RED CROSS DRIVE FOR
CLACKAMAS COUNTY
TO START MONDAY

The annual roll call of the Clackamas County Chapter of the Red Cross will start here next Monday, November 22, when an effort will be made to cover the entire county and turn into the national headquarters at Washington, D. C., an amount that will be well over $100,000.

During the past ten months the Clackamas County Chapter has accomplished much by assisting families to locate missing sons, who have been in the service, assisting 500 families where help was needed; helped ex-service men to secure vocational training and also to secure medical service, morally and financially. The amount paid out for such services during the past ten months has been over $2000.

The roll call will be continued in the county until all sections have been thoroughly canvassed.

The first to pay into the fund since the roll call has started this year was Julius Spagle, a clerk in the postoffice. Mr. Spagle has the honor of being first in the former drive and as soon as he heard of the present campaign, hastened to the office of the Red Cross and gave his dollar. He was a lieutenant in the army during the world war, and when troops were called to the Mexican border, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Good and Mrs. Frank Beard are others who made their first payments without solicitation. They also were among the first to respond in former drives.

Miss Cis Barclay Pratt and Mrs. F. W. Gardiner, of Oregon City, have charge of the drive in Clackamas county. They have appointed several precinct chairmen in the larger sections of the county as follows:

- Canby—Mrs. W. H. Bair.
Estacada—Mrs. E. W. Bartlett.
Milwaukie—D. S. Wakefield.
Oswego—Milton Shipley.
Molalla—W. W. Everhart.

Volunteers are wanted to assist with the patriotic work in Oregon City covering the business and residence sections. The work will commence next Monday morning in earnest. The local branch is in receipt of a large amount of literature to be used in securing funds.

Not only does the organization desire money, but any kind of clothing that can be used to good advantage. The Clackamas County headquarters is in the Masonic building.

MANY RUSH TO BUY
HOME-BREW BEFORE
EDICT IS IN FORCE

Malt and hops were in brisk demand in Portland Saturday, when The Oregonian carried the story from Washington that the prohibition office's contemplate crushing out the home-brew industry. Anticipating the worst, the home-brew brigade launched a drive to stock up for a few more batches before the supply of "the makings" is shut off.

Johnson S. Smith, federal prohibition enforcement officer for Oregon, and Director Flanders of the prohibition forces said that while they had not yet received orders to proceed against the homebrew industry, they expect word from Washington within a few days. This suspicion on their part was based upon certain information which they had already received, but the nature of which they did not disclose.

"Brewing beer at home has always been illegal under the prohibition act," explained Mr. Smith, "but nothing much has been done about it, that phase of activity having been rather overlooked. Of course, it is known that a vast number of people in Portland, as well as everywhere else throughout the nation, have been brewing beer at home and there are places which have catered especially to that trade. When a dealer is selling malt, hops, gelatin, yeast, bottles, caps and cappers and is even giving directions how these things are to be used to make beer it arouses a strong suspicion that the dealer knows what his wares are being used for.

NEW MEMBERS ELECTED

Wacheco Council, Degree of Poochontas, met Friday evening at the Knapp hall and arranged for a social meeting to be held in the near future. Several new members elected were Mrs. Lena Spagle, Mrs. May Naumann and Frank Kronig. The committee appointed to arrange for the social meeting is composed of Ed Lavier, Frances Kroil and Harry Seiler.

TRUCK HANGS
ON PRECIPICE
NEAR NEW ERA

A big five-ton Mack truck, owned by the Willamette Valley Transportation company came near being destroyed Tuesday afternoon when the machine started over the high bank on the highway near New Era. The truck was heavily loaded with grain and was on its way to Portland when the accident occurred. In making the turn on the hill just before approaching the New Era bridge, the machine swerved and skidded, and had it not been for the front wheels striking into soft dirt at the top of the precipice the truck would have fallen to the railroad tracks a hundred feet below. The machine was rescued by the management of the transportation company.

The accident occurred near the same place where Mrs. Charles L. McNary, wife of Senator McNary, lost her life when an auto went over the bank about two years ago.

