Lessons In Road Buildir

There is only one thing the matter with or graveled road and that is its tendency to go in a comparatively short time. While this is a peculiarity of the road there is no excuse for permitting a smooth highway to disintegrate in two or three years, for unless such a road is watched and repaired at frequent intervals the money it cost is thrown away. Tillamook county provides a definite illustration of road maintenance. In that county there are several hundred miles of macadam road. The traffic, especially in the summer months, is heavy, and the highways suffer, but the county authorities are alive to the necessities of the situation and have adopted methods to prevent the roads from becoming a nightmare to motorists and an eyesore to the taxpayers.

Wise expenditure has been exercised in the purchase of suitable road machinery. The county, not nearly so wealthy as Clackamas, is amply provided with caterpillar tractors, scarifying machinery, graders, ditchers and rollers. These machines are protected against inclement weather by being housed in small sheds in the several road districts, but in the spring and summer months, and even in the fall, the machinery is out on the roads, saving the money and temper of the people who pay the bills.

Whenever a road commences to show signs of going to pieces in Tillamook county, a crew is sent out, a scarifier tears up the surface to a depth of about four inches, the grader follows along and smooths the highway, the ditcher takes care of the drainage and finally the roller packs the surface down and the county has a new road, without the cost of a dollar for new material, and at an expense of the wages of a few men, plus the investment in the machines. As a result thousands of people tour into and through that county, spending their money for the necessaries of life, leaving in Tillamook county millions of dollars annually,

The tourist crop has become to Tillamook county a greater asset than the dairy industry, for which the county is famous. The residents are alive to their opportunities and the county court is responsive. Why don't we take a leaf from the Tillamook road book?
