Society

The engagement of Miss Loretta Anne Quinn, of Portland, and Thomas J. Sinnott, of this city, was announced at a pretty tea given by Mrs. Robert A. McDonald, a cousin of Miss Quinn, in Portland Thursday afternoon. Mrs. McDonald was assisted in receiving by Miss Katherine Quinn, sister of the bride-elect. There were about 80 friends bidden to the affair, which was one of the most enjoyable evenings given in that city during the past week.

Miss Quinn is one of the popular girls of Portland and a large number of college friends, attended the tea.

The decorations of the McDonald home were in keeping with the season, and little Miss Johnson, of Portland, announced the engagement in an unique manner.

The marriage of Mr. Sinnott and Miss Quinn will be a large event of April, and will be held in the Cathedral.

Mr. Sinnott is a well known young newspaper man, having been connected with the Morning Enterprise, of this city for some time, later going to Klamath Falls, where he engaged in newspaper work. During the world war he was in the navy, and after receiving his honorable discharge took up newspaper work in Portland. He is now with the W. S. Kirkpatrick Advertising Service, of Portland, and is also a member of the University of Oregon extension faculty, with headquarters in Portland. He is a member of the Multnomah Athletic Club and also member of the Portland Ad Club. Mr. Sinnott is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sinnott, of this city.

Miss Quinn, who is a charming young woman, is a graduate of the St. Mary's Academy, of Portland, and is an active member of the Cathedral parish. Many social events are being planned in honor of her approaching marriage by her many friends of Portland. She has visited in this city on several occasions.

Mrs. J. W. Jones, an active member of the Mooseheart Legion, of this city, was taken by surprise at her home near Meldrum Wednesday evening, when members of the organization and of the Moose Lodge, visited her home in a body. The affair was in honor of her birthday anniversary, and the hostess was presented with many pretty and useful gifts.

As soon as the members of the party had taken possession of the Jones home, several of the women busied themselves by decorating that home most artistically, when spring flowers and ferns, were used, which they brought with them.

The evening was spent in cards and music, followed by refreshments. Mrs. Paul Burns made the handsome cake ornamented with tiny candies.

Attending were Mrs. Paul Burns and son, Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lovler and daughter, Bernice, Mrs. Rudolph Wenger, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Frost and daughter, Miss Ethel, Mrs. William Weismandel, Mr. McDonald, Al Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Glen DeVinish, and baby, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones, Walter Jones.

The ball given at the auditorium of the Crown Willamette Paper Co. at West Linn by office employees, superintendents of various departments at West Linn, Camas, Wash., and Lebanon last Saturday evening was one of the most enjoyable affairs held, and was largely attended.

Miss Romney C. Sneeder, of this city and club organizer of Clackamas county, whose engagement to Lee J. Russell, of Portland, was recently announced, was taken by surprise at her apartment on Eleventh and Main streets, Monday evening, when some of her friends gave her a kitchen shower.

A social time was enjoyed during the evening and refreshments were served.

Attending were Mrs. Minda Church, Mrs. Agnes Buckley, Mrs. Brenton Vedder, Mrs. J. E. Calavan, Mrs. J. L. Waldron, Mrs. Clarence Brunner, Mrs. Mary Criteser, Mrs. John Gaffney, Mrs. Ellingsen, Miss Cora Hunt, Miss Gaffney, Miss Phillips, Miss Sneeder.

Mrs. Sophia Moody was hostess to the King's Daughters Society at her home Wednesday afternoon March 24th, when she was assisted in serving refreshment by her daughter-in-law, Mr. Kent Moody.

The afternoon was devoted to needlework.

The rooms of the Moody home were prettily decorated in daffodils.

Attending were Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. A. C. Warner, Mrs. H. S. Mount, Mrs. William Tipton, Mrs. J. J. Tobin, Mrs. William B. Howell, Mrs. William Krassig, Mrs. L. E. Jones, Mrs. Kent Moody, Mrs. Frank Young, Mrs. William Folger, Mrs. McKillican, Mrs. Neal Sullivan and Mrs. C. Crusius.

