

FARMERS POOL NEAR 23,000,000 BUSHELS WHEAT

SPOKANE, Wash., March 30.—The Washington and Idaho Wheat Growers' association have signed up 17,000,000 bushels of the 1920 wheat market in the two states to pool for market it was announced Tuesday by Bruce Lampson, organizer for the associations. This is an increase of 1,000,000 during the last two weeks. Mr. Lampson announced that 6,000,000 more bushels have been signed up in Oregon and Montana to add to the Pacific northwest amount, making a total of 23,000,000 bushels in this district. The farmers are still signing contracts to sell their 1921 wheat through the association, despite the fact that little effort has been made to secure more wheat in Washington and Idaho since April 1, said Mr. Lampson Tuesday. "A number of our organizers have gone to Oregon to help get the growers of that state organized," Mr. Lampson stated that the following Washington men are now signing up farmers in Oregon: E. L. Ludwick, Clay Barnes, Stanley Brown, De Witt Barnes and H. O. Barnes.

Salmon Taken from Nets and Eaten by Seals

MARSHFIELD, Or., March 30.—On the lower Umpqua river the fishing interests have been obliged to take drastic measures to rid the water of seals which according to reports, were eating what few salmon were being caught in the gill-nets. The fishermen said they were catching a few salmon, but when their nets were drawn the seals always had been first at the feast and nothing usually was left but the heads of the fish. Peter Moran, J. A. Zachary and Percy Glasser set at work to lessen the pest with powder sufficient to blast the river at intervals of every quarter mile, from the Southern Pacific railroad bridge to the ocean, a distance of eight or nine miles.

FANS HIGHLY PLEASUED OVER GOOD CARD

Fans certainly received their money's worth last night at the Milwaukee arena, when practically ever bout on the card was A-1. The main event, Frankie Murphy vs. Shade was a classy affair and after rounds of hard miling by both fighters, the decision was given to Shade. Johnny Flske and Ted Merideth put up a fine go, with the decision being given to Flske. The special event between Baby Blue and Mike Dempsey the k. o. boy started with Blue refusing to go the six rounds as advertised. In spite of the protest of the management, Blue would only go four rounds with Dempsey. The first round Blue went down for the count of nine; after that he kept away from Dempsey's heavy arm. The decision was given to Dempsey. Mackie won from Zimmerman, and Martin won over Webb.

Married Women Will Lose Jobs at Olympia, Wash.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 30.—Married women, whose husbands are in a position to support them, will no longer appear on the payroll of the department of labor and industries, according to State Industrial Insurance Commissioner Gill. On April 1 the industrial insurance commission, state board of labor commissioners, state safety board and medical aid board will all function under one head as the department of labor and industries. Ed Clifford, director of labor and industries, is understood to be of the opinion that married women whose husbands are financially caring for them should retreat from the business field and make way for single women, married men and single men, who need the positions as a means of livelihood.

KEEPING MOLES AWAY

For all the clean bill given the mole by the Department of Agriculture, we know that he is the cause of whole rows of peas, corn and other crops falling to come up. Whether these animals actually eat the seeds or merely tear up the rows, hunting insects doesn't matter—the seed doesn't come up. A remedy declared effective comes up. It is to suspend a bottle by a cord, and also a piece of tin four or five inches square, also by a cord, so that the two are about six inches apart. The slightest breeze will blow them together, and this constant jangling will, it is claimed, keep the moles scared away, as their hearing is very acute. Set up the tins and bottles every twenty or thirty feet. It seems worth trying.

Romance of the Livery Stable

Farmers who drive horses are complaining that in some towns there is no longer any livery stable where they can put up the old nag when they drive in. The time was when a livery stable was a great social institution. When young men wished to win the favor of the belles of the town, the first thing was to invite them for a Sunday afternoon or evening drive. Strict moralists viewed these excursions with some disfavor. One man went so far as to say that no man ever went buggy riding with a girl with proper motives, but public sentiment never sustained that point of view. In many moderate sized towns, there would be several stables each of which would have 50 or 60 horses champing away and switching their tails while waiting for some amorous swain or commercial traveller who might desire their services. A fellow who wanted to take his best girl out on a Sunday afternoon, needed to speak for a beast at least a week ahead. The present is sometimes called a horseless age. But a great many more horses are being used than some people think. The Ohio census of 1920, for instance, showed 810,692 of them on the farms of that state alone, not counting those used in cities and towns for trucking and pleasure purposes. Old Dobbin is not dead yet. Breeders and dealers are confident that horses are more effective at certain kinds of work than any automotive machine can be. Your best girl may want an automobile now, and the Johnny on the spot salesman will perhaps demand the gas buggy. Some livery stables have been changed into garages. Others still flourish, and enjoy reminiscences of the old days. They still serve as hang-outs for those who enjoy good horseflesh and like to hear the cheerful stamp and merry whinny of a barnful of steeds. The horse served man faithfully for 5000 years before Henry Ford appeared on this planet.

