SANDY DEPARTMENT

MRS. J. M. C. MILLER Correspondent

Teacher of Sandy Departs for East

SANDY, March 30.—The sudden departure of Miss Ruby Myers, grade principal of the Sandy school for the East last Sunday was a great surprise to the people here, but those knowing the state of Miss Myers health understand she was right when she said she could not stand the strain of her work any longer. However, she had no intention of leaving at once when she went to Oregon City on Saturday, as the report is she talked to Superintendent Vedder and was a guest of Mrs. Buckley, and did not tell them she was leaving until after going to Portland Sunday and seeing her physician, who advised her to go immediately, and as relatives were starting east that day Miss Myers joined them, leaving her effects here to be sent later.

Miss Myers is a fine teacher, her pupils advanced rapidly, as the county tests proved. Naturally the situation is somewhat distressing for the school board, but that matter can soon be adjusted, whereas a few days more of responsibility here might have been the "last straw" for Miss Myers as her nerves were near a state of collapse. Her friends here hope to hear she reached home safely and that rest and home will eventually restore her health.

Wednesday night April 6th will be the regular meeting of the Community Club. Many important things will come up. Please be present and with a pep pull together for a greater and better Jennings Lodge.

Services for Easter Are Held at Sandy

SANDY, March 28.—There was a full house at the Sunday evening Easter service at the Methodist church. Mrs. Bertha M. Pucell was the efficient organist, and also had charge of the splendid musical program. The Easter sermon was delivered by Rev. Earl Cotton, pastor, and the service was an excellent one in every particular. The decorations were beautiful, daffodils in profusion, iridiums, ferns, and even carnations made the altar attractive indeed. A large lily was loaned by Mrs. W. A. Proctor for the occasion. The program was as follows: Voluntary, Mrs. Bertha Pucell; Duet sweetly sung by Mrs. Esson and daughter Dorothy; song by congregation; soprano solo, Miss Opal Selby, (pupil of Mrs. Pucell) who rendered "Breaking of the Day" ver acceptably; responsive reading; baritone solo, "Jerusalem," was splendidly sung by Rev. Earl Cotton who was also accompanied by Mrs. Pucell; Offertory, Mrs. Bertha Pucell; anthem, "Hallelujah! Christ is Risen!" Easter sermon. Announcements, hymns. Both church and the song service are becoming quite popular, the audiences increasing from time to time.

The Kelo woman's club had an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Dock Hite a few days ago, the ladies doing sewing during the afternoon.

The Cottrell Parent Teacher will have a fine time at their meeting tonight, (April 1st). Mrs. H. H. Watkins is in charge of program. The P. T. there changes both program and refreshment committee for each meeting.

There were no basketball games this week seemed rather tame! It is hoped there will be no more sickness so the games can be on in another week.

The Orient Grange circus which made such a big hit recently at the Orient hall will be given at the Dockwood grange hall at Saturday April 2. The proceeds being divided between the two granges.

J. C. Duke says he used to make heaved ties for M. Michael, the man who has been pruning orchards around here. Mr. Duke went to Dayton, when he first came to Oregon and the heaved ties were used on the old narrow gauge that went through Lafayette. Duke and Michael met recently for the first time since those days.

Sandy is surely getting on the map! Now comes a twice-daily stage line all the way from Portland.

Will Updegrave, Sandy's "chronic worker" will soon have his lawn in grass. Some folks wonder if "Bill" ever sleeps.

Some heavy touring cars made the round trip from Portland to Government Camp Sunday and used no chains at all. The road from Sandy was said to be in good shape, especially where the government gravel work was done.

With the advent of sunshine the first of the week things began to hum and everybody seemed to be trying to get the "early worm."

This town will be a veritable beehive when the actual work on the highway begins and everybody who knocks the home town will be sorry they "said it."

George Beers was the "management" that gave the home dance Saturday night. A small crowd but that was as expected being Lent, but "they" had a fine time. George played first violin himself.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Allen and Doris spent Easter in Portland where they attended the Easter service of their church, St. Paul's Episcopal. They also attended the concert given by the Rebekah Ladies band at the Odd Fellow's home near Kenilworth, and were entertained by friends at dinner Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perret enjoyed the Easter service at the First United Presbyterian church in Portland Sunday. Little George Albert was christened during the service. The Perret's drove home after an enjoyable visit with Mrs. Perret's home folks, Sunday evening.

The Haight family of Portland, relatives of the Watkins family, drove out from Portland Sunday in two cars to spend the day.
