REV. ANDREW JOSSELYN SUCCEUMS TO BURNS RECEIVED IN FIRE

Rev. Andrew Josslyn Well
Known Minister, Expires Wednesday

CANBY, Dec. 9.—Rev. Andrew Josslyn, one of the most prominent and early Oregon pioneer ministers, died at his home in this city Wednesday night. His death was due to burns received two weeks ago while using a preparation of kerosene and water which had been placed on the stove and accidentally spilled on the stove. The aged minister was engaged in cleaning a clock at the time of the accident. He was enveloped in flames and causing terrible burns about his face and hands, and also inhaled the poisonous gas.

Rev. Josslyn was born in Indiana 79 years ago, and crossed the plains to Oregon in the early days, residing in the state ever since. He was favorably known far and wide, and had done much among the people while engaged in the ministry. He retired from active life several years ago, although he filled a number of pulpits since retiring.

On July 4th, 1920, Rev. Josslyn celebrated his 50th anniversary as a pastor at a picnic given in his honor at Needy, Clackamas county, the first place where he took up his ministerial work, when several people attended. Rev. Josslyn was the principal speaker of the day.

Rev. Josslyn is survived by his wife, of Canby, and two daughters, Mrs. Lou Evans and Mrs. G. T. Johnson, both of Portland.

Funeral services will be held from the Canby Methodist church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

3500 NAMES ARE DROPPED FROM ELECTORS' LIST

Over 3500 names of registered voters of Clackamas county were taken from the files and destroyed by County Clerk Miller Monday according to the law passed by the state legislature in the last session.

Heretofore, the law was to the effect that after a voter had registered and had not voted at any election in the county during two years, a postal card would be mailed to said voter, informing him that such was the case, and asking him to renew his right to again become a registered voter by signing a return postal card to that effect.

The new law passed in 1919, and under which the names have been taken from the files and destroyed, reads as follows:

Commencing within thirty days after the regular biennial election in November, 1920, and biennially thereafter, the county clerk shall compare the poll books of all general and primary elections, and any other elections held throughout the county during the previous two years, with the register of electors and if it appears that anyone is on said register who does not appear on said poll books to have voted at, in at least, one such election during such period, the county clerk shall remove said card from the register of electors. Said cards so removed shall be retained for a period of one year, and MAY THEN BE DESTROYED. If said elector shall appear at the office of the county clerk within said period of one year and sign a statement on the back of his registration card that he, or she, is still a resident of legal voter in such precinct, then said card shall be replaced in the register of electors, otherwise the county clerk shall permanently cancel said registration.

Lone Woman Bests Fire at Elk Prairie

(By Mrs. Dora B. Badger)

ELK PRAIRIE, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Albert Battles had to fight fire to save her home a few days ago, when she and her baby were alone. Her brother-in-law had left a supply of water for house use before he went to Molalla, which she did not replenish as she expected that he would as soon as he reached home. Mrs. Battles went in to another room and found that the stove pipe had not been just right and the roof was on fire. She fought the fire with the water as long as it lasted, then with wet garments that had become soaked until the last spark was out. Several feet of the roof required reshingling. Mr. and Mrs. Battles intend to have a modern water supply but as the place is very new, they had not completed it yet. Mr. Battles, who is working away at present, expects to spend the holiday at home. The first of March he will return to improve his place.

Cartlidge Family, of St. Louis Arrive Here

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cartlidge and twin daughters, Lucille and Louise, arrived in Oregon City a few days ago from St. Louis, Mo., and have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cartlidge, on Washington street. They left Wednesday afternoon for Portland, where they will make their home at 147 Park street, for the present. Mr. Cartlidge, who is a brother of H. B. Cartlidge, has accepted a temporary position with the Coin Manufacturing company of Portland, but expects to go into business later in the Northwest.

The Cartlidge family started for Oregon in their automobile, and had gotten as far as Marshall, Mo., when weather conditions becoming severe, the automobile trip was abandoned and the machine disposed of. The remainder of the trip was made by train.

At one stop in Missouri a flood covered the road, and it was necessary for the family to return and remain at a farm house for several days before they could proceed. It was at this point that Mr. and Mrs. Cartlidge decided on making the remainder of the trip by train.

