LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Gastrock and daughter, Miss Louise, who have been making their home in Canby for several years, and who are well known in Oregon City, left Thursday morning for their future home in New Orleans. They formerly resided there, and John Gastrock, a son, recently left for that place to take up his studies at a university. The family have been entertained at a number of social functions in Canby. Miss Louise Gastrock, who has been heard as a soloist in this city on a number of occasions, is a charming young woman, and took part in many patriotic entertainments during the war. Mr. Gastrock expects to go into the shoe business upon his return to New Orleans.

F. M. Robertson and children, who have been residing near the Abernethy moved to Oregon City Route 3. Mr. Robertson disposed of his property near the Abernethy expecting to leave for California to assist in caring for his daughter, Lydia, who had been taken there for her health, but who died in Oakland Saturday morning. He has decided to remain in Clackamas county, where he is engaged in the wood business, and has moved his children to near the wood camp. Mr. Robertson has received word from Oakland saying that Mrs. Swanner, his former wife, was improving from the influenza from which she has been dangerously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tragoo and children, Olive and Elton, accompanied by Mrs. Tragoo's mother, Mrs. Gillett, arrived a few weeks ago from Elgin, Montana, and are to make their home in Clackamas county. Mrs. Tragoo is a niece of Mrs. George DeBok, of Willamette, the latter having visited the family in Montana last summer and induced them to take up their residence in Clackamas county. Mrs. Tragoo, a sister of Mrs. DeBok, is making her home with Miss Ethel DeBok, in Portland, the latter having recently purchased an attractive bungalow in that city.

Mrs Ralph Miller, of Florence, Oregon, arrived in Oregon City Sunday evening, having come here to look after her property interests at West Linn, this being known as the Freeman place and located on the new highway. Mrs. Miller, formerly Mrs. Freeman, has decided to dispose of her property, which consists of 12 acres and a five-room cottage. During her absene the house has been broken into and a number of articles stolen, but the intruders left the furniture. Mrs Miller is to have her home repaired, when it will be put on the market for sale.

Among the sales that have been reported in the realty line during the past few weeks is the old home of the late Ben Linn located at Linn's Old Mill, about six miles from Oregon City. The land has been purchased by Mr Bragg, who has moved his wife and five children to that place, and is making many improvements to the old home. As Linn's Old Mill is located in School District No 21, three of Mr. Bragg's children are of school age, and will add to the enrollment of the school at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bernetz, who have just arrived from Virginia, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spees of Linn's Mill section. Mr. Bernetz, who is a brother of Mrs. Spees, recently received his discharge from the service, and while stationed in Virginia, met and won a most charming young woman, who is making her first visit to the West. Mr. Bernetz was on his way to France when the armistice was signed, the boat upon which he was sailing returning to port.

Mr. and Mrs. L. McKinnis left Saturday evening for Cathlamet, where they are to make their home. Mr. McKinnis will be employed with the section work of a logging camp. Mrs. McKinnis' daughter, Mrs. Winnie Boylan, is making her home in that city. Mrs. McKinnis, who has resided in Oregon City for the past 30 years, has been an active lodge member. She is the past president of the Women's Relief Corps, past master artisan and past noble grand of Willamette Rebekah Lodge.

Sergeant Charles Truscott, one of the well known Clackamas county boys, and formerly of Oregon City, who went over-seas in 1917 in the quartermaster department, is still in France, having joined the Red Cross over-seas, after receiving his discharge from the service. Truscott, in a letter to his mother a few days ago, said he may probably go to Poland with the Red Cross organization, and if he did would not return to the United States for some time to come.

Mrs. John Kent, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steiner, at Forest Grove, has returned to her home at Gladstone. Mrs. Kent was accompanied home by Mr. Steiner, who spent several days here. He was formerly engaged in business in Oregon City but thinks there is nothing like farming now, after he has had several months' experience in that line. Mrs. Kent also visited her sister, Mrs. John Yoder, of Gaston, before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Gregerson, who have been over on the Sound and also visiting their son, Ben, at Centralia, have returned to Oregon City for a short stay. They have been at the bedside of their son, who recently underwent a critical operation at a hospital in Portland, and will remain until he is better so that he will be able to accompany them back to California until he recuperates from his illness.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Anderson, former residents of Maple Lane, and who recently returned from the state of Washington, where they have been spending some time, have purchased a place at Gray's Crossing, Multnomah county, and the deal was closed Monday of this week. Mr. Anderson will make a number of improvements on the place, which is a most desirable home.

