

SANDY

The Methodist church on Sunday evening which was a pleasant and a helpful way to spend a rainy evening. The congregational singing was much better than the week before, as practically everyone in the house sang. Good congregational singing is a great asset in any community and an effort will be made to make that a feature of every service. Mrs. Eason opened the service with a voluntary. The program included recitations by Ruth Eason, song by Marguerite, Mildred and Ruth Barnett, Jonnie Shelley and Ruth Eason, the stormy weather keeping several away that practiced. There were duets by Mrs. Miller and Dr. Sture, and Mrs. Eason, Robert Smith and Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Eason composing the choir. Josephine Dixon played for the children to sing. Little Ruth Barnett sang a song. Many expressed their appreciation of this evening of song. Next Sunday night's program will be good Mrs. Katie Smith has promised to sing a solo and Mrs. Nanche Shelley will read.

Friedel Wenche was in town this week and said his brother Max is in Portland taking treatments as he has not been so well of late.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Dunn drove over on Friday to enjoy the home fires of their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dunn, remaining until Sunday evening.

Speaking of weather Mac Thomas said the other day that he had not seen so much rain for early fall since '83. Geo. Flynn who has also been in Oregon a long time says he have had so much less rain for a number of years that we are forgetting how Oregon used to behave, however he did not dispute that September ought to be ashamed to cause so much discomfort this season, five inches above normal rainfall gives some excuse for discussion.

But, the sun woke up thirsty on Tuesday morning and began drinking up the puddles lying in the streets, drying off the grass and gave the women a chance to get the washing on the line. Cars began to fill with more confidence, and hope that winter had not actually come filled the heart again!

Wilfred Elliott missed over a week's hauling because of certain mug holes his truck refused to pass through. Clyde McCully also had to stop hauling for a time, so he and Mrs. McCully went down the line for a few days visiting with relatives.

Portland has the best of us in early spring gardens, but the frost gets on the pumpkin sooner down there. In the fall, autumn leaves were whirling along her streets, all seared and yellow last week while our trees still have their summer green; our gardens are fresher, too.

Last week Rev. Dobbert of the Lutheran church canvassed the town for churches, people and a number promised to attend the English service at that church, which is held, on every first Monday in each month at 10:30 A. M. Yesterday Mr. Dobbert preached on Matthew 25, Chapter verses 34 to 46 his topic the two important questions: First, "Which is the great commandment and the law?" second, "What think ye of Christ, whose Son is he?" In the afternoon the Ladies Aid Society met in the school house to talk over the general interests of the church and help plan ways and means to assist the voting members of the church held their regular quarterly meeting in the church and the following members, being over twenty one years of age, were added to the voting members of the church: Casper Junker, Henry Herman and Albert Schwartz. Plans were taken over concerning the needs of addition to the parsonage but no definite decision was made as to when work on the same would begin.

Farm news is rather scarce this week as little but just "chores" has been on the docket because of not being able to secure a weather permit! However Will Bell sowed ten acres of grain on the two good days we had, last week. He also sold off his stock of young pigs, heads and all!

J. G. DeShazer's fruit drier took fire the other day, when it was filled with dried fruit but only the inside plates were burned the building was saved.

When the weather permits Matt Zogg is hauling hay and straw he purchased from L. J. Phipps on the bluff road.

Mr. Strong was in town Monday looking for help as the Strong's are canning mushrooms, having already put up one hundred cans. They want to put up more if help can be secured. It is appalling the things that go to waste around here. If we all had the proper foresight we would have a commercial cannery on a small scale. When our logging is done—which will not be a great many years, what then? What will give employment out here beside farming and stock raising then? The community that has foresight is the one that remains prosperous.

W. P. Roberts, Dover farmer was in town on Monday, also Charley Harris of Cherryville who has lived up there on his homestead for over thirty years. Harris wants to sell off his belongings now and settle down in Sandy and play marbles!

Mrs. Dittert was glad to get back home from the hospital last week after several week's absence. She is convalescing rapidly.

The J. B. Heddy's of Boring have been selling off their belongings preparatory to going back to Chicago where Mr. Heddy will have employment for the winter, but they expect to return to Boring in the spring. Mrs. Heddy's home folks live in Chicago.

The Boring Old Fellows had a generally fine time at their supper held for their own pleasure at their meeting last week. Some of the "boys" went down to Clackamas on Wednesday night to visit the lodge there and take in their entertainment.

Wm. Morand, postmaster at Boring has been on the list of sick folk last week, having a siege of cold and throat trouble.

The Muss boys and Kenneth and Loris Child of Boring went on a week's hunting trip up to wild cat country, and had the joy of learning to camp under difficulties while the torments poured. Loris Child had just returned from harvesting around Oakesdale, Wash., by Pendleton, attending the Round Up on his way home.

