CAR PLUNGES IN RIVER; ANDERSON NEARLY DROWNS

Dr. G. A. Anderson, local business man, narrowly escaped drowning on Wednesday evening when the automobile he was driving crashed over a 35 foot bank of the Clackamas river and plunged into ten feet of water. Mr. Anderson was able to swim to the shore after the plunge and received only a few bruises and scratches from the accident.

Dr. Anderson was driving towards his home at Gladstone about 7:30 p. m. and as he neared the Tuft's place by the big maple tree on the highway, familiar to motorists, his machine skidded. Anderson quickly made an effort to right the machine but owing to a defective steering gear, the car could not be straightened out and headed for the bank of the Clackamas river. The machine went over the 35 foot embankment and turned twice over before reaching the river, where it submerged in ten feet of water. Anderson went down with the car and after extracting himself from the steering wheel swam to shore. Several motorists in the vicinity, who witnessed the accident, rushed to his assistance and met him as he arrived at the bank.

The automobile was recovered from the river Thursday morning and outside of partially wrecking the hood and a few other details of the mechanism, the car was not damaged to any great extent. It is now in operation.

In telling of the accident yesterday afternoon, Dr. Anderson was inclined to view the near tragedy in a humorous light and made the remark that it was "his baptism." He alleges, however, that if he had not stayed with the car and jumped, he would have been killed or strangled so that he would have drowned when he hit the river.

"STORY OF OPAL" LIVE TOPIC AT WOMAN'S CLUB

"The Story of Opal," proved one of the liveliest topics that ever came before the Oregon City Woman's club. Mrs. H. W. Paine reviewed the book itself followed by Mrs. John S. Sibby, who knew Opal as a girl at Cottage Grove. Other speakers were Mrs. D. C. Latourette and Mrs. C. H. Dye, all of whom agreed that Opal is a girl of marvelous imagination, whose parents may have been. Some items not hitherto published were brought out, that photographs purporting to be those of her father and grandfather were received by Elbert Bede and seem to indicate that some day the mystery of her origin may be solved. Her trip to Boston was financed by a daughter of the late Professor Condon. Oregon's most noted scientist and in Boston she was taken into the home of the editor of the Atlantic Monthly who brought out her famous book. This last summer Opal was taken to the White Mountains by one of the most noted families of Boston, "With Fairy shoes her feet are shod."

A delightful talk on "Oregon's Wild Flowers," was given by Mrs. Jeanette Scott, and a review of Upton Sinclair's book, "King Coal," was given by Miss Gertrude Humphrey, both of which were a distinct credit to the high standard of the Woman's club. All agreed to attend the lecture to be given here May 14, by Oregon's most famous son, Edwin Markham. It was explained the poet knows nothing about the circumstances more than that he has been invited to Oregon and that expenses from New York and back have been guaranteed. He is in the hands of his friends. He is an elderly man and is not wealthy or he would have come here long ago. Oregon City will show every honor and attention to the author of "The Man With the Hoe," who was born here on her river shore nearly seventy years ago.

NOT GUILTY. JURY'S VERDICT IN FISH CASE

George McKinnis and Carl Lindgren, arrested by fish wardens and accused of fishing for salmon on the Willamette river here one hour and ten minutes before sunrise, were found not guilty in the justice court yesterday afternoon, after Judge Noble instructed the jury to bring in the verdict owing to lack of evidence against the two men.

Quite a crowd of local fishermen and others were attracted to the trial and the jury returned the verdict without leaving the jury box. Chas. Sifers, of the law firm of Brownell & Sifers, handled the defense of the accused men.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Bertha Mary Parker has entered suit for divorce from Lloyd Parker on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, according to the complaint filed Saturday. They were married at Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 18, 1909. Two minor children are involved, which the plaintiff asks the court to allow her the custody of.

ELKS ANNUAL SALMON FEED HUGE SUCCESS

The Oregon City Elks held their 1921 salmon barbecue in the local temple last night with about two hundred "Bills" gathered around the festive board. The banquet was timed for 8:30 o'clock, but owing to the heavy attendance the affair did not convene until close to 7:00 and the long tables loaded down with the famous Willamette river Chinooks brought the sparkle to the eyes of the hungry Elks assembled.

The affair not only brought out the local "Bills" in full force, but several distinguished Elks from afar were present, including Captain Charles Barclay, recently of the Philippine Islands and captain of a large inter-island transport, and Brother John Brownlee, of Saginaw, Mich., recently returned from South America and other European travels.

