Mr. Gribble has an order for 35,000 baby chicks, having already shipped 25,000 so far this season. These have been shipped to Washington and California and many sections of Oregon. Fourteen incubators, each having a capacity of 540 eggs, are arranged so that there is a hatching season, and as a result there are 2500 baby chicks making their way from the eggs every Wednesday. So far this season Mr. Gribble has found that the eggs he has placed in the incubators have gone 80 per cent in hatching.

There are 1400 laying hens on the Gribble farm that are supplying the fourteen incubators with eggs. Mr. Gribble makes a specialty in showing visitors around the poultry farm, which is one of the most modern in the Northwest.

Road Is Improved Near Elks Prairie

ELK PRAIRIE, April 12.—In spite of the weather's vary moods, the people of Elk Prairie accepted the kind invitation which had been extended to the club by Mr. and Mrs. F. Joplin to meet in their home. The invitation was greatly appreciated by the Elk Prairie people for their former meeting place was not comfortable in winter weather. While the Joplin home had been built with a view of coziness as well as of a size to accommodate their many friends. When Mr. and Mrs. Joplin built their homestead home last summer, they took especial pains to lay a floor which would be a pleasure for dancing.

A number of topics of especial interest to this vicinity were discussed.

Mrs. Joplin has used much of her artistic talent in painting a beautiful collection of China. The pieces were of the best grade possible to obtain then her work has added much to their value. Besides her own collection, Mrs. Joplin has painted some beautiful pieces for others. Her husband presented her with a kiln, to aid her in her work in her Portland home.

Mrs. Lawler, who has been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Joplin since Christmas, has gone to Portland to visit relatives and friends. Mrs. Joplin accompanied her daughter. Mr. Lawler is a contractor having charge of the work on the Hetch-Hetchy Dam which is to aid in supplying San Francisco with water.

Mrs. Lawler will join her husband soon and later in the summer, expects to visit the Yosemite Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Yakubec, formerly of Oregon City, have filed on a homestead in the Elk Prairie. They have a little son, who is not yet two years of age. Mrs. Dumone, Mrs. Yakubec's mother-in-law living with her daughter. Mr. Yakubec, who is working in Portland, spent Sunday with his family. Messrs. Perret, formerly of Yakubec, but for the last year, residing in the Maple Grove District, have sold their homesteads, and have returned to their former homes. Mrs. Perret accompanied her sons.

One of the best pieces of road improvement was in front of Mr. Schirman's place, formerly known as the Shandy place. Mr. Schirman and sons slashed and did much other work toward straightening the road across their place. Members of Elk Prairie Community Club who joined in the work were Frank Rossmann, Ted Gray, Laurence Sloate, Billy Schirman, Wilbur Snider, Chas. Tidd, Mr. Batties. Those who also brought their teams were Vane Henness, C. K. Thomas, and R. Joplin. The new road is on higher ground and leaves one long mud hole out of the trip entirely. Mr. Henness purchased a team this spring and is improving his place. Mr. Henness had better garden on his ranch, than some of their friends did in the world famous Willamette valley.

Albert Batties bought an extra horse this spring to help do his farming. Mr. Batties expects to farm a large meadow, that has been famous in this part of the country for years, on account of its rich feeding ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Shlits have moved to Scotts Mills. Mr. Shlits was a director, while his wife was clerk of school district No. 13, which has jurisdiction of the Coal Creek school which is near their home, and also the Elk Prairie school, which is a number of miles away. An election was held in the Coal Creek school, at which Jay Jones was elected clerk, but he did not qualify as to bonds so a new election was called for Saturday.

Roland Rader, who is teaching the Elk Prairie school, made a business trip to Oregon City in behalf of business concerning the schools. Mr. Rader is also a tax payer, having lived in this vicinity for many years.

While the Elk Prairie school is held in a temporary building, it is now, clear and cozy. A great deal has been accomplished there in the past four months, the length of time that the school has been open, under Mr. Rader's teaching. The people of Elk Prairie are very decided in expressing their desire to have Mr. Rader to continue to teach the school.

