Woman Sues Former Husband

Sarah E. Jones has entered suit in the circuit court here against her former husband, James P. Jones, to obtain judgment in the sum of $650, alleged due her as back alimony from the defendant. She alleges in her complaint filed that when she secured a divorce from Jones, the court ordered him to pay her $10 per month for the maintenance and support of their seven children. She further alleges that since 1915 Jones has not made the payments, and asks the court for the back money alleged due her.

Society

The marriage of Miss Martha U. McLarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy McLarty, to Forrest Dale Smith, of Portland, occurred Saturday evening, March 26th, at the family home at Bolton, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The bride was attended by Miss Eileen Nixon, and the bridegroom by Matthew McLarty.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Isa Johnson, sister of the bride, sang "Because."

The bridal party entered the room to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Mrs. John Lowry.

Under an archway of ivy, daffodils and Easter lilies, set in moss and yellow violets, the bride was given away by her father, Rev. Willis E. Pettibone read the impressive ring ceremony, which united the bride and groom.

During the social hour following the ceremony refreshments were served. The bride was the recipient of a large number of beautiful and useful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for Portland, and will make their home in that city.

The Derthick Club met at the home of Mrs. M. D. Latourette Friday afternoon, with Mrs. Latourette and Mrs. B. T. McBain, of Portland, as hostesses. This proved one of the most enjoyable and instructive meetings of the club.

The reader of the afternoon was Mrs. J. F. Clark, whose subject was "History of Music in France," and Miss Green, of Portland, an accomplished harp, gave a number of selections on the harp. These included "Autumn," by Thomas; "Dance of the Gnomes," by Rogers; "Wooden Shoe Dance," by Rogers; and "Valse Caprice." The selections were beautifully rendered, and was highly appreciated by the members of the club, who were fortunate enough to be present.

Miss Green's charming personality won the hearts of her audience. As this was her first appearance in Oregon City as a harpist, the time is being looked forward to when an opportunity will be given Derthick members to list to another such program as was rendered Friday. Fol gave a brief history of the harp, which was instructive and interesting.

Mrs. Clark's reading was also instructive, and was in part as follows: "Berlioz, the French composer, received some little instruction in music when a boy, learning to play on the flageolet, flute and guitar, his father believing in music as an accomplishment. By himself he made some study of harmony. His father sent him to the Medical school in Paris, hoping to make a physician of him, but the Academy of Music saw more of him than the Medical School. Berlioz took to haunting the Conservatory library spending his days in the study of Gluck's scores.

"Again an d'Again Berlioz tried for the Prize of Rome. The third time of trial he won the second prize. The fifth trial won the coveted prize with the cantata "La Mort de Sardanapale."

"Among his best works are "The Requiem," "Le Te Deum"; the dramatic legend, "La Damnation de Faust"; the grand opera, "Benvenuto Cellini"; the opera, "Les Troyens." His chief compositions are the overture "Le Carnaval Romain," and the symphony, "Romeo and Juliette."

"In 1852 he was appointed librarian of the Conservatory which he held to his death. He died in Paris and was laid to rest with stately pomp and ceremony."

The program was followed by refreshments.
