WILSONVILLE OFFERS GOOD LOCATION FOR COMMISSION HOUSE

WILSONVILLE, June 12.—Wilsonville wants a commission house and wants it badly, and is willing to give an inducement within reason to secure the same. This locality offers one of the best little points in the valley for the handling of farmers' grain, potatoes and onions, and such an establishment could easily work into this further paying business with eggs, poultry and produce.

At the present time the farmers of the Wilsonville locality are forced to haul their grain, potatoes, etc., either to Sherwood, a distance of 6 to 12 miles, or to Canby, a similar distance, or else go into Portland with them, all of which is quite an expense when compared with what a saving could be

SLOWNESS OF COUNTY COURT IS CRITICIZED

ESTACADA, June 14.—The Clackamas county court was severely criticized by speakers at the meeting of the Clackamas County Development League here Saturday. Slowness in carrying out the program outlined for which a road bond issue was voted last spring was the basis of the attacks.

The league went on record asking the court to fulfill the program as originally put forward and demanded that the court employ a competent engineer and not interfere with the cost system, which the court has thrown out.

An adjourned meeting of the league, to be a mass meeting to which the members of the court and all taxpayers of the county are to be invited has been set for June 28 in Oregon City. The court will be asked to explain at this meeting its policy and the delay in the road program.

Mayor E. W. Bartlett, of Estacada, and Chris Schuebel, of Oregon City, chairman of the roads committee of

MACKSBURG WRITER IS BOOSTER FOR HOME ROSE FESTIVAL

MACKSBURG, June 11.—Another welcome rain, followed by genial sunshine, has put new elixir into vegetation.

The pasture has taken on a new lease of life. Grain has advanced visibly and everything in the gardens indicates decided progress toward the edible point.

Nothing shows the beneficent effect of rain and sunshine more strikingly than do the roses, which are more abundant and beautiful than ever before. Their profusion and loveliness have inspired the thought that there is no good reason why Macksburg might not have a Rose Festival as charming—though on a small scale—as the larger towns, and there is likely to be a decided effort for this next year.

The echoes of midnight Monday, June 7th, were awakened by the sound of a routing charivari following the home of Mrs. Fritone. Two of the club members, Mrs. John Hepler, president, and Mrs. B. Dreier, were absent on account of illness. Mrs. Hepler has three children ill with scarlet fever. Dr. Dedman, who is in attendance upon the children, pronounces their condition favorable to recovery, and as no new cases have appeared in the two weeks that have elapsed since the first little girl was taken sick in school, the fears of a spread of the disease have subsided.

Miss Anna Gibson is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Nettie Vogel, of Portland.

Anton Froebel has almost recovered from a severe injury sustained while clearing land on his ranch.

TOM THUMB WEDDING BRIDE IS UNWILLING; SUBSTITUTE IS FOUND

ESTACADA, June 10.—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Saling had as their house guests last Sunday Mrs. Saling's brother, Charles Bartholomew and family and Miss Hurl Jarmon, all of Echo, Oregon.

Estacada has hardly recovered from the excitement of the big fire last Saturday morning, when the Cascade garage, owned by Wilcox Bros., was gutted by fire. The loss has been estimated at $40,000 which included seventeen automobiles and all the machinery and fixtures, which were of the best, and the large building.

Wilcox Bros. lost four cars and the balance were machines in storage. Only three of the machines were insured. Ed Douglass, D. H. Morgan and it. G. Marchbank's. It has not been decided yet whether the building, which was owned by Dr. Adix of Gresham, will be rebuilt or not.

The Tom Thumb wedding at the school house auditorium Tuesday night, given by the little folks of the town, proved to be a very interesting affair. There was a good attendance and the audience fully appreciated the efforts of the little folks. When at the close Photographer Bomer tried to get a flashlight picture, there was considerable delay, as the bride wept and refused to be comforted. Another little girl was put in her place, but she, too, became an unwilling bride and a third little girl was substituted before the picture could be taken. It was all very amusing and perhaps more so as this procedure was not on the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Prater are visiting at the home of the former's parents and sister, Mrs. T. B. Edwards, this week. Mrs. Prater was formerly Miss Nida Jenkins, of Sherwood, they were married at St. Johns by Rev. Jones of the Christian church at that place Sunday after which they spent a few days in Astoria after a brief visit here Mr. and Mrs. Prater will make their home in St. Johns.

It is believed that a commission house here would come more nearly to solving the problem for Wilsonville than any other one thing. It would bring more farmers into town, who would naturally do their trading here and would also be more interested in the upbuilding of the town. This business men have taken the matter in hand, and are willing to meet a responsible party more than half way with a view to the erection of a suitable building on the right of way of the Oregon Electric.

Washington at Tuskegee was read and promptly responded to by every member present. It is the plan of the club to have a box in readiness before their next meeting, which is to be on June 17th, at the

EMBARGO ON COAL IS BEING CONSIDERED TO RELIEVE SHORTAGE

WASHINGTON, June 16.—An embargo on coal exports as a means of relieving serious fuel shortages in various sections of the country, notably in New England was taken up for consideration today by several departments of the government.

Reports from New England received in the past few days by the interstate commerce commission have told of a coal shortage so serious that in some municipalities only two days' supply is on hand, Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, has made repeated requests for relief to the commission.

Other sections of the country are said to be facing similar problems although relief has been effected by the state commerce commission.