MERCHANTS TO EMPLOY SPECIAL
NIGHT OFFICER

Oregon City is to have a special night policeman who will be known as the "merchants' police" and whose duties will be to protect business houses situated on Main street between Sixth and Eighth. The officer's salary will be paid by the business men located in the above district and each store will have a time clock installed for him to punch, so that a record can be kept of his activities during the night.

A petition was circulated Monday among the merchants and enough money was subscribed to pay the salary of the officer each month. According to the business men who subscribed, they allege that not enough protection has been afforded them by the city council in the past, and that it was imperative that some action be taken in the matter. It is also contended that the short distance of the night officer's beat—two blocks—will enable him to keep a watchful eye on the stores in this section and give the merchants greater protection.

The new officer will be sworn in as a deputy sheriff and Mayor Holman will be asked to give him the proper authority in the city limits. The man for the job has not been selected as yet, but will be named immediately after a conference held this week.

STOLEN GOODS
RECOVERED BY MILLER-PARKER

Part of the loot taken by thieves who broke into the Miller-Parker company's store here a few days ago has been recovered. Ralph Parker arrived from Seattle last week, where he had gone in response to a telegram from the Seattle police, who claimed that they had captured two men with part of the goods in their possession. Mr. Parker came home with several guns, auto robes, flashlights and pocket knives which the yeggs had taken on the night of the robbery.

The two men captured told the police at Seattle that they had broken into the store and got out of Oregon City in a stolen automobile, but refused to divulge their names when questioned by the officers. One of the men is an ex-convict and has a long jail record behind him according to the chief of police there. The other thief is well known in police circles.

Beaverton Man Dies
In Auto Crash

BEAVERTON, Or., Nov. 15.—Scott Allen, a well-known citizen living on the Walker place near Beaverton, was killed this morning by an auto driven by George Meyers, a farmer of this place.

The accident occurred on the Cedar Mill road. Allen was walking on the road leading to Cedar Mills. A passing truck and Meyers' machine probably confused Allen, according to reports, and he walked into Meyers' machine. He was traveling at a slow rate. He was struck on the back, knocked down, striking his head on the road. His neck was broken. The coroner and sheriff have taken charge of the body.

Assessors Refuse to Meet With R. R.

County assessors who met in annual meeting at Salem last week, went on record as opposed to meeting annually with attorneys for the railroad companies for the purpose of discussing the ratio of taxes as shall be levied against these corporations.

It was alleged that the evidence introduced for consideration at these sessions was unfair, for the reason that the railroad attorneys were in possession of all the data gathered by the various assessors with regard to private properties in the several counties, while the assessors had no way of becoming familiar with the status of the public utilities. It also was voted by the assessors to do away with the present provisions of law requiring a horticultural and agricultural census. It was alleged by some of the assessors that this report was unfair, in that it did not show the true acreage of the several products to be classified.

Recommendation will be made to the legislature that this provision of law be repealed at the next session of the lawmakers.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Florence A. Savage has entered suit for divorce against John E. Savage and alleges that he left her alone at night and treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner. They were married at Colfax, Wash.

Making Budgets

Budget making in these days of high costs of material and labor is no easy job. Public administrators in states, counties, cities, school districts and in every department of municipal activity are confronted with a stupendous task for not only have wages and salaries increased materially, but all kinds of supplies, affected by the general upward trend, are higher than ever before. Public officials are up against the same problem that has for several years faced the private business concerns; in Oregon the burden is especially hard to carry because of our constitutional provision limiting the increase in tax levies to six per cent of the levy of the previous year. Occasionally the people, unwittingly perhaps, take a hand and relieve the situation by taking care of particular institutions through extra millage levies, as they did this year in behalf of state educational schools and the elementary schools of Oregon. The passage of the first measure will release a large sum of money for legislative appropriation.

In Oregon City the problem is peculiarly difficult, for under our charter, we cannot even take advantage of the six per cent increase that is granted to other tax levying bodies, and unless valuations are higher, the city is forced to struggle along without adequate funds, despite the higher costs. The city has a revenue of seven mills for general operating expenses, aside from receipts from licenses and fines. If valuations drop, then the city's revenues fall correspondingly.

