At 1 o'clock the program began by singing, "Bring the ney Snedecker, Clacksmas County Good Old Jersey Cow." Prof. Brandt Club Leader, visited at Lad Hill of O. A. C. gave an instructive talk regarding market conditions of registered stock and the immense field for sale of surplus stock here in Oregon in every community if the breeders would take it upon themselves, by means of exmaple and by figures, show to neighbors the benefit to be derived by having pure bred stock and registered sires. He said that every other business has salesmen in the field of work up a market for their articles and he urged the breeders to be less timid, and in every legitimate way, keep before the public, the advantages, the profits obtainable, and Ranger Joe Gaham of the Clackathe future development of the pure mas lake district in the Oregon na Shain, Mrs. Roy Hacker, Mrs. Will bred livestock business here in Ore- tional forest, south of Mount Hood, Smith, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. gon. The debate on the question, Resolv ed: That it is better to own a herd of good production than a herd of good type and only fair production." was rather abbreviated as only two of the speakers were present. N. H. Smith, who spoke on the affirmative, gave some very good points in the way of figures of cost of maintainance and production, which sure told you, you didn't want much to do with a 300 lb fat cow. Then when H. W. Kanna spoke on the negative, you sure thought you didn't want much to do with a cow that was not typy. So 'twas easy to figure that henceforth we want a herd almost perfect type Phillip and Julia Messinger of and with an average herd production you agree?
