Among the places that will be represented will be Canby, Estacada, Milwaukie, Molalla, Needy, Gresham, Gladstone, Oswego, Wilsonville, Sandy, Boring, Clackamas and Oregon City.

All lodges are to be represented in the races, and prizes will be offered. One of the features of the day will be the drills by the I. O. O. HUMANITY SOCIETY PROTESTS
AGAINST KILLING ROBINS

Complaint has come to the Clackamas County Humane society that robins are being killed by someone living in the vicinity of Fourteenth and John Quincy Adams streets. As well as killing the birds, it is also reported that the shooting has been promiscuous and that stray bullets have been flying, endangering the lives of children.

Although no legal action has yet been taken, it is against the law to use firearms within the city limits. The law also provides a fine of from $5 to $100 for shooting firearms in the city limits.

MAKING MOTHER MODERN

A Story in Three Parts.
Part I. The Urge.
It is not everybody who is boosted upward by the loving hands of kindred—but that is literally what was happening to Mrs. Keith.

They heard foot-falls upstairs. Kenneth took his hat and went out. The girls met their mother as they were leaving the kitchen and gave her a hearty hug, feeling guilty that they had been going back on the mother's protest.

One of the successful women architects of America is Miss Katherine Cothel Budd. Her especial interest is the planning of fit school houses for the children. The one-story, open-air school house is her choice and she likes to see these placed in the country where rural children may have better advantages and where their schoolhouse may have ample acres about it.

Who? asked Kenneth.
Her mother, answered Betty.
When? asked Kenneth, who wanted to catch the thread.
At the party last night. They never asked her in at all, but seemed to put her in the background as though they were ashamed of her.

THE WOMAN CITIZEN

How Government Enters the Home.
In a general way "Every man's home is his castle, and we do not meet government face to face until we leave our doors. But as we crowd together in cities this becomes less and less so, since what we do in our homes may interfere with the rights of others.

To protect from fire, it dictates the material of our houses; it tells us how many stories we may put on certain foundations; it prescribes the number of windows; it may inspect the chimneys; and tell us what we may and may not do with the gas, electricity, water and sewerage.

In contagious disease, it gives directions as to its care. The Health Department keeps an eye on our cleanliness. The home may be searched for stolen goods, or entered at any time of need by fire, health, or other specific officials.

SMILES.
"Which day was I born on Mother?"
Asked little Betty rich
When her mother called at the nursery.
"Can you remember which?"
"On Thursday," said the mother
Adjusting her diamond comb.
"How fortunate," cried Betty,
"For that is your day at home!"

Elledge Family Will
Have Three Month
Visit at Antwerp

Mrs. D. B. Elledge and children, Helen and Burton, the former three years of age and the latter nine, left Portland Friday at 9 a. m. for a trip to Antwerp, Belgium, where they are to spend about three months at Mrs. Elledge's old home, and to visit her aged mother, Mrs. L. Simon, and sisters and brothers. The aged mother has desired her daughter and children to visit her, as she has never seen her grandchildren, who were born in America. Her wishes have been granted, and it is the intention of the son-in-law to visit his wife's mother, and return to America with the family.

Mrs. Elledge and children are to leave New York on the Red Star Liner "Finland." It has taken about three weeks to get transportation, as the reservations and red tape attached to those wishing to visit the foreign countries is very bothersome.

The portion of Belgium in which Mrs. Elledge's relatives live is about the only section of that country which the Germans did not attack, and the home of the Simon family was headquarters for the officers of the English army, and a great many troops were constantly camped at that place. This family did much toward the relief of suffering in Belgium and gave aid to the English army while camped there.

It has been many years since Mrs. Elledge has visited her old home, and she is looking forward with great pleasure to the visit to her girlhood home.

Mr. Elledge has engaged in the upholstery business in Oregon City on Seventh street, having resided in Oregon City for about five years.

Lena Draper Will
Be Given Divorce

Mrs. Lena Draper will be given a divorce decree on July 20, 1921, from Leon P. Draper. The hearing of the case was held before Judge McCourt, of Portland, Wednesday, at the Clackamas county court house. Leon P. Draper brought suit for a divorce and the custody of the child and in his complaint charged his wife with questionable conduct.

Judge McCourt's decision gave the defendant, Lena Draper the decree of divorce, the custody of the child and $15.00 a month for its maintenance.

The couple was separated by divorce proceedings, in May 1919, which was shortly after Mr. Draper's return from overseas, and they were married three days after the decree was given.

The delay in the case was caused by the defendant failing to have the child in the court at the time of the hearing and the judge set the date for the signing of the decree as July 20.

AMERICAN LEGION
HEAD KILLED IN
AUTO ACCIDENT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 9.—Colonel Frederick W. Galbraith, "fighting colonel of the Fighting First" in France, and national commander of the American Legion, met death here early Thursday when an automobile in which he was riding went over a 16-foot embankment.

Colonel Galbraith was pinned under the machine and fatally crushed. Two companions, Colonel Milton J. Foreman of Chicago, leader in the Illinois American Legion, and Henry Ryan, director of Americanization for the legion, were bruised and scratched.

Ryan was driving the machine, a roadster. He lost control of it as he was crossing a railroad track. The machine swerved from the road and plunged down the embankment.

The three had attended a rally on the outskirts of Indianapolis in behalf of the military training camp campaign. The chief speakers at the meeting were Colonels Galbraith, Foreman and Theodore Roosevelt.

Coast Lumbermen's
Association Denies
Price Fixing Charge

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The West Coast Lumbermen's association which has been accused by the federal trade commission of dominating the lumber production of the great northwest and fixing and maintaining high prices therefor, replied to the commission's charges today with a sweeping denial.

"The report is radically incorrect," said Robert B. Allen, of Seattle, secretary of the association, in a statement sent to the trade commission. "The West Coast Lumbermen's association," said the denial, "is not a price fixing organization. It has not since the war, attempted to fix prices nor has it attempted to curtail output, as charged in the commission's report. During the war period it did fix prices in conjunction with the war industries board at the request of the government."

Production has been below normal, the statement said, because of lack of demand and because rail freight rates had increased 33 1-3 per cent, disrupting rate relationships of 30 years' standing.

AMERICAN BOY TRAMP
IS VIEWING EUROPE

WASHINGTON, June 9.—An American boy, apparently about 10 years of age, giving Trenton, Texas, as his home, has been turned over to the American consul at Liège, Belgium, in destitute circumstances, the state department was advised Friday. The boy told a fantastic tale of his adventures and his trip to Europe.

He told the consulate officials that after a fight with another boy, his grandmother had placed him on a ship loaded with horses and bound for Brest, France.

According to his story, he has been to Paris and Trier, Germany, and with the American army of occupation in Germany as a mascot. The name he first gave officials was Mike Martin, but he later said that Martin was not his family name.

NOSE DIVES AND TAIL SPINS

Gilbert Hedges has gone east
To attend a reunion
Of the alumni of Yale college,
Where he learned
The rudiments of law
And how to convince
A Clackamas county jury
In a salmon fishing case
That there was no such thing
As illegal fishing,
Some of the juries
Have been so moved
By his pleas for justice
Or a verdict for his side
That there is a report
Circling around
That there is grave danger
Of the next jury
Returning a verdict against
The wardens
For cruelty to animals,
Or interfering with
Interstate commerce.
Anyway Joe Hedges is with him
To act as chaperone,
And is liable to be needed
In case those Atlantic coast
Fishermen
Get into trouble with their
Fish laws and wardens
And Gilbert is drafted
To convince the jury
That the laws of Oregon
