Faker Uses Church To Promote Graft

A few days ago a man giving his name as Smith, representing himself as an employee of the Grand Advertising Agency, appeared in this city, and called at the home of Mrs. B. A. Hoag, of Meldrum Station, saying he contemplated carrying out an advertising scheme, when paper shopping bags were to be gotten out, and these to bear advertisements of the various business houses of the city, and desired the members of the Methodist church to sell the baskets and receive the proceeds for the church from their commission.

Mrs. Hoag believing that the man had been sent to her by the pastor of the church, Rev. Wire, and knowing the excellent reputation of the Grand Advertising company, and being acquainted with Frank Grandin, formerly of Battle Creek, Michigan, immediately took up the matter, and signed her name to a letter authorizing Smith and his wife to secure the advertising in the name of the Methodist church.

A number of the merchants desiring to help the church in the matter, gave their advertising to be placed on the paper handbags. Later Mrs. Smith, as she called herself, visited the Hoag home, and informed Mrs. Hoag that several of the merchants objected after they had paid the money. At this the woman was told to call on those who objected and to return the money. Several of the merchants were given back their money, while a number are out, and the man and woman giving their name as Smith are now among the missing, and are now probably working some other town in the same manner.

Rev. Wire was not aware what had been done by the man and woman, until advised later.

CHICAGO NURSE LOSES SUIT OVER MAIL COURTSHIP

Ilean Koch, the Chicago nurse who came to Oregon to take unto herself a husband, and who backed out when she met the groom-to-be and sued him for $1300, lost her case Wednesday by a decision in the circuit court. After a short deliberation the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.

The man Ilean was to marry is Stanley Boginski, of Willamette. When she arrived here and met him she changed her mind, alleging that he was not what he represented himself to be. She claimed he sent her a photograph of another man and said it was his. She further claimed that the letters he sent her were written by another and that he was unable to speak the English language.

Miss Koch sued for $1900, which she alleged she lost by giving up her work in Chicago, and also asked for expenses back to her home.

All of this evidence was placed before the jury and they decided that the photograph was that of Boginski, who admitted that his landlady, Mrs. Zielski, had written the letters at his dictation.

Boginski had sent Miss Koch money to come to Oregon and she admitted that she did not like the country and thought he should pay her fare back home. In one of the letters of plaintiff to defendant it was brought out that she secured his name and address from a patient and had written the first letter. Boginski answered this and stated that he would like to correspond with her with the object of matrimony. Pictures were exchanged and Boginski told Miss Koch what a beautiful country this was and she expressed a desire to come to Oregon.

Within a short time after arriving here Miss Koch filed the suit and has made her home here since that time. She was represented by Attorney Jos. E. Hedge, and Brownell & Stevers appeared for the defendant.

STEEL MEN ARE URGED TO PREPARE FOR STRIKE

MONTREAL, June 16.—The American Federation of Labor in convention here today authorized the continuation of its organization campaign in the iron and steel industry.

The executive council has instructed to call a conference of the international unions concerned in this work, to procure their "full co-operation" in the campaign.

The recent steel strike was declared a "wonderful success" by Joseph D. Cannon of New York, member of the national committee of iron and steel workers, in an address to the delegates. He appealed to the federation to aid the 300,000 organized steel workers to prepare for a "new strike."

The federation condemned the practice of strike-breakers or strike guards, in control of private individuals or agencies, wearing the uniform of the United States army or navy.

"The uniform of this great nation of free men," added the report, which was adopted, "should be everywhere a badge and symbol of human rights and liberties to which the American Federation of Labor is traditionally devoted, and should never be permitted to become the insignia of tyranny or repression, as embodied in the practices here complained of."

MACKSBURG GIRL PASSES AWAY SUNDAY FROM SCARLET FEVER

MACKSBURG, June 17.—On Sunday June 13, our community was saddened by the death of little Bessie Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. John Hooper's youngest child. The three youngest of the Hooper children had been suffering from scarlet fever and were thought to be recovering when Bessie's symptoms took an unfavorable turn.

She grew steadily worse till on Sunday night death came to her relief. So much was at the Aurora cemetery. So much pains has been taken by Mr. Hooper's family to avert a spread of the disease we are all indulging the hope that no new case may appear. We wish through this paper to convey heartfelt sympathy with the afflicted family in their trouble.

Mrs. Henry Helguson has been seriously ill with pneumonia but is on the way to recovery now.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Berkholder, whose recent marriage was mentioned in the Enterprise, have gone to live in Portland. Both these young people are well known in this vicinity. Mr. Berkholder is a returned soldier. All are wishing them happiness and prosperity and are also hoping to have them again for neighbors as they own a ranch here and the parents of both are residents of this place.

The Mothers' Club is to meet in the present week at the home of Mrs. Fritone to work for a Southern School after the pattern of the Booker T. Washington School at Tuscoog.

One must read of the oppressive heat in other places to fully appreciate a climate where the sun's rays though bright enough in the middle of the day to bring forward vegetation at a magic pace ripen the fruit with a rapidity that calls for the housewife's utmost speed to prevent its waste and keeps the brow of the outdoor worker like that of Longfellow's Village Blacksmith, but loses its fervid heat as night draws on making both the evening meal and the blazing open fire luxurious that largely compensate for the day's fatigue.

With the cooling breeze from the Pacific 100 miles west and the snow-clad mountains no further east of us it is hard to make it real that the city of the great convention can be so hot that before the first three days of liberation were ended more than a score of fainting delegates had been carried out of the Coliseum to recuperate in the open air.

Well for us it is that we have not such heat to endure. Hard enough as it is the ranches find the work of getting his new ground ready for seed before the flying days shall have brought him to the point where it is too late. After a winter of toilsome clearing and an outlay for powder fully up to his means the farmer starts out to plow.

Very easy it looks to the unpracticed eye viewing the team fresh from its Sunday rest. Pleasant it is to note with what ease the plough shares glide through the newly blow-up soil. The horses seeming to enjoy the work till brought to a sudden halt by some treacherous root the powder missed. The sudden strain when many times repeated threatens to lame the animals hopelessly and they must be turned out to rest before half the days work is done.