Last week's meeting of the King's Daughters of the St. Paul's Episcopal church was held at the home of Mrs. H. S. Mount, when the afternoon was devoted to sewing, and followed by refreshments.

The Mount home was decorated in spring blossoms and potted ferns.

Attending were Mrs. A. L. Beatie, Mrs. Sophia Moody, Mrs. Kent Moody, Mrs. A. C. Warner, Mrs. William Tipton, Mrs. J. J. Tobin, Mrs. William B. Howell, Mrs. L. E. Jones, Mrs. Frank Young, Mrs. William Folger, Mrs. McKillican.

M. E. Ushoefter, of Forest Grove, and Ruth L. Crosley, of Milwaukie, were united in marriage on March 12, at the Methodist parsonage, 499 Center street, by Rev. Melville T. Wire. The ceremony, a very quiet affair, was witnessed only by the bride's mother and Mrs. Wire.

Last Sunday evening a birthday party was given at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmons, of Ashdale, near Jennings Lodge, when the guest of honor was Howard Truscott, of that place.

After "Michigan" was enjoyed, a delicious lunch was served. The table was centered with a handsome golden and chocolate ribbon cake, ornamented with multi-colored candles, to represent the number of birthday anniversaries the guest of honor has enjoyed. Those who are acquainted with the hostess' art at cake making will know it was pleasing to the palate as well as to the eye.

During the evening Howard Truscott was presented with a handsome pair of military brushes, a gift from the host and hostess, and Miss Sara Kaminsky.

Enjoying this delightful event were Mrs. Mollie Childers, Mrs. Fred Martin, Mrs. Edith Truscott, Miss Sara Kaminsky, Mr. and Mrs. Emmona, Miss Ruth Truscott and Howard Truscott.

One of the most enjoyable evenings was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Solomon, Monday evening. The affair was given in honor of their son, Leslie, who will soon return to Seattle, Wash.

The evening was spent in games, vocal music and contests. Spring flowers were used most effectively among the decorations.

Mrs. Solomon was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. L. R. Santell in serving delicious refreshments.

Enjoying the evening were Mr. and Mrs. R. Solomon, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Santell, Misses Cora Skiller, Bernice Baker, John Stone and D. C. Skiller, of Portland, Misses Edna Rowen, Edna Lund, Ollie Amen, Elva Peoples, Norma Morrell, Helen Carpenter, Doris Ellis and Mildred Kyler; Messrs. Elvin Catto, Clay Brendle, Dennis Wallace, Fred Lund, Maynard Wallace, George Lund, Francis Wallace, Harless Ely, Troy Solomon, Walter Mabe, Marvin Aylward, Leslie Solomon, George Thompson, Albert Lund and George Hollingsworth.

Mrs. C. K. Felt, of Parkplace entertained Thursday with chicken dinner for the pleasure of Prof. and Mrs. Barnette and Miss Mable Barnette, teachers in the Parkplace school.

The table decorations were hyacinths and narcissus.

The St. Patrick's entertainment given under the auspices of some of the young people of St. John's Catholic church, Thursday afternoon and evening, March 17th, was one of the best if not the best entertainment given in that hall. Long before the rise of the curtain, the auditorium was well filled and by 8 o'clock standing room was at a premium.

Joseph Gadke, director of the entertainment, is deserving of much credit for the success of the affair. Each number on the program including the musical comedy, "Savageland," was given without a hitch. The beautiful background to represent a woodland scene was arranged by Mr. Gadke's and several assistants, who displayed artistic taste.

The program opened with a vocal selection, "Georgia Moonlight" by Joe Burch, accompanied on the piano by Joseph Gadke. This was followed by a piano selection by Joseph Gadke, after which "Chocolate Drops" was the title of a comedy sketch given by James Brady and Lester Pettit, that kept the audience in good humor by their clever stunt. Both represented colored boys.

"Savageland," a musical comedy followed, when pretty girls, in fancy costumes, sweetly sang a number of the latest selections and danced most gracefully. Among the numbers they rendered highly appreciated were Garland Song and Dance, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," "There's a Typical Tipperary," and "Hawthorn," Melody of Love, Miss Theresa Bookhold was the soloist in the latter, "My Gee Gee" was another hit of the evening, which was given by the boys' quintet.