Henry Henningson, exalted ruler presided at the tables and toasts were responded to by Judge Ryan, E. J. Noble, O. D. Eby, Phillip Hammond, Ex-Exalted Ruler Don James, Capt. Barclay, of Manila, Dr. Clyde Mount and Grant B. Dimick. After the banquet the brothers assembled in the lodge rooms and after the regular ceremonies of the lodge, were dispensed with, the "pep" committee put on a program of entertainment that was a "knock-out" from every angle.

PUPILS OF CITY SCHOOLS MUST BE VACCINATED

Under explicit orders from the office of the city health officer, the pupils of the city schools will have to undergo vaccination or be barred from attendance at school, unless they have been vaccinated within the last seven years. Two cases of smallpox have appeared in the school, one a girl in the sixth grade at the Barclay building, and the other a boy in the first grade of the Eastham. After receiving the instructions from the health department Friday afternoon, the school board held a special meeting and adopted the following resolution:

"The city superintendent is instructed to announce on Monday morning, May 2, that inasmuch as there is reason to fear an epidemic of smallpox, that those who have not been vaccinated within seven years, shall be vaccinated before returning to school, and inasmuch as the law plainly states that city health boards and county health boards shall provide free vaccination for persons desiring it, it is plainly mandatory upon them, and those who present themselves to these officials willing to be vaccinated have complied with the provisions of the law."

ROBBERS GET CHILDS BANK, SUIT CLOTHES

During the absence of Mrs. Robert Goodfellow and Dr. L. A. Morris and his family, their home was entered Thursday evening, and the best suit of clothes of Dr. Morris and a bank owned by his little eight-year-old son, Bobby, containing $5, was stolen.

The robbers entered the Morris home by way of a rear window between 6:30 and 9 o'clock and every room was entered and ransacked. Bureau drawers showed that the robbers were after money, for a small purse owned by Mrs. Goodfellow was taken from a drawer and after being searched was thrown on the floor. The attic was visited by the thieves, where the old family cat had taken refuge in her fright, as she was left in the kitchen by the family when leaving for Portland.

Burned matches in large quantities were found scattered over the floors of the rooms on the first and second floors of the attic and the family are congratulating themselves that their home was not burned by the matches thrown on the floor.

Friday morning, Dr. Morris was summoned to the telephone by a resident of Fourteenth street, saying he has found a check book bearing his name. This was in the suit of clothes that was stolen, with other papers, and it is probable that the robbers had thrown the book away after reaching that section. Search was made for other papers, but so far they have not been found.

Gun Flourished at Officers Gets Girl in Trouble

PORTLAND, April 29.—Mrs. Mary Hobson, whose 17-year-old daughter, Fern, was said to have threatened with a loaded revolver officers of the women's protective division of the police department, was fined $250 Thursday by Judge Kanzler of the court of domestic relations.

Mrs. Sophie King and Mrs. Carrie Turner of the women's protective division testified Thursday that when they called at the Hobson home, 401 East Eleventh street, to investigate charges relating to Fern's conduct, that she brandished the loaded weapon in their faces. The mother was fined Thursday on the charge of encouraging her daughter to resist an officer. Fern told the officers that her mother had advised her to use the gun to protect herself from anyone who came to the house. The officers did not enter the house against the girl's will, they said, because she had not invited them to come in.

The daughter is under the care of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd.

GETS $1100
The case of Vogel vs. Parrett, involving a land lease for property in the Damascus neighborhood was continued in the circuit court here yesterday. The jury returned a verdict for $1100 in favor of the plaintiff.

And Queerest of All Was a Winsome Lass Disguised As a Man

Dressed in overalls, heavy shoes, man's coat and with a cap pulled down over her eyes, a woman who gave her name as Gloria Darning was picked up on Main street here Friday morning about 1:45 by Special Officer Mass and turned over to the night police for safe-keeping. The girl was pretty, and with a voice as feminine as could possibly be, said she was a man. When closely questioned, she later acknowledged that she was a woman, and alleged that she came here from Portland and was on her way "south." In the city jail rooms she talked freely to the officers and said that she was 20 years of age, and had been married twice and divorced that many times in her young life. She further contended that one of her husbands died and the other got a divorce. Following several questions put to her, she contradicted herself upon the latter statements quite frequently, and when asked if she was served with a divorce summons at the time of her divorce from the last husband, she replied that she had not—that her mother-in-law in Ogden, Utah, had told her that she was legally separated from her husband.

