CANBY HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS WOODBURN TEAM TO A TIE

Best Game of Season Between High School Teams Ends In Tie.

One of the best and most thrilling football games of the season took place Friday afternoon in Canby when the Canby high school team met the Woodburn high team and played them to a standstill. The game began at 4 o'clock and first one team made a touchdown and the other team quickly tied the score. Neither of the young booters could convert their goal.

The game continued, stubbornly fought, just as hard by one team as the other with the result that when it became so dark that the players could not see the pigskin, the officials called the game with the score a 6 to 6 tie.

Kendall and Gribble of Canby were the outstanding stars of the game and their thrilling plays were repeatedly cheered by the large crowd of enthusiastic fans which followed the struggling teams about the field. The game was one of the best in point of attendance held so far this year. Many are hoping that it will be possible to bring the two teams together again this season to play the rubber.

CANBY PEOPLE MAKE COMPLAINT ON ROAD THROUGH CANEMAH

CANBY, Nov. 20.—Many complaints have been made over the condition of the road leading through the little settlement of Canemah. This has been regarded by motorists as one of the worst roads in the county.

In making the trip from this city to Oregon City the motor bus driver is considerate of his passengers, and in order to travel over the road without throwing them from the seats, it is necessary to almost stop the machine in places, thus killing his engine.

Other motorists have made complaint, and hope the county court will soon take action towards improving this thoroughfare, for when the winter season sets in it will be almost impassable in places.

Interesting Letter From Butte

CANBY, Nov. 20.—K. O. Hills, of this city, has received word from his daughter, Miss Ida Hills, superintendent of the Butte Deaconess Hospital, at Butte, Montana, who has been critically ill, telling of her improvement.

In her letter Miss Hills says "Agnes and I have been living in a cabin by ourselves for two weeks. It has been so much quieter than at the hospital, and have enjoyed the little home so much."

"I think I will start next week, and am to take special medical treatment at Baltimore, as the attending physician here says I will be well again if taking the radium treatment, and this will not necessitate another operation."

"Last night we had quite a hard wind and drifted the snow. It snowed most all day yesterday. In some places the drifts are four feet deep."

"We had a feast yesterday when some of our friends brought us some elk steak."

"We have mailed you a birthday gift in honor of your 72nd birthday anniversary that occurred on November 11, and hope you received it by this time."

Miss Hill is one of the three daughters of Mr. Hills connected with the Butte Deaconess Hospital, having been superintendent for a number of years, and with the vast work at the hospital during the war time has caused the superintendent to become critically ill, and her many friends in Canby, are pleased to note her improvement.

MANY PEOPLE FROM MID WEST STATES COMING TO CANBY

Bates Company Are Expecting Demand For Property Large From People of Colder States.

CANBY, Nov. 20.—The C. L. Bates Realty Company has had an unusual run of business during the past two months, and Mr. Bates finds from his experience in the realty business that many are looking to Canby as making that section their future home.

There have been a number of prospective buyers from the Dakotas, Nebraska, Minnesota and other states, where the winters are cold and these people having read of the excellent climate of Oregon have come to investigate for themselves and have been well pleased.

Mr. Bates says the desirable homes for renting here now are a thing of the past, and this is one reason why many are buying at the present time. In the early summer there were a number of desirable homes that could have been secured with low rents, and there were a number that were not so desirable that have been renovated and are now occupied by families wishing to make Canby their home.

Among the sales of this week made by Mr. Bates is that of the property owned by Mrs. Ada Smith, consisting of 15 acres and located at Lone Elder. This has been purchased by J. A. Cobb, of Portland, a former merchant of Canby. An attractive bungalow adorns the property, but the land is uncultivated.

LAST CANBY MAN IN WAR SERVICE HOME FROM FRANCE

CANBY, Nov. 21.—Melvin Eid, son of John Eid, and the last young man of Canby to return from the service, returned to this home the first of the week, having been in active service in France.

Melvin Eid is the second son of Mr. Eid, of this city, to enter the army when Uncle Sam called for men, and with his return Canby is to give an entertainment in the ear future in honor of her heroes, of which she is well proud.

Canby had one of the largest representations in the army and navy during the war than any little city of its size, a number of these having been over the top in some of the greatest battles.

Many Attend Church Convention

CANBY, Nov. 21.—The Church of God meeting held in the big tent in this city has been largely attended, many from various parts of the state having been here and taking an active part. Many homes have been turned over to the visitors, and meals are served in the Artisan building.

Among those taking part in the program is Miss Ida Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Krueger of this city, who has been traveling in the interest of the church for some time.

The meetings closed Wednesday evening. There were about 365 people from outside of Canby in attendance.

CANBY, Nov. 20.—W. H. Bair, a commission merchant of Canby, is again preparing to ship a number of carloads of Christmas trees for the holiday season. They will leave today for the south. There will be six carloads, five of which will go to San Francisco and one to Honolulu, P. I., where there has been a large demand for several years.

Last year Mr. Bair shipped eight carloads, several of these going to Honolulu.