Mrs. E. Meeds, who left here last September to visit her daughter in Zanesville, Ohio, and who has been critically ill at a hospital in that city, has improved so that she has been able to leave the institution and is now at the home of her daughter. She expects to return to Gladstone in the early spring. Mrs. Meeds is the mother of Mrs. O. E. Freytag and Mrs. McKinnon of that place.

Walter Taylor, of Molalla, was in Oregon City Monday. He was on his way home from Portland, where he had spent Sunday with friends. Taylor is coach of the Molalla high school basket ball team that has won four games this season, making 194 points, while their opponents have made 34. Two of these games were played with the Milwaukie high school.

David Caufield, who left early last week in company with his son, L. J. Caufield, and the latter's wife, for Molalla, where he has been repairing the little cottage now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Caufield has returned to Oregon City. L. J. Caufield is the resident engineer on the county highway construction at Molalla.

Mrs. J. C. Roberts, who has been in Oregon City visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Moynagh, of Twelfth and John Adams streets, left for her home at Egley, Montana, a few days ago. Mrs. Roberts accompanied her parents to this city with the remains of her brother, who died from injuries received December 24.

R. G. Scott, county agent, went to the Happy Valley country Friday evening, where he gave an address and illustrated his talk with a number of interesting dairy slides. This was a dairy meeting and was largely attended by those interested in the industry, and was given under the auspices of the farm bureau.

J. P. Keating, formerly of Oregon City, now president of the Coast Box and Lumber company, of Portland, was in Oregon City on business Monday, and while here visited among his old time friends and relatives. Mr. Keating and family, now residing in Irvington, have purchased a new home in Portland.

Mrs William Millikin, of Seattle, arrived in Oregon City Thursday evening, having been summoned here by the death of her sister, Miss Augusta Gadke. Mrs. Millikin will return home Monday. She formerly resided here, and her husband is circulation manager of the Seattle Times.

Herman Schmidt, one of the well known hopgrowers of Clackamas county, whose home is at Carus, was in Oregon City Tuesday. Mr. Schmidt will plant more of his land to hops this season, and expects to get a flattering offer when ready for disposing of the same.

Earl Dimick, who underwent a surgical operation on his throat and nose at the Oregon City hospital a few days ago, has been able to return to his home on Seventh street, and is improving steadily from the operation.

F. F. Westover, one of the professors of the dairy department of the Oregon Agricultural College, was in Oregon City on business connected with the Guernsey Breeders' Association Friday.

Mr and Mrs. James Fullam were Oregon City visitors Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Fullam is one of the prominent farmers of Clackamas county and his farm is located in the Redland section.

Mr. and Mrs. George Buck, former residents of Clackamas county, who have been in Oregon City for several days, have returned to their home in Yamhill county, where they have a farm.

Among those to transact business here Thursday was N. H. Smith, whose dairy farm is located at Logan. Mr. Smith is the owner of some of the best Jerseys in the county.

Mrs. Foss Maple and little daughter, Bessie, arrived Friday afternoon from Canyon City, Oregon, having been called here by the death of her sister, Miss Augusta Gadke.

J. J. Sandsness, of Canby, was among the Oregon City visitors Tuesday, coming here on land business, as he is one of the realty dealers of that city.

J. C. Cochran, captain of Troup No. 2, Boy Scouts, of this city, chaperoned a group of boys to Portland on Thursday evening, and they attended the rally meeting at the auditorium, when 1000 boys from various sections of the state were in attendance. The meeting was held to welcome Mr. West, Chief of the Boy Scouts of the United States.

