brief time when his death occurred. No man was more widely known in this city than George (Esquire) as he was familiarly known by his many friends and acquaintances. He was born in Canemah February 6, 1855, and was the eldest son of the late Thomas Jennings and Mary E. McCarver, early Oregon pioneers, who crossed the plains in the early days, the father coming here in 1845, and the mother in 1854. He was the grandson of the late General M. M. McCarver and the late Mary Anne McCarver, the former crossing the plains in 1843, and the latter two years later. Mr. McCarver has resided in Oregon City most of his life, except for several years spent at Ruby City, Wash., and also at Sprague, Wash. He was connected with the store of the late Thomas Charman, known as Charman & Son, for 29 years, and had made many friends throughout the county. Mr. McCarver was a great lover of flowers, and from the time he was a mere lad until the day of his death he was always seen wearing a lapel bouquet. The day previous to his death he requested a little bouquet of blue violets, and cherished these little flowers until he passed beyond. Mr. McCarver's death is the third of the McCarver family to have passed away during the past few months. His mother, Mrs. Mary McCarver, of this city, died November 30, 1918; his brother, Harry McCarver, of Portland, died December 14, 1918. Mr. McCarver died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Babcock, of Thirteenth and Washington streets, where he had made his home. Mrs. Babcock is his sister. The deceased was a member of the local Elks lodge. He is survived by a son, Fred K. McCarver of Venice, California, three sisters, Mrs. W. W. Myers, Mrs. Charles C. Babcock, Miss Anita McCarver of this city; one brother, Charles McCarver of this city. He also leaves a nephew, Charles Babcock, Jr., of Portland. He was a nephew of Mrs. Mary Hurley of Coronado, Cal., one of the early Oregon City pioneers, and Mrs. Sarah Hildebrandt of St. Joseph, Mo. Arrangements for the funeral services will be held as soon as word is heard from the son in California. The remains are at the Brady funeral parlors, but will taken back to the Babcock home, where funeral services will be held.

Chas. Drew Meets Death in Seattle

Word was received here early Thursday evening of the death of Charles Drew, a former resident of this city. The man was second officer on the Bailey Gatzert and as the boat docked in Seattle he started to step off and slipped, hitting his head on the dock. His skull was fractured and the body dropped into the water. Mr. Drew lived here about 15 years and was the stepson of Mr. Belamy, a former business man of this city.

Mrs. Louise Miller Passes Away Friday

Mrs. Louise Miller, wife of Charles Miller, of Viola, Clackamas county, died at the family home Friday morning at the age of 78 years. Mrs. Miller has been a resident of Clackamas county for many years. MRS. E. BROWN DIES LAST WEDNESDAY OF PARALYTIC STROKE

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, widow of the late R. M. C. Brown, and one of the prominent residents of this city, died at her home, 302 Molalla avenue, Oregon City, Wednesday morning at 5:40 o'clock, after an illness of several months. Mrs. Brown was stricken with paralysis several months ago, and had partially recovered from that attack, when she was again stricken a few days ago, and never rallied from the effects. She was an active member of the Women's Relief Corps, W. C. T. U., and also of the Presbyterian church. She had a host of friends in this city and throughout the county, who regret to hear of her death. The deceased was 70 years of age, and had resided in Oregon City for many years. Mrs. Brown is survived by a sister, Mrs. Jennie Stillwell, an invalid, who has made her home with Mrs. Brown for many years.

FORMER RESIDENT OF CLACKAMAS PASSES AWAY IN PORTLAND

Mrs. Sarah J. Albright, a former resident of Clackamas county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Matt O'Dell of Cora Avenue, Portland, Thursday morning at 5:30 o'clock. Mrs. Albright was born at Spanning, Lincolnshire, England, in 1842, and 32 years ago came to Oregon, first settling in Clackamas county, where she resided for 16 years in the Mulino country. Sixteen years ago she moved to Portland, where she has since resided with her daughters. Mrs. Albright was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thurlby. The deceased is survived by the following children: Mrs. Barney Doland, Mrs. Van Vleet and Mrs. Matt O'Dell and Charles Albright, all of Portland; two sons of Shaniko, Oregon, who are Frank and George Albright. She also leaves 21 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.