Our city administration, therefore, has no summer picnic in handling its finances, and is up against a harder situation than any of the other municipal units.

CARELESSNESS LAID TO OFFICIALS FOR SLANDER
TO SOLDIER HEROES

SALEM, Nov. 15.—After the discovery today that one of the men included in the slacker list for Oregon was killed in the battle of the Argonne, Adjutant-General George A. White announced that he would demand an early and searching investigation of those responsible for the errors.

The name of the soldier who fought and died in the battle of the Argonne and whose name was subsequently included in the slacker list was the 15th Oregon soldier to be located by Mr. White upon the federal compilation of draft deserters which was furnished recently by the government.

"Carelessness that is nothing short of criminal is responsible for this outrage," said Colonel White who contends that with so many avenues of information, there was no excuse for listing a single Oregon soldier as a slacker. The check of the 702 names on the list is not yet completed and will not be released, Mr. White said, until it has been checked against the name of every soldier in Oregon who can be located. It will then be returned to Washington for checking against the government's lists.

The errors, according to the theory of the adjutant-general's office, were caused by enlistment of men in the army after they had been registered in the draft. When their names were called they were away with their units and were posted as deserters, being removed from the desertion list as rapidly as their presence in the service was located. Most of the 15 names on the final slacker list were detected by county officials, co-operating with the office here, since the state's present records are not complete.

Arrangements whereby a detailed record of service of every soldier, sailor and marine from Oregon will be on file in the state's records here have been completed with the war department.

BANK BUREAU HELD
BLAMELESS FOR BANK DISASTER

SALEM, Or., Nov. 15.—The state banking department of which Will H. Bennett is superintendent, has been exonerated by the grand jury of Jackson county from any blame in connection with the failure of the Bank of Jacksonville, according to a letter received here today from G. M. Roberts, district attorney, with headquarters at Medford.

The Bank of Jacksonville closed its doors about three months ago and soon thereafter the state banking department was called upon to investigate the failure. The inquiry, which extended over a period of several weeks, revealed numerous irregularities in the accounts of the institution, and G. M. Johnson, its president, later was arrested on a charge of falsifying the records. Unable to furnish bail in the sum of $50,000, Mr. Johnson was committed to jail.

The investigation on the part of the state banking department was followed by a probe by the grand jury of Jackson county, with the result that Mr. Johnson, together with the county treasurer and several other persons who had dealings with the defunct institution were indicted. They were arraigned recently before Judge Callahan in the Jackson county circuit court and were held under bail to appear for trial at the next session of the court.

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 14.—A new evaporating plant has just been organized in Marion county and has been incorporated as the Friends Oregon Colony Evaporating company. It is to be located at Scotts Mills.

Proclamation Issued
By Governor Olcott

Governor Ben W. Olcott issued the following proclamation for Thanksgiving last Saturday, setting Thursday, November 25th as a day set aside for thanks for the many blessings which have come to the people of Oregon during the past year:

"On the 21st day of November, 300 years ago, the little ship Mayflower, carrying its 102 passengers of men and women, cast anchor in American waters. This vessel brought with it the beginnings of the nation which we now know as the United States of America, and out of the devotion of those men and women to the principles of civil and religious liberty came our glorious democracy of today. The first act of those pilgrim fathers as they stepped upon the soil of America was to throw themselves upon their knees and give thanks to Almighty God that they had found a harbor where they might worship him according to the dictates of their own consciences. That was the first Thanksgiving day.

"For three hundred years, as this nation has grown and prospered, we have seen the unfolding of a new order of things standing for liberty and enlightenment. At no time in history have the people of these United States been so crowned with manifold blessings as are we today, and on the Thanksgiving day of this year we should all be truly and devoutly thankful to our creator for what he has wrought for us and our nation through the three hundred years that have gone by.

"Realizing the munificence of these blessings and our unbound prosperity, I, Ben W. Olcott, by virtue of the authority in me vested as governor of the state of Oregon, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 25, 1920, as Thanksgiving day, a legal holiday, and I call upon the people of the state in the churches, in their homes or wherever they may be, to observe such day as a day of special thanksgiving and prayer.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Oregon to be hereunto affixed. Done at the Capitol, at Salem this 13th day of November, 1920."