The Pomona Grange will hold an all day session in the Harding Grange hall at Logan on Wednesday, Oct. 13. A number from this vicinity expect to attend. A fine program will be given.

There is as much water in the J. M. C. Miller's well as there was at any time last winter. The well is fifty-four feet deep and has fifty feet of water in it now, which gives some idea of the rainfall we have had.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lilly had company from Portland on Sunday regardless of the rainy day. The Lillys went driving in the country in the evening to pay a farewell call to friends who were moving away. Mrs. Lilly spent a day in Portland last week.

L. E. Hoffman bought eight head of cattle from Billy Welch and seven from Mr. Martin this week. Most of them were fat steers.

The new cook at the Dixon mill is a Mrs. Jones whose home is at Chehalis, Wash.

W. A. Proctor was in town Monday and was looking over the road situation somewhat and will do all he can to hurry the road work along. The cut off by Gishes has been cleared.

Mrs. J. M. C. Miller was in Portland a few days last week visiting friends and also opera on Thursday night hearing Scotti in "Tosca". Every individual is said to have the element of greatness in him, in other words to have moments when he "can be something he is not" through the inspiration of the "spoken word" and some are great because of knowing what words to speak, and Scotti is evidently great because of all of these things. Though almost seventy his voice is magnificent and his acting superb.

Grand Opera that was put on at the Hellig last week at six dollars for the best seats was produced in San Francisco a few days before for three-fifty for the maximum price. The office employees at the Hellig when asked why Steers and Coman mad such an enormous charge said it was because San Francisco had a big auditorium that would seat ten thousand at one performance. Then why not the Portland Auditorium. Some claim the acoustical arrangement there is not right—why not? Was it not built for the use of the people? Unless people who love art begin to demand a fair price they will not get it!

A house warming party was given by H. A. Beck and family of Boring last Saturday and was greatly enjoyed by those present. A nice lunch was served and there were games and dancing. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lake, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Child, Bona Child, Myrtle Richie, Carrie and Emma Gregson, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mass, and children, Roy, Gertrude and Vernon Maulding, Oscar and Roy Carlson, Ronnie Hickey, Clark Radford, H. C. Larson, Mrs. Teckwith and daughter, Bertha.

Mrs. Mildred Metzger and Inez Knox left on Friday morning for California where they expect to visit for some time.

C. F. Barber was out during the week to get his place in shape to leave for the winter. He also had some building material hauled into the city as he is putting up a temporary residence in Portland since selling his home there.

Mr. and Mrs. Sykes and Mrs. Kyler took a trip on the Columbia Highway one of the two good days of the last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Douglass of The Dalles drove over from the Douglas settlement where they are visiting to spend a few days with the J. G. DeShazer family. Miss Bina Douglas accompanied them. They are all planning to go to the Gresham fair, and surely Jupe will have a heart!

George Macho of Sandy-ridge went to Salem to exhibit his Belgian stallion which he bought from the Ruby farm early in the summer.

A number of Ridge-ites planned to go to the state fair but gave it up when the rain descended and the gun tuckled it's eagle beneath a dismal sky.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Suekow drove from their Ridge plantation into Portland one day the past week to look after business and visiting errands.

A. W. Shipley decided to do contract hauling from the woods for the Sandy Lumber Co. of Brightwood so bought a new fifty-five hundred dollar truck and hauls in logs to the mill, quite a change for a horseman of so many years. He and Alf Bell each have contracts in the logging.

The loggers at the above mentioned mill made a record last week in turning an average of seventy, two thousand feet of logs per day, for five days and the weather was (everybody knows it) poured three of those five days) but regardless of sopiness such a record was made that Mickelson and Nelson gave the boys a full holiday on Saturday, it was raining even harder than ever. They were happy boys, too! This is a mill where capital and labor do not have time to indulge in antagonism but there is a square deal all around.

Ernest Bonett was head loader this week during the record logging that was done at the Sandy Lumber Co. mill, and he too was glad for the Saturday. The Ogden family of Marmot will soon move into the Freewater community where Mr. Ogden bought a saw mill, and is starting it into operation. The Ogden have been in mill work ever since selling their ranch last spring.

John McCormack, who used to live here, has returned from Baker, visited the Canning girls and gone on to San Francisco where he has employment.

John Wheeler, a brother of Mrs. J. C. Duke has been out a few times during the week to visit his little daughter who is with the Duke family while Mrs. Wheeler is convalescing at the hospital.

Drusilla Miller of Seattle, little granddaughter of the J. C. Millers is here again for a visit and will probably spend most of the winter here.

