B. T. McBain, for the past 27 years connected with the Crown-Willamette paper company of this city, resigned his position on Jan. 1, and will enter other lines of business.

McBain came to this city about fifteen years ago and took up the position of assistant manager of the Crown-Willamette company at West Linn. From the start, he was an active worker in all civic affairs of West Linn and Oregon City and served in several executive positions in the Commercial club here and the Live Wires. He was elected main trunk of the latter organization upon one occasion, and also president of the Commercial club, in which capacity he rendered excellent service for this community.

While living in West Linn and as an executive of the C.-W. company there, he always took an active part in the municipal affairs of Oregon City as well as that of West Linn and the betterment of the community and its progressive program would find McBain as one of the prime movers of the local Elks, and held office in many other organizations while here.

When approached by an Enterprise reporter yesterday for an interview, Mr. McBain gave the following statement: "Yes, the rumors about Oregon City and West Linn are correct. I resigned from the office of assistant resident manager of the Crown-Willamette company on January 1st, after 27 years with that company, and its predecessor, Crown Pulp & Paper company. S. P. ENGINE JUMPS TRACK NEAR TRESTMERE

A bad wreck was narrowly averted yesterday afternoon, about 1:30 o'clock, when a northbound Southern Pacific freight hit an open derail switch here, throwing the engine off the track. The train was only traveling about eight miles an hour when it hit the switch, or otherwise the engine would have crashed into a residence nearby. Cause of the open switch can not be learned, and the engineer alleges that the block signal did not work. The block was supposed to have been closed at that time to allow a W. V. S. train to go over the trestle near 12th street, and if the derail switch had not functioned, the S. P. train would have been upon the trestle when the block was closed.

The track was cleared about an hour later by a wrecking crew called from Portland.