Among the soloists of the evening was Sylvester Haas, who sang "Whispering" and was heartily received. His accompanist was Joseph Gadke. Andrew Adrian, violinist, accompanied by Miss Sattie Clancy gave a number of pleasing selections.

The first scene of "Savageland" was the hotel Heinz in the Catskill mountains with a beautiful stage setting most appropriately of this occasion.

The story is woven about the incidents connected with the search of Sherlock Combs, the wonderful detective, for the missing Irish heiress, with a million with a green sash, slung around on her wrist and who wears a No. 10 shoe. Sherlock is later engaged to track a missing pitcher of pearls stolen from the arms of the marble statue Wee-nah, who is revered as a goddess among the Yaki Indians. Sherlock and his friends go West in their search, where laughter, happiness, a bit of satire, and a touch of sentiment combined, will make you understand that life's a merry jest in Savageland.

Among the performers in "Savageland" deserving of special mentioning were Walter Nathe, "Jake Heinz," proprietor of the Heinz hotel; Miss Ardis Ward, "Birdie Macginnin," the Irish Cinderella; Miss Evanelle Hall, who proved a most charming "Fidelity" of the King of the Indies; Miss Helen Weber, "Miss Daffodil Dotty," poetess of passion; Michael Long, "Sherlock Combs," a defective detective; Bernard Herman, "Buckskin Buddy"; Gerald Tipton, as "Big Chief Mueh Scalpem"; Marie Brunner, "Ysobel," in vaudeville; Cyril Justin, "Frozen Face" with liking for Birdie; Miss Gladys Ward "Margot Lee," niece of Jake Heinz, and a quaint quaker maiden; John Michels, "Purring Panther," with a liking for Birdie's niece; Paul McKibben, as a hell boy and Harold McKibben as "Gilroy Clay" in love with the quaint quaker maiden.

Miss Ardis Ward and Walter Nathe were the star performers as comedienne and comedian, and kept their audience in good nature from the time they made their entrance until the curtain went down on the last act. The acting of Miss Ward and Nathe would make any professional "sit up and take notice" had they attended and had witnessed the acting of both.

During the rendition of "Pales-teena," by a boys' quintet, introducing Miss Lena de La Paz, the famous concertina player, de luxe, Joe Burch made his appearance as the "fair" young woman, and gave several selections on the concertina much to the enjoyment of his audience.

The Chorinne girls were Theresa Bookhold, Lucile Lambocker, Louise Rotter, Marie Weber, Catherine Herman, Mary Pfister and Mildred Tourney.

Almost $200 was realized from the entertainment.

One of the most enjoyable St. Patrick parties was given by Misses Vetrice and Vivian Rauch at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rauch, of Gladstone, Friday evening.

The Rauch home was decorated with spring flowers, ferns and potted plants. Green and white paper caps were presented to each guest upon their arrival to wear.

Games, music and contests were enjoyed. In one of these contests Dorothy Fox won first prize. In the word composing contest Leona Fox won the prize.

Refreshments were served. The place cards were tiny Irish potatoes cleverly concealed in a shamrock, holding the fortune of each guest.

Attending were Misses Doris Smith, Gladys Chambers, Leona and Dorothy Fox, Kitty Feeler, Mabel Whitcombe, Bernice Roake, of Oregon City, Mildred and Dorothy Kyler, Eunice Amner, Dorothy Barlow, Glenna Miranda, and Madeline Parrott of Portland; Ernest Freytag, Franklin Niles, Vernon Chandler, Alfred Rowan, Eldred Graiser, Lester Kerns, Jack Hempstead, Delbert Hayward, Vincent Meyers, Frank Garlic and Ralph Woolrich.

Dr. and Mrs. G. J. Nash entertained at their home in Gladstone the afternoon bridge club Friday evening in a charming manner.

Their home was beautifully decorated with daffodils, Japonica blossoms and ferns.

Refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted in serving by Mrs. Auer Roake, of Oregon City.

Mrs. Nash, a talented musician, favored her guests with several musical selections.

Attending were Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Hempstead, Mr. and Mrs. William Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oswald, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Bauerfeldt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roake.

