Bankers Can Help Bring Business Back Says Finance Expert

Eugene Meyer, Jr., Managing Director of the War Finance Corporation, speaking at a recent meeting of the Bankers Club of Brooklyn, said:

"There has been a decline without parallel in the prices of all kinds of goods and commodities. Bank loans have steadily declined since the beginning of this year and reserves in some parts of the country are now building up to satisfactory figures, but, even with this improvement in the banking situation there is still a most serious condition in industry. The foremost among the industries which are suffering is the great fundamental industry of agriculture.

"It is the obligation of the banker today to determine in what direction he can properly and conservatively stimulate business by giving encouragement and confidence to the producers and merchants who depend upon him for advice and for funds. If it is true, as I believe, that stocks are abnormally low, that merchants manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, who a year ago could not obtain enough goods at high prices are now unwilling to carry their usual stocks at low prices, it is the obligation of the banker to endeavor to remedy this situation. It seems to me that, at the present time no other single thing would contribute more to the restoration of business in a sound and conservative manner than the resumption of the carrying of normal stocks in proportion to the probable needs of consumers.

"Another obligation with which the bankers may properly charge themselves in the public interest is that of devising effective measures for eliminating the swindling promotion schemes which cost the people huge sums at regular and frequent intervals.

"I deem it to be a real obligation of the bankers of this country to cooperate with the government in working out a program by which the meaning of Thrift will be brought home to every man, woman and child; and this could be done, in part, through the Savings system of the United States Government, and in great part, through the stock and mutual savings banks. Neither the private nor the Government institutions can do it all, or do it alone, but it is certainly a reflection upon our management of the situation that the Government at this time, instead of raising money from the savings of the people, should be called upon to pay off $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 a month thus materially adding to our financial burdens in this difficult period."

Jersey Club Holds Enthusiastic Meet

Quite a crowd of C. C. J. C. C. members and Jersey enthusiasts gathered at the Springwater Grange hall on Saturday, May 7th.

During the business meeting the most important subject was Boosting Jerseys in Clackamas County. Messrs. Lawrence, Malar and Smith were appointed as a committee on same. It was voted to offer prizes amounting to $10 for the winner in the boys and girls Jersey calf club judging contest to be held at the next meeting on Saturday, July 23rd at Firwooden farm.

Everyone was pleased to have as visitors Frank Lynn, of Perrydale, Or., and Ivan Loughary, of Monmouth, president and secretary respectively of the Oregon Jersey Cattle Club. Mr. Lynn addressed the meetings and explained the plan, now being adopted, for financing the Jersey Field Man.

A number of breeds signed the contracts, agreeing to pay annually for five years, one dollar for every registered female Jersey and fifty cents for every female owned.

Mr. Lougharty told of the plans being made for the annual Jersey jubilee, first week in June. The three days of the jubilee will be spent in the great dairy county of Tillamook, going by auto from Frank Lynas place. He spoke of how royally the Banks, Commercial clubs and Jersey club of Tillamook have responded financially to make this years jubilee another great success as the two preceding ones have been. One bank, has given $100 in cash to help defray expenses. One of the most enjoyable parts of the program was D. Brooks Hogans interesting description of his eastern Jersey trip, during which he visited a great many of the most noted Jersey herds in the U. S.

Wm. Ladd, of Portland, attended the meeting. After the program, the crowd viewed the Lawrence Jerseys especially complimentary remarks being often heard about their herd sires. Both of which are rich in the St. Mawes blood, both being sons of Popy's St. Mawes and both being wonderful animals, in length, depth, capacity and beauty. In fact they are hard to beat.

Miss Sneedecker and the Clackamas County Juvenile Calf club consisting of 15 members held their regular meeting the forenoon and the afternoon judged three classes of Jerseys. The three winners to make up the judging team from this county to attend the Jersey picnic at J. C. Brown & Sons, Sheida, Ore., on June 11th. There are to compete against teams chosen from the other calf clubs in the state.

Mildred Anderson and Verner Anderson of Boring made the largest number of points and so they will be in the team but as four others of the clubs tried for places, there will be another try out to secure the third member of the team. Mr. Hogan assisted by others assisted as judge.

The next meeting of both the C. J. C. C. and the C. C. J. C. C. will be on Saturday, July 23 at Firwooden Farm, three miles east of Sandy on the Mt. Hood road, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Malar, Jr.

And we therefore extend our cordial invitation to all who wish to attend.

OREGON GIRL TO MAKE WORLD TRIP ON FOOT

BALTIMORE, May 11.—Two be-trotered feminine figures shouldered their packs here Tuesday for a hike around the world. These two adventure loving women are Dr. Emma Curstiss Eucker, a New Englander and former professor at Goucher college, Baltimore, and Miss Myrtle King, of Washington, D. C., a native of Oregon and at one time a student at Goucher. They have set out to travel on foot across the continent first and then to go around the world. They expect the trip will consume six years. Both were rough walking suits and carried camping outfits.

Miss Myrtle King is a daughter of Judge Will R. King, former justice of the supreme court of Oregon, who was for years a resident of Portland and of Seattle, and went to Washington, D. C., with his family during the Wilson administration to serve as chief counsel for the reclamation service.

Miss King was graduated from Goucher college and last year hiked to Florida, where she contracted malaria and was seriously ill for several weeks. She was employed by an eastern publishing house and resigned her position only a short time ago to start on the hiking trip which will take her around the world. It is the plan of Miss King and Dr. Eucker to meet a third companion also a teacher, at the close of the June semester of an eastern school and the three women expect to start for the west.

Miss King plans to ship her trunks to her aunt, Mrs. Frank M. Sexton, 495 East Thirteenth street, Portland, and will make her headquarters in Portland. The three women hope to spend a year on the Pacific coast where they expect to be employed as teachers, going from here to Honolulu, on the second lap of their trip. Miss King is about 22 years of age.—Portland Journal.

New plate glass windows were installed in the front of the new Pacific Highway Garage building Tuesday, adding much to the appearance of the building. The windows placed in the building at the time of its erection did not prove satisfactory to the management of the company. Much favorable comment among those passing that way has been heard.
