Mackburg

MACKBURG, July 10.—Never did our Nation's Birthday break over a world smiling more brightly with peace and plenty than in this eventful year of 1919. Gradually and surely like the armies return the wherewithal for the world-feeding is growing in garden field.

Of those two calamities Pestilence and Famine that from times immemorial have followed in the wake of war, we have had the first, and should the darkest pessimist venture to hint at the latter we would only ask him to look at our teeming grain-fields, our loaded fruit trees and at the sleek, contented cattle ruminating in their pastures from luxurious feed. Then he should have a glimpse of the ever-busy housewife filling her store-room shelves with jars, not only fruit but of vegetables that winter may find her table furnished with all the garden produce fresh and tempting as in summer's golden days. Also with savory meat, not from the market, where—too often—even the highest price can produce a supply of beef and mutton indisputably tasteless and tough—but taken in perfect freshness and prepared in a method that not only renders it tender as young chicken but preserves its delicious taste.

The wild blackberry is in unusual abundance and in larger size and finer quality than heretofore.

Fourth of July took many of our people away to visit friends and to witness the patriotic celebration in larger towns. Many family reunions were held. Invitations to returned soldiers for the banquet at Aurora were accepted and all, not excepting the Stay-at-home who minded the babies, the chickens and the cows enjoyed the entire day, and did not forget to render thanks for the great boon of Peace or to entreat for its continuance through ages to come.

The Red Cross is trying to maintain itself amid the growing indifference caused by the closing of the war but only a few can be persuaded to give it any time or attention in the rush of other things.

The Mother's Club had its usual busy time at the home of Mrs. Simon Miller last week, and is to hold its next session with its president, Mrs. John Hepler.

The KITCHEN CABINET

Nothing is given for nothing in this world; there can be no true love even on your own side without devotion, devotion is the exercise of love, by which it grows.—R. L. Stevenson.

HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS.

When replacing papers in drawers to keep them firm, put a small stick or half on the paper and the other half on the drawer.

When setting dishes on ice, use old can rubbers to keep them from slipping.

A little sand in a small top-heavy vase will make it quite stable.

Fill salt and pepper shakers with an orange spoon, or make a paper funnel, which may be used more quickly.

A piece of macaroni placed in a berry pie when put in the oven will save the loss of the good juice, as the macaroni will serve as a chimney for the juice to boil up in.

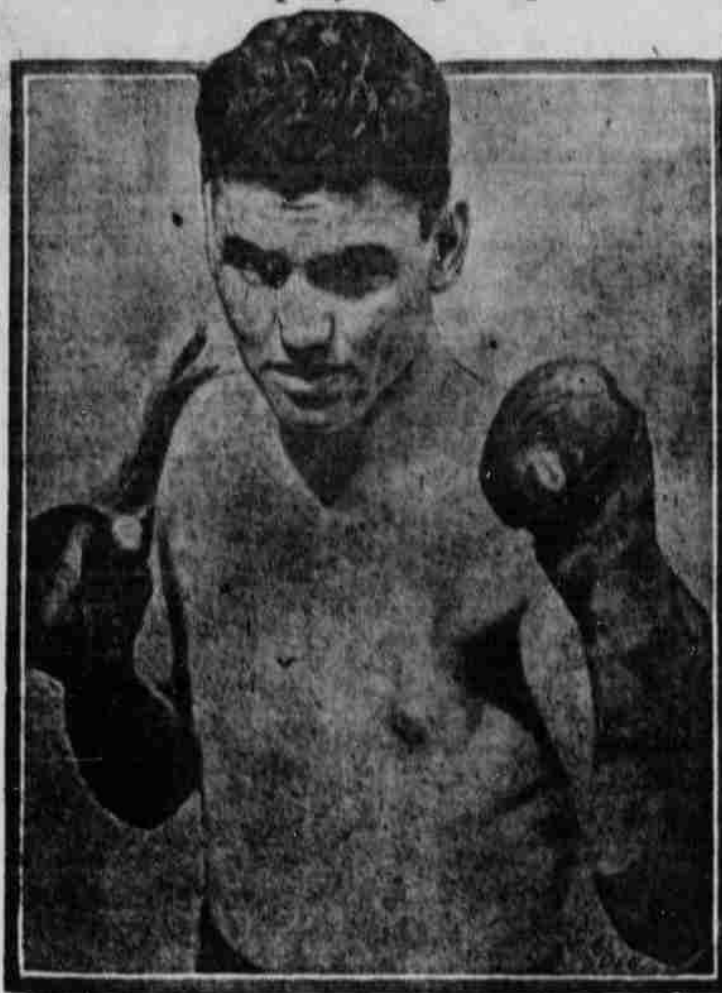

Grease the cork of the glue bottle, so that it will not be glued in when it is wanted.

A piece of ice held in the mouth a moment before disagreeable medicine is to be taken, will dull the sense of taste.

Keep on your desk a list of things to do—calls, letter-writing and household tasks; as they are done, cross off. It is a most satisfactory way of knowing what is accomplished during the week or month. The same method is a good one to use in the kitchen; various things are forgotten that, with the list before one, will spur on the worker.

A camp chair that will slip under the table, out of the way or can be hung from a hook, is a great convenience in

Slumbers Disturbed Bell Rings on Solon Schuebel Is Wakened

"All right," replied Chris, sleepily. "I'll be there."

KRASSIGS HOME FROM MOTORING TRIPS IN EAST

Dr. and Mrs. William Krassig, after spending the past two months in the East, where Dr. Krassig took a post graduate course at the Northwestern University at Chicago in dentistry, returned to Oregon City Friday, after having a delightful time.

After arriving in Chicago Dr. Krassig purchased an automobile, and he and his wife took many enjoyable trips.

After completing his course, Dr. and Mrs. Krassig started on a motor trip on the Golden Belt route. Among the places visited before returning home were St. Louis, Lexington, Ky., and Kansas, Indiana, Utah, Ohio and other states.

While visiting in Missouri Dr. and Mrs. Krassig experienced a thunderstorm. After the terrific rain many of the roads were flooded and detained motorists who were making a trip through that state. Dr. and Mrs. Krassig were among these. Missouri and Kansas have an unusual rainy season, and the crops are in excellent condition, but in some of the other states, everything is parched, owing to the continuous dry weather.

While in Omaha, they visited Dr. Krassig's brother, Frank. The brothers had not seen each other since they were lads.