Mrs. Clarence Frost entertained a number of Gladstone ladies at her home at Gladstone at a quilting party for the benefit of the Woodcraft home in California last Tuesday.

A delicious "pot luck" dinner was served at 12 o'clock by the hostess.

Enjoying the day were Mrs. John Kent, Mrs. Mack Rivers, Mrs. Richard Freytag, Mrs. F. A. Parker, Mrs. Harley Frost and Mrs. Clarence Frost.

One of the affairs looked forward to with special interest is a social meeting of the American Legion and Woman's Auxiliaries of Oregon City, Estacada and Molalla at the Moose hall Monday, March 28.

Mrs. Minnie Donovan has been appointed chairman of the refreshment committee.

Mrs. Grace Eby will have charge of the musical program in which many prominent people will take part.

At this meeting the possibility of a memorial for the ex-service men will be discussed.

Mrs. F. A. Burdon entertained the Woman's Missionary society of the Christian church with a silver tea at her home in Gladstone Wednesday afternoon in a delightful manner.

St. Patrick's program was enjoyed. Mrs. L. A. Read read a paper on "The Life of St. Patrick." Games and contests were the amusements of the afternoon with the St. Patrick idea cleverly carried out.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted in serving by Mrs. L. A. Read, Mrs. Fred Hayward and Mrs. A. Blount. Present were Mesdames Charles Legler, C. A. Frost, L. A. Read, Grant Olds, A. O. Alexander, Al Blount, John McGetchie, Alex Paterson, Thomas Gault, Frank Nelson, Richard Freytag, Horniday and Miss Alice Freytag.

A silver tea for the benefit of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home was held by the officers of the Order of the Eastern Star at the home of Mrs. Samuel Stevens at the Corner of 9th and Center Sts. Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

The following program was rendered: Piano solos "Nocturne" by Chopin, "Butterfly" by Markel, "Etude" by Heller, Mrs. Mead; readings "Old Abe," "The Inventor's Wife," "The Big Swede," Mrs. Walter Bennett; toe dance in costume, Betty Forbes, with Ione Dunn, accompanist; piano solos, "The Jolly Shoemaker," "At the Country Fair," "At Sea," Miss Marie Walker; violin solos "Mazurka" by Weinfonski, "St. Patrick's Day," Miss Brakel, with Mrs. Arthur Beattie, accompanist; "Dance of the Shepherdess," Dorothy Jane Stevens and Barbara Welch; readings "A Fair Riding Bara Welch," "The Quaker," "Up from Bangor," "The Quaker." Judge Grant B. Dimick gave an interesting talk on the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, which is under construction at Forest Grove.

The program last Tuesday night, for the benefit of the G. A. R.'s given by the Aides of Meades No. 18 (Mrs. Henry Henningsen and Mrs. Walter Bennett) was a complete success and played to a full house.

Mrs. Leonard Lageson was the leading lady in the comedy "That Blonde Person," and those assisting her did justice to their parts also. Mrs. Lageson played the part of a young woman, who was married just one year and during her acting held her audience spell bound. Her sister, "Ethel Percy," played by Gladys Mae Trimble, showed the talent that young possessed. Much credit is due Mrs. John Hickman and Mrs. J. W. Draper, who played the parts of "city gossips," "Jane," the maid, Mrs. J. K. Morris, was exceptionally well played and in a most unassuming manner. Mrs. Elizabeth Glover, portrayed the part of an Irish character in a charming manner and her little shep dance, brought a hearty applause.

Miss Maude Lageson, whose sweet voice is always appreciated, received a hearty encore.

Miss Gladys Mae Trimble sang most impressively, and her selections reach ed the hearts of the old comrades that attended.

The opening number, "Danse of the Shepherdess" with Dorothy Dodd and Dorothy Jane Stevens as herd girls, and little Barbara Welch as the little fairy, gave a number of graceful dances, and were well received. Barbara Welch, a tot of four, captivated her audience as did the former two little Misses and Miss Frances Swartz, who appeared in "The Butterfly" dance. The little girls were prettily attired, adding to the appearance of their dances.

