WISEMAN FAMILY ENJOYS VISIT FROM GREAT GRANDCHILDREN

CANBY, Jan. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wiseman, who have been visiting relatives in Olympia, Wash., have returned to their home in Canby. They accompanied Miss Ada Jones, and their two little great grandchildren James and Perry Davidson, of Hill City, Kansas, to that place. Miss Jones, who has cared for the little children since the death of their mother, two years ago, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, in Arkansas, and is now on her way home with the children. This faithful colored girl has had the constant care of little Perry since he was but one day old. The children and the nurse are making their home with the children's grandfather, Mr. Wiseman in Kansas, who has given the children and Miss Jones the chance of the former to see for the first time their great grandchildren. They left for their home in Kansas Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wiseman accompanying them as far as Portland.

While in Olympia the children saw for the first time their grandmother. They formerly resided in the south.

New Grocery Store Is Started at Canby

CANBY, Jan. 12.—The building erected on the property of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nieland has been completed and now ready for the line of groceries and confectionery to be carried. A small line of confectionery has already been installed, but it is the intention of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Nieland to add more.

The building 20x20 is well located for the traveling public, and from the present indications business is to be encouraging.

Mr. and Mrs. Nieland have engaged in the restaurant business in Canby for some time, recently disposing of their interests on Main street to Mrs. Mainwood.

Canby Sees First Snow of Season

CANBY, Jan. 12.—Canby had her first snow storm Saturday night and on Sunday morning the people of this section were somewhat surprised to find the ground covered. Like other people, who had their share last year, the people of Canby do not have a fondness of "snow, snow, the beautiful snow," but prefer the gentle Oregon "mist" that we have had for several weeks.

Sunday evening the white "stuff" had disappeared and the old Oregonians were happy again to hear the gentle tapping of the rain drops Tuesday.

With meadow larks singing in the trees, lilacs budding and violets and strawberry plants in bloom, Canby climate is good enough for anybody.

Will Discontinue Cucumber Industry

CANBY, Jan. 12.—J. J. Nieland, who devoted much of his time last summer to the growing of cucumbers for the Portland markets, having disposed of the same to the Sterling Food and Produce Company, has decided not to continue the work this summer. The price paid for the produce last year were anything but to make the industry a paying proposition, as the cucumbers need constant attention.

Mr. Nieland produced nine ton of cucumbers last season, and the proceeds therefrom amounted to $360.

The ground of Canby is well adapted to the growth of this vegetable, but where these were raised by Mr. Nieland the land had not been cultivated as it should, and had been somewhat run down, says Mr. Nieland, who had much experience in this line.

NEW CHIEF OF POLICE OUT FOR RESULTS

According to Chief-of-Police Hadley of Oregon City, the present force of officers will be more efficient if the city council makes a few alterations and improvements in the way of police phones and lights. Hadley alleges that at present poles, insulators and wires are already up for "juice" for a red light to be put upon the hill section, where night policemen can readily see the signal from any part of the city. Chief Hadley has also asked the council for additional phones to be placed farther down Main street, towards 12th street, so that an officer can immediately call up from that section if trouble arises in the business heart of the city.

He also has asked that two additional telephones be placed upon the hill section for the convenience of the department, and it is rumored that one of the two night "cops" will be placed upon the hill each night.

Chief Hadley is not new to the work, having served as an officer in other cities, and alleges that if given the proper cooperation, will prove that the city can be efficiently protected both during the day and night.

ROBT. J. MOORE DEAD AT HOME NEAR MOLALLA

Robert J. Moore, prominent resident of Clackamas county, died suddenly at 2 o'clock Wednesday at his home at Molalla.

Mr. Moore was born in Marion, Ohio, September 26, 1836, and was the son of Joseph and Sarah Moore, natives of Scotland. He came across the plains in 1856, first settling in Idaho and operated a stage line in the early days between Idaho and The Dalles. He was also a well known mining prospector of the Couer d'Alene country.

In 1871 Mr. Moore came to Clackamas county, taking up his residence near Molalla, where he engaged in farming until 1903, when he retired and moved to that city, where he had since resided.

Mr. Moore is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jane Moore, formerly Miss Jane Kayler, whom he married in 1872. He also leaves two daughters, Mrs. O. D. Eby and Mrs. Olive H. Fox, of this city, and a son, Marian F. Moore, of Portland. Eight grandchildren, six of whom reside here, also survive.

Funeral services will be held from the Christian church of Molalla, of which Mr. Moore was a member, this morning at 11:30 o'clock, with Rev. R. P. Williams, pastor, officiating.

50 "FLUNKIES" ARE EMPLOYED BY EX-KAISER

Revelations in the Prussian state legislature at Berlin of the sums of money which the German emperor has been permitted to draw from Germany during the last two years, together with the announcement that the Dutch government will tax him for an annual income of 1,300,000 guilders, have caused the burghers of Doorn to speculate as to what he does with all his money. Nominally a guildler is worth 40 cents.

From Germany, the ex-emperor was said to have drawn 1,000,000 guilders, equivalent at present rates of exchange to 11,350,000 German marks, also the proceeds of the sale of some of his property in the Wilhelmstrasse, said to be 40,000,000 marks. Besides all this income, the Prussian government has contributed additionally to the furnishings of his new house at Doorn.

HUGE AMOUNT COLLECTED BY TAX OFFICERS

Establishing a record for tax collections the sheriff's office, under the direction of I. D. Taylor, tax collector, has had but $2,677.00 to turn over to the county court as delinquent taxes from the 1916 assessment. Certificates of delinquency are issued against the property involved for the various amounts of unpaid taxes, and these are maintained as a permanent lien until such a time as a transfer is made and amounts paid, or the property is advertised for public sale, and title vested in the county until they have secured the amounts necessary.

