JUST GOOD LUCK  If you can stand while men around you are falling, and then rejoice because it isn't you? If you can watch the other fellow falling and be real glad you've nothing else to do? If you can pull in lots of easy money, by selling a good grist of punk pipe dreams? If you can force some poor short-sighted fellow to hand you out a good share of his means? If you can bet and win a good fat boodle, and then refuse to take another chance? If you can coax your pal to play the fiddle, while with his charming sweetheart you may dance? If you can make what's called a good investment, and at the proper time can let it go? If you can sow your crop of wild oats freely, and be assured that none of them will grow? If you can make your many acts of meanness, appear as things the people think quite fit? If you can swipe the other fellow's ace while dealing, and be able to get neatly by with it? If you can wed a real young handsome widow, who has not spent her former husband's dough? If you can live so she will not be learning, what all your neighbors 'round the country know? If you can win a crown of magic glory to cheer you in the fast declining years? If you can be what men will call successful, while handing out to others your bum steers? If when you're passing out beyond life's portal, your many friends are there to say good bye? If some good priest assures you a safe passage, so you calmly close your eyes and die? Perhaps you'll think yourself a fair bet. Perhaps you'll think yourself a fair example, of rugged industry and manly pluck; But when you pass the pearly gate St. Peter will then explain to you, 'T WAS JUST GOOD LUCK. — F. W. PARKER.

What They Say

M. J. Lee, of Canby, will run for the Legislature, says the Molalla Pioneer. Lee is well known throughout the state as an irrigation promoter. Around Canby he always has had so much to do to things that nobody else had time to do that he had hardly any time left to attend to his private affairs.

Judge Thomas F. Ryan, bank president and ex-state treasurer, will run against Chris Schuebel for state senator of Clackamas county and Judge Grant B. Dimick says he will not run. George C. Brownell intimates that he will stay out of the race if he can control himself. So the battle between Ryan and Schuebel will be a heavy-weight affair.

Which reminds us that in the celebrated divorce case, Mrs. Hawley testified that she inquired of a girl friend whether there was a lawyer in Oregon City who couldn't be bought off, and the girl replied that there was exactly one—Chris Schuebel. A titter went around to court room and Chris actually blushed. At that, the girl was right as to Schuebel, even if she lacked information as to other reputable attorneys. Chris does some very annoying things, but he can't be bought off after he has been bought on.

Councilman E. W. Scott of Oregon City has been promoted to be Chief of Police.

Anti-Cigarette Frost, proposer of the anti-cigarette measure which will be voted on next November, has been sued for two notes said to have been given by Frost to secure payment of a past-due grocery bill, says Aurora Observer. Maybe he's too busy reforming other people to attend to his own obligations.

Harvey E. Cross has succumbed to persuasion and will run for County Judge of Clackamas County.

Several Clackamas County papers raise their voices in protest against The Oregon Voter for having presumed to advise Clackamas County taxpayers to urge Harvey E. Cross to run for county judge. We don't blame them a bit. The Voter seldom lets its enthusiasm for a good man to betray it into the indiscretion of offering advice to his constituents if they reside in Clackamas County. That county is entirely capable of running its own affairs without any advice from The Voter. In addition it has succeeded in remodeling the whole state of Oregon to suit some of its prophets, seers and expounders. Let's make a deal. The Voter will agree to refrain from offering advice to Clackamas County if Clackamas County citizens will refrain from tinkering any further with the state constitution. We are certain that Clackamas County will be able to handle its affairs to its own satisfaction without the aid of advice from The Voter and we are equally certain that the mangled constitution of the state will stand a much better chance for recovery and long life if Clackamas County constitutional experts would let it alone. How about it?

CASE IS DISMISSED.

Judge J. U. Campbell has issued an order dismissing the suit of Lena Leisman against J. W. and Jane Doe Johnson, to collect an unpaid account for general merchandise alleged to have been bought of the Leisman store in Willamette.

PART TIME LAW HITS SCHOOLS OF THIS CITY

Boys and girls, between the ages of 16 and 18, who are not employed and who have not finished the eighth grade, must attend part time school in Oregon City, according to an order issued Thursday night by the school board. The part time law, enacted at the 1919 session of the legislature, provides that whenever it is found that 15 persons are subject to the provisions of the act, the school board must establish such a school, with a minimum of five hours a week. Attendance, with certain exceptions, is compulsory. Evening schools are not permitted under the act, but the part time schools may be conducted between the hours of 8 A. M. and 6 P. M.

City Superintendent Kirk has been checking the enumeration list and has found that there are about 40 cases for investigation. The law makes it the duty of the trustee officer to ascertain the names of those who will be obliged to attend such a school, it being left to the board of education to determine whether the part time school shall be conducted one hour a day for five days a week, or two and one-half hours a day for two days each week. Newton Vandenberg, director of the state board of vocational education, was here Thursday conferring with Mr. Kirk relative to the conditions prevailing locally. Those between the ages of 16 and 18 who have not completed the eighth grade and who are not employed, just attend school regularly, but those who have obtained an employment certificate must attend a part time school whenever it is established.