Among those going from here in company with Mr. Cochran and Rev. H. G. Edgar, pastor of the Presbyterian church, were Teddy Roake, Edmond Roake, Cyril Justin, Ronald Kellogg, Evaline Califf, Phillip Payne, Weldon Fuge, William Lightowler, George Crocker, Quenton Cox, Cleo Howell, Billy Osborne, Marvin Hickman and Ralph McCoy.

Fifty Visitors See Rest Room

There were over fifty visitors at the rest room established by the W. C. T. U. Saturday. Many of these were from a distance, and one of the visitors, realizing the value of the rest room in this city, presented the W. C. T. U. with $2, which was greatly appreciated.

The hostess for Saturday was Mrs Jane Crawford, and on Monday Mrs. J. J. Harris is to be in charge.

Each day brings many visitors who enjoy the home-like appearance of the room.

Eight Students For High School

There were eight boys and girls graduating from the Barclay grade school to enter the high school on Friday afternoon. They will commence their high school studies Monday. The graduating exercises took place at the Barclay school on Friday afternoon, and following the presentation of diplomas and the program Superintendent R. W. Kirk and John R. Bowland, principal, addressed the young people. They were served with refreshments. The teachers of the institution attended the affair.

The students graduating were Melvin Cross, Henry Engelbrecht, Edwin Rowlee, Madge Warner, Donna Warner, Velma Allen, Everette Cannon, Edward Hart.

PHEASANTS TO BE LIBERATED

About 1000 pair of Chinese pheasants are to be liberated in carefully selected districts throughout Oregon, beginning with next week. This is the first liberation under the new policy of the state fish and game commission, and both the warden, Carl D. Shoemaker, and Superintendent Simpson of the game farm are of the opinion that it will stock the woods with five times more birds than if they were released in the fall, just before the hunting season, as has been the custom.

BOYS HAVE SMALLPOX

Among the new cases of smallpox in Oregon City are Hugh Mount, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Mount, of Ninth and Center streets, and Alfred Chandler, second son of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. L. Chandler. Both lads have light cases and are in quarantine.

PUPILS BARRED FROM SCHOOLS TOTAL OVER 100

One hundred and three students of the public schools have been barred from further attendance because of their failure to comply with the smallpox vaccination order of the state board of health, issued two weeks ago. Many parents have refused to permit their children to be vaccinated, and there has been a withdrawal of 38 pupils at the Barclay building, 36 at the Eastham and 29 at the high school, a total of 103.

Doctors Frank Mount and E. H. McLane vaccinated 121 pupils in the three buildings last week, and hundreds of others were treated by their own family physicians. Free vaccination was provided for those who were unable to pay or who did not wish to pay, and the school board was then confronted with compliance with the order of the board of health, which demanded that those who had failed to comply with the order should be barred from school for 21 days or until all danger from a smallpox epidemic is over.

There are about 10 cases of smallpox here and as soon as reported to the city health department, quarantine has been established and is being maintained.

WILL OF FORD GIVES PROPERTY TO HIS FAMILY

The will of the late Rev. T. B. Ford, former superintendent of the Salem district of the Methodist Episcopal church was filed for probate Thursday. After providing for the payment of his just debts and funeral expenses and directing that his burial and casket be simple and inexpensive he makes the following bequest:

"I hereby bequeath my Christian Faith, in God Almighty, the most precious and priceless possession which I have, or which any person can have, to my beloved children, and I commend them to the saving power of the Lord Jesus Christ whose faithful servant I have been and still am World without end."

All money in his possession or owing him or in banks is to be divided equally with his four children. Out of the proceeds of his life insurance policies each of the four children are to be paid $500. The balance is to be invested in Liberty or other first class bonds, preferably of the United States. Interest to be paid to the children share and share alike.

The principal of the bonds at the end of five years is to be paid to his daughter, Sayde Evelyn Ford, if she is unmarried at that time. His library is to be divided among the children, each selecting the books desired. All of his manuscripts, typewriter and desk are to be given to his son, Burgess F. Ford.

The will was executed April 8, 1918, and was witnessed by Rev. E. E. Gilbert and Roy B. Cox.