BEN W. OLCOTT, Governor.

Good Roads Cost
State $20,000,000

SALEM, Or., Nov. 16.—More than $20,000,000 has been expended in improvement and construction of roads in Oregon during the biennium ending November 19, according to figures compiled by the state highway department for the consideration of the legislature of its session in January. Of $778.69 was expended during the year 1919, while the remainder of the total sum was expended during the past 12 months.

The amount expended in road work includes $1,100,000 of county money and $1,200,000 of federal funds appropriated for post and forest roads. Both the county and federal money was expended under the direction of the state highway department. The report shows that approximately 1444 miles of road have been improved during the biennium as follows: grading 656 miles, rock and gravel 395 miles, paving 363 miles. Most of the work was confined to the Columbia river and Pacific highways. Although some of the feeders connecting with these main arteries of travel received attention of the commission.

There are now under contract in Oregon 300 miles of grading, 250 miles of rock and gravel and 60 miles of paving.

BOYS MEET IN SALEM

SALEM, Or., Nov. 15.—The annual convention of the Older Boys' conference for western Oregon will be held in Salem December 10, 11 and 12. More than 200 boys will be in attendance at the conference. Besides the regular business sessions considerable entertainment will be arranged for the visitors. The sessions will be educational in their nature and not only be of interest to the two delegates from each club, but to the members of the organizations to which they will report on their return to their homes.

OFFICIAL COUNT OVER
STATE GIVES HARDING
MAJORITY OF 63,314

Complete figures on the vote in every county in Oregon at the recent election give Warren G. Harding, republican nominee for president, a plurality of 63,314 over James M. Cox, democrat. The total number of votes cast for republican electors was 143,826; for democratic electors 80,212.

The prohibition electors polled a total of 3576; the socialist vote was 9888, and the industrial-labor vote was 1505.

The totals herein given are made up from the official figures returned by the county canvassing boards to the secretary of state, and are subject to the secretary of state's office to final canvass, which may change them in slight particulars.

The official canvass has been obtained from every county except one, Wallowa, and for that county the figures are complete but unofficial.

Girl Student's Death
Is Still a Mystery

FOREST GROVE, Or., Nov. 15.—An all-day investigation Monday into the death by chloroform of Miss Edith Bartow, 17-year-old freshman at Pacific university, failed to establish definitely whether or not the brilliant young student had taken her own life during a period of temporary despondency or whether her life was accidentally snuffed out because of her lack of knowledge of the deadly effects of chloroform.

It was learned, however, that the girl had purchased a four-ounce bottle of chloroform at Litter's drug store at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, telling Mr. Litter she wanted it for cleaning purposes. Possibility that Miss Bartow may have taken the chloroform to relieve a painful earache is found in developments brought to light today. Some university student thought to have been Miss Bartow, called the residence of Dr. J. S. Bishop by telephone shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday night and inquired for some remedy for the relief of earache. An examination by Dr. Bishop today disclosed a slight irritation in the left ear.

MANY MEN AND WOMEN TAKEN FROM BIG SHIP

MARSHFIELD, Nov. 16.—Bringing 28 men and two women, believed to be all who were on board the steam schooner Joan of Arc when she struck Rogue River reef during a heavy storm last night, the Admiral line City of Topeka is due here today.

A naval wireless from the Topeka told of the rescue of the Joan of Arc's crew who abandoned the ship in small boats when it appeared inevitable that she would go to pieces. The vessel is now about 500 yards off shore at Port Orford, in shallow water. She cannot last long in her present position, although the sea is calm today. The first Port Orford people knew of the Joan of Arc's trouble was when they saw through the surf this morning. No sign of life was visible aboard her.

The Joan of Arc, owned by the Ralph Navigation company of San Francisco, was en route from St. Helens, Or., to San Pedro with lumber. She went aground just south of Bottle Rock. It might be possible to reach the boat from shore but no attempt was made this morning.
