The harvest of 1919 has fairly begun and has found many of our soldiers back in the place they were occupying before the war. Not one from our immediate vicinity is missing by death, though some have found work more to their liking than is the home farm. Many a changed destiny—without doubt—will result from changed environments—short though its duration was.

Some of the soldiers have returned to work with renewed energy in their ante-war places, convinced that there is no better place on earth than their own native heath. Others think they have descriped golden opportunities away from home.

Many are the earnest wishes that go out for the brightest destiny possible in store for these brave defenders of the right. Whatever may be in store for them the readiness with which they offered themselves in our defense will be a perpetual memory in every true American heart.

YOUNG MAN INSTANTLY KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Jones Knutson, 17-year-old son of C. C. Knutson well-known farmer of the Needy district, was instantly killed about ten o'clock Friday evening when the car which he was driving overturned on the road west of Needy.

Young Knutson and Hamar Fredrickson were proceeding at a fair rate of speed when they came up behind a truck loaded with a binder and driven by Harvey Hilton. According to a statement of young Fredrickson made a short time after the accident, and substantiated by the evidence of the wheel marks on the highway, Hilton was in correct position on the roadway when Knutson attempted to pass him. Mr Fredrickson stated that the headlights of the machine were burning statisfactorily, except that they were out of focus and threw their light onto the road directly in front of the machine instead of illuminating the road for any distance ahead of the machine and for this reason neither of the young men saw the binder ahead of them until they were within a very few feet of it.

Knutson, instead of passing to the left of the binder, attempted to pass to the right, and in so doing was obliged to drop his two right wheels into a shallow ditch alongside the road. He succeded in passing the truck and after proceeding for a distance of thirty feet with his wheels in the ditch attempted to make the turn back onto the road. It appears that just at the moment he attempted to make the turn he struck a particularly bad rut with the result that the two left wheels raised off he ground for a distance of about fifteen feet and then the car bounded off the ground and turned turtle.

Knutson sustained a broken back and neck and was dead when Hilton reached the car a few moments after the accident, and Frederickson was pinned under the car, his left leg being caught between the steering column and the frame of the windshield, which was bent back into the car.

WASTE OF PLANES IN FRANCE IS SUBJECT OF INVESTIGATIONS

NEW YORK, July 30.—A "million dollar fire" in which more than 100 airplanes in first class condition are alleged to have been destroyed in France under orders of American army officers, was the center of today's investigation by the congressional sub-committee on conduct of the war.

Cow Bells--And Towns

Cow bells are all right—around the necks of cows. The bovinely beautiful jingle is not even out of place at a charavari, and it has been used with stupendous effect at the signing of the armistice and other joyful jubiliations.

But as a signal for the municipal elevator—Heaven forbid!

It affects the risibilities of even the person ordinarily devoid of humor when he happens along and hears the bell on the big lift.

"What have we here," quoths he, "a bossy-cow tucked away in the valves?"

Not so. The operator will tell you that is merely the loud alarm to tell him when to come up or go down, as the case may be, and has nothing to do with bringing home the cows.

Are we a cow town, then? We leave it to you.

There is nothing melodious about a cow bell. A sleigh bell, now, would not have been so bad, though it would be more fitting for a winter signal. The city might rob some old alarm clock, and get away with it.

The Enterprise, for the pride of our fair city, will cheerfully head a subscription to purchase and install an electric push button for the elevator. Come on, now, lets be real sports for once.

Through the untiring efforts of City Health Officer Dr. J. W. Norris, of this city, the cases of smallpox have been diminished during the past two weeks. The latest victim of the disease is M. E. Bunn, of the Bunn grocery store on Seventh street, who has been ill for several weeks, and whose illness was pronounced smallpox a few days ago, when he commenced breaking out.

BUY A DOWDEN

Because it is A Superior Potato Digger

THE DOWDEN DIGGER will make good your expectation of a Potato Digger. It will dig your potatoes clean, will get them all without damaging them. Study the construction of the Dowden and you will see why this is so and why it makes good over other makes of diggers.

Extra Separation Is obtained by means of an extra long elevator of generous width. The regular Dowden has much more separation than others of the same size. The rear separator is of unusual length and of such position to insure that the potatoes are delivered clean on top the row.

Extra Wide Shovel Adjustable and made of soft centered steel, case hardened and highly polished.

Gear Drive The Dowden has no drive chains to break and cause trouble. The main elevator is gear-driven from both wheels.

Strong Conveyor Chain Made of best crucible spring steel, it will outwear malleable iron. Also it is a much higher carbon, therefore smaller in size than ordinary chains, which eliminates the trouble caused by dirt adhering to the links.

High Wheels—Light Draft

The wheels on the regular Dowden are 42 inches in height. This is much higher wheel than used on ordinary potato diggers and the Dowden is made lighter draft because of it.

Buy a Dowden at Once We now have a shipment of Dowden Diggers on hand, but freight is coming through slowly, material is getting scarce and more higher priced every day, so we strongly urge you to buy your Dowden at once. It may save you money in the cost of the machine and possibly save you a great deal of money in the harvest of your crop.

Prices and Sizes We have the regular Dowden in four-horse size, with and without picker attachment. We also have a two-horse Dowden that is a great success. Where conditions are very favorable the Dowden can be used with a picker attachment. State the size machine you need and we will make you prices upon the same. Write us today.