Strebig High Flyer Merchant May Soar Would Buy Airplane

While some people of this city are suffering from smallpox, influenza and mumps, Henry Strebig is suffering from a severe attack of aeroplanitis, and is planning on purchasing one of the finest planes he can secure in the near future, and contemplates a trip to Honolulu, where he can hear the sweetest singers and the ukeleie played by the natives.

His first trip will be California expecting to leave for the south in the near future, where he will join his wife and her mother, who left last week for a trip through California. While in San Francisco Henry expects to make his big purchase of an air ship, and take a flight over the country, and says it won't be slow when he once gets started.

Strebig has already promised several hundred of his friends rides in his plane, and will be busily engaged in keeping his dates.

LYDIA ROBERTSON IS DEAD IN CALIFORNIA FROM TUBERCULOSIS

Miss Lydia Robertson, daughter of F. M. Robertson, of this city, and Mrs J. J. Swanner, now in California, died in Oakland, Calif., Saturday morning from tuberculosis, having been a sufferer from the disease but a few months. A sister, Miss Esther Robertson, of this city, died in Salem January 11.

Lydia Robertson was born in Portland, in April, 1906, and her age was 13 years, 12 months and 1 day. She attended the Oregon City schools, and was a pupil of the 8th grade of the Barclay school at the time she was taken ill. She left with her sister, Mrs. I. D. Peil, of Oakland, for that place about three weeks ago, the attending physician advising the change of climate. After arriving in the south her condition changed for the worse and her health gradually failed until her death Saturday.

The young girl was attractive and had many friends among her schoolmates. She is survived by her father, F. M. Robertson, of this city; her mother, Mrs. J. J. Swanner, of Oregon City; six sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Pelle, Mrs. Lillian Towner and Miss Anna Robertson, of Oakland, Calif.; Rachel, Rosetta, Elizabeth Robertson, of this city; three brothers, Robert Robertson, of California; Theodore and David Robertson, of Oregon City.

WILLIAM H ASKEW DISCOVERED DEAD IN YARD NEAR HIS HOME

William H. Askew, aged 60 years, who has lived alone the past three years in a cabin about two miles south of Liberal was found dead in the yard near his cabin Tuesday morning. He was last seen alive by Thomas Garrett who saw him splitting kindling wood about five o'clock Monday evening. Mr. Garrett discovered his body Tuesday morning within a few feet of where he was working the previous night. Coroner Johnson made a trip to Molalla and made inquires regarding the circumstances surrounding his death, deciding an injuest unnecessary. Little is known of the past life of the deceased, as during the three years he has lived in the Molalla section he has made no intimate acquaintances. Most of the time he has been engaged as a wood cutter.

Coroner Johnson has taken possession of his effects and may learn something of the past history of the man.

H. H. Everhart, undertaker at Molalla, has charge of the remains and the funeral services will be held this afternoon with interment in the Molalla cemetery.

AUGUSTA GADKE DIES SUDDENLY AT FAMILY HOME ON 12TH STREET

Miss Augusta Gadke, daughter of the late Fred and Mary Gadke, Sr., died suddenly at the family home on Twelfth and John Adams streets Thursday. Miss Gadke's death was due to a stroke of paralysis, she having suffered a similar stroke over a year ago. When members of the family had left the home for their places of employment in the morning, Miss Gadke was feeling much better than for several weeks, and when her sister, Miss Mary Gadke, returned about 6 o'clock she found her sister lying on the floor unconscious. It is thought by the family that she was stricken during the afternoon. She never regained consciousness, although the family physician was summoned and medical aid given.

Miss Gadke, who was favorably known in Oregon City, where she has resided most of her life, was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gadke. She was born in Illinois, coming from that state when a mere child. She attended the Oregon City schools, and had many friends here. She is survived by three sisters: Miss Mary Gadke, of this city; Mrs. Foss Maple, of Canyon City, Oregon; Mrs. William Milliken, of Seattle; four brothers, Fred Gadke, a business man of this city; William and Charles Gadke, of this city, and George Gadke, of Mount Vernor, Wash.