Hoover's European Children's Fund to Feed Over Two and A Half Million Boys and Girls

Three of the Hungry Millions

"Is it all for me?" one hungry tot asked timidly when a plate of steaming hot soup and a thick slice of white bread was placed before him at one of the American Relief Administration European Children's Fund kitchens in Warsaw. He was only one of the two and a half million boys and girls who must be fed at the American kitchens in Central Europe this winter, if they are not to die of starvation. The European Children's Fund has over three thousand scattered throughout Poland, Austria, Czechoslovakia, and the Baltic States. Hundreds of children, cup and spoon in hand, crowd every feeding center daily. If these waifs are not to be turned back upon countries unable to feed them because they have no food to give them, if they are not to starve, helpless, and unfriended, America must send them food. The American conscience must express itself via the pocketbook.

Herbert Hoover heads the A. R. A. European Children's Fund, as he headed the Food Administration and the Commission for Relief in Belgium. This is his first call on popular sympathy and support for European relief. Twenty-three millions contributed to the European Children's Fund will mean the gift of life to two and a half million children caught in the swirling backwaters of the war.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the stomach and blood cannot be surpassed by any remedy today. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women has never been equalled for the distressing complaints incident to womanhood. ### BERRY GROWERS OF COUNTY WILL ORGANIZE SOON

The Oregon State Board of Horticulture has notified O. E. Freytag, state horticultural inspector, that a meeting will be held on Friday December 17th, at 10 o'clock at the office of the Oregon State Board, Room 152, Multnomah county court house, Portland, for the purpose of discussion of a plan which has been placed upon the strawberry plants grown in the northern part of the state.

It is very important that all growers should attend this meeting, and again bring samples of plants. The strawberry plant growers of Clackamas county are planning an organization in order to protect the industry, and to stimulate and advertise the business of plant growing more extensively.

The organization will be known as The Oregon Strawberry Plant Growers of Clackamas county. There is no district in Oregon where better plants are grown than in Clackamas county, in fact this is the first county that went into the industry in a commercial way. There should be no reason why the plants grown here should be classed among the common run of plants that are put on the market by inexperienced growers who put mixed varieties on the market thereby destroying the commercial value of the plants, and injuring the industry.

It is quite likely that A. H. Finnegan of Oregon City will be elected President of the Association. He is the largest strawberry plant grower in the county, and is well qualified to head such an organization.

Recently an embargo was placed on strawberry plants grown north of a line drawn east and west through McMinnville, by the quarantine officers in California, and this restriction on shipments in a district known to be free from infection or infestation is unwarranted.

At a meeting held in Portland recently with the President of the State Horticultural Society, a district was set aside bounded by the Willamette, Clackamas and Molalla rivers, known to be absolutely free of any insect pest or disease of any kind that is injurious to the industry.

Such an organization of growers will protect them against discrimination and unfair rulings by outside interests, and will tend to stabilize the business, which is of too great proportions to be lost to the county, amounting from $75,000 to $90,000 per year.

An organization will be effected by the Clackamas county strawberry plant growers in the office of O. E. Freytag at Gladstone, Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

CONTEST OF WILL CASE NOT DECIDED

The case of the contesting of the will of the late Mrs. Rachel Phillips, instituted by Mrs. Rebecca Turner, sister of deceased, took up the greater part of the afternoon in the county court here Wednesday. After the testimony offered by the attorneys was heard, Judge Anderson took the matter under advisement.

Mrs. Phillips left an estate valued at $26,000, and bequeathed the money to the First Baptist church of Oregon City, the Old Folks Home at Salem, and the Monmouth Normal school, to be equally divided among these institutions. No mention of relatives in the will was recorded, and proceedings were instituted by Mrs. Turner, the sister.

YOUTH GETS GIRL IN SPITE OF STEP-DAD

VANCOUVER, Wash., Dec. 8.—Coached by an alleged enemy of his step-father, Ralph W. Hamblin, 18 years old, obtained a marriage license and was married here today to Beryl L. Colestock, 16 years old, of Portland, before the irate step-father could stop the ceremony.

They were married by Cedric Miller, a Justice of the peace. The man who conducted the lad through the mazes of matrimony for minors said that he was almost beaten to death by the step-father recently when he pleaded for the boy, who was being treated cruelly. Only the screams of a woman saved his life, he said.

Methodists to Have Very Unique Booths

Unique among the bazaar affairs to be held in Oregon City during the next two weeks will be that of the ladies of the Methodist Calendar committee, who will give a bazaar on Friday and Saturday at the Parish house, 9th and Main streets. Various committees appointed from the organization have worked hard to make the affair a success, and such booths as the "White Elephant" and "Parcels Post"—the latter to contain packages from different states in the union—will enliven the event. A doll section, with "Santa" arriving in the afternoon will be on the program, and a lunch served by the ladies at 12:00 o'clock noon, will no doubt appease the hungry husbands and guests.
