

LOCALS AND PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stuart, accompanied by Mrs. Boginski, of Linn's Old Mill, were in this city on business Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart and family, who have resided in the Linn's Old Mill section for about five years, have leased the George Gill farm consisting of 66 acres located at Redland, and will take possession within a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Noe and Mr. and Mrs. Forshner went to Woodburn Saturday evening, where Mr. Noe and Mr. Forshner attended a meeting of the I. O. O. F. lodge. Mrs. Noe and Mrs. Forshner visited at the home of Mrs. Noe's relatives, returning here at the close of the I. O. O. F. meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weller, who have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gregory about four miles from this city, will leave for their future home in San Francisco this morning. They will be accompanied on the trip by little Virginia Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gregory, of San Francisco, who has been spending the summer with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gregory, and with relatives in Portland, including her aunts, the Misses Emma and Kathryn Shriver. Mrs. Weller, who was formerly Mrs. Pay Argo, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was married to Mr. Weller in Portland September 24. She is a sister of Mrs. Gregory. Mr. Weller is also a former resident of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Ellen R. Eads and Mrs. William Gardner were guests of Mrs. Frank Wait, of Portland, Tuesday evening, and also visited the Portland Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, where a reception was held for Mrs. Bona Graydon, grand warden, and Mrs. Wesley Parker, worthy grand patron. Another visitor was the worthy grand matron. There were about 250 in attendance, and a musical program was given as well as a number of readings. Refreshments were served.

Joseph Amrhein, formerly connected with the Oregon City Enterprise a number of years ago during the time when the late Charles Meserve was publisher, was in Oregon City on business Saturday and visiting among some of his old time friends. Mr. Amrhein is proprietor of the Swiss Press of Tacoma, Wash. Since leaving here he has engaged in farming on a small scale in connection with his printing business.

Prune Crops Hurt By Heavy Rains

The continued fall rains have done great damage to the Oregon prune crop. Allowing for exaggerations in reports, which are usual when a crop is in danger or injured, prune men nevertheless believe that this year's crop has been cut down one-half. If this is true it will mean a loss of about $5,000,000 to the prune growers of Oregon.

There were prospects in the spring of a crop of 80,000,000 pounds of dried prunes in the state. The estimate was cut down to 60,000,000 pounds when the June drop came and now the rain damage has reduced the crop probably to 30,000,000 pounds.

The situation may not be as bad as that, however, according to some prune authorities, who say that things always look worse when it is raining, yet they do not have hopes of much more than half a crop being saved.

Canby Woman Says Husband Is Cruel

Birdie Zollen and Frank Zollen were married at Canby January 15, 1900, and in a divorce suit filed here Saturday she alleges cruel and inhuman treatment.

According to the complaint Zollen called his wife vile names and refused to provide money for medical treatment. She also alleges that he compelled her to do hard work when she was physically unable to do so. Mrs. Zollen claims that when she went to Newberg September 1 to work and earn money for medical treatment her husband rented the house in Canby and that when she returned September 20 she was refused admittance to the house. She says that Zollen refused to let her have any of the household goods except the piano.

She asks for $1000, $25 per month and $250 attorney fees.

MARY HARGES PASSES.

Mary E. Harges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harges, died at the family home Saturday evening, September 25, from complications arising from influenza suffered some ago.

The deceased was born December 25, 1899, and has resided on Oregon City, Route 1 for some time.

The funeral services are to be held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, and the remains taken to the Rose City cemetery, Portland for interment.

LICENSE TO WED.

SUES ON NOTES.

G. A. Johnson filed suit Saturday against George O. and Pearl Clouse, Mat Park and F. Dubois to collect on two notes for $100 each alleged to be due.

According to the complaint the notes were given by the Clouses to Park on August 20, 1919, to run for one year, and were transferred to the plaintiff and when due payment was refused.

He asks a settlement and costs of the case.

IMPROVES CEMETERY.

The I. O. O. F. Lodge is giving attention to the last resting spot of the members and their families in Mountain View cemetery and the grass has recently been cut and other improvements made in beautifying that section of the cemetery.

The order has a board of trustees whose duty is to look after such work, and is composed of E. W. Scott, who has been on the board for the past 25 years; James Shannon, and J. L. Waldron.

WILLIAM WILLIAMS DIES.

William Williams, former resident of Beaver Creek, died at Salem September 27, after a brief illness, and the remains have been brought to Oregon City, and removed to the man & Pace. He was 73 years of age.

