

MILWAUKIE & NORTHERN CLACKAMAS

ELECTION IS QUIET IN BOTH PRECINCTS

The special election was held on Tuesday and was the smallest vote ever cast in Milwaukie only 80 votes being cast in the two precincts, 39 in Ward 2 and 41 in Ward 1. All the bills carried except the lieutenant amendment, which was snuffed under in Ward 1. The industrial and reconstruction hospital amendment lost by 2 votes, but was carried by enough in Ward 2 to carry it over.

The good road bonds amendment was very popular.

ARTILLERY RECEPTION.

The Oregon field artillery auxiliary to Batteries A and B gave a banquet, reception and dance at the Malnomah hotel, Tuesday evening in honor of the returned soldiers. Many were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

BADEN-POWELL TO SEE SCOUTS.

In a cablegram received at the national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America the announcement is made that Gen. Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell will visit the Boy Scouts of America either in May or June—at such time as convenient to the organization here.

Since the Boy Scouts of America have been asked by the French government to take leadership in formulating an educational program along scouting lines, much attention is being drawn to the possibilities of closer international relations among the great scout brotherhood.

One of the matters that the leaders in this country will discuss with General Baden-Powell, the founder of the boy scouts, is the furthering of a closer international bond.

Longest British Strike. The longest strike which Britain has experienced was that which broke out at Lord Penrhyn's slate quarries at Bethesda in October, 1900, and lasted until November, 1903. During these three years more than one and one-half million dollars was lost in wages alone; and whereas at the beginning Britain imported no slate, at the end ships were taking more than 1,200 tons of foreign slate a week to British markets.

ADVENTURES OF JIMMY COON

"Jimmy Coon are you ever sick," asked Cousin Bruin, "and what do you do then. If you are far away from your doctor?"

"The only time I am ever sick is when I eat too much, and I can eat an awful lot before that happens."

"Oh, there is a certain kind of grass that my mother taught me to find and eat. Then I find a hollow tree, and I take long nap and wake up well."

And said Cousin Bruin, "I have the root of a certain kind of fern and that always cures me, but I am never sick from eating too much. I am sick if I don't get enough to eat. That always gives me a horrible pain, so that I have to be very careful. My mother taught me that not to have enough to eat was very dangerous to the health, so come on Jimmy, for I truly feel that I shall be very sick, if I don't get something hearty before long!"

"Now Jimmy Coon, roots of skunk cabbage are the very best tonic in the world to help a falling appetite, or dandelions are the best greens in the world, so as we go along we must look out for skunk cabbage in every marshy hollow we pass for it would be an awful thing if we should lose our appetites."

And Teddy Possum winked at Jimmy Coon, and said "Yes, that would be an awful thing, Cousin Bruin. So we will look hard. Over there I think I can see a marshy place and skunk cabbage always grows there."

Those animals hunted all over that marshy bottom for skunk cabbage roots and when they had found all of this dainty that grew there the bottom looked like a ploughed field.

But Cousin Bruin likes to have flowers on his table just as your dear mother likes a bouquet of flowers on the dinner table, and so he finished his lunch of skunk cabbage with the roots of dog tooth violets and spring beauties.

Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum were having a pretty dull time and they yawned and fretted and wished something would turn up. "There's nothing to do," but Cousin Bruin didn't notice their grumbling at all. He began to dig into a thin layer of earth which covered a hill side for more roots, and finally Jimmy Coon said, "Now come along Cousin, you have eaten enough roots to keep up your appetite. I know something fine to do."

His First Visit. Mr. Lloyd George would seem, says Liverpool Post, to have had a premonition of his future eminence when he paid a first visit to London as a lad of nineteen. "Went to the house of commons," he wrote home to his uncle. "Very disappointed. I will not say but that I eyed the assembly in a split second to that in which William the Conqueror eyed England on his visit to Edward the Confessor as the region of his future domain. Oh, vanity!"

Injections of Cane Sugar. Doctor Rosenthal reports to the Presse Medicale (Paris) that he has administered intravenous injections of a strong solution of saccharose in numerous cases of tuberculosis. The procedure exerts a manifest tonic action. It raises the blood pressure, augments the body weight, and indirectly produces a favorable effect on the tuberculous lesions. These results are ascribed by the author to an enhancement of the functions of the liver.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL MAY RESIGNS FROM SERVICE OF STATE

SALEM, Or., May 31.—John L. May, adjutant-general of Oregon, submitted his resignation to Governor Olcott today, to become effective June 1.

The governor will announce the appointment of a successor within the next few days.

In submitting his resignation, Colonel May told the governor he desired to re-enter the service of the Southern Pacific company, which he left at the outbreak of the war.

Double Bottoms Put to Work.

