

"Pigmy Minds"

When Woodrow Wilson, in a fit of anger, termed those senators who had the temerity to disagree with him as men of "pigmy minds," right there he laid up trouble for himself and for this nation.

There are men in the United States senate who have been in public life for more years than has Mr. Wilson. There are men in the senate who are honored citizens of their respective states, and who have been recognized national figures for many years.

Mr. Wilson is an executive, chosen as such. The constitution gives to the senate the right to make laws, jointly with the house of representatives, and the treaty making and ratifying power is wholly within the rights of the senate.

We believe the senate will ratify the peace treaty, with the League of Nations covenant appended. The public will probably demand such action.

Admirals in Command of Atlantic and Pacific Fleets and Retiring Commander

For the first time the United States has two admirals—Henry B. Wilson, in command of the Atlantic fleet, and Hugh Rodman, in command of the greatly increased Pacific fleet.

GERMAN NATION RATIFIES PEACE BY RESOLUTION

PARIS, July 9.—The German national assembly in Weimar has adopted the resolution ratifying the peace treaty, according to advices received here today.

The resolution reads: "The peace treaty signed on June 28, 1919, as well as the protocol, annexed and special agreements on military occupation of the Rhineland are hereby ratified. This law becomes effective from the date of its promulgation."

The KITCHEN CABINET

The best inheritance any parent can possibly give a child is a good education. This is something that nobody can take away and something which will be a joy forever, for we believe that what we acquire here we will use hereafter.

WHAT TO EAT.

There are any number of kinds and flavors of gelatine desserts on the market which, by the addition of boiling water, are ready, when cold, to serve with cream and sugar.

Here is a dessert, very dainty and rich, which will be good to serve the "grown-ups" who have good digestion: Frangipan Pie.—Knead out very thin a rich pastry and cut it in rounds, using a pie tin for a marker.

Canterbury Chicken.—Cook together three and one-half tablespoons of butter with one tablespoonful of finely chopped onion (when the onion is yellow, add one tablespoonful of cornstarch) and pour over one and one-half cupsful of chicken stock.

Fillets of Beef With Bananas.—Cook the fillets cut one and a quarter inch thick, and arrange on a hot platter with the liquor from the pan poured over them.

Word has been received here that Mrs. H. R. Winton, of Albany, Alabama, has been ill with malaria fever for the past few weeks, and attending physicians say her return to the North is imperative.

Mrs. Winton was formerly Miss Viola Hays, of Gladstone, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hays, of that city.

Prior to her marriage Mrs. Winton was employed at the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's office in this city.

Chicago, July 8.—Purchasing agents for Chicago's large hotels and restaurants declared today that they had been informed by jobbers and brokers that the price of canned goods and other staple food commodities would soon be advanced from 25 to 28 per cent.

The Adventures of Jimmy Coon

MR RED FOX ARRIVES The day of the races Teddy Possum and Jimmie Coon kept near Peter Rabbit. In fact they kept little Peter near them and quite a way back from Mirrow pond.

When Mr. Red Fox began to chase little Peter they wanted the run to be long enough so that everyone could see who was running and be sure of it.

They were very nervous for, as yet, there wasn't a sign of Mr. Red Fox. Only the night before Jimmie Coon delivered the last of the eggs, and Mr. Red Fox said he would be on hand.

Jimmie Coon fixed the time so that he would come about the end of the races when all would be over except the race which little Peter didn't know anything about.

When the Muskrat had finished their race and the Otters and the Beavers everyone began to look around and wonder why Peter didn't swim if he was going to.

All at once there was a sound of running and two of the most beautiful rabbits appeared. They were Peter's cousins who had promised to come and help Peter.

Peter was glad to see them but he couldn't understand why they were about to make him a visit at this time, but he was very glad to see them.

The two Snow Shoe Rabbits sat, one on each side of little Peter and they were so much bigger than Peter that they looked like giants compared to him.

Soon Chatterbox could be heard talking very loud. He was running along the turnpike in the top of the trees.

And now in less than no time the house-keeping rooms and is located near the electric car line.

Private Peat at Chautauqua Famous Canadian Writer and Lecturer Coming on the Sixth Night

Private Peat is coming to Chautauqua! You have undoubtedly read his story in the Saturday Evening Post. You have perhaps read his book, "Private Peat," which has run through an edition of a million copies and is still one of the "six big sellers" of the day.

Now you can hear him—hear from his own lips—the wonderful story of the early days of the war as only Private Peat can tell it. "Two Years in Hell and Back with a Smile" sums up this heroic Canadian lad in a few words. He came back from France with one lung gone and his left arm hanging limp, but with his indomitable spirit unbroken and his rare sense of humor unspooled.