Society

One of the most enjoyable events held in Oregon City last week was the birthday anniversary of Mr. Gallinger and his son, Edward, given at the Gallinger apartments on Seventh street last Saturday evening. The rooms were prettily decorated with cut flowers for the occasion and among the features was the delicious repeat prepared and served by Mrs. Gallinger. Two birthday cakes ornamented with the number of candles denoting the birthdays celebrated by Mr. Gallinger and his son adorned the table. Ferns were also used among the decorations of the dining room.

A number of useful gifts were received by the hosts.

Places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Gallinger, Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Scott and daughter, Jean, Mr. and Mrs. E. VanAuker, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Leile Wells and daughter, Jean, Mrs. K. McNamara, Mrs. A. Nelson, Miss Anna McLarty and Charles Richardson.

Musical selections were rendered during the evening, and a most delightful time was had by those in attendance.

Miss Lucile Evans, formerly of Oregon City, and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans, was married in marriage Saturday at the Mallory hotel, Portland, to Urban F. Dittman, Jr., of that city.

The bride has been an honored guest at a number of social functions in Portland recently, the last to be given at the Waverly Country Club Wednesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jackson were host and hostess, which was in the form of a dancing party.

A miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Miss Ethel Younger at 605 Center street Monday evening complimenting Miss Isa Keen, whose marriage to Waldo Silvers, of this city, will take place the latter part of this month.

Miss Younger was assisted in entertaining by her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Surfus.

The room was very attractive with their decorations of white asters and roses that were artistically arranged. In the contests that were enjoyed during the evening the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Dallas Armstrong and Mrs. Albert Roake.

Delicious refreshments were served during the evening. The invitation list included Mrs. Neal Sullivan, Mrs. Dallas Armstrong, Mrs. William Folger, Mrs. Albert Roake, Mrs. John C. Busch, Miss Eva McNulty, Miss Martha Locke, Miss Helen Lucas, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Margaret Beattie, Miss Lillian Harris, Miss Alice Holman, Miss Lena McMillan, Miss Lora Deeth, Miss Emma Keen, Miss Bunny Ownbey, Miss Marie Vonderhage, Miss Isa Keen and Mrs. A. W. Silvers, of Vancouver, Wash.

St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, when Miss Norma Holman, second daughter of Roswell L. Holman, of this city, became the bride of Dr. Olaf Herman Christofferson, of Seattle. The impressive ring ceremony of the Episcopal church was read by Rev. C. H. L. Chandler, rector in the presence of about 100 friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

Previous to the ceremony Professor William Wilder, uncle of the bridegroom, rendered several appropriate selections on the organ, and the Lohengrin's Wedding March was given as the bridal party entered the church.

As the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, R. L. Holman, and preceded by the bride's maid, Miss Alice Holman, passed up the aisle, they were met beneath a canopy of autumn leaves by the bridegroom, his brother, William Christofferson, who acted as best man. During the ceremony Professor Rogers rendered selections and at the conclusion Mendelssohn's Wedding March was rendered as the happy couple passed down the aisle and later to the Holman home, where the relatives and several close friends of the bride, assembled where refreshments were served.

Kent Wilson and Joseph Hedges acted as ushers.

The bride was becoming in a handsome gown of ivory colored crepe meteor satin. Her long tulle veil, with headcap of real lace, was held in place with a tiny wreath of orange blossoms and her shower bouquet was of Bride's roses, with a shower of Cecil Brunner roses.

Miss Alice Holman, bride's maid, was pretty in her gown of cornflower blue crepe with picture hat to match. She carried delicately shaded blue delphiniums and tiny gladiolas.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, when variegated autumn leaves were used most effectively throughout, and the electrolights were festooned with these leaves. Baskets filled with the bright colored leaves added to the decorative scheme as also the rose colored gladiolas that were arranged in silver vases on the altar.

The reception hall and living room of the Holman home were in yellow and green, and the color scheme for the dining room was pink and green.

Among those attending the reception at the house were Mrs. Christofferson, mother of the bridegroom, of Seattle, and daughter, Miss Anne, also sons, William and Raymond Christofferson, of Seattle; Judge George H. Bennett, of Salem; Mrs. Ella Turner, of McMinville; Professor William Wilder, of Portland; Miss Anna Holmes, of Seattle; Miss Kathryn Burnside of Portland, former schoolmates and sorority friends of the bride.

The bride is one of the well known and popular girls of Oregon City. She attended the Oregon City high school and graduating from the institution later taking a course and completing her studies at the University of Washington in 1918, where the romance commenced resulting in the marriage to Dr. Christofferson. She is an accomplished young woman, and following her graduation from the University of Washington, she accepted a position with the Seattle library, resigning recently. She is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

The bridegroom is a prominent physician of Seattle, and during the war was in the service, being stationed overseas. He is one of the popular young men of Seattle, and a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity.

