

B. & A. PICTURE DISPLAY VIEWED WITH INTEREST

(By N. C.)

A display window that is attracting unusual interest is that arranged by George Hankins of the firm of Barmester & Anderson, showing pictures of Oregon City in former years.

A picture taken from where now stands the Oregon City hospital, shows what damage the 1890 flood did to the "Goose Flat" section and Greenpoint.

In 1893 a photograph was taken of the Crown Willamette mill and employes, and there are a number of familiar faces in the bunch, who have posed for the picture.

The old time buildings, years ago destroyed, surrounding a photograph of Oregon City before there was hardly a house along the river front, is loaned by Miss Rose Miller.

As the city is the owner of a collection of photographs of prominent men who held the office of mayor, ranging from the time Dr. John McLoughlin held this office until later years these have been loaned and are in a frame shown.

Booster Day pictures, loaned by the publicity department adds the collection.

READJUSTMENT OF AUTO BUSINESS TO BRING NEW VALUES

"There is every indication that the year just opening will be one of the most eventful in the history of the automotive industry," says R. C. Parker, of Miller-Parker company.

"In 1919, we witnessed the basic readjustment of the automobile trade conditions. The business settled itself more squarely upon the universal foundations of all merchandising. During the latter months of 1919, there was a serious curtailment of production and distribution due, to a certain extent, to national conditions.

"This evolution in automotive trade has brought sharply into focus the personal and individual responsibility of the dealer. It has brought home, to represents the ability of his car to get satisfaction, and it has sharply emphasized the value of dealer service and co-operation.

"Cars today are mechanically perfect. During the last couple of years, automotive engineering has progressed far past what would ordinarily be achieved in a decade. Dealers are recognizing and accepting an obligation which now rests squarely upon them.

Auto Show Proves Success for 1921

From every standpoint Portland's 12th annual automobile show, which came to a close at the municipal auditorium Saturday night, proved a big success.

It is no longer a case of enough rich men's sons and "spenders" and pleasure seekers to buy the cars, as many thought when the cars first began to be made in quantity.

WEST LINN UNION HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The freshman girls have organized a basket ball team under the supervision of Miss Leathers. The girls on the team are: Amber Ford and Leona Fox, forwards; Ruth Lund and Mary Zanicker, guards; Zelma McDonald, side center; Julia Lyt-sell, jumping center; Veatrice Rauch, sub-forward, and Mamie Wallace, sub-guard.

The Physical Training class has developed admirably under the direction of our new teacher, Miss Leathers. She certainly makes us put "pep" and enthusiasm in our work. She divides the gym days up so as to let us have dancing, club swinging, military drill, physical culture and apparatus each on different days.

The student body enjoyed on Wednesday morning Jan. 22, a very interesting social debate. The affirmative question was: "Resolved, that the Direct Primary should be Repealed." Each side presented very forceful statements in excellent form.

The English V class has just finished the study of "Macbeth." We hope that the next classic we take up will be equally as interesting as this one has been.

The sophomores are looking forward eagerly to Feb. 11, and a gay and jolly party in honor of St. Valentine's day at the U. S. S. auditorium will be held. The girl reserve held a meeting last Monday to discuss and plan the initiation of five new girls who wish to become members.

Among the Oregon City people attending the funeral services were Judge and Mrs. Grant B. Dimick, the latter sister of Mrs. Mark; Judge J. U. Campbell; County Recorder, J. G. Noe; Sheriff W. J. Wilson, Joseph Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Johnson, old time friends of the family.

One Little Class Ad Shows "Punch"

Hugh Moynagh, residing at Twelfth and John Adams streets, placed an advertisement in the Morning Enterprise last Sunday advertising a furnished apartment of three rooms for rent, located at Twelfth and Jefferson streets.

CAR WRECKED WHEN DRIVEN OFF HIGHWAY

G. Smith, of Milwaukie, completely wrecked his Chevrolet auto last night when he drove off the highway near Bolton over a 20-foot embankment, the car turning turtle and hitting on its top. Smith, along with his brother, escaped uninjured.

At the point where the accident occurred construction work on the road is in progress, and a red light has been placed at night to warn motorists to drive slow. Smith, when he neared the light, steered his machine on the wrong side of the signal, and before he could apply the brakes, went over the bluff across from the F. A. Hammerle place. The machine was almost a total wreck when recovered this morning by the owner.

It is alleged by several that the light signals near where the accident happened are confusing, and one not acquainted with the road at that place might drive on the wrong side of the light and go over the embankment.

According to the sheriff, the place has been under surveillance for some time, and last night a raid was made which resulted in finding about 150 gallons of prune mash, 20 gallons of prune whiskey and a complete distilling outfit.

The Wagner place is situated just at the turn on the river road outside of Gladstone, where the danger red light signal has been placed. When arrested, Fishback was eating supper with his family and friends, and according to the officers was serving wine at the table.

LOST STEAMER IS FOUND IN ALASKAN PORT

SEWARD, Alaska, Jan. 20.—The mail steamer Joseph Pultizer, formerly of Portland, missing since December 15, was safe at anchor to night at Chignik, a cannery town on the Alaska peninsula, 300 miles west of Kodiak, according to advices received here.

The vessel lost her rudder and put into Chignik without further mishap, the message stated.

"Here Comes The Bride!"

Everybody wishes her well! Happy and radiant she starts out on life's adventure. She should have health to begin with. Good looks in woman do not depend upon age, but upon health. You never see a good-looking woman who is weak, run-down, irritable, out of sorts, fidgety and nervous. Headaches, backaches, dragging-down pains, irregularities and troubles of that sort are all destroyers of beauty. Men do not admire sickness.

It is within the reach of every woman to be well, healthy and strong if she will take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

ROSEBURG, OREGON.—"I suffered something terrible from an organic trouble. Could scarcely stand on my feet. My head and back ached so hard and I was weak and nervous. I had a severe pain in my side and my limbs and feet ached. I was also troubled with constipation. I took Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery and the Pleasant Pellets, and these medicines relieved me of all my ailments and I was well and strong."—Mrs. W. D. Moore, 1246 N. Jackson Street. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package of any of his medicines.
