

WIFE OF PIONEER DIES WEDNESDAY AFTER WEEKS OF ILLNESS

Mrs. Susan L. Hughes Passes Away at Her Home on Fourteenth Street

Mrs. Susan L. Hughes, wife of Robert Hughes, a well known resident of Oregon City, died at the family home at Fourteenth and Main streets this morning, after an illness of several weeks. Her age was 74 years and 19 days.

Mrs. Hughes crossed the plains in 1854, accompanying her parents, John and Christina Gilmore, who settled on a donation land claim east of Salem, later moving to Salem where she remained until 1866, where she was married to Robert Hughes in the year of 1870, when they moved to Clackamas county, where they made their home until 1910, when they moved to Sweet Home. In 1918 they returned to Oregon City.

Mrs. Hughes is survived by her husband, Robert Hughes of this city; two daughters, Mrs. Lillian Kelly, of Oregon City; Mrs. D. R. Hughes, of San Francisco, Calif., and a son, Edward Hughes, of Metolius, Ore; five grandchildren, Robert E. Kelly, of Portland; Mrs. Edythe White, Walter, Lee and Robert Hughes, of Metolius.

PROMINENT MEMBER OF ODD FELLOWS LODGE RETURNS FROM EAST

Delightful Trip Experienced By Mr. and Mrs. Walker in September to Atlantic Coast

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Walker, who left here September 5 for Baltimore, Md., where Mr. Walker was a delegate from the state of Oregon to Sovereign Grand lodge of the I. O. O. F., returned to their home this week, after a most enjoyable trip, but they have come to the conclusion that there is no place like old Oregon, although they have traveled in many states and visited many cities.

While enroute east they visited Chicago, Ill., Philadelphia, Pa., and also spent a Sunday at Atlantic City, and visited Niagara Falls, N. Y., and other places of interest in the big city, including the art exhibit where many handsome paintings were on display. After arriving in Washington, D. C., they had the pleasure of seeing General Pershing and the First Division, owing to the big parade to take place at Baltimore when the visiting I. O. O. F. were to take part, Mr. and Mrs. Walker were not able to remain in Washington for the military parade in which Pershing and the returned service men were to participate.

In the parade in which Mr. Walker rode with the Oregon delegation in Baltimore, hundreds of automobiles appeared beside many hundreds of I. O. O. F. marched.

It required over two hours for this parade to pass a certain point, and was one of the largest parades ever held in Baltimore. The southern part of Pennsylvania was visited for four weeks before returning, Mr. and Mrs. Walker visiting the former's relatives.

While on their way home they stopped in Salt Lake City, Utah, and also in Colorado. In Colorado they visited many places of interest. Among these were the Garden of the Gods and Cave of the Winds. The latter place was one of the most wonderful places visited.

These caves, which were first discovered by boys many years ago, lead from a large building, prettily located and of handsome structure. The passages lead in about one and three-quarters of a mile. There are many passageways leading from others, and each one has been given a name. By some peculiar manner the waters that have in years trickled down the sides of the cave from above have changed into crystal like formation, and when the lights are turned on these they glisten like so many precious stones. Great care is taken by the guides that none of these are molested by the many visitors.

One of the apartments in the big cave that is of interest and quite amusing is that termed the "Old Maid's Apartment." Here has been placed a netting of wire, and for years it has been prophesied that any single woman desiring to become married will have her wishes fulfilled if she places a hairpin on the wire.

There are hairpins of all sizes and styles hung there, and many have been there for years, according to the appearances of some, for they have become rusty and worn with age.

Another apartment is known as the Chestnut apartment, and the ceiling and walls resembled the rich colored chestnuts.

On the day Mr. and Mrs. Walker made the trip through this cave there were registered 1600 persons. A sum of $1.10 is charged for each person, so at the rate of 1600 persons a neat sum is derived from the visitors to the cave.

Upon leaving the cave one more apartment was visited. This is one resembling an amphitheater with its boxes as if constructed there, and a most wonderful rock formation.

The weather in the east was pleasant during Mr. and Mrs. Walker's visit, but while coming westward they experienced some early snow.

This was in Salt Lake City, Montana and Idaho, and they were somewhat relieved to find some of the Oregon mist they "missed" while away in the eastern cities, for in some of the places they visited they said it fairly "poured" down rain.

JELlicoe AT VANCOUVER VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 18.—Viscount Admiral Jellicoe, speaking at a club luncheon here today, said his present tour was being made to advise people of Canada only on subjects on which advice is asked.

Admiral Jellicoe said British sea power is necessary if the British empire is to live. It is not necessary, he said, to build up a system of militarism but simply to face the facts. The empire's existence depends on sea power and preparedness, he asserted.

OLD DEED FILED IN OTHER COUNTY NOW FILED HERE

Document Conveying Land Near Wilsonville Filed Here After Sixty-four Years.

A deed sixty-four years old was filed for record here Thursday in which Frederick W. Geer and wife Mary Ann Geer transferred to John J. Hughes 200 acres of land in this county. The land described in the deed is in the Wilsonville district and is known as a splendid farm. It is a part of the holding of the Clackamas Hop Farm company and is now being farmed by Chinese. It is said that the place has been sold to the Orientals. That portion of this county was then in Yamhill county and on January 12, 1856 the deed was filed for record in the Yamhill county recorder's office.

The striking thing about the deed which is yellow with age is the ink. It looks as though it were written recently. The wording of the form of conveyance has many unusual expressions and reminds one of the wording of documents in the days Millard Fillmore and presidents of even earlier times.

SPARROW IS DAILY VISITOR AT BRADY STORE FOR FOOD

Clerks Try to Make Little Feathered Visitor at Home as He Picks Up Crumbs

A little bird belonging to the sparrow family has made itself at home at the Brady Mercantile company's store during the past few days.

The bird hops into the store several times during the day, goes behind the counter and helps itself to the particles of grain and crumbs and other eatables that look good to it. Although there is a clanging of the cash register and many patrons visiting the store, these have little effect on the little visitor.

The bird never goes away from the grocery store hungry, for the big hearted manager, James Brady, and the employes, among them Mr. Smith, always look after the interest of the bird at "eating time."

Driven by easterly winds which had prevailed for several days, the highest tide in the memory of waterfront workers backed into the Hudson and East rivers and flooded large areas in lower New York and Hoboken. For several hours ferryboats were unable to make their slips in New Jersey and thousands of commuters were forced to take the tube. The water in some places was knee deep in the streets. This photograph shows a rubber-boated traffic policeman giving a youngster a lift.