The marriage of Miss Rose Uptegrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Uptegrove, of Portland, and Kent Moody, only son of Mrs. Sophia Moody, of this city, and of the late Harry S. Moody, will be an event of October 9, the marriage ceremony to be performed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Uptegrove, at 538 Everett street, Portland, Saturday evening, October 9th.

The bride-elect resided in Clackamas county, where her parents' home at Redland, and Miss Uptegrove attended the Oregon City high school, where she was a member of the Christian church.

"The pot luck" supper served by the members of the Willamette Rebekah Lodge Friday evening to the members and their families, the I. O. O. members and their families at the I. O. O. F. hall was one of the most enjoyable gatherings held by the order, and was largely attended.

A delicious repast was served and the tables were prettily decorated with cut flowers.

Miss Vera Kidwell, of Parkplace, and Raymond A. Doane, of Portland, were quietly married Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, September 20, at the parsonage of the Christian church with Rev. Griffiths, pastor, officiating in the presence of only immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The impressive ring ceremony was used.

The bride, who was becomingly gowned in a lark blue traveling suit, wore a large black picture hat.

Following the marriage ceremony a dinner was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Doane departed for the apartments in Portland, where they have taken up their residence.

The bride is a charming young woman and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Kidwell, of Parkplace, having resided there for the past year, and formerly of Brownsville. She has been employed in Portland, and her marriage to Mr. Doane is the culmination of a pretty romance, in that city which occurred soon after Mr. Doane returned to his home from the service.

Mr. Doane is a well known young man of Portland, and son of Mrs. Doane of that city. He was in the naval service, being on the U. S. S. Brooklyn, having traveled much while in the service. He was stationed for some time in Russia and Japan.

The Fraternal Brotherhood held one of its social meetings at the Moose hall Friday evening, and was largely attended. Dancing and serving refreshments were among the features of the evening. The Patterson orchestra of this city furnished the music for the dancing.

The members were given the privilege of bringing a friend, and it is probable that similar entertainments will be held during the fall and winter.

Refreshments consisting of salad, sandwiches, cake, coffee and cocoa were served free during the evening. There were a number of candidates taken into the order before the close of the meeting. Since the starting of the contest, there have been 35 new members taken into this order.

Sediment Traps Should Be Cleaned

Most present-day gasoline tanks are fitted with a sediment trap, which usually is located at the place where the pipe line leaves the tank. This trap has a wire gauze screen and a cup is provided to catch foreign matter.

The car owner should make it a practice to clean this sediment trap out twice a month during active operation. The present grade of motor fuel is not strictly pure and foreign matter rapidly accumulates in this catchall.

Fordson Tractors Make New Record

Word comes from Henry Ford's tractor plant near Detroit, that Fordson production figures are jumping monthly, and that nearly half of the tractors now being manufactured in this country are Fordsons.

When the motor-wizard began experimenting with tractors some twelve years ago, he is credited with having promised farmers a machine that would make farming "what it ought to be—the most pleasant and profitable profession in the world."

Deviating from the old tractor beliefs and manufacturing customs, he set about building a light, mobile tractor, —a tractor not especially for use on the big farms and ranches, but so constructed that it would handle the work on the smaller farms. The principles of manufacturing and selling which had brought the Ford car to success are now applied to the tractor. As a result nearly 150,000 Fordsons have gone into service; approximately one-third of the tractors in use in the United States are Fordsons —this, in spite of the fact that the Fordson has been on the market only a little over two years.

Plans are now under way to hold a district convention in this city, the date for the event to be Friday evening, October 22, when an entertainment, and "feed" will be among the features of the evening. A committee has been appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the event, and composed of the following:

Entertainment—E. W. Scott, chairman; S. S. Walker, Chris Schuebel, F. E. Albright and J. K. Morris.

Program—John Hadley, chairman; James Shannon, Mr. Stanley, William Crawford and E. O. DeMoss.

Proper Method To Change Truck Tire

In the application of cord truck tires the tires should be allowed to drop down evenly until the valve stem is pressed down sideways toward the end of the flap. The stem is held in that position, taking care that when the tire slips down the rest of the way the valve stem does not catch in the locking groove.

During this operation a valve cap should be put on the stem to protect the threads. The latter types of rims are made with valve stem slots to facilitate application of the tire.

Weakness of Valve Springs Troublesome

Weakening of the springs which close the valves is a common cause of faulty engine operation. When ever the valves are taken out the springs should be examined to see that they are all of the same length, or rather that all of the inlet are of the same length and all of the exhaust, as the exhaust springs will probably be a little longer than the others. If one spring is shorter than the others in its set it should be stretched or else a metal plate must be put under it to bring tension up to equality with its fellows.