D. B. Gray reports that of the first thirty nannies to bring in kids this spring, there were eighteen pairs of twins. The Grays take extra good care of their flock at this time so their loss has been extremely light. Former County Agent Scott took pictures of this flock last year.

Mother Gray started on horse-back to attend the last community meeting but soon decided that the old fashioned method was better, and made record time in walking six miles and no one would have guessed it by the way she danced and played.

It is said that an ex-soldier who is now attending college, has bought Mr. Rolland's place. Mr. and Mrs. Rolland came to this place two years ago to make their home. After much improvement upon their place their plans were broken by the sudden death of Mrs. Rolland, following an operation in a Portland hospital. Mrs. Rolland had been a teacher in a Business College, a notary public, and a rancher and had made warm friends of her new neighbors in this neighborhood.

C. K. Thomas made a business trip to Molalla, a few days ago.

POSTMASTER ASKS PUBLIC COOPERATION

Assistant Postmaster Howell has asked the patrons of the Oregon City postoffice to cooperate with the local force in the matter of mailing slides. Mailing during the early morning and afternoon clears the way for more expeditious handling and dispatch of the important evening mails, and Mr. Howell asks the public to help the local postoffice force in this matter. Congestion of heavy mails during the night slows up the department the next morning in handling the important matter in the afternoons.

At a meeting of the Clackamas County Pomona Grange, held at New Era Wednesday, that body unanimously adopted a resolution favoring a $5 poll tax to be paid by every able-bodied person in Clackamas county between the ages of 21 and 50 years. The resolution was recommended by Harvey G. Starkweather and Geo. G. Randall, master of the grange, and G. V. Adias. The resolution as adopted Wednesday, follows:

The state of Washington is going after the loganberry industry of which Oregon now has 85 per cent. From Marion county there has been shipped this winter 2,000,000 loganberry plants, mostly to northern Washington. On a basis of 850 plants to the acre, this means more than 3000 acres which will be in commercial bearing in two years. Oregon is credited in government reports with 5500 acres. C. I. Lewis, of the Oregon Growers' Cooperative association estimates that within a few years there will be 10,000 acres of bearing loganberries in Oregon. On an average of 3000 pounds to the acre, this would mean a crop of 30,000,000 pounds.

W. P. HAWLEY, JR. TO ERECT HUGE WIRELESS PLANT

One of the best and largest amateur wireless stations in the country has been contracted for by Willard Hawley, Jr., to be erected on the Hawley property on lower Main street. The plant will be constructed under the direction of a radio engineer of Portland, and built next to the Hawley Pulp & Paper Co.'s office. Not only will the radio have equipment for wireless telegraphic facilities, but a telephone wireless attachment is also included, and from the latter one can hear bands, musical concerts, or addresses taking place 1000 miles away just as plainly as if they were being staged outside of the room.

Messages can be received over the proposed wireless from any part of the world, and the transmitting distance will be 1000 miles, the distance allowed by the government for amateur plants. A generator, producing 1000 volts will furnish current for the wires, and the towers will be 120 feet in height and the wires will be stretched from the towers to the bluff opposite the Hawley offices.

Mr. Hawley, Jr., who has taken up wireless as a hobby, promises some novel features in the way of entertainment as soon as the wireless plant is finished. Included will be musical concerts played in Los Angeles transmitted over the wireless telephone to the Hawley building here, and which can be plainly heard in every part of the Hawley offices. Not only this, but wireless telephone messages can be heard 1000 miles away and transmitted over the regular telephone lines of the city by connecting the radio with the instrument at this end.

It is the intention of Mr. Hawley to stage an entertainment for the benefit of the school students of the Oregon City when special concerts played by moving picture musicians at Los Angeles will be transmitted over the wireless telephone to the plant here and through the regular telephone connections to the high school auditorium.

The plant will be finished in about two months, and a crew of experts will start construction soon. When completed, Mr. Hawley, who is no novice at the game, will stage several novel stunts for the benefit of his friends and Oregon City citizens.
