

POLISH NATION FEELS GRATEFUL FOR U. S. HELP

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—(Special to the Enterprise)—An example of how the United States is "winning the peace", a task second only to winning the war, is afforded by a report by Professor Jan Los of the University of Cracow, Poland, which was today received at the Pacific Office of the European Relief Council.

Professor Los had been detailed to make a survey of the attitude of the Polish people toward other nations. Portion of his report dealing with America reads: "You have saved the lives of hundreds of our future generation, and while this has touched us deeply the extreme delicacy with which you have tendered us this charity, saying that you were merely striving to repay us for our Kosciuszko and our Palaski men our debt. We are not accustomed to such delicacy in the present state of Europe."

"Hitherto, we had not known America. Now only have we learned to know it as the land of high intelligence and noble heart."

After reciting the history of Herbert Hoover's childfending, first through the American Relief Administration and now through the European Relief Council, Professor Los continues: "I have seen hundreds of these emaciated children dispersing from the schools with a cup of hot chocolate and a bun of a slice of bread in their hands. The relief has saved thousands from death in Cracow alone. And how many thousands in Poland. If the Americans who gave the means for feeding them could see them now. They have grown up to health. Their eyes are bright. They will make healthy and useful men and women. With deep motion and with true gratitude, hundreds of Poles repeat the name of America, wishing it the greatest development and prosperity."

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE

To My Fellow Citizens of Our Fine Old Home Town:—It has just struck me! I am going to write it down, and confess shame that it hadn't occurred before. The Morning Enterprise has space 4 1/2 by 6 1/2 inches devoted, free of charge, to the cause of the starving little ones of Europe. I do not suppose that that most choice space upon the front page could be bought, but I rather imagine that at front page rates it would be worth from $10 to $15 per issue. There have been, possibly, twenty issues containing this appeal. My "arithmetic" tells me that that would amount to between $200.00 and $300.00 worth of space already donated.—and, doubtless, more to follow.

And here's the point. From all enquiries I find that in the sort of service that is being rendered by Herbert Hoover's organization, that your ten dollars may buy one thousand cents' worth of food for the starving children of Europe. Pretty fine, isn't it!

P. S.—This one nearly got away. The Editor must be about ready to explode with editorials. Just think, he has backed clear out of his "pulpit" to let us hear the little children cry for bread!

I am going to take this to the Enterprise and see if they will publish it. Sincerely ("I thank you") H. G. EDGAR.

OREGON CITY, Feb. 2.—(Editor of the Enterprise)—In last Friday's issue of the weekly Enterprise I noticed an item of the Mt. Road news as follows: "We are very glad to hear that our road supervisor was re-elected for the coming year."

Your correspondent whoever it be, was evidently mistaken, misinformed or handed the truth rather recklessly. The fact is that about eighty per cent of the community are not glad nor are they satisfied, and what's more, will not be satisfied, but will contest the appointment to see if they cannot get a square deal. For any man that gets his appointment for supervisor as our present appointee got his, and those men that may have assisted him are not men, but merely selfish individuals, and as such do not require the good will of their community.

JOHN HELLBERG. NO SUCCESSOR FOUND TO FILL AGENT'S JOB The county agent's salary was included in the budget for the year 1921, and after R. G. Scott resigned the position to go with the Oregon Dairyman's League, no successor has been found to take up the work. It is reported that now is the time of year for the agent to get in some good licks for the good of the farmers of Clackamas county, but as far as can be learned, no effort has been put forth, either by the county court or by the state college to secure an expert to fill the job.

Suits Instituted to Clear Land Titles Joseph Bochmann and wife entered suit yesterday to clear title to a tract of land situated near Rock Creek, and name Guy R. Hobbs and wife as defendants in the suit. Jessie E. Crim asks for clear title on Lots 24, 26 and 27, Homes Addition to Clackamas county and cites A. G. Thompson as defendant in the suit filed Wednesday.

BAPTISTS OF STATE WILL MEET FEB. 14

Representatives from Baptist churches throughout the northern part of the state will meet in Portland on Monday and Tuesday, February 14-15, for what promises to be one of the most important missionary gatherings ever held in Oregon. The meetings will be but one link in a huge chain of missionary conferences in which 10,666 churches in the 35 Northern States are cooperating, under the auspices of the Northern Baptist Convention. Elsewhere the meetings will be continued until March 20, and the aim is a revival of missionary spirit.

Baptist missionaries from Africa, Burma, East and West China, Assam, the Philippines and South India are being called from furloughs in this country to help in the success of the meetings. State Promotion Director Dr. O. C. Wright and Field Promotion Director J. C. Austin are arranging the meetings, assisted by W. O. Sims of Portland who last spring was state director of the drive Oregon Baptists to help finance the New World Movement program of Northern Baptists, which calls for $100,000,000 before April, 1924.