Inner Tube Will Help Hold Patch

Most motorists have encountered the difficulty of keeping inner blow-out patches from creeping out of position in which they have been placed. When the patches move naturally they uncover the hole they were intended to protect and so become useless. By placing a piece of inner tube against the casing at the place where the blow has occurred, the patch will be held firmly in position. Incidentally the piece of tire will eventually become vulcanized to both casing and patch, making staunch repair.

Save Old Casings For Use In Summer

It is good practice to stow away old tires and use unbroken treads during seasons when heavy rains are likely. Water through capillary attraction soaks into the fabric and cords, sometimes causing chemical action, which loosens up the layers. Then, too, rubber cuts more easily when wet than when dry. Nothing is much more unpleasant than changing tires in the rain, and blowouts are certain with tires having broken treads, if they are in the rain.

Gasoline Brush Is Very Easily Made

Gasoline applied with a stiff brush is very useful for cleaning parts, as most owners have found. A gasoline automatic feeding brush can be made by drilling a number of holes in the back of an ordinary brush and soldering a small can to contain gasoline to the back. A hole is drilled in the side of the can to feed the gasoline to the bristles through the holes in the back.

CLEAR WINDSHIELD.

To keep the windshield clear in rainy weather, rub strong soapsuds from automobile soap over the glass and let the suds dry. This prevents formation of the drops that hinder clear vision in rain or mist.

ODD FELLOWS PLAN TO HOLD CONVENTION FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22

Lone Star I. O. O. F. Lodge of Clackamas will be visited by a large delegation from Oregon Lodge No. 3, I. O. O. F. of this city Wednesday, September 29.

About 20 members of the local order went to Milwaukee Monday evening, where a fraternal visit was made, and a social time followed. Riverview Lodge gave the Oregon City delegation a most cordial reception, and Mount Scott Lodge, of Lents, acted as hosts to the Oregon Lodge No. 3 last Tuesday evening, when about 35 from this city made the trip by automobile. Refreshments were served the members of the order.

Plans are now under way to hold a district convention in this city, the date for the event to be Friday evening, October 22, when an entertainment, and "feed" will be among the features of the evening. A committee has been appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the event, and composed of the following:

Entertainment—E. W. Scott, chairman; S. S. Walker, Chris Schuebel, F. E. Albright and J. K. Morris.

Program—John Hadley, chairman; James Shannon, Mr. Stanley, William Crawford and E. O. DeMoss.

Little Glen Hinman Is Buried Thursday

The funeral of Glen Hinman, two-year-old son of Walter Hinman, of the late Edith Hinman, who died at the family home at Lents Thursday evening after an illness of several months due to an attack of whooping cough and complications, were held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the funeral chapel at Lents, with Rev. Simmons, of Lents, officiating. Many friends of the family attended the services.

Following the funeral services, the remains were brought to Oregon City, where they were interred in the family lot in Mountain View cemetery, where the mother is buried, she having died March 19, 1919. A brief burial service was conducted at 4 o'clock in Mountain View cemetery.

The child is the youngest of five children. The remaining children are Wilmer, Walter, Gwendolyn and Burnell. He was the grandchild of W. S. Moak, of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Hinman, of Lents, and nephew of Mrs. Claude Rittenhouse, of this city; Phillip Moak, of Portland, and Mrs. Ben Hoover, of North Powder, and of the late Newton Moak, the young man, whose body is on its way to Oregon City from France, having died from injuries received in battle.

H. C. Green Passes Saturday Afternoon

H. C. Green, of West Linn, died Saturday afternoon at his home, after an illness of several months.

Mr. Green has resided in Clackamas county most of his life, and is the son of pioneers of Clackamas county.

The deceased is survived by his wife, of West Linn, and the following children: Herbert, Green, of Seattle, Wash.; Everett and Gwiliam Green, of West Linn; Mrs. Geneva Green, of Scotts Mill; Miss Gladys Green, a nurse of Portland. He also leaves a sister and brother, Mrs. Eva May and John Green, of this city.

Plans Are Made To Fight Chamberlain

MEDFORD, Or., Sept. 24.—Plans for a vigorous campaign in this county against Senator Chamberlain were made at a meeting of republicans here Wednesday, attended by Representatives McArthur and Hawley. Both urged the necessity of sending R. N. Stanfield to the senate as well as a strenuous campaign for the election of the entire ticket.

Mr. McArthur will return from Crater Lake and Klamath Falls on Friday noon and will take the night train for Portland. Mr. Hawley went to Ashland in the afternoon and later will go to Eugene.