TEACHERS FAVOR MEASURE FOR TWO-MILL TAX

Resolved, that the teachers of Clackamas county, after careful study of the provisions of the measure providing a 2-mill tax for the support of the elementary schools, unanimously endorse it. Believing that America must now rally to the support of her public schools, we pledge ourselves to cooperate with all citizens who believe in good schools.

The above expresses the sentiment of the teachers of this county on the proposed 2-mill measure which was discussed at the teachers meeting held at the high school Saturday. It was one of the largest gatherings of teachers ever held in the county and much business of importance was transacted. S. S. Duncan, superintendent of schools for Yamhill county, made a stirring address on the measure, giving in detail the merits it possessed. Miss Schmidt, in charge of the high school section also gave an address.

In the afternoon, E. T. Carlson, assistant state superintendent, gave a good talk on the measure, followed by a general discussion. Miss Hazel Karr of the Eastham school, spoke on the work of the executive committee, of which she is a member.

Grant B. Dimick was appointed county chairman for the campaign in favor of the measure. At noon about 75 enjoyed luncheon at the high school cafeteria.

I Owe My Life to PE-RU-NA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it: "I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while playing my trade as a auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe case, which, through neglect on my part, settled on my lungs. When almost too late, I began doctoring, but without avail, until I heard of Peruna. It cured me; so I cannot praise it too highly."

"Some Men Don't Know It Yet" says the Good Judge. This class of tobacco gives a man a lot more satisfaction than he ever gets out of ordinary tobacco. Smaller chew—the good taste lasts and lasts. You don't need a fresh chew so often. Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that. Put Up In Two Styles. RIGHT CUT is a short-cut tobacco. W-B CUT is a long fine-cut tobacco.

$228,000 ADDED TO PAPER MILL PAYROLLS

Oregon City's payroll has been increased to the tune of about $228,000 annually through increases just granted by the Crown Wilmamette Paper Co., and the Hawley Pulp & Paper Co., affecting about 2900 men in both plants. The wage betterments were announced Wednesday.

All men who have been receiving under $4 a day will be advanced 5 cents an hour, or 40 cents a day, those who have been paid between $4 and $5 will be increased 4 cents per hour, or 32 cents a day, and the men who are receiving more than $5 will be boosted 3 cents per hour, or 24 cents a day. The average increase per man is about 38 cents.

The new wage scale becomes effective March 16. In the Crown Wilmamette Paper Co., the increases are general, with the exception of the men who have received increases since January 1 of this year and the employees in Mill K, which is the construction crew.

VISITORS TO OHIO ENCOUNTER STORMS ARE GLAD TO RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. George Schlegel, who left here January 24 for Ohio, returned to Oregon City Tuesday evening, more than ever impressed with Oregon, and say they would not give one acre in Oregon for 40 in Ohio or other states they have visited since leaving here.

Mr. and Mrs. Schlegel found much snow and ice after arriving at Tiffin, Ohio, where they were guests of Mrs. Mrs. August Trefflich, sister of Mr. Schlegel, and family. This town is one of the manufacturing little cities visited, and from there they went to Fayette, Ohio, where they visited Mr. Schlegel's brother, Charles Schlegel. After visiting in Ohio they went to Michigan, and while making the trip home, they experienced a blizzard which they will not soon forget. This extended from the time they left Chicago to St. Louis, on through to Kansas City and until Denver was reached, then the storm subsided. The snow was banked in places and traffic was at a standstill. It was necessary on the trip for the train crew to secure lanterns in order to light the cars, the lights having given out owing to the raging storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Schlegel had hoped to enjoy several motoring trips at least while in Ohio, but as the ground was covered with ice and snow during their entire stay there, they decided that they would have to take their motoring trips in Oregon if they wanted any.

They were surprised at the grandeur of the scenery while coming through the Grand Canyon, Col., and it was one of the most enjoyable parts of their trip.

TWO GIRLS FOUND AT FARM NEAR MACKSBURG

Hattie Samples and a girl companion, who disappeared from their homes in Portland a week ago last Sunday, were located Monday night at the home of J. A. Swanner between Macksburg and Liberal on the Simon Miller road. The girls had walked along the Southern Pacific right of way from Canby during the day and were just about exhausted when they reached Liberal, where they were seen by Fred H. Burns.

It is believed that they were headed for the ranch of J. W. Ebyas the Samples girl visited there last summer. On the day of their disappearance from Portland, they were seen in Oregon City by L. Van Valkenburg, who operates a shooting gallery, talking to three boys who were in an automobile, and they finally entered the car and drove away with the boys.