Cheapest Method to Build Roads

The proposed bond issue is based on a valuation of $30,000,000. With good hard surface roads the valuation will increase, with a consequent reduction of the millage. Based on the present valuation the average millage for the 20 years is 4.445 mills per year. For the first 10 years the average millage is 3.789 mills per year. For the first year the county court could not handle more than the bridge and a portion of the hard surface, with an expenditure not exceeding $300,000, which would be the total of the bond sale the first year.

The second year the contemplated bond sales would again be $300,000, with a like expenditure on hard surfacing. The third year under the proposed plan the bond sales would total $600,000, and the fourth year the remainder of the bonds would be sold and the work completed.

Under the pay as you go plan of 7 mills per year, the first ten years would entail an expenditure of 70 mills as against 37.80 mills under the bond plan, and in 10 years the county would expend 70 mills as against 88.90 mills in the 20 years under the bonding plan.

It would seem that it would be well worth the 18.90 mills to have the roads six years sooner, which is possible under the bonding plan.

FIRE WIPES OUT BLOCK LOSS OVER $200,000

The severest fire in the history of Clackamas county and which for a time bade fair to wipe out the entire business portion of this city, occurred during the early hours of Saturday and completely destroyed the building housing the First Methodist church, the oldest Protestant church west of the Rocky mountains, and Price Bros. department store and gutted the adjoining building housing the Woodmen of the World lodge and other lodges on the second floor and occupied by the Eddy Department store below.

The embers of the fire had scarcely cooled before the trustees of the church met at the church parsonage on Saturday night with a full attendance of the nine members and decided by a unanimous vote that as soon as practicable a modern church home and business block would be erected upon the site of the former church.

The Price Bros. store loss is estimated at about $100,000 with $40,000 insurance. The church carried $17,000 insurance.

At fifteen minutes of three o'clock Saturday morning, as the Enterprise was on the press, Night Officer Cook discovered smoke pouring from the Seventh street side of the First Methodist church building. He turned in an alarm. At 3:30 o'clock the fire department was struggling energetically to get at the flames, which were at that time apparently confined to the basement. Dense clouds of smoke poured from the lower story occupied by the Price Bros. Department store. Several attempts to get at the seat of the fire were made, but the smoke was too dense. It was believed that the fire was at that time confined to the basement, occupied exclusively by the heating plant of two furnaces. There were no goods stored there, as far as could be learned. At 3:30 Willard Montgomery and his brother Dick secured two gas masks and went into the basement to explore for the fire. They returned in a few minutes reporting that the source of the fire appeared to be the heating plant in the church, where the heating plant is located, and the firemen immediately put three streams of water on the flames. For a time they apparently gained upon the fire, but at 5:15 the flames broke through the rear of the church roof and within a minute the entire roof was a seething mass of flames.

It was then Portland was called upon for assistance, and one engine company was sent out by auto truck. In the meantime the home fire department brought out every reel of hose in the city and connected with every fire plug within a two block radius.

At 6:20 the first company of the Portland fire department arrived and immediately went into action. It was seen at this time that the Eddy store was a mass of flames inside, although no flames broke through until later. Earlier in the evening rain fell at intervals for about four hours but shortly after midnight the shower was over. Throughout the night there was no wind and the flames and smoke rose in a direct line into the sky. By 6:30 the heat on the Main street side of the church was so intense that great clouds of steam arose from the flooded street. By this time the entire church structure had burned practically to the ground but the lower part occupied by the Price store was a roaring cauldron. About 6:20 the bell on the church fell with a clangor.

It was impossible to save any of the stock of the Price firm, the smoke being too great, even in the early stages when the fire was first discovered, to permit anyone to live within the doors. The crowds of volunteers on the scene saved considerable of the Eddy stock, however.

Early after the discovery of the fire, Assistant Fire Chief Walter Young in attempting to force an entry into the basement of the church was overcome by the smoke for a time but recovered quickly. Gilbert Thomas had his hand crushed in trying to force a jammed door.

It is impossible to estimate the loss within thousands. The Price stock is a total loss; the church edifice and furnishings completely destroyed. The Eddy stock, with the exception of what was carried to safety, is also a total loss. The best estimate that can be given will place the total loss in the neighborhood of $200,000, only partly covered by insurance.

SCHOOL APPORTIONMENT REACHES LARGEST SUM IN COUNTY'S HISTORY

Six Month Sum for Conducting School Reaches Handsome Total.

County School Superintendent Calavan has announced the amounts coming to this county from the semi-annual apportionment of the state and county school funds. This money comes to the county every six months to defray the expenses of conducting the school system of the county. The county money coming in at this time amounts to $60,215.35 while the state funds total $22,051.96. The county funds are raised on a per capita tax of $4.14.

This is the largest apportionment in the history of the county. But it is very small in comparison to the state of Washington where the amount reaches the sum of $10. The reason of this in part is that Washington state has held an extremely large portion of her school lands until they became very valuable before selling while this state sold much of her school lands for $1.25 per acre.