The young woman claimed that she has been on the road for three years and has been in the cities of Ogden, Utah; Kansas City, Mo.; Edmonton, Canada, Portland and other Washington towns.

The girl was very pretty, but in her disguise and when picked up almost frozen and hungry, presented a sorry sight. The overalls fit her in places and the large man's coat that she wore prevented her form from showing the girlish lines that undoubtedly she possessed. Her hair was bobbed short—a haircut she claimed she received at the hands of a barber at Huntington, Ore., four days ago. She told the barber that she was tired of long hair and wanted it cut like a man's.

"I've always wanted to be a man," she exclaimed to the officers, "and the only way for me to be one is to don men's clothing and act like one."

When accosted by Officer Mass last night the officer said to her: "Hello, headed south?"

"Yes, sir," she came back at him in a weak imitation of a man's bass voice.

"Well, well," said the officer, "you must be a woman."

"I'm not," the girl replied, "I'm a man," and as she stood there in the street shivering from the cold, the evidence was all against her and she was placed out of harm's way close to the fire in the city jail until Night Officers Wagonblast and Johnson could get over the shock and arrange matters for her comfort.

About 8:00 o'clock Friday morning she was given a good breakfast and released by Chief of Police Hadley, and the last chief saw of her she was hiking it down the railroad tracks towards Canby.

GERMANS LIKE YANKS; FEAR THE FRENCH

COBLENZ, May 3.—The Germans of Coblenz have been speculating with deep interest on the possible effect of the Knox resolution in congress declaring that a state of war no longer exists between America and Germany.

Whether the adoption of that resolution will cause the withdrawal of the American forces in Germany has been the main subject of discussion in the German press of the occupied territories.

The correspondent, after interviewing the most representative Germans of all classes in Coblenz, can say that to the majority of Germans here the withdrawal of the Americans would be regarded as regrettable.

In administrative and political circles they have been living in dire fear of the French taking over the area which would be abandoned by the Americans. "If we must have occupation, let it be American," is the consensus of opinion.

Among tradesmen and shopkeepers the feeling of regret would be unanimous. "The tailor next door has become a millionaire," said the book store proprietor with mingled feeling of admiration and envy, to the correspondent. "That book store man is reaping a paper mark harvest," was the way the tailor put it.

There is only one class of the population which looks upon the presence of American soldiers darkly. They are the young men who did not participate in the late war. Between them and the average doughboy there is no love lost and no fraternization. From time to time there are even a few clashes. The doughboy has it that the young German is jealous of the former's popularity with the frauleins. Others who look deeper say the larger cause is that these young men relatively have not suffered from the war and they are looking to the future in a spirit of revenge.

Linn County Grange Resolves To Recall Court

ALBANY, Or., May 3.—A resolution favoring the recall of the members of the Linn county court was adopted by the Linn county Pomona grange at its session Saturday at the Fairmount grange hall in North Albany. The matter came before the Pomona grange, which is composed of members of the various granges of the county, upon a resolution adopted a few days ago by the Grand Prairie grange, which is composed of farmers residing east of this city.

Reports of the discussion of the resolution at Saturday's meeting indicated that the members of the grange favored the recall of the members of the court because of the present condition of Linn county finances. It was discovered recently that the court in its expenditures had exceeded the amount limited by law, and that because the court had issued warrants in excess of its resources and had limited 6 per cent increase, and had thus incurred more indebtedness than the law permits, that several thousand dollars worth of warrants now outstanding are void.

Complaint was made against some members of the court because they adopted a policy of road work which resulted in tearing up a great many roads preparatory to permanent improvement, and leaving them in that condition; in other words, that the court undertook far more road work than it could finish and hence that many roads have been left in a torn-up condition or else graded and not graded which makes them impassible in winter.

There have been rumors of recall talk for the past two or three weeks here, but this is the first time it has reached any concrete form.

JUDGE MAKES PLEA FOR MT. HOOD LOOP

PORTLAND, June 29.—A plea for early completion of the Mount Hood loop highway, with special emphasis on its necessity for commercial and pleasure traffic, was a feature presented by Judge Jacob Kanzler of the court of domestic relations before the East Side Business Men's club Monday dinner and social Wednesday night.

