Wrong Direction
"You are an hour late this morning, Sam," said an employer to his negro servant.
"Yes, sah, I know it, sah. I was kicked by a mule on my way, sah."
"That ought not to have detained you an hour, Sam."
"Well, you see, boss, it wouldn't have if he'd only kicked me in this direction, but he kicked me in the other way, sah."

If---
An Oregon family of four had $100 a month to get along on in 1913, but had grown into a family of ten with only $45 a month income in 1920, how in the world would it live?

That Is the Case With
The State University, the Agricultural College, and the Oregon Normal. In 1913 they had 2250 students; now they have 5400. And $1 in 1913 is only as good as 45 cents today, in purchasing power.

If You Yourself Were Responsible could you carry on the work of the College, University and Normal on the same state support as in 1913?

You Could Not.
Neither can the State University, the Agricultural College, and the Normal School do it. Will you not help these three institutions to continue their useful and productive work for Oregon by voting on May 21 for the Higher Educational relief measure?

AMBASSADOR TO REPRESENT U. S. AT CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Robert Underwood Johnson, United States ambassador to Italy, has been instructed to attend the conference of the allied premiers at San Remo, the state department announced today.

Although Italy invited the United States to send a representative to participate in the conference, Ambassador Johnson has been given definite instructions to take part only as an observer.

LONDON, April 21.—"The preliminary conversations of the premiers at San Remo so far have been without result," said a dispatch from San Remo to the Daily Telegraph today.

"The standpoints of the British, French and Italians are still wide apart. The French are still undiplomatic to modify the peace treaty and it is unlikely they will yield. However, they may agree to give a time limit to the Anglo-Italian view and delay temporary concessions regarding Germany."

Now Let's Help Our Own

The Salvation Army campaign to finance the home service program for 1920 in Oregon is at hand. Rescue week is set for May 1 to May 10. In the state of Oregon there is to be subscribed a total of $284,000. Half of this is the quota of Multnomah county, half that of the rest of the state, of which Clackamas county's quota is $8710.

The Salvation Army home service program for 1920 was outlined and the finance budget fixed at a convention of representative business men of the state representing the advisory boards of every county held in Portland March 17.

This convention went over and studied the reports of the advisory boards showing the need of extending the Salvation Army work beyond the confines of the city slums to the remotest community of the state.

There was found a need in Oregon for an immediate action in providing a home and school for boys and girls denied the heritage of youth—a father, mother, teacher; for the purchase of the White Shield home to the Salvation Army rescue home for unfortunate girls from all sections of the state, girls seeking sanctuary and refuge in their darkest hour; for an industrial home for the man in the depths, a home where he could find a friend who would help him regain self respect and a job; for an increase in the personnel of the Salvation Army to take care of the tremendous increase in the demand upon the army for its service.

This demand has grown almost beyond belief, certainly beyond the equipment of this self sacrificing band of workers.

The army stands ready to do the work. It asks only for the tools. Every dollar of the Oregon budget is apportioned for expenditure in Oregon to help Oregon care for its needy ones and to strike at the root of much of the social evil that is the curse of the cities—for the convention found that evil prevalent in the country in a marked degree.

The army is here to help Oregon and in asking for its quotas in the various counties but asks Oregon and Clackamas county to help its own.

Woman Citizen

To the Woman With the Ballot
(By A. Moore Manne)

It may seem graceless deed, dear Lady, in this hour of triumph over the winning of your fight for the ballot, to point to the inevitable "fly in the ointment" and sound the raven note of warning. Yet such ungracious acts seem sometimes necessary in a world ruled, as is ours, not by the "God of Things as They Should Be" but by the "God of Things as They Are."

Don't misunderstand us, dear Lady; the ballot is a very useful tool, and no wise man begrudges its use. But we think there is abroad a dangerous tendency to overestimate its potency. It is humanity's commonest weakness to seek an easy "short cut" to the goal of its dreams. Especially does this speedy, modern age disdain the slow, old fashioned road to achievement.

So we find today many well meaning folk who see the ballot as the short cut to the millennium, and the enactment of laws as the cure-all for all earth's ills and ills. Naturally enough this tendency is commonest perhaps, among our new voters, men having often tried the prescription and found it wanting.

We cannot mend the flaws of human nature. By sweetly lobbying the Legislature, or banishing human sins, where e'er we view them.