The 1919 rolls for collection amounted to $1,197,336.03, a gain of over a hundred thousand dollars in valuation from the preceding year. Of this huge amount, the unpaid portion of which became delinquent last October, a total of $1,158,751.07 had been collected up to Wednesday, and all indications are that the per centages of collections will exceed even that of the 1916 roll. Notices of delinquency were mailed out to taxpayers during the last week of December and the response during the 8 office days so far this month has averaged a thousand dollars each day.

The new tax rolls will be prepared and turned over during the second week of February, when the current taxes will commence to come in.

SERVE 20 YEARS AS OFFICERS OF HUMANE ORDER

The annual meeting of the Clackamas County Humane Society was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Harding Saturday evening. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: President, Miss Anita Hensley McCarver; vice-president, George A. Harding; secretary, Mrs. E. G. Canfield; treasurer, E. C. Canfield.

MISS ANITA McCARVER Re-elected President Clackamas County Humane Society.

Three directors were elected to serve for three years. These were Samuel Stevens, J. R. Humphrys and Percy Canfield.

GEORGE A. HARDING Re-elected Vice-President Clackamas County Humane Society.

The report of the secretary showed that fifteen cases of cruelty to animals have been reported to the society, and an investigation made. Guilty parties causing such neglect have been compelled by the society to provide food and shelter for the suffering animals. In most cases results have been very satisfactory.

State Officer Churchill, of Portland, has kindly assisted in several cases in Clackamas county, which was much appreciated by the society, and a vote of thanks was extended him for his good work in helping to bring the guilty parties to justice.

The society, since its organization, has done much to relieve dumb animals from suffering, a work that is highly appreciated by the community.

The officers who have just been re-elected have served for a period of twenty years and deserve much credit for the interest they have taken in the local organization and its work throughout the county.

The treasurer's report showed there was a balance on hand of $92.17. As the dues are only 50 cents a year, every family should have a membership in the Clackamas County Humane Society.

FOOD PRICES TAKE UPWARD TREND AGAIN

The price of flour was showing an advance in the Portland markets Wednesday for the first time since the present season started. Portland millers announced increases of 25 to 75 cents a barrel during the day, with bakers' hard wheat product showing the greatest rise, while family patent is up 40 cents a barrel at the mills.

The wholesale price of patent flour is $10.20 a barrel at the mills, with delivery charges of 15 to 25 cents a barrel to the retailers, according to distance from the mills. This means a retail selling price of around $3 a sack of 49 pounds, although some of the retailers who have liberal stocks which they purchased at the lower prices are continuing the old price for awhile.

With a 75 cent advance on each barrel of hard wheat flour, bakers are talking of holding their bread and other prices at the old figure. Most of them purchased flour some time ago, when it was at the lowest mark for a number of years.

Eggs are beginning to climb to a higher price because of the colder weather in the east and advances in other markets. Carload shipments are now being made from Portland to California and to the east, because prices there are higher than here. Portland is still the lowest egg market of any of the big trade centers in the country.

Clothesline Thieves Busy in Oregon City

A large sheet and a suit of women's underwear were stolen from the clothes line at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Burns at Greenpoint in this city Wednesday night.

The entire week's washing, except several pieces of men's underwear were hanging on the line when the articles were stolen, and the thieves selected the best sheet, although there were several others hanging close by as well as towels, pillow slips, etc. The thieves even took the clothes pins with which the clothes were held on the line.

W. E. Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burns, returned home about 11:00 o'clock, and it is believed that the thieves might have been frightened away before they had secured the other clothing. All housewives in Greenpoint now believe in "safety first" and are carrying the clothes into the houses at night since the Burns' theft.

STATE HOUSE, Salem, Or., Jan. 12.—Road legislation came to the front in both branches of the state legislature today, through introduction of a bill releasing the $2,500,000 Roosevelt highway bond issue without federal co-operation, decision by the roads and highways committees of both houses to meet in joint session in order to facilitate and expedite business, and adoption of a house resolution memorializing congress to appropriate immediately funds for use on road construction in Oregon and other western states.

Another development today concerning road legislation was the decision of the roads and highways committee of the house to invite the state highway commission to come to Salem next week and confer on vetoed road bills now before that committee for consideration.

STATE HOUSE, Salem, Or., Jan. 12.—First of the bills to create new congressional districts in the state has been drawn by Senator Norblad, who modestly confessed to a desire to serve in Washington. This is but the forerunner of a number of similar measures, and by the time they are all received and under consideration, the map of the districts will look like a crazy quilt.

Senator Upton has a congressional district in mind, and Speaker Bean will have a bill on the table, or some one will introduce one containing his ideas. At this time there are in prospect at least half a dozen congressional bills. No one has yet submitted a bill to reappropriate the legislative districts, which will be the fireworks bill of the session, judging from the underground rumblings.

Changes Are Proposed
According to Norblad's ideas the four congressional districts should be as follows:
First district—Columbia, Clatsop, Tillamook, Lincoln, Benton, Coos, Curry, Douglas, Lane, Jackson and Josephine.

Second district—Baker, Crook, Gilliam, Grant, Hood River, Harney, Klamath, Lake, Malheur, Morrow, Sherman, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Wheeler and Wasco. This is the second district as at present composed.

Third district—Multnomah county, the same as at present.

Fourth district—Clackamas, Washington, Marion, Polk, Linn and Yamhill.