Ed H. Baker, Oregon photographer, presented a series of pictures portraying the "steepest Skyline trail." A committee was appointed to work with similar committees of the state toward the preservation of natural playground facilities and beauty spots of the state and to urge the reforestation of the state timbered tracts. A musical program was followed by a dance.

TWO SENTENCED
William Boerner and Clyde Valliere, convicted by a circuit jury for violating the fish laws of the Willamette here a few days ago, were sentenced Saturday by Judge Campbell. Valliere was given a suspended sentence of six months in jail, subject to good behavior and fined $50 and costs. Boerner was fined $50 and costs.

54 PER CENT OF CLACKAMAS TAX PAID IN

Out of the total 1920 tax roll for Clackamas county, about 54 per cent already has been paid in to the tax department, according to figures compiled yesterday by L. D. Taylor, chief tax collector. The amount collected for the first half totals $812,000 up to April 5th, which ended the first half period. The total 1920 tax to be collected for the year 1921 amounts to $1,512,000 and the amount paid in, as above stated, is remarkable, considering the higher taxes this year and which averages more than last year at this time.

THE MIRACLE. I vowed I'd never, never learn To cook or brew or bake; I'd shun the mysteries of pie, The seroceries of cake.

"'Twould be a bore to wash an shrimp And range the willow ware; Though pots and pans were spotless who Would notice, who would care?"

My life was planned on lofty lines. And housework was taboo— And then, behold! a miracle Was wrought by Love—and You.

Farmer at Yakima Arrested for Murder Committed in South

YAKIMA, Wash., May 3.—After living a blameless life here for two years, William Palmer Tilton farmer was arrested Sunday just as he was putting his horses in the barn, and is now in the county jail awaiting transportation to his former home in Gato City, W. Va., to answer the charge of murder of Obar Chapman there in 1915. Palmer has a wife and five children. He was traced through having, about a year ago, signed a deed in conveying some Virginia property to one of his relatives.

Palmer, a quiet appearing man, who has been much respected by his neighbors here, concedes that he is a "regular wildcat" when aroused. Jailor C. A. Davis said that Palmer admitted the killing to him, and began talking about it before he had been told what the officers wanted him for. Chapman, the prisoner said, was shot while he was trying to attack him following a poker game which resulted in a fight over the proceeds. He will waive extradition, putting up a plea of self-defense.

Palmer left Soate City at once after the shooting. After being in the northwest for a couple of years he was joined by his family. His wife is sticking by him, and as the prisoner said, "Oh, my wife and me is pais. She wouldn't leave me nohow."

Palmer anticipated that his father, who he said is comparatively wealthy, also will come to his aid. The arrest was made by Sheriff Bear and his deputy, Archie Goins, who have been working on the case for some time.

Resigns As Head Of National Irish Relief Committee

NEW YORK, May 3.—Because of urgent personal business, Captain John F. Lucey, national director of the financial campaign of the American committee for relief in Ireland withdrew yesterday from active participation in the effort and resigned as director.

"Business obligations make it absolutely necessary for me to be in Canada and Mexico during the next several weeks," said Captain Lucey, "and I want to leave the committee free to have a man at the head of the work who can be on the job every day."

"I have been much impressed with the evident desire of this committee to conduct its money raising without political propaganda and along the most dignified lines. If I were in position to continue my share of responsibility for its program, I would do so."

RETRIAL OF HENRY ALBERS IS ORDERED

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—Retrial of Henry Albers, rich Portland miller, whose conviction under the Espionage act was set aside by the United States supreme court a few days ago on the technicality that the lower court erred in refusing to admit a duly interposed demurrer, will be ordered at once, the solicitor general announced Tuesday.

New Night 'Cop' Put On Monday

W. W. May has succeeded Arthur Johnson on the night police force of this city and took up his duties Monday evening. Officer May is reported to have had considerable experience in police work, covering a period of many years. The night officers now are Wagonblast and May.

FIRE DESTROYS BIG TILLAMOOK BOILER HOUSE

TILLAMOOK, Or., May 9.—Fire of unknown origin in the boiler house unit of the large Whitney company sawmill at Garibaldi, about 10 miles north of here, Tuesday destroyed the building and crippled the four mammoth horizontal boilers entailing a loss estimated at $25,000, covered by insurance.

