CAPTAIN BARCLAY HAS WONDERFUL COLLECTION ON DISPLAY HERE

Captain W. Charles Barclay, well known sea captain and son of early Oregon pioneers, the late Dr. and Mrs. Forbes Barclay, who recently arrived in Oregon City to visit his sisters, Mrs. W. E. Pratt and Miss Katie Barclay, throughly enjoying his visit in Oregon City, where he spent his boyhood days, and visiting among his old time friends.

Divide Clackamas

Taxation Without Representation was the slogan of the Clackamas County divisionists during the campaign for the creation of Cascade County before the legislature of 1917. The slogan sums up the situation today and is responsible for the Clackamas division and Multnomah annexation measures facing the 1921 session.

What to Plant In Your Garden

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE

GLADSTONE, Ore., Feb. 11.—(Editor of the Enterprise)—We see by this morning's Enterprise that the tax payers' have a friend in the legislature in Representative Shank.

Fisherman Gets K. O. by Game Officer

Somewhat the worse for a fistie encounter with Ed. H. Clark, district deputy game warden, Fred Christopherson, old offender, and Jack Sweeney were fined $100 and $50 respectively by District Judge Deich at Portland yesterday for fishing for sturgeon under the four-foot limit, contrary to the state game laws.

WOMAN'S PAGE by Florence Riddick Boys

TO AUNT JENNIE

(Editorial Note—The fine thing about this poem is that it was not "written for publication," but it is a really, truly tribute to a "sure nut" aunt.)

OPEN DOORS IN BUSINESS

The profession of an oculist is one which women are beginning to enter, in which there is no prejudice against the sex, in which woman's reputation for careful detail work is an asset, and in which there is ample remuneration to the skilled worker.

DOCTORS SUED FOR $50,000 BY HUGH S. MOUNT

Seven physicians of Oregon City, Drs. O. A. Welsh, M. C. Strickland, A. H. Huycke, C. H. Meissner, W. Ross Eaton, C. A. Stuart and George E. Stuart are facing a suit for damages filed here today by Dr. Hugh S. Mount, who asks for $50,000 damages from each of the seven who affixed their signatures to a statement that Dr. Mount characterizes as defamatory.

The Smith-Townsend bill is now before the House. This bill is to establish a Department of Education with its head a member of the President's cabinet. We now have only a Bureau of Education of the Department of the Interior. The bureau hopes to aid in the Americanization of illiterates, and to aid the states in the school problem.

Women Study Politics. All over the land schools and study classes are educating women in citizenship. Y. W. C. A.'s as Illinois are tackling the problem of making women an asset to government and are organizing classes of teachers who will be entitled to instruct other classes over the state.

Orange Marmalade. Slice very thin, rind and all, three large seedless oranges and one lemon. Pour over the sliced fruit eleven cups of cold water and set away for twenty-four hours. Then boil slowly for one hour.

Prune Conserve. Soak four pounds of prunes and remove the pits. Add four pounds of sugar, the juice of four oranges and thin strips of yellow rind which have been separated from the white pithy part, one pound of raisins and a cup of walnut meats broken into pieces.

Fig Preserves. Puncture with a fork, one pound of white, not over-ripe figs. Add one pound of sugar and two pints of water and soak overnight; then cook down very slowly to a heavy preserve.

SMILES. "Is Harduppe pretty well known in your town?" "I should say he is. He's so well known he can't even borrow an umbrella."—New York Times.

WEST LINN STUDENTS NET $80 SATURDAY

The proceeds from the entertainment and basket social at the West Linn school building Saturday evening amounted to $80 and many handsome baskets were sold. The young people were well supplied with money and there was a great demand for the baskets containing luncheons.

BAD FIRE AT COLLEGE

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., Feb. 12.—Fire which started in the basement of the Beaver fraternity house here shortly before noon today threatened to destroy the building, but was checked by the prompt action of the Corvallis fire department.

USES FOR OLD BLANKETS.

Housewives who have obeyed Uncle Sam and conserved wool are now finding themselves with a supply of old wool blankets which are fast growing too shabby to use. When this time arrives they may still serve a purpose in thrifty homes as filling for comforters.

A WORD TO THE WISE

Clothing Trift—The Government has issued a booklet which tells how to choose the different textiles and gives directions for the care of clothing. A copy may be obtained by asking for P. B. 1088, addressing the Division of Publication, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

HAPPY THOUGHT.

Reflect on your present blessings of which every man has many—not only your past misfortunes of which every man has some—Dickens.

THE WOMAN CITIZEN.

The Johnson Naturalization bill now before the House provides that women shall become citizens, as men do, in their own right and not by the virtue of marrying a citizen.

A SPREAD FOR YOUR BREAD.

This year when berries and small fruits have been scarce and high priced, many a table suffers for the "spread" which breaks the monotony of plain bread-and-butter. The following recipes will help:

Prune Conserve.

Soak four pounds of prunes and remove the pits. Add four pounds of sugar, the juice of four oranges and thin strips of yellow rind which have been separated from the white pithy part, one pound of raisins and a cup of walnut meats broken into pieces.

Fig Preserves.

Puncture with a fork, one pound of white, not over-ripe figs. Add one pound of sugar and two pints of water and soak overnight; then cook down very slowly to a heavy preserve.

FOOD STUDY

Idaho women have been comparing the results of food problem study in classes and have found them to be these: One husband brought to normal weight in three months; one boy gained eight pounds and another five in two months; the planning of meals was easier; family feeding became more intelligent; one woman made fewer pickles this year; others learned the value of milk, and that minerals came from vegetables.

GIRL'S FACE RIPPED BY ROOSTER

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Feb. 15.—A young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Olson of this city met with a peculiar accident, which will disfigure her for life. The child was playing about the Olson premises and was attacked by a large rooster, which seemed to dispute her right in the yard. With his spurs and beak he tore the child's cheek so badly that a number of stitches had to be used by the doctor who attended her to close the wound.