Mrs. M. E. Lee of Knappa, Or. is with her mother, Susan Updegrave to spend a month or so recuperating, hoping the change of climate, water and "a mother's care" will rebuild her, as she has been feeling quite poorly for some time.

Ms. Ernest Bonett, Mrs. Nelson

Gresham one day last week on a little business and pleasure trip.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Shepherd and Miss Stanton of San Francisco drove out from Portland recently to dine with S. W. Allen and family. Miss Stanton is Mr. Allen's cousin.

P. T. Shelly drove over from Hood River to spend the week end with his family.

The Committee of the Sandy Rebekah Lodge will give a leap year dance on Saturday night Oct. 16. That is the regular night for dancing, at the Odd Fellow's hall.

Mrs. George Flynn and children went to The Dalles the first of the week on a visiting trip. Recently Geo. Flynn sent his little four year old Cecil to Millers with some eggs and the little fellow made a mistake in the name and took them to the wrong house; when told "they" did not want the eggs he took them to Henry Riddish, sold them for fifty cents and took the money home to his father. Cecil evidently has a head for business.

Mrs. James DeShazer had a big dinner last Thursday for relatives who were guests at the DeShazer ranch. Those present were Mrs. Viola Douglas, and Miss Bina Douglas, of Eagle Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Douglass, and Mrs. Lulu Updegrave and baby daughter, beside the DeShazer family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shipley entertained with a birthday dinner at their pretty country home in honor of their niece Mrs. Wilbur Stanley (nee Miss Laura Shipley) on Sunday, October 3. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Shipley of Gresham, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stanley of Portland, Miss Mabel Shipley and Mr. Webb of Gresham, Mrs. H. McGugin and Mrs. Bertha Ridings, former-niece of Mrs. Shipley who was formerly a successful Clackamas County teacher and is now teaching at Murphy, Idaho. Mr. and Mrs. Ridings went to Idaho a few years ago and took up a homestead at Thurma. They are now raising horses and cattle profitably.

Really now, when are the metal and string players of this town going to think seriously about getting up a band of some denomination? How easy 'tis to let days glide by and put off the things that are truly important!

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ten Eyck of Marmot had guests on Sunday for the day. They were Mr. and Mrs. Albert De Shields and children from Eastern Washington. Mr. De Shields is a cousin of Mr. Ten Eyck. Mr. and Mrs. Moulton of Pleasant Home were also present. Miles Ten Eyck was home for the week end, Miles last attending school in Portland, Miss Rose Ten Eyck may be home this week to visit a few days before going to her school near Estacada.

A gravel pit is built at Boring and soon be shipped from the Bell pit by train to be hauled on the road from Peterson's corner to Kelso.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Watkins have finished moving to their bluff road home but cheered us with their presence Sunday again, and said they might slip over again to our Sunday evening song service.

Kenneth Davis, nephew of Geo. John Maroney and Marshall Davis died of diphtheria a few days in Albany. Two of Kenneth's brothers also so have the dread disease but will recover.

Lloyd Baker went to attend the Eastern Oregon fair at Prineville a few days ago.

Samuel Bacon of Orient, father of Mrs. Tom Hagan is visiting at the Hagan home for awhile.

Geo. Maroney has been in the city for a week, going down with his son Ralph who was out here visiting with his Uncle John's for three weeks.

E. L. Power of Waesle Hill has gone to Pendleton for a month's stay Mrs. Edith Koppers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Powers is out for awhile at the home ranch.

Mrs. Lillie Acock of Boring is visiting her brother S. E. Carj for a few days this week.

The Boring Rebekah lodge recently gave a supper in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Heddy who are leaving soon for Chicago.

Frank Schmitz went hunting on Monday and returned with a large native owl which he captured alive. The other game evidently was wise!

Mr. and Mrs. Casper Junker had guests from San Francisco the first of the week. They were W. Dickenson of the Elery Mfg. Co. and C. E. Strickland, who is travelling for an art novelty company. These gentlemen are friends of Mr. Junker's brother-in-law of San Francisco, and they have been out on a three months traveling trip with their car.

TAX DEPARTMENT BUSY.

Tuesday, the last day given the taxpayers of Clackamas county to pay the second half of their taxes without interest, brought forth many of the property owners in the tax department of Sheriff Wilson's office, where I. D. Taylor and his assistants, Miss Jessie Padlock, Mrs. Alice McKinnon and Mrs. Jessie Hlatt were kept busily engaged from the opening of the doors until 11 o'clock p. m. in checking up the receipts. There were 350 receipts passed through their hands, and the amount of money was about $16,473, with the previous day's work amounting to over $20,000.