Idaho Farmers Warned Against Hay "Sharks"

BOISE, Idaho, April 29.—Commissioner of Agriculture Cannon has issued a statement warning hay growers of this state against expecting big returns from the shipment of hay to the east. He charged that buyers in the field were purchasing Idaho hay under misrepresentation in order to induce growers to sell. Because of these sharp practices, he urged farmers to keep their hay in the stack unless having every assurance that purchasers had legitimate credit and could guarantee to pay for what they buy.

PRISONER DIGS WAY OUT OF DALLAS JAIL

DALLAS, Or., April 30.—William Guy, who was arrested last Saturday with his wife on a charge of stealing a woman's coat at Independence, dug his way through the brick wall of the county jail Wednesday and made his escape. He was serving 12 1/2 days sentence for the theft and had only six more days to serve.

His wife was released Monday, when her brother came from Seattle and paid her fine. She returned to Seattle with him.

THREE ROUTES PROPOSED FOR SOUTH OUTLET

Arrangements involving the construction of a new bridge across the Willamette river connecting Oregon City with West Linn, the problem of the south end road outlet from Oregon City connecting with the Pacific Highway at Canemah is facing the city council and the county court, and the selection of a definite route is the next step. The present road runs out of Main street at the basin on a water grade, with a dangerous crossing at grade over the Southern Pacific tracks at Canemah, and a new project on this outlet would cost $178,192, according to estimates of the engineers of the state highway commission. Of this amount, $64,878 is in the city limits, including a single item of $48,000 for concrete and wet excavation. The county's share of this route is placed at $113,314, including $82,500 for an overhead railway crossing at Canemah. Forty per cent of this charge, however, or $33,000, would be borne by the Southern Pacific, leaving a net charge to the county of $80,214.

The water route along the present highway would be the most costly of the three proposed, the lowest estimate being for the Third street under-grade crossing. The total for this route is $96,148, with $45,751 as the city's portion, and the remaining $50,397 being assessed to the county. This provides for a six per cent grade, however, and the estimate indicates that a saving of approximately $20,800 may be made by increasing 750 feet of the grade to seven per cent. The estimate contemplates using the present undercrossing at Third street. Objections to this route would be sure to come from the corporate interests in the south end of the city and from the Public Service Commission, and the industrial concerns would be strongly in favor of the proposed Fifth street route, and it is understood they would contribute toward the cost. The total estimated cost of the route with an undercrossing at Fifth street is $123,176, the county's share being $50,397, and the cost to the city $111,779, allowing $40,000 for the new crossing.

Wallace B. Caulfield, representing the Live Wires of the Commercial club; City Attorney Eby and Resident Engineer Young, of the state highway commission, had a conference recently with Franklin T. Griffith, president of the Portland Railway Light & Power Co., relative to the outlet, and it is expected an early decision will be reached.

Detailed estimates for the three routes follow:

KEEP THE DAIRY COWS COOLIDGE WILL VISIT PORTLAND DURING JUNE

Prospects are bright for the man who holds on to his milk cows. Prices are good and promise to remain good. A large number of beef cattle men lost money on their beef last year which is indeed unfortunate because the encouragement of beef production is highly important.

The public is depending more and more on the use of dairy products. For this reason the market is continually increasing. Of course, the business requires close application and rather long hours, but the year around income, which is steady and assured, compensates for the extra labor. And, anyhow, no successful business can be conducted without earnest work.

The cow is one of the reliable tri-umvirate—the cow, the sow and the hen. Don't neglect them.—Farm Life.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—Vice-President Coolidge said Tuesday afternoon that he was planning a trip to Portland, Ore., in June, but expressed regret that the news of his proposed trip had leaked out after Tuesday's cabinet meeting.

"I had intended to say nothing about my plans for the present," said the vice-president, "because any announcement of my plans to go west means that I will be swamped at once with unnecessary correspondence. It is not my intention to make a general western trip, but to go straight to Portland and return, after a short visit by the most direct route.

PRISONER DIGS WAY OUT OF DALLAS JAIL

DALLAS, Or., April 30.—William Guy, who was arrested last Saturday with his wife on a charge of stealing a woman's coat at Independence, dug his way through the brick wall of the county jail Wednesday and made his escape. He was serving 12 1/2 days sentence for the theft and had only six more days to serve.

His wife was released Monday, when her brother came from Seattle and paid her fine. She returned to Seattle with him.