Three nationally prominent Baptist leaders will take part in the Portland meetings, in addition to local speakers. They are, Dr. C. A. Brooks of New York, of the American Baptist Home Mission Society, Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Massachusetts, vice president of the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, and Rev. W. H. Bowler, field representative of the General Board of Promotion of the Northern Baptist Convention.

NEW MOVIE HOUSE OPENS ON SATURDAY

Oregon City's latest moving picture show will open for business Saturday in what has been known for many years as Shiveley's Opera House, at 7th and Madison streets. The new house will be known as The Midway, and will make an especial appeal to the hill trade, as it is the only theatre in the residential section of the city.

B. C. Boylan is the local manager of The Midway, and has associated with him E. J. Potter and Alex. Ramhalski. The theatre has been remodeled and modern equipment installed, and its initial announcement the new show promises good music and a large program, with a continuous performance from 1:30 to 11:30 p. m.

BORING WOMAN ENDS HER LIFE BY SHOT FROM RIFLE

Mrs. Rebecca Dugger, wife of Joseph Dugger, residing three miles out of Boring, committed suicide by shooting herself through the heart with a 22-caliber rifle Thursday night. Death was instantaneous. She was 48 years of age and was well known throughout Clackamas county.

Mrs. Dugger had been suffering poor health for some time and brooding over her condition, waited the opportune moment when her daughter and son were in Portland, and the husband in the barn doing chores, she loaded the gun and shot herself through the heart.

Coroner Pace was immediately called to the scene of the tragedy and found it unnecessary to hold an inquest. The body is in charge of Holman & Pace and funeral arrangements have not been made as yet.

Mrs. S. E. Spiker passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. F. Scripture, of this city, Tuesday evening, February 1st, at the age of 69 years, due to paralysis, being stricken a few days previous to her death. Mrs. Spiker with her husband, the late Jacob Spiker, moved to La Grande from Canada in 1905, and has been here at the home of her daughter for some time.

The deceased is survived by the following children: J. S. Spiker, of Elgin, Oregon; C. L. Spiker, of La Grande, Oregon; Mrs. S. F. Scripture, of this city; Mrs. Charles Stryker, of Butteville, Oregon; Mrs. C. All of Mrs. Spiker's children were fit the bedside when she passed away, except her daughter, Mrs. Phillips, who arrived an hour after her mother's death.

MAN FINED $10; ARRESTED SECOND TIME

Arrested twice in one day was the ex-convict of S. W. V. Peters of this city Friday. The first time he was taken into court was on a charge of driving an auto without a driver's license. He was fined $10 and costs. After leaving Judge Noble's court, he was again arrested by Officer Long for speeding on the highway and pleaded not guilty and will have a hearing this morning on the second count.

FARM AND HOME POINTERS

Only with high class breeding swine is there enough difference in favor of oats over barley in producing better frame and legs to justify the growing of the more expensive feed.

Commercial patterns for home-making of garments should be tested by individual measurements of the person. Such corrections as may be necessary should then be made on the paper pattern.

Better results are obtained when fowls are fed according to appetite than according to rule. There are no best poultry feeds or ratio except those that supply the necessary food elements most economically. Hens cannot do well on a whole grain ration.

Peach leaf curl control to be certain must be undertaken by spraying with Bordeaux mixture, 5-6-50, not later than February 10. Every bud must be covered. One if enough if put on right, and both tree and crop will be spared from curl throughout the season.

Many rainfall farmers of western Oregon have gone back to the intermountain regions of Montana and Idaho looking for new land, forgetting the marshes and tidelands in their own backyards, which, if drained, become the most profitable lands in the state for such crops as garden truck and vegetables, and small fruit and berries. Drainage specialists will help them find out when and how the lands may be reclaimed.

Peas and oats are the most palatable of all soiling crops grown in the coast districts. Planted in February the crop will be ready for use July 1. Successive planting every 15 days up to the middle of March will afford feed bill August 15.

BRIDGE OVER CLACKAMAS TO COST $50,000

The county court some time ago asked the Highway commission to advertise for bids for a concrete bridge across the Clackamas river at Parkplace, and at a meeting of the commission held in Portland Tuesday the bids were opened. The lowest was that submitted by Parker & Banfield who bid $49,264, and they referred all of the bids to the county court here for approval. It is reported that the court will award the contract next Saturday.

Twelve counties were represented at the state highway commission meeting and many rejections of bids took place and the stretch of pavement between Monroe and Junction City, consisting of 15 miles, was ordered paved by the highway body, at a cost of $248,558.