By simply asking Congress to taboo them.

The gas balloon, dear lady, is the easiest means to lift us wingless humans from the prosaic earth to the poetic heights. Used alone, the franchise is much like that gas balloon. But wise men have found that when the burden to be lifted is as heavy as are the combined sins, wrongs and misfortunes of our weary, old world, the inclined plane, the lever, and the jack screw will be found more potent. The inclined plane of laborious evolution, the lever of individual example, influence and efforts and the jack screw of motherliness, gentleness and purity have always been yours, dear Lady,—do not expect too much from your new-found gas balloon!

Dear Lady, there are many things your gentle hands may do. Toward smoothing out the tangles that have cast our lives askew. But even YOU will fail, I fear, to cure the ills that vex us.

By simply filling ballots up with rows of dainty X's.

It seems a short and easy way to banish all things vile,— But no short cut exists, alas, to ANY WHERE worth while.

And this is why we cannot solve the problems that perplex us. By simply filling ballots up with rows of dainty X's.

The ballot is a thing inert—the law a lifeless cloud— Save as they breathe the spirit of the changeless laws of God. So you will find no tallsmen against each wrong that wrecks us. By simply filling ballots up with rows of dainty X's.

Thirty Years Ago Today

Taken from the Oregon City Enterprise April 17, 1920.

Andy Kocher, of Canby, brought an egg to this office the other day that weighed just a quarter of a pound. Good kind to buy by the dozen, or sell by the pound.

Note—This same Andy Kocher, who is still in the poultry industry on a small scale, just for his own pleasure, sent to the Enterprise office a few days ago an egg weighing the same as that in 30 years ago, which is a singular coincidence.

Charles Meserve, of the Mist, of St. Helens, was in Oregon City on business Monday.

The United States Land office was moved to the Charman block Friday last.

Promenade concert at the armory on the 22nd.

Professor Rigler returned from Salem Monday morning.

Sunday was a fine day, and great many persons who are intending to purchase lots took advantage of the day to look at some of the choice lots on the market.

Miss Nettie Cochran returned from Pomeroy last Saturday, well pleased to get back to web foot. While there she was the guest of friends, among these were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hathaway.

Frank Cox, of Nova Scotia, is visiting his cousin, Mrs. E. M. Rabbs.

Mrs. Lee, connected with the advertising of the Oregonian at Portland, was in town Tuesday looking after business interests of that paper.

It is expected that the dedicatory services of the New Congregational church will take place June 27. This will follow by a series of revival meetings.

Caleb Cross has sold his fine farm at Sandy to Lewis Good. The price was $4000.

On Sunday evening next the Right Reverend Morris will administer rite of confirmation and preach at St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Parish Meeting—At the annual meeting of St. Paul's parish held on Easter Tuesday, the following named gentlemen were elected members of the vestry for the ensuing year: George A. Harding, H. L. Kelly, Richard Glasspool, Percy Williams and T. F. Cowling.

Miss Alice Bollinger, a daughter of a former pastor of the Congregation church spent Friday afternoon as the guest of Mrs. Crocker at the parsonage. Miss Bollinger is a nurse at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland.

RING IS FULL OF CANDIDATES FOR NOMINATION

The time for filing petitions for nomination for county offices expired Wednesday, with no filings on the final day. County Clerk Miller, Recorder Noe, Treasurer Dunn, Assessor Cook and School Superintendent Calavan have no opposition for second terms. The list of Clackamas county aspirants for the Republican nomination for county and legislative offices follow, there being no declarations among the Democratic aspirants for such offices, though it is believed that the name of E. T. Mass will be written in for sheriff and that of O. D. Eby for state senator.

County Judge—L. L. Porter, West Linn; Harvey E. Cross, Gladstone; E. L. Pope, Parkplace; Brenton Vedder, Gladstone.

Commissioner—W. H. Counsell, Milwaukie; W. J. E. Vick, Molalla; W. A. Proctor, Sandy; J. W. Reed, Estacada.