For many years a few steamships from the far east have brought fuel oil back to Britain in the ballast space between their inner and outer hulls. The practice never became general, however, and "tankers" continued to handle the bulk of the trade. But in June, 1917, increased submarine activity and the expansion of the allied fleets made immediate additions to tank tonnage so imperative that not a few, but hundreds, of British and American "double bottoms" were fitted for this auxiliary cargo. Apart from its war-time results this new practice has taught marine engineers many lessons that will guide them in designing the oil-burning ships of tomorrow.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

President and Mrs. Wilson at Paris Races.

Our photographer is discreet. He witnessed what he does not know whether President Wilson bets on the races. He merely calls attention to the president's smile as he stands on a balcony of the clubhouse of the Longchamps race course near Paris. Taking with him Mrs. Wilson, who also smiles as though a certain horse had finished first, the President relaxed from his Peace Conference tension and went to the famous race course which, since the Grand Prix was run in 1914, has been used as a pasture for cows. Two American owned horses, one belonging to W. K. Vanderbilt, won that day.

STUDENTS HAVE GOOD AVERAGES IN EXAMS

The close of the schools is the interesting event of this week and next. The pupils of the seventh and eighth grades took the required state examinations and all passed with good averages, which is a splendid record after the long vacation, caused by the influenza epidemic last spring.

Electrocute Leopard to Save Pelt.

A leopard used by a motion-picture concern recently took to sulking, which made him a disagreeable companion for the actors in the jungle scenes, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. Shooting him with a high-powered rifle was first considered, but was objected to, as it would disgrace the valuable pelt. To avoid this, electrocution was decided upon, using power from a nearby station.

OREGON CITY SCHOOLS TO CLOSE NEXT MONTH ALL PLAN EXERCISES

The Oregon City schools will close in June, starting with the annual senior class play at Shively's opera house June 6th at 8 P. M.

Saturday evening, June 7th, the graduating exercises of the eighth grades of the Barclay and Eastham schools will be held in the auditorium of the Oregon City high school. The exercises will commence at 8 P. M. There are many students of these two schools having successfully passed the required examination.

The Baccalaureate sermon for the high school will be preached by Rev. E. E. Gilbert, at the Methodist church, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, June 8.

The class day exercises of the senior class of the high school will be held in the high school auditorium Monday evening, June 9th.

The graduating exercises of the high school will be held Tuesday evening, June 10th, at the high school auditorium. Rev. John H. Boyd, of Portland, will give the address.

There are fifty-eight students to graduate from the Oregon City high school this year. The class flower is the sweet pea.

"You can get the best 50c meal in Clackamas County every day, including Sunday, at West Linn C. W. Inn, across the bridge from Oregon City. 8:30 to 8 A. M., 12:00 to 1:00, and 5:30 to 6:30 P. M. Haircut 35c. Shave 20c. Same place."

Protecting Airplane Propellers.

An aluminum plating for airplane propellers has been devised for the purpose of protecting the wood from the influence of the weather, which has been a serious problem heretofore. The plating is a thin leaf which is incorporated in the finish of the propellers, and the idea was developed by the forest products laboratory at Madison, Wis., and placed in production by the war department. The process is practically 100 per cent effective in preventing absorption of water, particularly in the storage stage. A French authority states that 80 per cent of the French propellers produced are rejected by the pilots mainly because they are out of balance. This difficulty is due largely to unequal absorption or distribution of moisture and can be greatly reduced by an effective water-proofing coating.

B. P. O. ELKS READY FOR SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

The executive committee of the local Elks lodge of the salvation army drive met Monday night and formulated plans for the drive and appointed chairmen for the various districts of the county.

A chairman was appointed for each of the 140 school districts and the chairmen may appoint assistants. Each worker will be presented with a large button for the drive and a subscriber will be given a small button. Large posters will be awarded to each chairman as well as pamphlets on the work of the Salvation Army.

The quota for the county is $1000. This is to be raised from June 22 to June 30. The money for the drive will be stored in the working force of the Salvation Army, who did such good work during the war and will continue to do so.

This is a great opportunity for people to show their gratitude for the work of the Army and no trouble anticipated in raising the quota. Elks throughout the county are helping the Salvation Army in the drive and have guaranteed the full quota.

The executive committee is composed of the following: H. A. Ford, chairman; Fred Miller, J. B. Howland, E. L. Pope, J. R. Johnson, and C. W. Robey, the latter two to handle the publicity. Loyd R. Johnson, secretary.

Leonard Morelock Is State Officer

Corporal Leonard R. Morelock, who has been with the 63rd Infantry, and stationed Camp Meade, Maryland, and recently received his discharge from the service and returned to his home in Portland, also visiting friends in Oregon City and West Linn, has resumed his duties as special state officer.

Corporal Morelock comes from a patriotic family. His father, E. B. Morelock, is a veteran of the Civil War, and hale and hearty at the age of 75 years. His brothers all entered the service during the Spanish-American war, and Corporal Morelock, not to be outdone by others of the family in their patriotic spirit, was one of the first young men to enter the service when the call came for men in the recent war. The only thing that worries him is that he did not get over in France to get into the big fight.