SANDY

(Continued from Page 6.) to attend the session of his own home grange. Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Carson and little one of Roseburg were visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher of Firwood for a week or two, returning this week. Frank Beers was in town after his daughter Alta who went home to spend the week end. Platt's have moved their tables and made attractive changes in their dining room the past week. Frank Lenhart is riding around now with "Lizzie," and Tom Hale also has a new Lizzie. Both of these Fords came from Perret's. Frank Canning has moved from the Marmot country to the home of his father, F. W. Canning, of Kelso. The Webber Shingle mill is in action again at Cherryville and they are turning them out "by the thousand." The telephone booth has been moved to the back part of the Christensen "goodies" store, which will be better all around. J. M. C. Miller purchased one of the Jocelyn cows a few days ago, which will be a good "veal mother." Mr. Jocelyn is going into the Durco Jersey hog raising more extensively. Henry Perret had a service call up at Rhododendron last Sunday to look after a car with a broken axle. The Jonsrud and Gunderson mill has been running intermittently of late, but with settled weather it will start up full blast, as will many other industries that have been held in check by this record-breaking winter.

SANDY SCHOOL NEWS.

SANDY, March 30.—The Boring H. H. H. cooking club gave a party for the sewing and pie clubs last week at the home of L. H. Mallicoat the local leader of the pie club. Miss Ada Farmer, Boring primary teacher and local leader of the cooking club supervised the evening's program. The cooking girls decorated the house beautifully with Oregon grape, daffodils and paper hangings. The girls all wore white caps with H. H. H. inscribed on the band. The officers of the cooking club are Buna Child, president; Emma Gregson, vice-president; Dorothy Purpoe, secretary. Other members of the club are Gertrude Naas, Marguerite and Gertrude Duosteler, Evelyn Seifer, Marguerite Gastenbeln, Mildred Dreisel and Miss Hosberg. Games and music were furnished by these wide awake girls and a plate supper was served by the cooking club, then more games were played and when the "partysists" started home everyone remarked what a good time they had! Miss Crum took charge of Miss Myers room last Monday and Miss Vera Moxter taught in the primary. Mrs. Lilly has been engaged to teach, definite arrangements having been made for her to complete the term. Hazel Beers, a senior in the high school, has been bothering with a miserable cold this week, that cannot be easily thrown aside. Parent Teacher meetings are all go now! There was one at the Victory school house recently also, Mrs. Foth is the president and had charge of the program. Miss Eunice Jonsrud was in the Spectrum staff picture in the Oregonian last week. Eunice is in the poetry department and is another girl from this section to be proud of. Mary Janker is getting along just fine and may be able to leave the hospital this week, which is good news to her many, many friends. She is naturally anxious to get home. Miss Ruth Crum did not go to Portland this week end but had a delightful trip up the mountains on Sunday. Gertrude and Alfred Meinig, Ned and Harry Mitchell all left Monday for the O. A. C. after a happy Easter vacation at home.

SALEM, Or., March, 30.—Senators A. W. Norblad and Colon R. Eberhard, and Representatives J. N. Johnson, Barge E. Leonard and Phillip Hammond are signers of the official affirmative argument on the soldier bonus bill on which the people will vote June 7. The argument is prepared for the voters' pamphlet. Under this bill ex-service men are offered the alternative of accepting $15 a month for the time actually served, not to exceed $600, or loans up to $4000. The loans would cover a period of forty years and draw interest at 6 per cent.

JUDGE ORDERS MAN RELEASED: JURY CONVICTS

CHICAGO, March 30.—Despite almost specific instructions of Judge Joseph David, a jury in his court yesterday found Ben Smith, negro, guilty of an offense against a 16-year-old white boy. The judge set the verdict aside, as he had told the jurors he would do so if a verdict of guilty was found, declaring the evidence insufficient. "You evidently think you know more about the law than the court," the judge said to the jury. "We do," the foreman said.

A large number of taxpayers also attended the meeting, held at the courthouse, and the bond issue was almost unanimously approved, only two or three dissenting.
