ELK PRAIRIE CITIZENS OFFER AID TO COURT FOR ROAD BUILDING

ELK PRAIRIE, Aug. 10.—Nearly forty people gathered at the Fruey Hall Saturday evening under the auspices of the Elk Prairie Community Club. The particular business of the evening was mainly about roads. The whole argument of the evening being for roads of good—better—best variety none other will satisfy the people who are developing this vicinity which is the gate way to the big timber. Mr. Hollingsworth of the committee on good roads for this vicinity reported that the county court had offered to buy forty thousand feet of lumber and nails if the people would do the work free of charge to the county. When the call for teams and workers was presented, Willis Badger, the youngest member of the society, had the honor to be the first to offer his services to do team work, in rapid succession came the offers of Joplin, Caruthers, Thomas Albert and Allan Battles, Hollingsworth, Grays, Badger, Tidd, Fletcher, Gault, Nisider, Mazing, Snider.

Duck Madson offered to join with our people in road making as he enjoys the community meetings at this place.

Mr. Swoke of Swoke's sawmill offered the free use of his team if Ed Caruthers would donate his time as driver the offer was taken up by Mr. Caruthers.

Mr. Hollingsworth not only offered his own services but the labor of three relatives who are on their way from California to their claims in this vicinity. These people are as yet unaware of the labor in store for them, because of the county inability to spend funds to cover the whole expense. These new comers and their families are from Anaheim, California, a part of California which is noted for roads to suit the fancy of Southern California richest people.

The party will be guests of Mr. Hollingsworth until the raising of their own houses.

Mrs. Caruthers whose husband has been improving his claim for several months past will be with the party.

Allan Battles who is here as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Battles was as prompt in offering his services as those who have so freely in the years gone by as Gaults, Grays and C. K. Thomas who are again pledged to the limit.

Mr. and Mrs. Snider have been doing advance work on the road which helps to connect the Molalla-Scotts Mills roads via the Elk Prairie Trail Road.

James Neely brought before the meeting the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Neely and Mrs. Dora Badger and son Willis Badger had the brush slashed from the Elk Prairie Trail Road from Frank Hilton's place, formerly the Kirk place, through the Neely homestead and also through the property of the man who recently bought half of the Walter LeRoy place. The new owner sent word that the people were welcome to place all the roads on his place, and where they wished.

Walter LeRoy who is also interested in the new road is in the neighborhood to aid the cause.

Promptly the services of the ones who had already offered their services for the other portion of the road were offered for this section, men, women and children will eagerly carry the work along.

The time so offered is by no means spare time, for every person has building, clearing, fencing, and provisions for the winters provisions is swamping them with work already. Those who have been in the hills longer are busy with their harvest, and are at the same time proving the value of the land here.

James Neely was appointed as road boss of the Elk Prairie Trail Road section of the circuit and will notify workers as he needs them. Some must accomplish their tasks before the first of September as at that time the will have other plans for their time.

Frank Hilton has said that he would like to take the cream route through this section. Mr. Hilton worked at hauling cream in the valley for several years, and is ready to donate his own work and that of teams to make the new road acceptable to the county. Immediately upon the completion of the circuit the patrons of this vicinity expect to have a mail route.

A. I. Broucher of Scotts Mills who has long been interested in the improvement of this section, has shown his interest in this section in a substantial manner by donating powder to blow the stumps from the right of way.

James Neely will do the powder work as he has had experience in that line of work.

Frank Hilton the proud parent of a son. Mrs. Hilton and daughters are visiting her old home at Needy.

Perhaps one of the records of this section was made by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gault when Mr. Gault filed, a large barn was built of logs and shakes, a house built, hay done and no one knows how much more was accomplished in one month's time—the assistance of Mrs. Gault's father, Mother, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Gray and sons who are experienced in this.

Wilsonville Ball Team Loses Game

WILSONVILLE, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Flynn, the popular saleslady of H. D. Aden's store, returned to her work on Monday after a week's vacation at the beach at Rockaway, where she went with relatives.

Residents of this vicinity are glad to know that blackberries will be taken at H. D. Aden's store.

Gardens and Grain Thriving at Stafford

STAFFORD, Aug. 10.—The grain harvest is over, and grain ready to haul, with the promise of a good yield and fair price. The most of the fields of clover seed are looking fine and just in bloom. The rain of July white fine for the corn, potatoes and gardens was disastrous for cherries, causing them to rot within a few hours.

Mrs. Elligson and Mrs. Nussbam returned from the Camp meeting at Woodburn last week where they met many pleasant people.

Carl Eisler, Susie Schatz's husband who underwent an operation for appendicitis recently, is helping the Schatz boys through harvest.

A large amount of hay was injured and some spoiled by rain in July.

The Ladies' Circle meets with Mrs. Nemle th third Thursday in this month. A full attendance is requested as a number of new members are to be initiated.

Mr. Nussbam added by his son, Homer, is making repairs upon his auto and preparing to pain it anew.

BIG FRUIT CROP AT MACKSBURG INDICATED BY IDEAL WEATHER

MACKSBURG, Aug. 11.—A few hours of eastern sultriness came on Sunday making us appreciate the refreshing Pacific breeze that, so rarely, withholds from us its charm. Not long—however—did its oppressive presence remain before the sun's decline, the wind sprang up with a strong intensity in the wings and—as usual—the evening was bracing and cool. One alloy, though came with the temperature's sudden change. Low rumblings of thunder were to be heard floating on the breeze bringing with them grave apprehensions for the outstanding shocks of grain and hay, but Monday dawned without the dreaded rain and the ranchers were early afield with their hay-trucks, so that before evening fill only stubble was to be seen in the fields and now-glad will be the sound of splashing rain, once again making travel by auto and other pleasure vehicles one of the summer joys.

