

Shall We Bond?

We all agree that we must have better roads, more miles of them, improved in a permanent way, and we shall continue to face the problem, until we find the solution, of just how these roads shall be financed.

We have been rather inclined toward the proposal to increase the tax levy, but this suggestion has been met with the objection that the people could not vote a continuous levy, but could make appropriations only from year to year, and such a plan could not well be used to finance an extensive road program.

The only other method is bonding.

Under the new constitutional amendment this county may bond for as much as $1,800,000 for road improvement. This is a large sum, but every dollar of it could be judiciously employed in removing us from the mud-hole class, and we would be money ahead finally.

The popularity of a bond issue would depend upon the location of the roads selected for improvement and the plans submitted for the retirement of the indebtedness incurred. It would follow that the expenditure of nearly two millions should bring about a reduction in the road levy, else the people could not be expected to approve a proposal to issue bonds.

The forthcoming road congress to be held in Clackamas county this summer will be called upon to wrestle with these problems, preliminary to submitting a definite financial plan for the betterment of our country highways.

MADELEINE BARLOW BECOMES BRIDE OF PRAIRIE CITY M. A. N.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mrs. M. Barlow, of Eleventh and John Adams streets, Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, when Miss Madeline Barlow became the bride of Russell Sullens, in the presence of only relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties.

Following the marriage ceremony Mrs. Barlow served refreshments. The bride was becomingly gowned in white Georgette crepe and white satin, and wore a corsage bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses and maidenhair ferns.

The bride, who is a very charming young woman, taught for several years in the West Linn schools, and later accepted a position with the schools of Prairie City, Oregon. She has been teaching in that city for the past two years, where she has made a host of friends.

Mr. Sullens is a prominent young man of Prairie City, and is postmaster of that city. After a honeymoon trip in Colorado

BELGIAN SCOUTS SEND CABLE.

National headquarters has received the following cablegram from the boy scouts of Belgium:

"Delivered from the yoke of enemy occupation the Belgian boy scouts hasten to send to their brothers their warmest expressions of greeting. They hope that the feeling of brotherhood born on the field of battle will continue between their country and yours that the ties of friendship may become closer and closer between the scouts of your organization and the Belgian boy scouts."

The report of the fourth year of scouting in Belgium shows tremendous forward strides, despite the obstacles placed in its path by the war.