State Senator—Thomas F. Ryan, Gladstone; C. Schuebel, Oregon City. Representatives—(Three to nominate)—E. W. Bartlett, Estacada; Philip Hammond, Oregon City; M. J. Lee, Canby; William M. Stone, Oregon City; Franz Kraxberger, Mackaburg; Carl J. Renhard, Colton; E. P. Carter, Gladstone; F. D. Shank, Damascus. Sheriff—W. J. Wilson, Ed L. Johnson, H. E. Meade, all of Oregon City. Surveyor—S. A. D. Hungate, Molalla; D. Thompson Meldrum, Gladstone. Coroner—O. A. Pace, Oregon City; Harry Greaves, Willamette.

District Attorney Philip Hedges is seeking the Democratic nomination, without opposition in his own party, and he will be opposed by Livy Stipp, who is the only aspirant for the Republican nomination. E. J. Noble has a clear field for the Republican nomination for justice of the peace for the Oregon City district. D. E. Frost is seeking the nomination for constable, and B. M. Fortune, incumbent, is again a candidate for constable on the Democratic ticket. In the Milwaukie district W. E. Kelso and George T. Parry are rival candidates for the Republican nomination for justice.

Early State History

Oregon Pioneer Tells of Severe Freeze in 46-47

There are but few people now living that passed through the cold winter of '46-'47 in Oregon. That was the coldest winter that I have ever seen for 73 years. The fall weather was nice up till about December 15, when the rain began to fall and it continued about ten days, then it began to snow with a northeast wind. It continued to snow till the snow was 30 inches on the ground.

Then the S-V cleared up and the northeast wind blew cold till everything froze. We had no way of telling how cold it was but the French settlers said they had never seen anything like it before. The cold continued for six weeks when the weather moderated and after two days it began to rain then the wind changed to the north again and the rain turned to a blinding sleet which continued for 12 hours and the sleet froze to ice and every tree and bush was loaded so with ice that nothing could live in the woods. The sleet lay on for about seven days. The French had a good many cattle and of course they took to the woods for shelter and like the children of Israel their carcasses fell in the wilderness. When the thaw came the Indians went into the timber and cut the flesh off the barrier of the dead cattle and dried it for food. Every bird died of starvation.

AMSTERDAM, April 21.—Negotiations with the Reformed church at Wieringen for the purchase of a local Presbytery, "as a permanent residence for the former crown prince of Germany," have been begun by the Wieringen correspondent of the Telegraaf.

Workmen Plan On Own Grocery Store

JUNCTION CITY, Kan., April 21.—A co-operative grocery store as an aid in fighting the high cost of living will be opened here shortly. It was announced today by representatives of the Union Pacific shop workers. Four-fifths of the store's capital stock of $50,000 is owned by shop workers, it is declared.

PREMIER RETURNS
PARIS, April 20.—Former Premier Clemenceau, who has been on a vacation trip in Egypt, arrived at Marseilles on his way home to Paris. He was welcomed at Marseilles by a committee of city officials.

The next time you have a sore throat be glad that you are not a giraffe.

Only two more states are needed to ratify the Federal Suffrage amendment that it may become effective. Special sessions of the legislatures are called for March 22 in Delaware and Washington.

Mere Wood Shavings Made This Hat Which Finds Favor In Exclusive Fifth Avenue

This beautiful "creation," direct from Paris, is made from wood shavings. The hats come in various shades and Fifth Avenue has taken kindly to them. It is expected that they will become popular in these days of high prices. An imaginative milliner predicts that beaver of pretty but ineffectual mounds will be hanging around buildings under construction in the hope of picking up enough shavings for that spring hat.

Buttons Is Lucky Cat

H. C. of L. Don't Worry Milk Is Long Suit

D. L. Badley, residing near Greenwood, about three miles from Oregon City, was here on business Wednesday, bringing some of the mole skins to the office of County Agent R. G. Scott.

Mr. Bradley and wife came to Clackamas county from Idaho about a year ago and are farming on a small scale, and are also engaged in the poultry industry at a later date. They have started with 80 small chicks, and are to raise the Barred Plymouth rocks.

Mr. Badley says he has a freak cat, which is a pet of the farm. This cat is an unusually wise fellow, for he has learned by accompanying Mr. Badley to the barn at milking time he will get a "hand out," never failing to be on hand when Mr. Badley goes to the barn for milking. When the streams of milk commence flowing into the big milk bucket, "Buttons," as this is the name given him by his master, will commence to "lick his chops," and know that feeding time has come. Then Mr. Badley will commence to "shoot" a spray into the cat's mouth, and the old fellow will stand on his hind legs with front feet dangling down, and lap the milk as fast as it comes.