The threshers now come to our ears from one and another of the ranches and everywhere the report is that the gain is turning out well.

The early apples seem trying to make up in abundance and quality for the loss of later ones brought on by the winter's cold. Most of us can only obtain from a distance the apples so welcome in Wintry days. For table use, however, we need not be at a loss, as they can be kept in use through all the days, while early fruit is in its prime and experience has shown that with less of the costly product of beet and cane can dried fruit be made delicious than can fresh.

The long hours of sunshine are daily bringing a deeper crimson and purple to the prune and the plum while the pear trees are bending under a load that promises to be plentier, larger and sweeter than ever before.

The evergreen blackberry which never fails in abundance is gradually exchanging its hue of crimson first and then for the black that makes its ripeness known.

It is difficult to imagine the vineyards of California, of Italy and of Spain, produce a more beautiful vine than that of this humble fruit climbing—as it does—to an incredible height its foliage of dark green enlivened by its wealth of red or glistening black.

Now that the blackberry has taken on a commercial value by producing a substitute for alcohol, its growth is encouraged on ranches where formerly it found but little appreciation, owing partly to its being temperamental with an over supply of other fruit and partly to its inexorable thorns.

Miss Avis Buchanan, a sister and Miss Esther Gardner, a niece, of Mrs. A. A. Baldwin, who have been spending a week on the Baldwin ranch, returned in their auto on Sunday to their home in Portland.

The Misses Rachel and Pearl Miller have returned to Portland after a week's visit with their father and mother on the home ranch.

The Mothers' Club is to hold its next regular session on Thursday of this week at the home of Mrs. John Heinz.

The young people who have been loganberry-picking have returned, seeming gratified with their gains.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoffmeister and children were Estacada visitors on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell and son of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Newton of Portland visited Mr. and Mrs. Bray Sunday.

William Sprague of Portland is at the home of his daughter Mrs. Geo. Clossner, helping in harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Merrett and three daughters and "Grandma" Jones of Portland visited Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Stewart over Sunday. Seven years ago the same crowd camped together but had lost trace of one another and during the time Grandma had her hip broken and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart thought she had died. It was a pleasant surprise to all when they drove into the Stewart yard. Although Grandma was 76 years old and had to go on crutches she walked around the ranch to see the cattle and out on the lawn to have the pictures taken. Mrs. Stewart gave each lady present a picture taken of the same crowd seven years before.

Mrs. Frank Sprague has returned from Centralia where she has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Fred Wilcox and new grandson.

Mrs. B. H. Stewart and daughters Dortha and Anna Margaret attended a surprise farewell party on Mr. and Mrs. Connaught at Maple Lane Wednesday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Connaught are leaving soon for Los Angeles and the ladies Improvement Club met at the home of Mrs. Monroeder and then, loaded down with all sort of good eats, started for the home of Mrs. Connaught where they spent the afternoon in dancing and a general good time.

Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Connaught on the violin, by Mrs. John Parker, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Taylor on the piano. Mrs. Taylor called for the dances and if some of the young folks could have seen their mothers they would have known a number of new dances before evening.

Those present were: Mrs. August Spitzer, Mrs. Frank Schmidt and little son Edward, Mr. and Mrs. Connaught, Mrs. Frazier and three little children, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Foster and baby, Mrs. Bumery and sister-in-law Grace Kumery, Mrs. Anna Lewis and granddaughter Florence Lewis and grand grandson, Mrs. B. H. Stewart and daughters, Dortha and Anna Margaret, Mrs. Erna Lewis and son, Asa, Mrs. Shields, Mrs. Geo. Brown, Mrs. Monroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Loeffler, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. John Parker, Mrs. Migharis.

RANGER'S ADVENTURE.

Milt Williams, a forest ranger had a thrilling experience the other day. He had been to Table Rock making observations, looking for evidence of existing fires and was on his way to High Camp, through the timber when he was started by a very large cougar springing at him. He was armed only with an axe which he swung at the animal at the same time letting out a yell befitting the occasion. It was evident that the cougar which will attack man only under extraordinary circumstances had heard him coming through the woods and had stalked at him thinking it was a deer or other game. When the man was seen the beast was evidently surprised and struck the ground on the run to get away.

Mr. Williams has been in the habit of carrying a heavy Smith-Wesson revolver with him but has recently discarded it because it was too heavy. He is now carrying it and it does not seem so heavy as before.

LOCAL LEGION BOYS ATTEND CONVENTION

Walford Johnson, Ben Chindgren, Tom Reynolds, Ross Sawtell, and Arthur Farr attended the state convention of the American Legion held at Astoria last week. They report an exceptionally fine time and the best of hospitality. Arthur Farr was the official delegate from this section.

Molalla's water system is proving inadequate. The demand increases and the supply is not sufficient to afford fire protection, and give enough water for the daily use. The city council has appointed a committee to investigate the Sawtell springs as a source of supply. The deep well proved too expensive on account of the heavy lift. Springs were piped into a reservoir at considerable cost and from there the water was lifted to the tank with an electrically driven motor, yet the supply is insufficient and cost too great.

We fear a repetition of the experimenting along this line which may prove expensive and unsatisfactory. There is an abundant supply of water which could be piped into the town and gravity would furnish the power. This would cost considerable but would be cheaper than to use power for pumping. The expense of gas or electricity and upkeep of machinery together with care taker would pay the interest on sufficient sum to put in a honest-goodness water system. Water should be in sufficient quantities to enable everyone to water their gardens and lawns. Three years of a water supply of this kind would transform our little city into a paradise of beauty. It would add much to the assessed value in time because of the beauty which would be developed.