A cafeteria supper will be served in the Masonic hall Saturday evening, March 26, from 5:30 to 8 o'clock for the benefit of the Masonic and Eastern Star home at Forest Grove.

Mrs. Livy Stipp and Mrs. C. G. Miller were hostesses of the Derthick Club Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Stipp on Eleventh and John Adams street.

The reader of the afternoon was Mrs. Gilbert L. Hedges, who gave an interesting and instructive reading on "Paris Conservatory of Music and Destinations" were of daffodils.

Mrs. Wilbur Meade, of this city, was the pianist and her numbers were highly appreciated. These included "Prelude in G Major" by Rachmaninoff; "Nocturne in F Minor" by Chopin; "Butterfly" by Gustave Merkel; "Ero-tik," by Edward Greig; "Noctevette," by Rupert Schumann.

Miss Lois Thayer, of Portland, was the soloist, and her voice was well suited for the selections she rendered on this occasion, delighting her audience. Miss Thayer's numbers were "An Irish Love Song," by Margaret Lang; "At Dawning" by Charles W. Cadman, Miss Myrtle Moorlin, of Portland, was the accompanist.

Following the program the hostess served an appetizing lunch.

Decorations were of daffodils.

Attending were Mrs. M. D. Latourette, Mrs. J. E. Hedges, Miss Muriel Stevens, Mrs. L. A. Henderson, Mrs. J. W. Moffatt, Mrs. John F. Clark, Mrs. S. O. Dillman, Mrs. Gilbert L. Hedges, Mrs. Matilda Charman, Mrs. Charles H. Canfield, Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mrs. William Krassig, Mrs. C. O. T. Williams, Mrs. H. E. Straight, Mrs. C. G. Miller and Mrs. Livy Stipp.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Myers, of Greenpoint, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary last Sunday evening by entertaining a few friends and relatives at dinner.

Those seated around the festive board were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Myers, Mrs. A. J. Ownby, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Eaton and son, Robert Jr., and Master Lloyd Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers received several beautiful pieces of silverware.

One of the events to be looked forward to with pleasure is the entertainment to be given at the auditorium of the West Linn high school Friday evening, March 25th, when Miss Jane Lindsay is in charge.

Miss Lindsay, a vocalist and reader of exceptional talent, has been responsible for many entertainments given at the West Linn high school during her connection with the faculty of that institution. The program arranged by Miss Lindsay will consist of solos, duets and choruses, with a dance by Miss Ruth Robinson.

Other features of the evening will be the solo and a reading by Miss Lindsay. Miss Lindsay is a pupil of George Natenson, of Portland, who is also to appear on the program, making his first appearance at that place.

"Rumpus on Olympus" is the subject of a pretty dance to be given by Grecian girls.

The Junior Class appearing on the program that evening, have taken much interest in the coming event.

New Era Couple Married March 17

The marriage of Miss Elsie A. Dietz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clements Dietz, of New Era, and Carl F. Schmeiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Schmeiser, also of New Era, were united in marriage on March 17th at the Lutheran church in Oregon City. The ceremony, which was performed at 2 o'clock by Rev. William Krabberger, was witnessed by only relatives and a few intimate friends. The impressive rite ceremony was used.

The maid of honor was Miss Meta Dietz, and the bride's maid was Miss Mary Schmeiser. William Dietz was best man.

Following the ceremony, a beautiful wedding dinner was enjoyed at the home of the bride's parents, when 75 people attended.

The Dietz home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and ferns.

After a short wedding trip the young couple will make their home on the ranch owned by the bridegroom on the Mohalla road.

Mr. Schmeiser and his bride are well known young people of the southern part of the county, where they have many friends.

When interviewed in the sheriff's office, the stranger claimed that he was preaching "a special brand of religion" and started into convert the two "cops" who arrested him. Considered to be harmless, he was allowed to depart on his way.

River Receding; Run of Salmon Not In

The Willamette river fell over five feet yesterday, and is rapidly falling. Owing to the recent heavy rains, the water gained considerable. It is expected that the river will have cleared up by Saturday if continued fair weather holds out. The Chinook salmon have not as yet commenced to run in the Willamette, although a few have been taken recently.