The latest trick the cat has displayed is when accompanying Mr. Badley to the pasture where the cows are kept. He will follow along side for about a quarter of a mile and then return for "drinking" time.

MRS. PATERSON AND DAUGHTER LEAVE FOR TRIP TO SCOTLAND

Mrs. D. Peterson and daughter, Miss Jean, of Portland, the former a sister of Peter D. Forbes, of this city, both of whom have visited here on many occasions, passed through Oregon City Sunday morning on their way to their former home in Glasgow, Scotland, where they are to make a visit of several months, and are to be guests of Mrs. Paterson's sister and four brothers. This is the first time they have visited their old home in nine years, and the trip is being looked forward to with great pleasure. After visiting in Los Angeles, Calif., for a few days they will proceed East, and will spend a few days in Mass., where they are to visit Mrs. Syme, daughter of Mrs. Paterson, and formerly of Portland. After arriving in Europe they will visit many places of interest besides their old home. Among these will be Paris, France, the battle fields of France, Germany, and are to make the trip with friends and relatives.

After remaining two months in Scotland the return trip will be made and after arriving in the United States they will visit Mrs. Symes for about two or three months, and while en route from the East will stop at Salt Lake City, Utah, where they are to visit friends. Miss Paterson, who has traveled considerably is making an outline of the trip.

Before taking her departure for her year's vacation, Miss Paterson, who is employed as secretary and head stenographer for the American Can company of Portland, was presented with a handsome necklace of pearls with diamond settings, as a gift from the company and its employees. Miss Paterson will resume her position with the company after her return.

Mr. and Mrs. Forbes and daughters, Betty and May were at the depot to bid farewell to Mrs. Paterson and her daughter.

Yankees Rescued By French Troops

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 20.—The French embassy announced today a French column of troops has relieved Aintab, in Anatolia, where a number of American relief workers were imperiled. The Americans had sent word that the city was surrounded by Turks and their position was critical.

STRIKERS ARE PERSUADED TO REMAIN OFF JOB

CHICAGO, April 21.—Hope for a settlement today of the switchmen's strike in the Chicago district, center of the nation-wide walkout, went glimmering when a mass meeting of the strikers, called to hear pleas of the strike leaders that the men return to work, was broken up by one man—a tall, lanky individual who arose in the gathering and persuaded the strikers to disperse.

His shouts of "walkout, boys, and keep on striking," were taken up by other radicals in the crowd and soon the meeting, which began peacefully, was stamped.

John Grunau, chief of the strikers, was not present and his absence gave the radical leader his opportunity. Federal agents are on the trail of the latter.

NIPPON AUTHORITIES ASK DISARMAMENT OF CZECH TROOPS

HABIN, Manchuria, April 21.—Japanese authorities in Manchuria have demanded that all Czech troops in this country be disarmed. This decision is a result of the recent clash between Czech and Japanese troops at Hallar, a village near the Siberian frontier. Six trainloads of Czechs participated in the fighting, which resulted in twenty Japanese casualties. The fight began over possession of a number of Russian prisoners being held by the Japanese, and it is said Chinese soldiers aided the Czechs in their endeavor to liberate the Russians.

BAKER FIREMEN ASK FOR MORE PAY AND THREATEN TO QUIT

BAKER, April 21.—Unless the salaries of Baker's firemen are raised $20 May 1 the city will face the problem of replacing the entire force, according to an ultimatum submitted to the city commission Tuesday afternoon, and signed by every member of the local department excepting the chief. Three of the firemen receive now $165 a month, one receives $115. In their communication the petitioners say that they can no longer live within their salaries.

ROYALTIES ON GRAVEL FROM WILLAMETTE TO BOOST STATE FUNDS

SALEM, Ore., April 21.—Contracts were let by the state land board yesterday to five concerns, giving them the right to take sand and gravel from the Willamette river between the Oswego bridge and the Hawthorne avenue bridge in Portland, each firm to pay the state a royalty of 10 cents a cubic yard, with a minimum payment of 10,000 yards a year each.

This assures the state royalties of at least $5000 a year on the five contracts.

The firms that were awarded contracts are the Diamond O Navigation company, the Nickum & Kelly Sand & Gravel Co., the Columbia Digger company, the Columbia Contract company and the Star Sand company.
